

DEMOCRATS ARE SURE OF SUCCESS

WORK AT SACRAMENTO EXCITES ENTHUSIASM

Confidence is Expressed That Nominees Will Defeat the Machine.

mads Ticket of the Republicans

Genuine enthusiasm was displayed yesterday by the Democrats of Los Angeles over the work of the convention at Sacramento.

With a ticket composed of men of high standing and free of any suspicion of corporation influence and on a platform, every plank of which is perfectly sound, Democrats confidently predict a victory over the Southern Pacific machine ticket nominated at Santa Cruz.

Republicans admit that the Democratic ticket is an unusually strong one and say that the result of the Sacramento convention means that the Republicans of California have the fight of their lives on their hands.

Gratification was expressed not only by Democrats but by many Republicans over the action of the convention in regard to Hearst and his self-operated Independence League.

Making Judiciary Non-Partisan

The action of the Democratic convention in endorsing the nomination of Judge Matthew T. Allen for the appellate bench brought out many favorable comments by both Democrats and Republicans as a step toward taking the judiciary out of the field of partisan politics.

The endorsement of Judge Allen by the Democratic convention is a step in the right direction," said Chairman Lee of the Republican county central committee. "Members of the judiciary should not be compelled to go into conventions and fight for the positions. They should be placed on a plane above partisan politics, and I would be in favor of holding judiciary conventions entirely separate from regular party conventions."

Similar expressions were made by both Republicans and Democrats, and the consensus is that the Democrats made a move that will work to the advantage of the entire ticket.

Success is Predicted

"My candid opinion is that the ticket will be elected," said Nathan Cole, Jr., yesterday. Mr. Cole had just returned from participating in the work of the convention at Sacramento, and he is enthusiastic over the nominations and the platform adopted.

"The ticket nominated is first-class throughout," continued Mr. Cole. "Congressman Bell is a tower of strength and Mr. Toland, the nominee for lieutenant governor, is exceedingly popular and he has proved his ability."

"The platform is the best ever devised by any Democratic convention and it is one which would not have been adopted by any convention dominated by the Southern Pacific. The program is a text book of constitutional law, and its principles are sound, safe and sensible. Superior Judge D. K. Trask was chairman of the committee on platform and resolutions. Judge Trask's reputation is so good and his character so unimpeachable that no one can question any of his acts. On the committee also was Joseph H. Call, who has a national reputation as an opponent of corporation control."

Republicans Will Support Bell

"I believe the intelligent Republicans and all Democrats are going to elect Bell," said Judge Trask upon his return from Sacramento yesterday. "A great many Republicans from different parts of the state were in Sacramento for the purpose, as they stated, of satisfying themselves whether the Democratic convention was free from railroad influence, and at the close of the convention they were unanimous in the statement that they intended to support Bell as a protest against corporate control in California politics."

"The convention was the best ever held by the Democrats of California, and it was absolutely free from corporation influence. The delegates were there for independent action, and they carried out their purpose. I have not seen a better class of men together in a convention in California. They were sincere, honest and capable."

The platform is by far the best ever adopted by a Democratic convention. Judge Trask highly complimented the work of Nathan Cole, Jr., and Joseph H. Call in insuring the nomination of candidates free from corporation influence and in preparing a sound platform.

Predicts Bell's Election

Joseph H. Call also returned yesterday from Sacramento, well pleased with the work of the convention and confident of Democratic victory in November.

"Theodore A. Bell is an excellent man and he will win," declared Mr. Call. "He was nominated by a convention organized by the people, while Gillett was nominated, in reality, by Harrison at a banquet in Washington last winter."

"Mr. Bell was elected to congress in a district nominally Republican, and he is one of the most able men in the state and is absolutely reliable. He will visit Southern California during the campaign and the people will see and hear him for themselves."

The platform is a strong one, and it presents directly the issue whether the Southern Pacific or the people shall run this country. We have declared for public ownership of public utility corporations and opposition to giving corporations vested rights."

Great Campaign Expected

Other delegates who have returned from Sacramento are unanimous in their belief that they have nominated a winning ticket. They say that Bell will make one of the most energetic campaigns ever seen in California.

