OVERTAKEN BY GRIM REAPER WHILE RETURNING HOME

Figured Prominently for Many Years in Democratic Party Affairs of California, Having Held Numerous Offices

John P. Dunn, one of the best known Democratic politicians and office holders in California, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. B. Foley, yesterday morning at 4:20 o'clock.

Mr. Dunn figured prominently in the politics of this state as early as the Dennis Kearney period in San Francisco. He was first elected city auditor of the city and county of San Francisco in 1879, filling a long term.

He was appointed by President Cleveland registrar of the United States land office in San Francisco, which position he held for four years.

Mr. Dunn was chairman of the useful and well-known committee of one hundred gotten together by Mayor Phelan in San Francisco for the purpose of purifying politics.

From San Francisco he repaired with his family to Duarte, where he had an orange grove. Shortly after his arrival home the Duarte-Monrovia Fruit Exchange elected him manager of their interests, a position he has held for the past year.

Born in Ireland Mr. Dunn was born in County Caven, Ireland, in 1852, and when three months old came to America with his parents, who settled in Albany county, New York.

Valley—Charles M. Gould Perishes While Trying to Rescue Girl

As the result of a heroic attempt to save his daughter, whom he thought was meeting death in the flames of his burning home, Charles M. Gould of La Habra valley is a charred corpse today.

The fire occurred shortly after midnight. Mr. Gould and his family were living temporarily in the upper part of a barn on their ranch, six miles from Whittier, while a new home was being built.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould, their daughter and a niece, Marion Mills, were sleeping on the second floor of the barn and below hay was stored and the horses were in the stalls.

At midnight the two girls, who were sleeping together, were awakened by the crackling of burning timber and upon looking about them saw that the flames had already gained headway in the lower part of the barn and were rapidly leaping up the window.

The girls gave the alarm and then ran down the stairs and released the frightened horses. Thinking there was yet time to save some of their clothes, they again dashed back into the building. The return trip was made down the blazing staircase and the girls had to leap from the flames to gain the open.

ALWAYS A MAN OF MYSTERY Lived Alone in Castle in Beautiful Fruitful Estate

FRESNO, May 29.—M. Theodore Kearney was the largest raisin grower in the United States, if not in the world, and was the organizer and for a long time president of the California Raisin Growers' association.

He had been in poor health for a long time, suffering from cardiac trouble, and was on his way to Bad Nauheim, Germany, to take treatment. He left on May 25 and was expected to reach London today.

He was in San Francisco during the earthquake and his condition was aggravated by excitement at that time.

Mr. Kearney was a "man of mystery." He was a bachelor with no known relatives and no confidential friends. No one here knows where or when he was born or anything about his early life.

He came from England or Ireland, claimed American citizenship by naturalization, his father and he is thought to have lived at one time in Boston. In the early 70s he was a clerk in the office of W. S. Chapman in San Francisco.

He came to Fresno in 1873 and dealt with fruit finally becoming the owner of the 5000-acre Fruitvale estate, containing the famous Kearney vineyard. He laid out a ten-mile scenic boulevard from Fresno to his estate, where he had a beautiful park and a castle, in which he lived alone.

BUDGET $200,000,000 SHY San Francisco Will Probably Have Net Loss of Revenue of $1,700,000

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—The budget that will be submitted to the board of supervisors will assume a reduction of $200,000,000 in the assessable valuation of property in San Francisco.

In other words, where the assessed valuation of property for the fiscal year 1905 and 1906 was $255,000,000, the assessable value for 1906 and 1907 is assumed to be $35,000,000, though the actual figures will not be known for some weeks to come, when Dr. Washington Dodge will have completed the assessment rolls.

This assessment will yield $2,250,000, where in the fiscal year 1905 and 1906 the revenue was $2,550,000, a loss in revenue of $2,000,000. It is expected, however, that by imposing licenses on businesses that now operate without a license and by increasing the amount of the license imposed on those businesses that are conducted under licenses $300,000 will be realized. This will leave the city with a net loss in revenue of $1,700,000.

MADRID, AGLOW, WELCOMES BRIDE

SPAIN'S CAPITAL IS ABLAZE WITH ELECTRICITY

Foreign Princes and Envoys Arrive in Shimmering Uniforms—Brilliant Pageants as Royal Trains Arrive

MADRID, May 29.—The preparations for the marriage of King Alfonso and Princess Victoria (as Princess Ena of Battenberg is designated by the Spanish people), are fast approaching culmination with the arrival of foreign princes and envoys, the influx of vast throngs and the final adornment of streets and buildings.

Such a spectacle of royal splendor has seldom been seen as when the princes coming to the wedding arrived this afternoon.

The train of the prince of Wales and the Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria arrived at 2:30 o'clock followed by the trains of Prince Albrecht of Russia, the Grand Duke Vladimir of Prussia, Crown Prince Constantine of Greece, Prince Albert Leopold of Belgium, Prince Eugene of Sweden and many others.

Before the station were the palace guard with their white uniforms and shimmering helmets and brigade of lancers with steel breastplates.

Awaiting the princes were the royal family, the infantas, the captain general of Madrid, the ministers and the ambassadors. The women were bright in summer silks, while the officials and ministers were resplendent with gold lace and decorations.

Trumpet Blasts Greet Trumpet blasts greeted the Prince of Wales and Arch Duke Francis Ferdinand. The former wore the uniform of a British general. The Princess of Wales was exquisitely attired in a figured silk gown, and the archduke wore a white uniform of a general of hussars, with a silver helmet surmounted by a vivid green plume.

There was another shimmer of uniforms as the royal representatives of Germany, Russia and Greece arrived with their retinues. Later there was a brilliant pageant as all the princes and princesses with their retinues proceeded to Pardo palace, where King Alfonso and Princess Victoria received throughout the remainder of the day.

The Pardo palace was the center of the festivities tonight.

Tonight Alfonso and his guests witnessed a performance at the Pardo theater, the unique feature of which is a tableau of an old Spanish marriage, suggestive of the nuptials which are to take place on Thursday.

William M. Collier, the American minister to Spain, was among the guests, but Special Envoy W. Whitebridge and the other envoys were not present, as the guests were confined to princes and resident diplomats.

The streets were a spectacle of light and activity. Trains are bringing in thousands of foreigners and provincial Spaniards.

The streets along the route of the wedding cortege are ablaze with color from end to end, with floral arches, sunbursts of British and Spanish flags and garlands of roses looped on the balconies.

Many buildings are surrounded with gigantic crowns which at night sparkle with electric lights.

The weather today was intensely hot and clouds tonight threaten to dampen the splendor of the festivities.
