

LOST MAIL DISCOVERED

FORMER FEDERAL EMPLOYEE HID IT IN ROOM

SAYS HE DID SO BECAUSE HIS WORK WAS TOO HARD

Clerk Dismissed from Long Beach Postoffice is Liable to Prosecution on Charge of Robbing Mails

LONG BEACH, Oct. 2.—The mysterious disappearance of hundreds of pieces of mail here between one and two years ago was explained this afternoon when painters and paper hangers at work in room 9 of the Ocean Terrace rooming house over Prittle's drug store at Ocean and Locust avenues, discovered about 600 letters hidden in the room and a board of outside weatherboarding and the canvas upon which the paper was to be hung.

Many of these letters had been opened. All but about sixty of the pieces of mail were addressed to Long Beach people. The remainder, many of which bore stamps, were addressed to parties in other cities. From the proprietor of the lodging house it was learned that the room had been occupied by Mark E. Tant, 27 years old, who, until about a year ago, was employed in the local postoffice. Tant was appointed a clerk in the office in 1906. In December of that year he was made a carrier. About a year ago he resigned under pressure. A few months ago he hurriedly gave up his room at the Ocean Terrace because of the serious illness of his father.

Inspector Notified Postmaster Hirsch, who was notified of the strange and shortly after it was made, sent to Los Angeles and called Inspector Wilson to the beach to look into the matter. The police department was asked to institute a search for Tant, who, it was learned, had recently been working as night engineer for the Pacific Electric at El Segundo, Calif. Marshal Young and Sergeant Fred Phillips finally located the man at the home of his parents on Hillman street and took him with them to the postoffice, where Inspector Wilson secured a confession from Tant.

The prisoner later said that the letters addressed to Long Beach people which he had been unable to deliver within his eight hours of daily work, had hidden them later. He said that he permitted these to accumulate so rapidly that he finally allowed a large number of them to remain undelivered. The letters addressed to parties living outside the city, he said, were given him by people living on his route. He had forgotten to mail them, he said. There were about sixty of these found today. Tant appropriated the money given him for postage on the pieces of mail.

Denies Opening Letters Tant denied having opened any of the letters. The painters who found the batch of mail, however, said that many of the letters appeared to have been torn open, while others looked like they had been steamed open. Tant was employed as a carrier on the route between American avenue and north of Third, according to his own statement, and he had 139 blocks to cover twice each day. He said he was frequently unable to get around in the allotted time, eight hours. He gave up the reason for his leaving the service a year ago that the postoffice authorities objected because he went in debt. Postmaster Hirsch said this evening that another reason for his dismissal was that he was found to have failed to mail a quantity of letters given him by various persons. A large drawer full of such letters was found in the postoffice, according to the postmaster. Tant is in the city jail here tonight. Tomorrow Inspector Wilson will probably commence an action against him on the serious charge of robbing the United States mail. The young man has repeatedly asked that his arrest be kept a secret and he begged that his parents be not told of his disgrace.

GALE WRECKS SHIP; CREW MAY PERISH

TERRIFIC STORM SWEEPS ALONG IRISH COAST

French Vessel Goes on Rocks—Twenty-Five Men Spend Entire Day Huddled in Bow Awaiting Rescuers

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A heavy gale blew over the Irish and Welsh coasts yesterday and there are several exciting rescue reports of the crews of wrecked vessels. The most serious disaster was near Seaford, County Clare, when the French ship Leon XIII from Queens-town September 26, at which port she arrived recently from Portland, Ore., went on the rocks. No news yet has been received that the crew had been rescued. A report which came in at an early hour this morning described her sails as blown into ribbons and seas are breaking over the ship. The crew of twenty-five men are huddled in the bow, the only part of the vessel where safety from the huge waves can be found. The men have spent a terrible day. Most of the time they have clung to the rigging, beaten and numbed by the pitiless seas. There is a big crowd on the beach, but they are powerless to render assistance. The point where the vessel is ashore is the most dangerous on the coast. She lies 250 yards in a direct line from the mainland, but the presence of the huge rocky barrier between the ship and the shore compels the life boats in their efforts to get into communication to take a circuitous route through the boiling seas. All through the day and until a late hour last night life boats and coast guards made determined but fruitless efforts to reach the doomed vessel. The attempts were to have been continued this morning if the ship was still holding together but no reports have been received.

