8 p. m.—Edendale hall. Speakers, A. S. Van Degrift, Ben Ward and Marshall Stinson.

As the campaign draws nearer to a close the spirits of the non-partisans mount higher and higher. Without exception they declare they have won their fight, and that if conditions remain unchanged until the day of election, next Tuesday, their victory will be complete and overwhelming.

Favor the Non-Partisans

A careful canvass was made yesterday of two of the largest and most fashionable dry goods stores in town, the canvass covering all employees who were entitled to vote. In one of them there were found 48 votes for Gates, 8 for Harper and 2 for Lindley. The poll of the other store showed 56 for Gates, 4 for Harper and 2 for Lindley.

A careful canvass has been made of the Sixty-fifth precinct, which shows by a curious coincidence almost 65 per cent of all the voters in favor of Gates. In every sub-station of the postoffice which has been canvassed a large majority of the employees declare themselves in favor of Gates.

MR. GATES ADDRESSES TWO BIG MEETINGS DURING THE EVENING

The meetings addressed by Mr. Gates last night were among the best yet held of the minor gatherings of the campaign. Mr. Gates spoke first at the Hotel Westmore at 1000 West Seventh street.

ENOCH HIDDEN TELLS WHY HE NOW FAVORS NON-PARTISAN TICKET

Enoch Hidden, who recently withdrew as an independent candidate for councilman from the Second ward in favor of A. S. Van Degrift, the non-partisan nominee, yesterday issued the following address: "To the Believers in a Good Government: "Gentlemen—it is due you that I should give an explanation why I withdrew my name as a non-partisan independent candidate for councilman from the Second ward.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE ORGAN CERTAIN COUNCILMEN

The following are from Municipal Affairs, the official organ of the Municipal League of Los Angeles, September, 1906, issue, speaking of the river bed franchise matter: "One of the purposes of the Municipal League, as set forth in the constitution is to take note of the official conduct of members of the city government, commending or condemning as public policy may require."

CITY ATTORNEY GIVES CONFLICTING OPINIONS

Two conflicting opinions rendered at different periods by the city attorney, which the civil service commission is ratifying the decision of the police commission that J. W. Tyler was illegally derated from his position as sergeant two years ago and should be reinstated.

NON-PARTISANS VOUCH FOR GENUINENESS OF ITS SUPPORT PLEDGES

M. Lissner, secretary of the non-partisan league, yesterday issued the following report: "The Times editorially says that the report that the non-partisans have 8000 names pledged in writing to support the non-partisan ticket is a fake and a fraud. "It might be time enough to take notice of such statements when the Times answers the demand of the non-partisan executive committee that the Times publish sufficient evidence to warrant the charges contained in last Sunday's Times article aspersions upon the loyal men upon the non-partisan ticket, not naming them. "In order that the public may be fully advised, however, the non-partisan executive committee has prepared a tabulated statement showing the replies to the writing indorsing the non-partisan movement and ticket received at the non-partisan headquarters from day to day, commencing on October 6 and ending last night. These replies were received directly from the voters and show 8865 favorable replies to date, with more coming in every day. The increased number within the last day or two were received from voters who had registered since the closing of the registration for the state and county election, and who have just received the non-partisan literature and request for an answer. "These 8865 names must not be taken to be the total non-partisan strength, which certainly amounts to many thousands more. Every intelligent voter will understand that there are many men who will support the non-partisan ticket who have not taken the trouble to answer requests for an expression of opinion. "The executive committee invites the Times or any other Los Angeles newspaper, or a committee from all of them, or any fairly constituted committee, to call at the non-partisan headquarters and investigate and count the replies received in writing, which are now on file in this office."

VOTERS' LEAGUE ON RECORD AS FAVORING NON-PARTISAN TICKET

The executive committee of the Voters' League at its meeting November 27 passed the following resolution unanimously: "Resolved, that this executive committee recommends the voters of Los Angeles to support and vote the entire non-partisan ticket."

CLAMPITT WOULD ABOLISH OFFICE OF OIL INSPECTOR

Speaking of the contest for the council in the Second ward, Secretary Lissner said yesterday: "E. A. Clampitt has made repeated efforts to abolish the office of oil inspector and publicly declares that if he is elected councilman he will see that the office is abolished. Those who know the facts are not surprised at this. During the last year Mr. Clampitt has personally received written notifications from that office to abate nuisances to the number of thirty-four, besides innumerable verbal warnings. These warnings require him to take down abandoned derricks, to fill slump holes, to prevent oil from running down the street, and so on. Mr. Clampitt has been one of the worst offenders in the city in this regard, if not the very worst. Naturally he does not like the city oil inspectors, and he is anxious to get rid of them. "No rogue ever felt the halter draw. With good opinion of the law. "His non-partisan opponent, Mr. Van Degrift, when he is elected, will do all in his power to assist the able and conscientious gentleman who is at the head of that office."

LUMMIS WANTS FEWER EXAMS

Librarian Would Have All Women of His Department Under One Classification but Civil Service Commission Demurs

Backed by the approval of the library board, the heads of departments in the library and sixty-eight library employees, City Librarian Charles E. Lummis tried to gain the approval of the civil service commission yesterday for a method of bringing harmony between the rules of the commission and the practical methods of the library. Mr. Lummis' plan, as propounded to the commission, was to put all the women employed in the library in one classification under the civil service rules. Thirty young women selected by the library "senate," composed of the heads of departments and assistants, accompanied Mr. Lummis to brave the commission. Mr. Lummis stated that he was the exponent of the new plan, for the reason that it had been found most practical in the every-day workings of the library. He also stated that it was not only needless but unfortunate to multiply examinations.

best motor car drivers in the country. "Tommy Cooper, who was killed in New York, was once the world's champion bicycle rider, and Ernest Keeler, who rode to his death last Saturday in Philadelphia, was one of the finest fellows in the business. He was a Los Angeles boy, though he has been east much of the time recently. "I think there is no mode of travel so safe as the motor car if it is driven carefully and by people who understand it, but I do not believe in racing or speeding which will never go back to that line of work again. "In July I took part in the endurance run for the Glidden cup, but that was not racing. We made the trip from Buffalo to Breitenwood, N. H., going by way of Saratoga, Montreal and Quebec. I received a perfect score, but as there were thirteen of us who finished with perfect scores it was decided to leave the cup in the Buffalo Automobile club, and we were each presented with a silver medal by Mr. Glidden. The course was 1134 miles and we made the trip in twelve days. "There are more machines in California today in proportion than in Paris, France, where the machine had its first vogue. "Mr. Burman was at one time a racing partner of Barney Oldfield and of several other of the motor car drivers best known in America and abroad. He was in Los Angeles with Barney Oldfield the last time he raced here.

They expect to pass a week in Los Angeles resting and enjoying the various pleasures the city affords and then they will return to Butte by the route over which they came.
