DECLARES PRESIDENT FISH VIOLATED AGREEMENT

Western Pacific Rushes Construction in One Part of California and Fights Competitor in Courts in Another

By Associated Press. BLAMES TOO MUCH PROSPERITY Trunk Lines Tell Why They Refuse Grain Freight

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—At the meeting of grain interests called to take action in regard to the refusal of the trunk lines to accept orders for carrying grain, a representative committee was given power to take whatever action seemed necessary to secure a modification of the railroads' position.

"The cause of the trouble is merely prosperity, prosperity. The railroads have more freight to handle than they can handle. They are working night and day to serve their customers; they are doing their utmost—and as usual they are getting harshly criticized."

"The demand for cars all over the country is unprecedented. The blockade started in the west and has been gradually coming east until now the east is experiencing what is already an old story in the west."

BANKER'S DEATH CAUSES GRIEF

FUNERAL SERVICE WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

Financial Institutions Pass Resolutions of Regret at Passing of H. W. Hellman—Palbearers Chosen

The death of H. W. Hellman, millionaire banker, who died yesterday morning, was received in business circles yesterday with many expressions of grief and regret. Mr. Hellman was not thought to be in immediate danger by his business associates.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the family home, corner Tenth and Hill streets. Dr. S. Hecht, rabbi of the Temple B'nai B'rith, of which the deceased had been president a number of years, will officiate. The interment will be in the new Jewish cemetery.

In keeping with the democratic manner of Mr. Hellman, the funeral will be carried out with simple services. But two of his business associates will act as honorary palbearers—W. H. Holliday and Dr. W. L. Graves. The active palbearers will be the following nephews of the deceased: M. S. Hellman, Irvin H. Heller, Adolph Fleischman, Isadore Fleischman, Isadore Klingstein, William Klingstein and Amiel Floss.

Mr. Hellman was one of the largest taxpayers in the city. His fortune is estimated at $3,000,000 and it is expected that he bequeathed a large sum to charity, as he had been a generous donor to charitable organizations of the city.

I. W. Hellman, brother of the deceased, arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco, and is a guest at the Alexandria. The brothers had some differences over business affairs several years ago, but these are forgotten in death.

The following resolutions were adopted yesterday: The board of directors of the Merchants National bank of Los Angeles adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, Mr. Herman W. Hellman has been for years president of this bank, and such has contributed in a large measure to the growth and success of the institution, and in his relations to the officers, employees and all those with whom he came in contact has been ever courteous, considerate, a wise counselor and a true friend, and Whereas, he has been removed by death from the scene of his activities, therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Hellman this bank has lost a most able, conservative, wise and efficient officer, the members of this board a faithful, true and trustworthy friend and the community an honorable and patriotic citizen.

Resolved, that we deeply sympathize with the family of Mr. Hellman in their sorrow and bereavement. Resolved, further that a copy of these resolutions be given to the public press, and a copy thereof be sent to the widow of Mr. Hellman.

CHILD LIBERATED BY THE COURT SEEKS VAINLY FOR HER FATHER

PITIFUL CASE DEVELOPS WHEN GIRL IS FREED

Little Isabel Huff of San Pedro Shouts for Her Papa—Man Sent to an Insane Asylum

As the closing chapter of one of the most pitiful cases ever presented to the juvenile court, little Isabel Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Huff of San Pedro, was allowed to return to her home yesterday by Judge Wilbur after she had been detained for the past two weeks at the detention home.

"Oh where is papa? I want to see papa," said the little girl and she looked questioningly at her mother yesterday, but the woman only turned away with a sob.

"With a frightened gasp in her voice the little girl turned quickly to her younger brother and catching one of the youngsters in her arms she begged of the little fellow:

"But the brother only stood by with wide staring blue eyes and shook his head, for he did not understand any more of the sudden disappearance of his father than did his sister who had been imprisoned.

The child's grief was pitiable until with a mother's care one of the women of the humane society took the little girl aside and explained to her that her father had been sent away to the insane asylum and that she would probably never see him again.

Such was the home coming of little Isabel and the child with more than her share of sorrow followed her mother from the court room with head erect and with the firmness of a little heroine.

Father Sent to Asylum The Huff case was first called to the attention of the humane officers at San Pedro several weeks ago when reports came that William Huff, a one time prosperous mechanical engineer who had a little cottage on the water front, was not supporting his family and that his children needed care from the county authorities. The little girl Isabel was brought to Los Angeles with her two brothers and shortly thereafter the mother came here and tried to secure the release of the little ones. A week ago the case was taken up and upon the appearance of Huff and his peculiar ways it was decided to file a complaint of insanity against him. He was taken before Judge Gibbs last Tuesday and ordered sent to the insane asylum. In the meantime his two little boys had been released, but the little girl was still under county care.

An investigation revealed the fact that the mother had been doing all the work for the family, while the father had been spending his time working on inventions by which he hoped to startle the world when he showed his system of aerial navigation.

