

Montana Kid Says He Will Fight Stand up Battle Tonight

Montana's Friends Are Expectant

Short Ender Thought to Have a Fair Chance if He Makes a Stand. Up Battle with His Opponent

Montana Kid has but a few hours more to wait before being given the opportunity of proving to his friends that he really means to fight Jimmy Burns at Naud Junction pavilion. Everything so far as can be foreseen is clear sailing for tonight's exciting lightweight battle, with the men to weigh in at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Evidently neither boy will experience difficulty in balancing the scales. Montana tipped the beam at 133 1/2 yesterday morning, while Burns weighed a trifle more. It would be a popular victory this evening should Montana come away winner, as the lad has won many friends hereabouts because of his extreme cleverness. But every man that ever saw Montana in a ring is anxious to know whether the husky lightweight intends to make a stand-up fight of it.

Some little excitement was in order at Montana's camp yesterday morning when "Cyclone" Thompson paid his respects. Thompson has fought both men, drawing with Montana and losing to Burns. He was up to "Cyclone" to get the kid a bit of advice and he went to it. "There's only one thing the matter with you Montana," said "Cyclone." "If you were willing to fight all the time you'd be a world beater. The trouble is you take a couple of wallops and then start in canning."

Montana became somewhat wroth at this information and notified of his intention to fight "Cyclone" however made haste to explain that everything said was spoken in a friendly spirit and for the kid's welfare. Montana cooled down and the gabfest died away. Burns will enter the ring a pronounced favorite this evening. He has the Montana money in his pocket at any odds. As good as 2 to 1 might be had yesterday, and some of that went begging.

Burns Favorite
The fact that Burns has won all of his local battles is a surprise. So far as cleverness is concerned he looks to have Burns almost outclassed. Indeed, it would be difficult to find a more skillful boxer than this same Montana.

The kid's battles have often been puzzling to those who sat at the ringside, momentarily expecting him to put his hands away. For some reason or other Montana allowed down at a critical moment and allowed the opponent time for recuperation. At other times, after accepting a brace of stiff wallops, Montana would get his feet up and devoted the remainder of his time to foot work.

Just a possibility, however, that Montana may spend a surprise, as did Abe Attell when he met Frankie Nell. Before his memorable combat with Nell, Attell was regarded as a runaway ringster of the most pronounced sort.

Frankie's friends were of an opinion that Attell would surprise. He, however, declared repeatedly that he would meet Nell at his own game and prove to the world that he could fight as well as box. Abe lived up to his word and bested Frankie in as vicious a battle as might be witnessed. Now Montana says that he also is going to brush up the slate and start a new record.

Whether he will or not remains for this evening to develop. Manager McCarey is anxious that those holding tickets should be seen, necessitating a quick getaway.

STUDENTS OF "POLY" ENTERTAIN GUESTS

FIRST COMMENCEMENT HELD THIS YEAR

Polytechnic high school entertained its friends at the second annual visitors' day held yesterday. Throughout the day the classes were in session, an addition to the special attractions which had been arranged. The guests were shown over the building by a committee of the boys chosen as ushers. Electric hand motors and dynamos buzzed merrily away, telegraph keys ticked, big induction coils sputtered spitefully and gysler tubes were displayed, with much enthusiasm on the part of the students who operated them.

Serve School-Made Pies
Dauntly maids in white cap and gown, purveyors of the cooking department, dispensed samples of their handiwork. Pies, cakes, tarts and lemonade were served the visitors. On the main floor the visitors were conducted to class rooms, where English, geometry, French, Spanish and German recitations were being held. Typewriters clicking on the third floor attracted many others to that quarter of the building, where the young people of the commercial department were busy at work. An art exhibit of free hand work in drawing, including sketches in pen and charcoal, painting of models and mechanical, architectural, civil and mining engineering and map drawing, drew many visitors to the fourth floor. At 1 o'clock the visitors assembled in the auditorium, where the following program was rendered: Galops Militaire, P. H. S. orchestra. "Gathering Leaves" for Silk Worms, music from opera "Mireille," Gounod, French class. Oration, "The Coming Supremacy of the Pacific Coast," Elise Messer. Song, "Light and Gay," (Plotow), P. H. S. Girls' Glee club. Song, "But That Was All," (Parks), P. H. S. Girls' Glee club. Song, "Las Gaviotas," Spanish classes. Oration, "New Thought," Jesse Andrews. Song, "The Star-Spangled Banner," harkens were here at the work.

DEATH CALLS SON OF CAPT. BRYDEN
Home of Fire Department Officer Is Plunged Into Mourning by Loss of Bright Boy—Friends Sorely Grieved
Many friends of Capt. William H. Bryden of the Los Angeles fire department will be shocked to hear of the death of his 11-year-old son, Milton A. Bryden. The little lad was exceptionally bright and was a favorite among a large circle of friends. Milton had been suffering several weeks from a growth on his forehead. Specialists diagnosed the trouble as a tumor pressing upon the optic nerve. The boy bore his affliction nobly, but his condition became so serious that a consultation of five physicians was called. An operation was decided upon, but proved of no avail and the little sufferer passed away Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church tomorrow at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Calvary cemetery.

Drill, Girls' Gymnasium class. Song, "America," visitors and students. First Commencement

The Polytechnic high school will have its first real commencement this year. Last June the school, which has been reorganized long enough to have a full class of graduates; but this year a much larger number will leave their alma mater, and the exercises will be elaborate. The first event of graduating week will be a reception given the graduating class by the alumni and the faculty. This will take place in the high school gymnasium June 21. With a set of scenery painted especially for the occasion, the class play, "The Stoops to Conquer," will be presented in the high school auditorium June 25. Class day will come the following day and will be a time of music, merriment and wit. The P. H. S. Mandolin club will begin the program with a selection, "American Valor March" (Siegel). The "Class History," written by Miss Gladys Lewis, will be delivered by Orville C. Howland. Miss Lewis herself will deliver the "Class Prophecy." The class will sing, "The Merry Makers" (Von Suppe). Following this Miss Mame Cliff will present the Ionian pins to the graduates, Ernest Ganahall accepting them for his class. The exercises will close with a class song by the Summer Class of "Naughty Seven."

The commencement exercises will be held at Temple Auditorium the afternoon of June 27 at 2 o'clock. The program is as follows: Selection from "Tannhauser" (Wagner), P. H. S. orchestra; oration, "The Small Farm," Lawrence Alfred Lewin, S. P. O.; oration, "The Point of View," Faye Sylvester, S.
