HEADQUARTERS OF N. E. A. OPENED

RAILROADS ALL MAKE CHEAP RATES

Delegates Are Expected to Register, Receive Tickets and Badges at the Bureau in Auditorium Building

Headquarters for the National Educational association delegates will be opened today in the basement of the Temple Auditorium. Every one will be expected to register there and receive tickets and badges.

The railroads have at last made excursion rates for the N. E. A. convention, and it will be possible to come from New York and other eastern points for half rates. The Erie and Lehigh Valley roads started the movement, and it is expected that other roads will follow their lead.

It has been decided to use all the churches between the Auditorium and Polytechnic high school for departmental sessions. In what order has not yet been determined. Telegrams have been received from President Nathan C. Schaeffer, Dr. J. M. Greenwood, a member of the board of trustees of Kansas City; Dr. Elmer Elsworth Brown, United States commissioner of education and now a member of the executive board, and J. N. Wilkinson of Emporia, Kas., announcing that they have left for Los Angeles.

A ticket validation office has been established at 297 South Spring street for the use of the association members.

APOLLO CLUB TO PLAY FOR N. E. A. CONVENTION

The Apollo club will provide the music before the N. E. A. on the evening of July 11. In preparation for this event a rehearsal of the several numbers was held in Normal hall last night.

The attendance was large. Dr. Eugene E. Davis, the newly elected director, made his first appearance before the club.

It will only be a few days more before plans will be ready for the new city hall annex if the remarks made in the city council yesterday are carried into effect.

All councilmen expressed a desire to see the work begun at once, declaring that though it is but a temporary makeshift it is apparently a much needed one to meet the congestion in all city department offices.

A councilman said yesterday: "The hitch seems to be whether the city can afford to pay an architect $800 to draw the plans when it has its own corps of draughtsmen and whether the cost shall be $20,000 or $25,000. The majority feeling seems to be that the lower figure is high enough, as in time the structure will have to be razed."

The board of public works reports as follows: "As your honorable body is, doubtless aware all departments of this municipality are crowded for room; so much so that in many instances it is hardly possible to do the work of their departments."

"The board has considered the matter of erecting a building on the vacant property adjacent to the city hall, which property belongs to the city of Los Angeles, and also of adding a floor to the present building."

"After conferences with the building committee of your honorable body and with the mayor it seems advantageous to construct a three-story building on the lot adjoining the city hall."

"We, therefore, recommend to your honorable body the adoption of the accompanying resolution authorizing this board to enter into a contract with Fred D. Hudson for the preparation of the necessary plans and specifications for the construction of such a building; the said Hudson to be paid 3 1/2 per cent commission upon the contract price for the said building for his services in the preparation of the said plans and specifications."

"It is the intention of this board that the chief inspector of buildings, J. J. Backus, will superintend the construction of this building, but his office is so crowded with work that it seems impossible for him to attend to the matter of preparing detailed plans and specifications."

"Such a three-story building as is contemplated to be constructed will, near as we are able to determine, cost approximately $25,000."

Following are the permits issued from the office of the chief inspector of buildings Monday, and classified according to wards:

Permits.	Value.
First ward	$1,215
Second ward	1,40
Third ward	10,403
Fifth ward	10,960
Sixth ward	225
Seventh ward	1,387
Ninth ward	3,300
Totals	$21,247

ENTERS SUIT FOR DAMAGE INFLICTED BY AUTOMOBILE

For injuries sustained when struck by the defendant's automobile, Carl Klingberg yesterday filed a suit in the superior court for $1000 damages and a doctor's bill of $8 against Burton E. Green.

In the complaint it is charged that August 16, 1906, the defendant unskillfully, negligently, recklessly and wantonly drove his automobile against the person of the plaintiff, breaking his right leg and inflicting a contusion of the left hip.

It is further explained that a fraternal organization paid all of the plaintiff's expenses, except when first injured, and before the organization had been duly notified the plaintiff had engaged another physician, to whom he was still indebted in the sum of $8.
