ROBS WOMAN OF $25

LONG BEACH, Oct. 26.—While Mrs. Joseph York was at the dance given in the sun parlor at the pier last night a pickpocket opened her handbag and a small purse inside and extracted $25 in currency. Mrs. York did not discover her loss until she reached home.

B. M. Scott who was recently promoted from the position of Long Beach agent for the Salt Lake railroad to commercial agent at San Pedro, today received a handsome token of esteem in the shape of a double ink well of solid hammered brass from the employees at the Pine avenue and First street stations.

The board of trustees has instructed C. J. E. Taylor, street superintendent, to connect the Edison Electric company in order that it may be tested and made use of. Contractor E. L. Plantico refused to make the connection because it was not required by his contract.

The firm of Doran, Brouse & Price, to whom was recently awarded the contract for oiling streets between Alamos and Junipero avenues may yet lose it. The firm's attorneys have filed with the council an opinion holding that the specifications are irregular. The trustees assert that the company is trying to sidestep the contract.

At the request of the Ebell club the city council has instructed the city marshal to see that the curfew ordinance is enforced.

An overturning boat at the Ross Marine company's plant at Alamitos has caught T. L. Taylor, a thirty-seven year old man, by the middle finger and tearing off the flesh. Dr. C. O. Waterman attended him.

The yacht Aloha, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bell, has been attached by the Fulton Marine and Construction company of Terminal Island for $225, alleged to be due for repairs.

Ithacans Scourge Tigers

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Cornell's victory over Princeton today by a score of 6 to 0 will go down in Cornell's football annals as the most remarkable gridiron struggle in the history of Percy field.

The first half, in which neither side scored, was a continual punting duel between Walder for Cornell and Harlem for Princeton, in which the Cornell man had the decided advantage.

At no time during the spectacular struggle in the first half did the ball approach near enough to either goal to endanger it. Walder was responsible for the only Cornell touchdown, and clinched the victory by kicking the goal.

Princeton Score a Fluke

The Princeton score was a fluke. Walder was blocked in a punt on the 20-yard line and the ball rolled to the very corner of the field, where Booth pounced on it. To many of the spectators it appeared as though the ball had gone out of bounds. Phillips, however, failed to kick goal.

Pennsylvania Scalped by Carlisle

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—The University of Pennsylvania football eleven on Franklin field this afternoon tried to avenge the 24 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Carlisle Indians last year, and the result was: Indians 26, Pennsylvania 6.

It was not so much Carlisle's strength that made the game so one-sided, as it was Pennsylvania's slow play. The Quakers were outclassed in every department. The Indians' exhibition of forward passing was perfect.

Harvard's Poor Showing

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—Harvard had its football slate blotted for the second time this season by failing to win from the Springfield training school by a greater score than 9 to 5. The visitors took the forward pass a score of times successfully. After the beginning of the second half, with the game at a standstill, Burr for Harvard fell back to Harvard's 10-yard line and attempted to punt, but the ball was blocked by Springfield, Harvard recovering. Again Burr dropped back to punt, and Briggs repeated his blocking. Cornell Harvard's goal secured a touchdown. The goal was not kicked.

During the remainder of the game Harvard team worked their opponents hard. Apollonio for Harvard making a touchdown and Burr kicking a goal from the field.

LODGE BARS NON-MEMBERS FROM ATTENDING ITS DANCE

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Last night the usual throng of young men went to the hall of the Fraternal Aid association to dance after the adjournment of lodge work. They found the doors barred against all non-members of the order, the result of action by the lodge in prohibiting outsiders from participating in the social features.

It has been the custom for the lodge to give semi-weekly hops for the members and their friends. It is claimed by members of the order that as the season advanced numerous couples, not members, took advantage of the hospitality of the lodge and danced without cost. This finally brought forth a protest, and the lodge last night voted to admit no one outside the ranks.

HALLOWEEN OBSERVED BY MERRY CROWD

Young Folks of Santa Monica Celebrate Annual Event with Music, Speeches, Stories and Feast

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—None of the old traditions that go to make a successful Halloween party were overlooked by a happy gathering of thirty-seven young persons who passed last night merrymaking in the parlors of the Presbyterian church.

The rooms in which the festivities took place were decorated appropriately. Glimmering jack-o'-lanterns threw lurid rays from the various nooks and corners and an artistic arrangement of corn stalks into incense tapers were pretty features of the decorations.

The young folks found considerable entertainment in finding their partners which was accomplished when the youth and maiden holding the corresponding halves of small pumpkins met and succeeded in joining the pieces they held.

A witch making contest was won by Miss Louise Tyler, who molded into shape out of paraffine a story book which having the peaked hat and broom among accessories, was supposed to be characteristic of all real witches. Several selections in harmony with the occasion were rendered by the "Pumpkin-faced Glee Club" of the company, which were Albert Quandt, Al Wurtz, Herbert Ball, Will Mann, Roy Barbu and Miss Vida Watkins.

Refreshments were served by the merry makers as they sat on the floor crosslegged. The good things consisted of candy, nuts, raisins and fruit. The festivities came to a close with a story telling contest in which each member of the party responded to the request for a "yarn" as a ball of yarn was passed around the assembly.

The high school sophomore class will hold a Halloween party next Saturday evening at Roseboro. The festivities will take place in a barn near the home of Miss Vera Coe.

A Halloween barn party is being arranged by the Phi Kappa chapter of the M. E. church, to be held at the home of Miss Vera Coe.

It is expected that the festivities will be attended by about fifty young people.

