

MANOUELLA FALLOWS BUT ONE HIT ANGELENO AMATEUR PITCHES FOR SEATTLE

Seraphs Play Errorless Ball and Game Proves Fast Exhibition—Chance and Connie Mack Watch the Proceedings

Maybe because they wished to show Connie Mack a few things, or perhaps it was for the benefit of Frank Chance, who adorned the grandstand, that Los Angeles gave a brilliant exhibition at Chutes park yesterday afternoon and trounced Seattle with a 3-1 score.

Red Randolph sent them across for Los Angeles, and the sandy haired boy made a distinct hit with the Philadelphia ball magnate by letting Siwash batters down with but a single bingle. Handy was in rare form yesterday and Seattle runners had small opportunity of rounding the sacks.

Young Hartman, a local amateur, opposed Randolph, and for a first time did not do so badly. Wildness was his chief fault, and had he been able to control a very deceptive out curve there might have been one over to tell. Hartman allowed eight hits, struck out five Angel batters and gave seven men free transportation.

Buckley was behind the bat for Los Angeles and his arm proved too much for the Siwash runners, who reached first base as but one bag was pilfered, that by the wide-awake Blankenship, who requires to be shown the backstop on whom he cannot purloin at least one base during a game.

Fun-getting started in the fourth inning, when each team sent one over. After two outs Blankenship singled to center and stole second. Eddie Householder picked out a nice one, which he dropped into left, Blankenship racing home. Croll struck out.

Carlisle walked and McKune dallied with Blankenship's throw to second sufficiently long for all hands to be safe. Toman shot a safe one to left, scoring Dillon. Jimmy was caught stealing second, and Buckley flew to left.

Hartman and Randolph proved invincible during the remainder of the game, and run-getting came to a close. The scores:

High School Eleven Expects to Give Collegians a Hard Struggle, and Unless Occidental Shows New Tactics, May Defeat Latter

Not predicting as to the outcome but grimly determined to avert if possible another defeat, Occidental gridiron men will line up this afternoon at Fiesta park for a struggle with the Los Angeles high school team, which, under the direction of Bill Traeger, has developed rapidly since the game with U. S. C. some weeks ago.

BURNS STARTS HIS TRAINING AT BEACH

Special to The Herald. LONG BEACH, Nov. 2.—Several hundred people watched Tommy Burns this afternoon in his first work of training for the fight with Jack O'Brien. He punched the bag, worked at shadow boxing, skipped the rope and went two fast rounds with Jimmy Burns on platforms erected on the beach by the bath house company.

The heavyweight has been given quarters in the bath house with free privileges of plunge, bowling alleys and skating rink.

Burns says that the training quarters were the most satisfactory he has ever had. He will live in a cottage at 239 Pacific avenue.

Jimmy Burns, Kid Dalton, Frank Lewis, Mack McClung, and his partner, C. H. O'Connor, are with Burns. Jimmy Burns is in training for his fight with Charley Neary, before the Pacific Athletic club November 13.

Manager Berry of the Los Angeles baseball club has arranged an attractive card for tomorrow afternoon when Frank Chance and Jim Jeffries will act as umpires in the game between the Angels and Siwashes.

Manager Berry had thought to play the Cub leader with Dillon, but Chance has not touched a ball in three weeks and is a trifle soft. Berry says there will be no doubt concerning Jeffries' umpiring, as he will go out and bring the big fellow in from the ranch if necessary.

Rumor had it yesterday that Chance was negotiating with Pitcher "Rube" Vickers of the Siwash team, but when questioned said that nothing had been done.

More excitement occurred in the sixth when Angel sticklers reached the game. Cravath opened with a double to left. Brashers fouled to Blankenship. Dillon hit to Kane, and the latter made a remarkable one-handed stop back of first base, tossing the sphere quickly to Streib. The latter, however, was slow and allowed the sphere to collide with his leg. Cravath scoring.