TOPANGO CANYON SETTLERS. ASK POSTOFFICE FACILITIES

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 2.—Topango canyon settlers have petitioned the postoffice authorities to establish a delivery station in the mountains that will be convenient for residents in both the Topango and Graphite districts. The Harter ranch has been suggested as a location.

W. G. Fisher, a sailor from the British ship Dumfriesshire, now at the long wharf, was arrested this morning on a vagrancy charge and was given a sentence of sixty days in the county jail.

It is reported that health officers are keeping a close watch over restaurants in this section that are suspected of serving "comebacks" to their patrons.

The first gymnastium to be established in the local public schools will be dedicated during the week to the Washington school students. The board of education is said to be heartily in favor of the plan of installing gyms at all of the schools.

Repairs on the Elks' club house have caused the closing of the building for the present.

Contracts for the improvement of Twentieth street and South Eighth street were awarded last evening by the city trustees to F. Nieman and C. W. Conaway.

Moe Fogel, one of the city's foremost athletes, today entered the University of Southern California and will take up the regular course of studies. Fogel is the sixth Santa Monica youth to enter the university recently.

Marion K. Harris, a Southern California pioneer, died today at his residence on Eighth street. Mr. Harris was for more than fifty years engaged in business at Ventura and for the last six years was a resident of this city. A widow and seven children survive him.

WANTS MONEY BACK; ENFORCES DEMAND

FIGHTS WHEN PARTNER SAYS WAIT AWHILE

Elder Man Says Younger Threatened Him with Knife When He Asked Time to Return Purchase Price

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD. LONG BEACH, Oct. 2.—J. D. Brown, who two days ago paid G. W. Williams $25 for a half interest in a little restaurant at 204 East First street, this morning gave Williams a severe beating because, when the latter was asked to return Brown the money so that Mrs. Brown could start east he told Brown to wait until after dinner.

The two men fought all over the restaurant and out upon the pavement, Williams' cries of "murder" attracting a huge crowd of business men to the scene of the affray. Williams, who is an elderly man, sustained several bad bruises on the face. He told the police that the younger man had threatened him with a long knife. Brown was arrested on a charge of battery.

DUVALL IS ADVANCED OVER MANY SENIORS

Interesting Contest for Appointment to Office of Major General in Army Develops—Winner Has Good Record

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—One of the most interesting contests of recent years is ended by Major General Duvall's appointment yesterday, which is notable from the fact that no less than six brigadier generals were passed over, although they were General Duvall's seniors. They were Generals Funston, Carter, Bliss, Barry, Mills and Edgerly, and it is a curious fact that General Duvall was either instructor or drill master at West Point to each of these officers except Funston.

Besides official facts, which had their weight in bringing about the promotion of General Duvall, it is known that the president and Secretary Taft regard General Duvall as one of the ablest of the general officers of the army, whose record of service both in the line and the staff is exceptionally fine.

DRUGGISTS DENOUNCE ANTI-TRUST LAWS

Wholesalers in Convention at Denver Say Sherman Bill Will Create Instead of Prevent Restraint of Trade

By Associated Press. DENVER, Oct. 2.—According to a resolution adopted by the annual convention of the National Wholesale Druggists' association, now in session here, the Sherman anti-trust law "is entirely too radical and should be amended or new legislation enacted to permit reasonable trade agreements."

The resolution declares the belief of the association to be that the liberal application of the Sherman law will create the greatest possible restraint of trade, although that is the condition it is intended to prevent.

ANOTHER FREE RURAL DELIVERY FOR BEACH

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD. LONG BEACH, Oct. 2.—Postmaster George Hirsch, whose endeavor it has been for many months to improve the rural delivery service here, today received notice from the postoffice department authorities that a second route will be put on here beginning October 16.

Under the present conditions more than 600 families are served by one route. The second route will serve about 200 of these and about as many more. Route No. 1 and about 24.7 miles long and route No. 2 23.075.

When the first route was put on, a few years ago, it served very few families. Much of the territory it traverses is now thickly settled. Many days last winter the one rural carrier delivered 1000 pieces of mail each day.

By Associated Press. Has Many Strong Plays

"As a result of my recent trip to New York, the Belasco and Alcazar will have the finest list of attractions for the coming year that has ever been offered. I can't give out the list just yet, but Mr. Blackwood will provide it shortly. You can say for me that never in the history of coast theatricals has so fine a list of stock offerings been given."

Mr. Belasco says he has just "run down" for a week or so, and that aside from general future house plans, there is nothing of importance on.

"Every time I come to Los Angeles I feel that I need a guide to introduce me to the city," he said. "You grow so here between trips."

