Because of gambling alleged by the police the police board yesterday revoked the pool room license permit granted to W. F. Northrup at 896 South Alvarado street.

There had been a shifting of ownership there and lately the permit appeared in the name of C. E. Reese. It is alleged that Reese permitted the use of a rear room for gambling and the officers surprised players at a poker game there.

The board granted liquor licenses as follows: To T. P. Thompson, at 231 East First street.

Clausen & McCollough, 507 Ceres avenue, transfer from J. M. Miller, for saloon, restaurant and billiard hall.

Suits Aggregating $41,500 Are Filed Against Street Railway Companies for Injuries Received in Accidents

Suits for damages aggregating more than $41,500 were filed yesterday in the superior courts against the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles and Redondo railroads by victims of the accidents in the smashup on the Redondo line on August 13 and for the tragedy at the Goose Neck curve on October 13.

One of the suits is filed by Miss Beatrice P. Phillips against the Pacific Electric company. Miss Phillips is a pretty young woman of 18 years of age.

On the morning of October 13 she was one of the passengers on the fated Pacific Electric car and she sustained fearful injuries which she alleges have deprived her of the use of her limbs and have caused her to become a nervous wreck.

One of the peculiar features of the accident was the fact that at the same spot just one year before Miss Phillips' mother was seriously injured and the tragedy occurred while the young woman's father was standing within ten paces of the spot where it occurred.

Miss Phillips charges the railway company with carelessness and negligence and asks $20,330 damages.

Orville Smart, one of the victims of the Redondo wreck of August 13, also filed a suit for damages. He was severely injured, sustaining sundry bruises, cuts and fractures, and he asks $21,180 for his injuries, alleging negligence on the part of the railway company.

PRISONER MAY BE PARTNER OF ROSS

Man Giving Name of Jones Locked Up on Suspicion of Being Implicated with the Dead Burglar

Said to be a partner of William Ross, the man who was shot and killed by Patrolman Hoover on the night of February 2, a man who gave the name of J. J. Jones to the police, was arrested by Patrolman Ditzer yesterday and is being held on suspicion.

It is claimed by the police that Jones was with Ross a few minutes before the duel occurred in which the latter was killed and Patrolman May seriously wounded.

Jones is said to have refused to give any information about himself or his actions either before or since that night. It was known by the police soon after the shooting occurred that Ross had a partner and detectives were at once sent out to hunt the man down.

The patrolmen were also instructed to watch out for him, with the result that Ditzer soon was in possession of a clue which led to the man's capture.

COMMISSION SITS AS TRIAL COURT

OFFICERS WILL PLEAD CASES TUESDAY NIGHT

Former Policemen Seeking Reinstatement or Exoneration Will Be Given an Evening for Presenting Evidence

Next Tuesday night will be trial night with the board of police commissioners.

All pending cases involving a hearing and all cases of officers seeking reinstatement will be lumped for trial that night when several hours will be devoted to the work.

So many cases have accumulated of late since the new commission took hold that Mayor Harper yesterday made the night meeting suggestion.

Patrolman Healy, son of the councilman, charged with being drunk on duty, was ready yesterday to go on trial on the charges, but this case also was set over until Tuesday.

George V. Ross, who was dismissed for being absent without leave, asks reinstatement. As the man was tried it will involve practically a review of a previous commission's findings.

P. H. Harris also asks to be restored to the eligible list.

Joseph Baker, who was on the detective force, also asks reinstatement.

F. E. Vassar, a former patrolman who has lately been serving as policeman at Long Beach, asks reinstatement.

Both of the last two mentioned have been out of the service more than two years, and if precedents are followed they must take a new civil service examination.

Former Patrolman W. A. King, who vanished from Los Angeles immediately after the San Francisco disaster, appeared before the board of police commissioners seeking reinstatement. He insisted that the stories that he became scared by the disturbances were not true; that he went to near Yuma, Colo., to nurse a sick brother.

"Capt. Broadway's clerk prepared a typewritten form of application for leave of absence," he said, "and I went to the city hall to get the mayor's signature but Mr. McAleer was out. So I took the next train for Colorado. My brother was out on the plains with pneumonia. I expect to live here the rest of my life."

This case was laid over until Tuesday.

Former Patrolman George K. Reynolds, who seeks reinstatement, because of the two-year limit will also probably have to take the civil service examination once more.

ONE AUCTION HOUSE HAS REAL ORIENTAL GOODS

There are auctions and auctions, and Los Angeles is having a taste of all kinds at present. On every street corner the vender of real and fake Japanese and Chinese goods can be heard pleading with the tourist and the resident to exchange his coin for fine art from Japan and China.

That there are sales of genuine Oriental art goods in some parts of the city cannot be denied, and one of the finest collections seen in Los Angeles is that which is being auctioned by W. H. Bosley in the new store in the Angelus hotel.

LOCKED UP IN JAIL BUT IS SOON RELEASED

Girdine Horton was arrested yesterday by Detectives Rich and Roberts at the request of the sheriff's office. It was said by the police that he was connected with a gang of men who have stolen a number of horses recently.

Later in the day word was sent to the police to release the man, and this was done. Horton is known as a bad man and has served several terms in jail. He is a brother of Posey Horton, the man who found the body of Mrs. Besold in Temescal canyon last year.

SISTERS REUNITED AFTER FORTY YEARS

An affecting scene was enacted yesterday afternoon at the Salt Lake station when Mrs. Franklin Martin of Los Angeles and her sister, Mrs. Lydia Spry, a widow of Salt Lake City. They had not seen each other for forty years, the family having been separated many years ago.

Mrs. Martin was born in San Francisco in 1850 and claims to be the second oldest white native daughter. When four years old she went with her father, Theodore Sharp, to Salt Lake City, where he was accidentally killed. The family became separated and Mrs. Martin went to Ventura with her half brother.

In that city she was married to Franklin Martin, who has had large experience in mining and prospecting.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin reside at 343 1/2 East Fifty-third street. Mrs. Spry will enjoy a visit with them for one month and then Mrs. Martin will return with her to her home on a visit.