Carlisle walked and McKune dallied with Blankenship's throw to second sufficiently long for all hands to be safe. Toman shot a safe one to left, scoring Dillon. Jimmy was caught stealing second, and Buckley flew to left.

Hartman and Randolph proved invincible during the remainder of the game, and run-getting came to a close. The scores:

Table with columns for LOS ANGELES and SEATTLE, and rows for Batters (Kane, Buren, Blankenship, Householder, Streib, Mott, McKune, Hartman) and Pitchers (Kane, Buren, Blankenship, Householder, Streib, Mott, McKune, Hartman).

Occidental has refused a challenge from the University of Utah for a game in that city as the Highlanders have a date with Pomona college for November 24 and the contest could not be arranged.

Today's line-up: Occidental: Crane, Weiman, Patterson, Conrad, Clark, Clerer, Hodge, Marshall, Bird. High School: Walker, Cocoran, Silent, Watlington, Wallbridge, Brant, Beryman, Montgomery, Mitchell, Lull.

Maguire Wins Second Game From Kennedy

Following are the results in the second game of the three-cushion tournament at W. H. Berry's Hoffman billiard parlor last night: Kennedy 40, 53 innings, high runs 5, 5, 4. Maguire 17, 53 innings, high runs 2, 2, 2.

ATTEMPTS TO SWIM CHANNEL ENGLISHMAN MAKES A BRAVE EFFORT, BUT FAILS

Is Swept Back by Tide When Within a Few Miles of the French Coast. Remains in Water Nearly Twenty Hours

That riddle of all great swimmers, the English channel, has again proved more than the power of mortal man, and T. W. Burgess, who came within a short distance of the French shore, has failed in his third attempt this season to cross the treacherous waters.

The tug Canada, which accompanied him, returned recently to Dover and on landing the details of one of the most sensational channel swims ever carried out were supplied.

An extraordinary feature of the day's proceedings was that Burgess swam across the Goodwin Sands, where it was impossible for the attendant tug to follow him. This part of the journey was commenced at 8 a. m., two and three-quarters hours after the start from St. Margaret's bay.

The small feeding boat accompanied the swimmer on the hazardous swim over the sands, which occupied about an hour. The sea was in quite a boil, and the swimming badly broken water was so bad that the swimmer had to use the breast stroke in order to keep high enough out of the water and lessen the punishment. It is the first time on record that any channel swimmer has been forced to take to the water.

The tug was able to get into company with him again near the South Goodwin buoy shortly after 10:30. The struggle over the Sands had been exhausting, and Burgess was compelled to take it easy for a time after getting clear.

An interesting incident happened about noon. The Hull trawler Colonial Empire bore down onto the tug, thinking the Canada was in distress, as it had the "not under control" signal flying. On finding what was happening the Hull man gave Burgess an encouraging cheer, with shouts of "Good old Yorkshireman!"

At noon Burgess rested and enjoyed a good meal, consisting principally of chicken and bovril, followed by grapes. The haze still kept very thick, and all around the dismal noise of sirens and tug signals of shipping could be heard.

It was estimated at 1:20 by the position of the East Goodwin lightship that the French coast was fifteen miles off, and that a strong current was setting in that direction. The swim continued at that rate, and at 2:15 Burgess was judged to be nine miles from Calais, and within the next hour the swimmer was consulting with his pilot as to the position, and requesting that he should be shown the chart.

Burgess considered success certain, and was greatly encouraged. The sea was quite smooth and with warm temperature (68), the haze partially keeping the scorching sun off the swimmer's face. A Boulogne smack was fallen in with at 5 o'clock, and in reply to a question as to the swimmer's position, the Frechmen stated that it was fifteen kilometers off Calais, which the party could hardly believe.

It was after 7 o'clock before the first correct bearing could be obtained, this being when the coast lights were picked up. This gave the swimmer's position as eight miles off the French coast. By 9 o'clock the distance had been reduced to five miles from his goal. France, and an hour later it was four and one-quarter miles off Calais.

