BIG BALL WILL FORMALLY OPEN NEW TEMPLE FLORAL DECORATIONS USED BY CARLOADS

Special Cars Will Furnish Transportation—Four Thousand Accept Invitations—Supper Will Be Continuous

With the placing of the last cut flowers and palms today arrangements will be completed for the grand ball to be the most successful ever given in Southern California...

Active preparations have been going on for months and no details which might add in the slightest degree to the comfort of the 4000 guests expected has been overlooked by the committees in charge.

A wealth of cut blossoms liberally besprinkled with dainty greenery adorn the dining rooms and the banquet hall, while over five carloads of potted palms and flowers have transformed the ball room into a veritable paradise of tropical bloom.

Kindful of the transportation facilities, the street car companies have been induced to put on extra service, and every six minutes cars of the Los Angeles Interurban Jefferson street line will leave Third and Main streets, bearing down the legend, "Direct to Al Malakiah temple."

These cars will convey guests to within one block of the auditorium, while a similar service on the Los Angeles Railway company's Main and Jefferson streets line will carry patrons to the Jefferson street entrance of the temple.

Never has there been a function in local social or Masonic circles which met with such unqualified favor as this first annual assembly of Al Malakiah. Admission is by card and invitation only, and up to last night over 4000 acceptances had been received.

While the banquet hall will seat but 2000 guests at a time, the plans contemplate a continuous supper from 10 o'clock on, and an ample corps of waitresses has been provided to look after the wants of the visitors.

Members of the order have been straining every nerve to make tonight's function one well worthy of its social history as "the very finest ever, or anywhere," and indications point to the complete fulfillment of their dreams.

Porter's Catalina Island band, augmented to fifty pieces, will provide the grand march will begin promptly at 8:30, the doors opening an hour earlier.

CLAIM CITY LOST IN A POKER GAME

COURT IS ASKED TO RESTORE PROPERTY

Romantic Historic Events Reviewed In Effort to Establish Claim to Valuable Real Estate Holdings at Pena City

The romantic history of a city within a city, or the town which was bartered as stakes in a poker game in the good old days of the dons and the padres, is about to be unraveled in the probate division of the superior court.

Pena City, located in the neighborhood of West Jefferson street, was the location of the old plaza where the many fiestas of the Spanish saint calendar were celebrated, and where the guitar tinkled accompaniment to the gay fandango, while bold dons with clinking spurs sat around tables and gambled and drank and smoked cigarettes.

It was on one of these festive occasions that the owner of Pena City is said to have gambled away his claim to the gay village for the paltry sum of $200, Julio Carrillo de Rios, heir of Francisco M. de Carrillo, heir to the city, claims the gambling transfer to be invalid and demands an investigation into the affair.

The present value of Pena City is estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. The claimant says her brothers, Vicente and Ramon Rios, bartered their claim to Pena City for $10 each, while her share has never been administered.

Pena City, known as the town of Las Milpas, was the scene of bull baiting, cock fighting and bronco busting in the early days. It was the haunt of the people when the big celebration of the sixteenth of September was celebrated. The case has been placed on the docket of the superior court.

ABUSES HIS TEAM; PAYS HEAVY FINE

DUMB ANIMALS POUNDED WITH CHAIN WHIP

Leading Ranchman at Elftman Station Assessed $150 for Mistreating Horses and Mules—Other Cases Reported

A story of inhuman and incredibly cruel treatment of dumb animals by callous brutes in the beet district around Elftman station, on the line to Redondo, was told by Officers H. S. Taylor and P. D. Mitchell of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals yesterday when they went to secure complaints from Deputy District Attorney Frank Blair.

They had with them a heavy stick, to the end of which was fastened a heavy iron chain, forming a chain whip, which O. E. Elftman, leading ranchman of the vicinity and for whom the station is named, used to beat his horse and mule. The animals are said by the officers to be covered with welts as a result of the application of the instrument of torture. Elftman has a large ranch and for years has supplied the Banning company with alfalfa for their stock.

The ranchman was arraigned before Justice Pierce on two charges. For beating his animals with the cruel whip chain he was fined $100, while on the other charge he paid $50.