In the mean time, with the mother away from home and the father engaged in his weird proceedings, the good citizens of San Pedro have banded together to help her out. The little cottage on the beach will be retained and where the children have

TAILOR COOK'S WIFE SEARCHES IN VAIN FOR TWO MONTHS FINDS NO TRACE OF HUSBAND

Visits All the Beach Towns in Quest of the Missing Man, and Santa Monica Furnishes the Only Clue, a Faint One

What has become of R. L. Cook, a tailor who mysteriously disappeared from his Los Angeles home two months ago and for whom his wife is anxiously searching?

Cook was well known in Los Angeles, having lived here for nearly six years, and worked in many shops. He was a German, 40 years old, and was a first-class coat maker.

About two months ago he disappeared from his home on Los Angeles street, telling his wife he was going to look for a position. He stated he intended going to one of the beach towns.

For two weeks his wife awaited word from him, but received none. She then went to Long Beach and San Pedro, where she made inquiries. Tailors in those cities informed her that no man of the name of Cook had applied to them for work, so the woman then went to Santa Monica. There she learned that a man answering her husband's description had applied at several tailor shops.

Since that time Mrs. Cook has visited all the surrounding towns, but has gained no trace of her husband. She is at present living at Main and Hill streets, Ocean Park.

"My husband has no reason to leave his home, as he had sufficient money to tide us over, even if he was out of employment for several months," she said. "We never had family troubles and a cross word seldom passed between us. He seldom drank and always appeared cheerful."

"His absence has worried me greatly, but I still hope he will return, as I cannot believe anything serious has happened to him."

MILKS 40 COWS; GETS CIDER

Milkman Finds Herd Looted Orchard, Got Colic and Couldn't Supply Customers

Special to The Herald. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19.—William E. Hunter, a milkman at Naugatuck, sent word to his customers today that he could not furnish them with milk as usual, because his herd of cows had stomach ache. A milk famine in the town resulted, and hurried calls were sent to this city for milk to supply the babies and children.

Hunter has a fine herd of forty cows and usually they are well behaved, but yesterday afternoon some of the most frisky of the number leaped the pasture fence into an apple orchard on Mr. Hunter's farm, began feasting on the windfall apples, and soon were suffering from pain under their belts.

The remainder of the herd, unable to withstand the temptation, tore down the fence and not only cleaned the ground of fallen apples, but ate all in reach on the trees as well. When Mr. Hunter went out to drive them to the stable all were in a sad state because of too much apple juice. This morning the milk was unfit for use and Mr. Hunter says it may be several days before he can resume business.

They Stand Alone

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for those ailments also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon it a wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent or secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

The afflicted do not have to rely upon the word of a doctor, but can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. TWO YOUTHFUL YEGGS TAKEN BY POLICE

P. Winfield, 15 years of age, and A. Goodfellow, one year his senior, specimens of the yegman variety, were taken to the police station last night having been picked up on First street soon after their arrival in the city.

When brought into the station Goodfellow swaggered to the sergeant's desk smoking a pipe and at once began to empty his pockets. In the operation he brought forth five packages of tobacco, an extra pipe, one handkerchief and a bunch of matches.

The boys claimed to have been tramping for more than two years and said they had just come from the central states, the winters there not being to their taste.

They were looked up in jail and this morning will be taken to court, where they will be charged with vagrancy.

IS SAVED BY A PHONOGRAPH

Plays a Sacred Song at the Trial and the Aged Prisoner is Acquitted Special to The Herald. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 19.—As the trial of Joseph Ager, an aged German, charged with assault, was in progress this morning, a phonograph in an adjoining building began playing: "Ask the Saviour to help you."

Raising his hands in supplication, the lawyer for the defense called the jury's attention to the sentiment of the song, repeating the words as the machine produced the melody. There were many bowed heads in the courtroom at the close of the dramatic incident. Ager was acquitted.

SCROFULA AN INHERITED MISFORTUNE Every one has a hereditary right to a pure blood supply, which insures a strong, healthy body; but how many do we see who have inherited that greatest of all misfortunes, Scrofula, and are struggling under a legacy of disease and suffering? Scrofula is a constitutional trouble handed down from parent to child, a curse from generation to generation as long as the scrofulous matter is allowed to remain in the family blood. As the very foundation of the blood is diseased we see this awful affliction manifested in many ways, such as enlarged glands or tumors about the neck, which often burst and become discharging ulcers, weak eyes, chronic Catarrh of the head, skin diseases, etc. This blighting disease being so firmly entrenched in the blood often attacks the bones, resulting in White Swelling, or hip disease, while a pallid, waxey appearance of the skin, loss of strength, and often lung affections show that the disease is entirely destroying the rich, nutritive qualities of the blood. There is but one way to cure Scrofula and that is to purify the blood and rid it of the germs of disease, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. Its purifying and building-up properties make it the ideal remedy for Scrofula. S. S. S. searches out and destroys all poisons and germs, gives strength, richness and vigor to the weak, polluted blood and cures Scrofula permanently. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine, made from roots, herbs and barks and may be taken with absolute safety by young or old. It so thoroughly removes the poison from the blood that no signs of it are ever seen again and posterity is blessed with a pure blood supply.