The tide was still driving east, and an hour later, with the shelving away of the French land, Burgess had the heart-breaking experience of finding himself half a mile farther from his goal. He had now been swimming for sixteen hours, and he experienced a very bad time shortly afterward and was given some champagne, and this revived him.

Weldman joined him in the water in case of anything happening, as Burgess had complained of cramp. The position of the lights shortly after midnight showed Burgess was now six miles off Calais on the outer Ruytlingen bank, driving away toward the North sea.

At 12:50 Burgess was again in trouble with muscular cramp, and Horace Mee got into the feeding boat ready in case Burgess showed any sign of collapse. Weldman swimming in very close company. His condition got worse, and shortly after 1 o'clock hot water from the tug's boiler was poured over him in the sea to attempt to relieve the cramp, but was ineffective, and at 1:25 in the morning Burgess was compelled to give up the struggle, and was assisted into the tug.

He had been then swimming just over eighteen hours, and in that time had covered forty-two miles. After medical attention on the tug he was at once put to bed on arriving at his hotel at Dover.

DECLINES TO CONSIDER THE BRIBERY CHARGES

By Associated Press. CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—On the ground that it is a matter to be settled by the national association, being an international matter, the National baseball commission has declined to consider the Kelly Lediard bribery charges from Minneapolis, the decision being published today.

Because of the serious nature of the charges, however, the commission in referring the case back to the national association "strongly recommend that that board thoroughly and carefully examine into the entire matter and that the men charged be either convicted or acquitted."

HOAG LOSES FOR FRESNO

BEAVERS WIN FROM RAISIN PICKERS

Pitcher Walks Two Men in Sixth and Seventh, and All Are Able to Score—Base Running is Feature

By Associated Press. FRESNO, Nov. 2.—Hoag's unsteady work on the slab cost Fresno today's game with the Beavers. He walked two men in both the sixth and seventh innings, and these were enabled to cross the rubber by hits. Fast base running, by both teams was the feature of the game. Fresno scored four runs by her quick work on the bags, but was not able to overcome Portland's lead.

Table with columns for PORTLAND and FRESNO, and rows for Batters (Sweeney, McHale, Mitchell, Gum, Smith, Warner, Donahue, Lester, Schimpff) and Pitchers (Casey, Doyle, Wolters, McLaughlin, Eagan, Delmas, Lashwood, Cartwright, Hoag).

Portland scored three runs in the first inning, and Fresno was unable to answer back until the fourth. The game was a close one, and the Beavers won by a score of 4-3.

Summary: Sacrifice hit—Eagan, Lashwood 2, Cartwright. Three base hit—Mitchell. First base on error—Gum off Hoag 2. Struck out—By Gum 1, by Hoag 2. On bases—Portland 6, Fresno 7. Double play—Gum unassisted. Wild pitches—Gum 2. Hit by pitcher—1. Time of game—2 hours. Umpire—Mahaffey.

WILL SECURE ATHLETIC EXPERT LOCAL CLUB AFTER COMPETENT DIRECTOR

Best Boxing and Fencing Instructors Have Been Obtained and Officials Hope to Provide Efficient Gymnasium Man

Los Angeles Athletic club members will soon have at their service one of the best athletic instructors in the country, if diligent search can bring such an individual to the front. A circular letter has been issued by Assistant Secretary Hayes which sets forth views relative to plans for the future.

Up to date the club has been unable to secure the services of a satisfactory athletic instructor, although every effort has been made to do so. While the position none have possessed the necessary scientific knowledge, although many have pretended to do so. Past experience has convinced the directors that the best results cannot be obtained by empirical methods. There are too many charlatans in the business at present, and the directors feel that the club had better get along temporarily without the services of an instructor than to secure an incompetent man.