Several of the nominees, especially Thomas A. Toland of Ventura for lieutenant governor and W. Ona Merton of Los Angeles for attorney general, are splendid speakers, and they will add greatly to the activity of the campaign.

The campaign emblem will be a small silver bell, and it is expected that bell-ringing will be one of the features of the campaign.

DOG CATCHERS DRAG WOMAN

Poundmaster Apologizes

Dragged to the street in a dog catcher's net was the rough treatment given Mrs. Harry L. Dunnigan of 511 East Avenue 23 yesterday when she jumped into the net that was set for her dog in a frantic effort to save her pet canine from the terrors of the city pound.

Mrs. Dunnigan said: "The dog was a great pet of the family and the playmate of my baby. We had owned him six years, so you may understand that he had grown very dear to us."

"When I saw those cruel men chasing him with their horrid net until the poor little dog was nearly exhausted, I determined to stop it. When I asked the men to go away they only laughed. "The dog saw me and ran to me for rescue, when one of the men jerked it out of my arms and threw it into his net. I jumped after it and was dragged to the street. Then they took the dog and drove away."

"We did not have a license for the dog at the time it was captured, but the license had just expired."

The dog was yesterday returned to Mrs. Dunnigan, who called at the pound for it with her husband. Apologies were offered for the occurrence by the poundmaster, but were not accepted. Mr. Dunnigan, who is a lawyer, has decided to prosecute the case and warrants were immediately obtained for the arrest of F. R. McClelland and Lindsey Britt, the offending dog catchers.

BLAMES HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Son-in-Law Takes Goods Away and is Held on Charge of Burglary

The eternal mother-in-law question, with a few variations, was the tune that was played in Justice Chambers' court yesterday afternoon.

The occasion was the preliminary examination of James Wade, a negro charged with burglary, who was arrested on September 8 for entering the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lizzie Leonard, on Santa Fe avenue, and secretly filching from her private apartment a gold watch, a stick pin and a few nuggets. Wade was held on $1500 bail.

When Wade took the witness box he had a different story to tell regarding the theft. He claimed that he had gone to his mother-in-law's place to see about collecting twenty-five dollars, and also to make arrangements for taking away household goods and chickens belonging to him.

This was at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, so witness testified, and not finding Mrs. Leonard at home, he says he decided that if he was to get anything he would have to take it. Thereupon he entered her bedroom, and got the articles for which he is accused of burglarizing.

The case appeared to be largely a matter of domestic discord.

ADAMS SPIRITED AWAY FROM IDAHO PRISON

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 13.—Steve Adams was spirited away from the state penitentiary last night and taken to Wallace, where a charge of murder has been made against him.

Attorneys Clarence Darrow and John F. Nugent, representing the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, who are involved in the Steunenberg case, apparently were outwitted by this move.

They left this afternoon for Wallace, declaring their intention to institute habeas corpus proceedings in an effort to secure the release of Adams.

SELL 334 PARCELS OF LAND

THOUGH MOST OWNERS UNAWARE

STATE STREET ASSESSMENTS

CATCH MANY NAPPING

Doubtless Ignorance Concerning the Proposed Auction is Responsible for Many Lapses—Former Holders Can Redeem

One of the largest sales of property for non-payment of street assessments that has ever occurred in Los Angeles was held in the office of the clerk for the opening and widening of streets yesterday morning.

Col. William G. Schreiber of the street department conducted the sale, and 334 pieces of property were disposed of.

This was property that had been allowed to go delinquent on the opening and widening of State street, which is to be made into a continuous street connecting East Los Angeles and Boyle Heights.

Property on State street is considered valuable and as the assessments were very low, none above $23 and some not higher than 90 cents, the large number of delinquencies is only accounted for by the explanation that the owners of property did not receive the notice they are supposed to get.

Col. Schreiber notified every person in the assessment district whose name could be secured from the records of the assessor.

In cases where the addresses were mailed to that address, but where the addresses could not be found on the records cards were sent to the general delivery.

Many parcels of land on State street have changed hands since the assessments were made and the former owners probably received the notification while the present owners knew nothing of the project.
