STEAL SOAP AND PERFUMERY Two Mexicans Charged With Thefts Bear Reputation of Being Crooks

L. Marin and B. Rodriguez, both Mexicans, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Officers Harrison, Roberts and McIntosh on the charge of burglary. It was alleged that the men broke into the room of Mike Lavin on Paradise alley, near the Plaza, and stole a variety of toilet articles. Lavin peddles rouge, soap and perfumery. He stated that about $55 worth of these articles had been taken from his room.

The entire amount of stolen goods was recovered from the room of Marin and Rodriguez on Paradise alley, and a suit of clothing and a pair of shoes, which were taken at the same time, were also recovered. The police say the men bear reputations of the worst and they are believed to be thorough petty crooks. Some weeks ago they are believed to have broken into the rooms of Green in that neighborhood and to have stolen clothing. They are also suspected of having held up and robbed a man some weeks ago. They are now in the city jail and will be tried on the charge of burglary.

WAGON CRUSHES LAD'S LEG Patrolman Tenderly Carries Injured Boy Long Distance to Get Service of Surgeon

Edgar Raymond, a twelve-year-old lad, fell from a wagon, upon which he had been invited to ride by the driver, last night with the result that his left leg was broken at the ankle by the wheel of the vehicle. The accident occurred at First and Lakeshore streets and from the scene of the affair to the receiving hospital the lad was carried in the arms of Patrolman Carr, who saw the accident.

Carr stated that the boy's mother and family had been deserted by the father some months ago and that the mother could not afford to call a physician. Police Surgeon Cook set the broken leg and dressed the cut made by the wheel of the heavy wagon.

At the forty-second large bowl of wassal the baron was seen to grow mellow. At the sixty-ninth bowl he proposed a toast. "My retainers: The more of them I have the less I am able to retain!" Now this was a hint that the lord did not absolutely hang the expense, as the feudal master was, but for all that every horn was drained in honor of the sentiment.—Puck.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS NOVEL

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cole, Jr., become Bride and Bridegroom of Twenty-five While on Summer Outing

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cole, Jr., returned yesterday from an outing at Camp Sierra, in the Giant Forest, where they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary under unique and altogether delightful conditions.

It was just twenty-five years ago last Tuesday that Mr. and Mrs. Cole repeated the nuptial vows, but they little dreamed at the time that they would celebrate their silver anniversary of the event in one of the most beautiful mountain spots in California. Tuesday evening the friends who had gone with them from Los Angeles and many more, whom they had made welcome in camp, gathered around a huge camp fire and spent a merry evening until 10 o'clock singing songs and telling stories.

At that hour a trio composed of Messrs. Simpson, La Compte and Sidney Smith, with flute and guitar, struck up the Lohengrin wedding march, and the whole party, headed by the bride and bridegroom of twenty-five years, marched to the dining room where supper awaited them. A huge wedding cake which accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Cole from Los Angeles formed the central figure of the feast and the guests were all invited to dine. The dining room had been decorated with ferns and blossoms, and the chairs of the two honored guests were adorned with big white satin bows.

A program of music followed the supper hour and H. C. Buhop of Chicago, and H. C. Merritt of Pasadena were the chief spokesmen. Good wishes were showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Cole, and finally Mr. Cole had to respond, expressing the thanks of himself and Mrs. Cole. A male quartet composed of Messrs. Simpson, La Compte, Smith and Braun concluded the evening's program by singing "Oh Promise Me."

The affair was one which will doubtless be long remembered by the bridal couple as well as all those who took part in it.

Goes North to Be Maid of Honor Miss Naude Campbell, the charming young daughter of Judge Campbell of San Jose who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hampton for many weeks, has gone to Oakland, where she will be the maid of honor at a wedding which will be by far the most elaborate nuptial event the northern city has seen since the earthquake. Society has been slumbering in the north, but this wedding appears to be a signal for a general awakening, and the social chronicler has a deal of important news to chronicle for the next two weeks.

Estelle Kleeman and Will Jarvis are to be the principals in today's wedding. The make-up, hair and the train of the brides are all Mills college classmates of the bride and all have a host of friends in Southern California as well as in the north.

Miss Grace Langley and Miss Dollie Tarpey of Alameda, Miss Fannie Potter of San Francisco and Miss Blanche Layman are to be the maids. There are to be four ushers—Eugene Farnham, Lionel Sherrwood, Robert McMillen and S. C. Kleeman. Dr. C. S. Jarvis is to be best man, and Dr. George Kleeman will give the bride away. A reception at the home will follow the church ceremony.

Baby's Photo Is Announcement A tiny white card bearing a picture of a chubby little dimpled baby, and the name Alice Gray, attached to a larger one upon which are inscribed the names of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Gray, and the place Manhattan, has just been received in Los Angeles by each of the many friends of Mrs. Gray, who was formerly Miss Alice McComas, daughter of Judge and Mrs. C. C. McComas. The card also announces the birth of the tiny Alice as July 21. She is a pretty baby if her photograph can be taken as proof, though whether she resembles Alice the senior, who was so popular in Los Angeles before Mr. Gray came and carried her away to New York, can not be determined. Judge McComas is said to have been the possessor of a broad smile ever since he was first informed that the little grandfather had been conferred upon him.

Optiz-Field Wedding A pretty little church wedding at which a Long Beach girl became the bride of an Angeleno was solemnized Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the New Jerusalem church. Miss Edith May Field was the bride and Frank E. Optiz the bridegroom. Rev. J. C. Colman, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony and the party approached the altar to the strains of Medeson's march, while the wedding march from Lohengrin was played at the conclusion of the service.

The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of white mohair with a white net waist and stich white hat. Mr. and Mrs. Optiz left on the boat for San Francisco and after a wedding trip to include visits around the northern bay cities will return to make their home in Los Angeles. Only relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom were present.

Armstrong-Fuller Wedding The wedding of Miss Maud Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fuller of 1223 Eighteenth street, and Mr. H. D. Armstrong, took place Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Broadway Christian church, Rev. L. Swindler performing the ceremony. The bride had two attendants, a maid of honor and a bridesmaid. Miss Maud Fuller, the maid, was becomingly gowned in gray silk, and the bridesmaid, Miss Rae Golaber, wore a dainty dress of white. The bride was charming in a gown of pale blue satin trimmed with real lace. Her bouquet was of white carnations. Messrs. Abbott and F. T. Row were the groomsmen.

A reception was held at the bride's home at the conclusion of the ceremony and then the couple left for Santa Barbara for a wedding trip. They will make their home at 1524 Maple avenue.

Postpone "At Homes" The "at homes" which were to have been given by Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Hensberger have been postponed, as they have decided to go east today for a visit at Mr. Hensberger's country place, Crest Lawn, in West Chester county, New York. Mr. Hensberger will be better remembered as Miss Vera Jevne. A large circle of friends will regret the departure of the charm-