Louis Page, a rancher from the same vicinity, was fined $50 in the same court for driving lame and disabled animals which were not fit to work. The two officers report that the beet drivers unhitched their teams and took to the hills when they heard the officers were in the neighborhood. They found loaded beet wagons which had been abandoned on their way to the railway station, because the owners feared the officers would arrest them for driving lame and crippled animals.

In the city two arrests were made on the charge of cruelty to animals by the officers, who are becoming very diligent in their campaign against cruel owners who abuse their stock. Vicente Boyla was fined $10 in Justice Pierce's court for working a lame and sore horse. In Justice R. L. Selph's court Louis Weiss, a junk dealer, was fined $10 for beating his horse.

MISS LILA REEDER

MISS LILA REEDER, a member of the younger social set, who left last week with a troop of nine young women to make their first appearance on the Orpheum stage in San Francisco, writes to say that the sketch was received with much favor in the northern city and is to have a run of five weeks there.

The sketch, "The Botanical Maids," directed by Robert P. Skilling, is a singing and dancing stunt in two acts and is said to be quite clever. After their stay in San Francisco the young women will play in Chicago and New Orleans before returning to Los Angeles.

TRIM YOUR TREES FORESTER URGES

ASKS THAT CITY'S BEAUTIFUL ASSET BE NOT MARRED

California's Climate Permits Trees Growing to Perfection, and Only a Little Attention to Pruning is Needed

City Forester E. J. Harper has issued an appeal to the people of Los Angeles to put their trees in good shape, to trim them now and to burn the trimmings so that the streets will not be littered up by the cuttings.

Rev. Mr. Harper in his statement yesterday says: The fall and winter season for Southern California is the most attractive of the year and is the time when our visitors from all over the nation crowd our gates.

Then it is, if ever, that we make the impression upon the easterners of the desirability of making this land their home for life.

Our tourist crop is one of the largest and best, and means more for the future development of the city than any other.

It therefore behooves us to prepare for the tourist in a way that will please and attract them to the city as a desirable place in which to live.

Nothing will give a more pleasing effect upon the average stranger than clean and well kept streets and sidewalks.

Save Ladies' Hats To this end, as city forester, I wish to make a request, through the medium of the press, that all citizens trim the trees in front of their residences, so that the branches will not mar the plumes on the hats of the ladies.

As forester I am especially desirous that the trees shall make a better appearance this winter than ever before. A little time and attention by all the property owners and by those renters who have trees in front of their homes will bring about the desired result.

Even Paris, which has not our climate, cannot appreciate them the more we take thought as to their needs, and we shall impress our visitors with their rare beauty if we give them the pruning that they require.

Our mayor has set apart the Saturdays of November as housecleaning days. May we not on these days see to it that all the street trees of the city that need trimming are pruned and in shape for our eastern friends that shall this winter visit us?

As forester I am especially desirous that the trees shall make a better appearance this winter than ever before. A little time and attention by all the property owners and by those renters who have trees in front of their homes will bring about the desired result.

DRIVER CARELESS; BREWING COMPANY PAYS DAMAGES

The Mathie Brewing company had to pay $28 yesterday in Justice H. A. Pierce's court for the carelessness of one of its drivers, who drove a heavy brewer wagon against the light buggy of J. B. Loving while it was standing at the curb. Judge Pierce awarded the plaintiff $27.50, and the costs amounted to $50.

CALIFORNIANS WILL GIVE BEAUTIFUL SILVER SERVICE TO THE MAGNIFICENT NEW CRUISER

CALIFORNIANS the world over are justly proud of the newly completed cruiser bearing the state's name just built and launched at San Francisco.

Experts pronounce the new fighting machine the peer of her class. The California is an armored cruiser, with a displacement of 13,860 tons, and was built at the Union Iron works, San Francisco.

Her armament includes a battery of four 8-inch and fourteen 6-inch guns, as well as a secondary battery of great effective power.

Governor Gillett has appointed a commission for the purpose of receiving popular subscriptions to be used in purchasing a handsome silver service for the California. Every ship in the United States navy has been so honored by the citizens of the city or state whose name it bears, and Californians will be no whit behind their fellow-countrymen in this respect.