The directors have been in correspondence for some time with one of the best men in the country, but up to date they have not been able to induce him to remove to Los Angeles. Correspondence has also been opened with the various eastern universities which educate men for this business and also with the famous Dr. Sargeant of Harvard, looking to the securing of a thoroughly scientific man educated in anatomy, physical culture, corrective development, calisthenics, etc., as well as competent to teach all branches of athletics both individually and in class.

It is absolutely necessary that we have such a man to take care of our business men and others among our members who take exercise for the benefit of their health only. They must have some one competent to examine

COUNTY NON-PARTISAN PLATFORM AND TICKET

Historic Document That Should Have the Careful Perusal of Every Voter in Los Angeles County

The non-partisan organization of Los Angeles county sends greetings to its fellow citizens: We protest against the further toleration of naming of legislative, judicial and administrative officers in this county by a railroad foreman, and demand that the hired men in public places be replaced by officials representing the people.

The complete domination of public affairs in this county by the Southern Pacific and its allied concerns, the prostitution of public offices and the filling of important places with pliable tools, the spoliation of public property and rights of individuals affecting transportation, the increased cost of living and inequality in taxation have impelled us to present to the electors of this county a choice of candidates for the public offices to be filled at the ensuing election.

We are not prepared to accept the program of the Southern Pacific that the laws of this state and county, the administration of the courts and of the board of supervisors and the acts of the county officers are to be administered solely in the interests of the Southern Pacific and by men designated solely by it.

The government of this county and state is not in fact representative in character, but in its various branches it is dominated by the Southern Pacific, for its own aggrandizement and to crush individual rights, with the ultimate purpose of absorbing the earnings and properties of the whole people.

Among the reforms which we advocate are the following: 1. That the original direct Australian ballot be restored to the people so that the voice of the people may be directly heard, and may be expressed by direct primaries and direct elections by the Australian group ballot without the intervention of caucuses or convention, and we denounce the present devices of the Southern Pacific and its confederated corporations to pervert the public voice through the present infamous system of election laws and the tricky voting machines.

2. We demand that the guaranty in the constitution of equal taxation be applied to the taxation of property and franchises of public utility corporations, and that they be taxed at their true and just value as evidenced by the market value of their securities and by their earnings.

3. We denounce the scheme of laws established in the interest of the Southern Pacific by which the county of Los Angeles is not allowed to construct county roads, and we demand that the present laws of the state be amended to permit the construction of county roads and that such roads be macadamized so as to facilitate the transportation of wagons, automobiles and traction engines, and thus regulate the rates of transportation.

4. We oppose the scheme of laws devised in the interest of the Southern Pacific and allied Harriman interests by which the harbors of this coast, and especially the great national harbor of San Pedro, is controlled by a handful of men to the exclusion of the rights of the people of the state of California and of the entire United States.

We demand that the regulation and control of harbors should be by a public board, representing the whole people, and that no harbor frontage should be given or appropriated to any individual or private use, but should be held solely for public uses, and that all the water front now illegally held by persons and corporations be recovered for the people and restored to public use.

5. We favor the abolition of the laws which prevent the recovery of damages against the large corporations for personal injuries and the like, and demand that the courts be so administered as to give the same measure of justice and right to the poorest individual that it gives to the great corporation.

6. We denounce the system of laws devised in the interests of the Southern Pacific and placed on our statutes, by which competing lines of railroad are prevented from building to our coast, and especially denounce the so-called railroad crossing act, which practically prevents new roads from crossing existing lines of railroad.

7. We demand that the barriers to commerce by water erected by the Southern Pacific be removed, and that free commerce be restored. This necessitates the restoration of the public water front to the people and the opening of commerce between the coast and interior points over county highways and competing railroads. The railroad combine, through its administration of the laws and control of public bodies, has prevented the vast volume of freight which might move by water from so moving, or from taking the water rate by rail, and which is maintained by a pool, thereby enormously increasing the burdens of the people of Southern California.

8. We condemn race track gambling in all its forms, and pledge our nominees for supervisors, state senate and assembly to labor unceasingly to the end that it may be abolished.