CORT ANNOUNCES THEATRICAL COUP

SECURES STAIR & HAVLIN ATTRACTIONS

Current Season Contracts at Grand Will Be Filled, but New House Will Be Built for 1908

In all probability the old Grand opera house at First and Main streets is about to enter upon its last season as a home for "road shows."

This promise is based upon the announcement yesterday of the fact that the Stair & Havlin attractions, hitherto controlled in Los Angeles by the Orpheum circuit and Manager Clarence Drown, are being turned to the exclusive management here, as well as in San Francisco, of the Northwestern Theatrical Managers' syndicate, of which Cal Heilig and John M. Cort are the moving factors.

Mr. Cort, who arrived in Los Angeles late Tuesday night from New York, made the announcement that with September of next year the Stair & Havlin attractions would be controlled here exclusively by his association.

"We will have a new house for the shows," said Mr. Cort. "While we are not in a position to give out absolute information as to the new house or its location, I will go so far as to announce that it will be on Main street, and will be in one of two locations on which we are now figuring. Both sets of plans cover an office building with the theater as an important feature."

Means Important Change

This announcement is potent as a forerunner of important happenings in the local theatrical world. It foreshadows the closing of the Grand, or the installation of permanent stock organizations of one kind or another. Also it means that the Klaw & Erlanger interests, which have been the field against the Orpheum circuit houses does not propose that any outside revenue shall trickle into the coffers of the erstwhile western vaudeville monopoly. The Stair & Havlin interests being closely allied with the K. & E. syndicate are naturally turning toward the admitted friends of the theatrical trust.

Manager Clarence Drown of the Orpheum theater and Grand opera house declined to discuss the proposed change at any length last night. "If any such contract has been made by the Stair & Havlin people I have not been informed. Our contract covers the Grand bookings for this season, and I think for next."

Mr. Drown admitted the apparent impossibility of securing road attractions to replace the Stair & Havlin shows should they be withdrawn. What must needs follow is either a stock company or else the closure of the house.

The Los Angeles Attractions

Plans for the present season at the Los Angeles include many of the lighter class attractions which last season played at the Mason, and many of the so-called higher class Cort attractions will play at the Mason this year. Next year will probably tell a different story.

Among the attractions booked are "The Royal Chef," Richards and Fringles' minstrel, "Way Down," Ralph Stuart in "Strongheart," Ellis Jeffrey's former co-star with W. M. Crane; "The Rollicking Girl," "Under Southern Skies," the Alaskan opera company. Mr. Cort's own recent production from New York, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," Henry Savage's "Woodland," "The Sho-Gun," another Savage company; "The Holy City," "The Burgomaster," and the Pollard opera company.

Mr. Cort enters denial to the rumor that he is seeking other theaters in the southern country.

"Los Angeles is the greatest show town on the coast," says Mr. Cort, "and we are glad to be comfortably started here. No immediate new connections in outside towns will be made at present, though they may develop naturally later. Mr. Cort leaves for San Francisco on the Owl this afternoon, and will go from there to join Cal Heilig at Portland."

FREDERICK BELASCO TO INVADE THE EAST

"With the Belasco theater to be opened in Harlem, New York, somewhere in the region of 12th street within a year, the Belasco theater in Oakland, to be opened at about the same time, our theater here and the Alcazar in San Francisco, the Belasco-Mayer company will be in a position to offer the best stock productions in the world."

Fred Belasco, manager of the enterprises, leaned back in his corner of Jack Blackwood's little sanctum at the Belasco last night and puffed away at his cigarette with a self-satisfied air, after the statement.

"We have plans completed for our Oakland theater," said Mr. Belasco. "It will be a house modeled largely after the Belasco here, but embodying many of the improvements of our New Alcazar, the finest stock theater in the country. It will seat about 1500 people and will be a strictly class A building."

"Our New York house will place us in closer touch with the play market than we have ever been before, and we can deal with the newer productions, particularly at first hand. That will mean better attractions for our western houses."

"Plans for our Harlem house are nearing completion, and as I said, the house will be opened within a year. It will present plays in our usual way—new costumes, new scenery and new accessories every week. That is very different from the usual New York stock production, and will open their eyes a bit, let me tell you."

"As a result of my recent trip to New York, the Belasco and Alcazar will have the finest list of attractions for the coming year that has ever been offered. I can't give out the list just yet, but Mr. Blackwood will provide it shortly. You can say for me that never in the history of coast theatricals has so fine a list of stock offerings been given."