In view of the fact that the ship is already in commission and ready for service, great expedition in the collection of the funds is necessary, and to that end Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce has been authorized to receive subscriptions from Los Angeles and Southern California for the committee.

For the benefit of those living outside of the city agents of Wells-Fargo & Co. have been authorized to receive subscriptions and will transmit them to the secretary of the state committee, Horace Wilson, 123 Merchants Exchange building, San Francisco.

OPPOSE ERECTING COUNTY CHAPELS

LIBERAL ALLIANCE CALLS MEETING OF PROTEST

Supervisors' Proposed Action in Building Houses of Worship on Hospital Grounds Declared to Be Contrary to Law

Opposition to erecting chapels in the county hospital grounds and at the county poor farm with taxpayers' money has arisen and protesters will vent their views Sunday night in a meeting to be held at Mammoth hall under the auspices of the Liberal Alliance.

The county supervisors to whom a protest was first made have, it is alleged, disregarded the complaints and authorized advertising for bids for plans and specifications for the two chapels.

Members of the alliance say that taxpayers' money should not be used for religious purposes and that in effect such a move is contemplated in the erection of chapels.

The supervisors have urged that the purpose in doing this is to remove the annoyance to some patients of holding religious service inside of the institutions.

By erecting chapels some distance away for the convenience of all denominations and criticisms of the past could be avoided and all interests subserved.

Mariposa's Engineers Blamed By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The United States local board of inspectors, composed of John K. Bulger and O. F. Bolles, in a decision just filed fixing the responsibility for the breakdown of the Mariposa at sea on her last trip from Tahiti to this port, revoked the license of R. M. Grunnel, chief engineer, for the unexpired time of its issuance; suspended the license of William Holland, first assistant engineer, for a period of six months and revoked the license of D. Gardner, second assistant engineer, and W. V. Sackett, third assistant engineer, for the unexpired time of their issuance.

Women's Clubs The fourth Wednesday of the month with the Wednesday Morning club is devoted to the Shakespeare and music sections, the former occupying the morning, with Mrs. M. B. Pitkin as instructor. Yesterday this section studied the fourth act of King John.

In the afternoon Mrs. E. G. Voigt, who is in charge of the music section of the club, took as her central thought, "Milestones of Musical History." Beginning with the legends connected with the primitive and ancient peoples, the speaker passed to the music of the Egyptians, Hebrews, Arabs, Greeks and Romans, and touched upon their contributions to the art. Early church music and the growth of polyphonic writing, the music of the people and that of the troubadours were each in turn made interesting, followed by a brief account of the growth of the organ and the instruments of the middle ages, the lute and the viol.

The birth of the opera and oratorios and their development led to the discussion of the great modern composers—Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, and composers of the romantic school, closing with Wagner.

At the close of the lecture Mrs. Voigt gave a reading from Browning's "Abt Vogler." A reception to new members has been planned for next Wednesday. The department of household economics will be begun the second Wednesday of next month, Mrs. Jessica Hazard in charge.

Ebell Section The first meeting Tuesday and plans were discussed for the winter's work. This section is a recent addition to the Ebell family and an enthusiastic one, but the line of work to be adopted has not been definitely decided upon. The club may follow a path that diverges from that of the other civic workers of the city or may decide to join their forces with the

BEATS WOMAN UNTIL SHE IS MASS OF BRUISES Victim Yells "Murder," but Refuses to Have the Man Who Attacked Her Placed Under Arrest

Mrs. Bertha Bennett, who lives at 833 South Flower street, screamed murder last night, while Joe Rossman of 133 South Figueroa street was beating her, but when Patrolmen O'Brien and Glenn, who were sent to the place, arrived, she refused to make any complaint against Rossman, so no arrest was made.

Mrs. Bennett's head, face and body were a mass of discolored bruises and Rossman, according to the police and witnesses, only released her for a moment while he went to get a weapon to kill her. It was during this interval that her cries of "murder" and "police" brought the officers to her aid. The man and woman, it is alleged, have been living together as husband and wife, and jealousy is said to have prompted his attack upon her last night.