REDUCTION OF INSURANCE RATES FOR EAST SIDE

Klamroth, secretary of the local board of underwriters, announces a reduction in fire insurance rates affecting a strip of territory about 1000 feet wide on each side of Colorado street, from the old city limits to Hill street, East Pasadena. This section will receive a reduction from 75 cents to 40 cents per hundred. All other parts of the annexed district will be benefited by a reduction from 75 cents to 60 cents.

These reductions were secured through the establishment of a fire station in the east part of the city. The rate will go into effect as soon as the rate schedules are printed and distributed.

CLAIMS TO BE BROTHER OF ENGLAND'S RULER

Swede Fisherman Says He Is Relative of King Edward and Is Sentenced to Ten Days in Jail

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—Charles Helmer, a Swede fisherman arrested Friday night after he had confessed of his queer actions in attacking a woman, was sentenced to ten days in jail after he appeared in the local police court this morning.

Helmer told Judge Steele he was a brother of King Edward and was entitled to sit on the throne. Edward, he said, had sent a fleet of ships to capture him and get him out of the way.

A 40-40 rifle, a stock of cartridges and a dirk were among the prisoner's effects. Justice Steele thought ten days in the county jail would straighten Helmer out mentally and he so ordered it.

INVENTS PROCESS FOR SMOKE EVIL

INVENTION UNDERGOING TESTS IN ICE PLANTS

New Oil Gas Generator Proves Successful and Local Gas Makers Concerns May Use It Soon

A remarkable invention, said by authorities to contain all the principals necessary to do away with the smoke nuisance, has recently been perfected by Fred Williams and is now undergoing a series of tests in the plant of the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage company.

Demonstrations of the oil gas generator, as it is called, have proved so successful that recently contracts were signed and one was installed in the gas plant in San Bernardino. Since that time the generator has given such satisfaction that the attention of the proprietors of many large manufacturing plants, gas works and foundries have been attracted to the burner, and in addition to the one at the local ice plant it is probable one will be installed in local gas works.

Mr. Williams, the inventor of the generator, is a resident of San Bernardino and for years carried on his experiments there. He is in Los Angeles, and when seen at the Hollenbeck last night said: "I have been working on liquid fuel devices since 1888 and believe I have at last mastered the problem which will revolutionize the industries of the east as well as those of the west."

Gas from Crude Oil

"By my method a natural gas flame can be made from crude oil, and this can be used where it is impossible to procure natural gas.

"The burner I have invented consists of a nose projecting through the brick work at the front of the boiler and is connected with a special device which I term a recuperator. This takes the superheated air from the furnace and mixes it with the oxygen and the result is a pure flame without smoke.

"The smokestack is closed and the carbon which commonly goes uncollected and causes the smoke is entirely destroyed by my invention.

"This burner has proven successful in a number of iron foundries in the east where it has been tested. I have letters from prominent manufacturers in all parts of the country who have seen it in operation and who admit it is the thing they have been looking for during many years."

HOLD TUNNELERS TO ACCOUNT FOR DAMAGES

LONG BEACH, Oct. 26.—The city clerk has instructed by the city council to notify the companies interested in constructing the tunnel under Pine avenue that their work is held to be responsible for the sinking of the pier and the asphalt roadway of Pine way, and to notify them to begin repairs within five days.

For three months the pier approach has been in deplorable condition and a portion of it has been fenced off for fear of accidents. The Westminster and O'ford companies, which constructed the tunnel, are being held to account for the damages resulting from their work.

Trustee Lent, chairman of the public works committee, believes that there is no doubt as to the cause, and calling attention to that fact, he believes that the companies which built the pier should be held responsible for all damages arising from its construction, brought about in order for repairs at the meeting of the council.

NEWPORT HARBOR IS INSPECTED BY VISITORS

Special to The Herald. NEWPORT, Oct. 26.—Newport held an open house yesterday, with the view of impressing on the visiting citizens of Southern California a sense of the value of Newport harbor as a commercial port.

Boats were chartered and guides secured to describe the changes proposed. The line along which the chamber of commerce is now working is to be a large amount of dredging in the bay—forty feet at the entrance and twenty-five and thirty feet inside.

Lettings are to be built into the sea, one on the north to be 2000 feet long and one on the south 1500 feet. Channels are to be dug in the low land and the mud thus excavated is to be used in making city lots and foundations for docks. As the plan it has been decided to leave the building of these until the dredging has been finished. The officials wish to interest the government in the work and have invited the visiting citizens of Newport to look over the bay, and with the help of his assistant, Deputy Inspector Eaton, has been able to make a very favorable report. He thinks if enough pressure is brought to the government will be willing to help make the improvements.

Some of the prominent citizens of Los Angeles and surrounding cities have formed a company to finance the dredging part of the plan.

At the evening banquet was held with plates for 112. There were many speeches made, among which were those of A. Bishop, H. E. Smith and William Scott.

A. Boschke has completed a set of plans and specifications by which he is able to make an offer of excavating the whole harbor for 10 cents a cubic foot.

Among those present were: Santa Ana—Clyde Bishop, C. W. Sheats, William Scott, S. H. Finley, H. Fine, E. D. Noffie, H. E. Smith, Thomas McKeeven, J. A. Wilson and W. J. Tubbs.

Riverside—A. G. Sharp, J. W. Heath and F. Cutler.

Newport—Mayor King, S. A. Smith, R. Weyman, L. W. Wallace, F. A. Lester, A. Heimes and D. Baker.

ation, it is said, have been bringing on the council to force a bond election to finance the fire department. The session City Attorney Hewitt present the call, which it is agreed to be passed at once. The amount to be named is $300,000. The date for the election will probably be set at some time next month.

It will take about three months after the election, if the bonds carry, for the adjustment of details and the marketing of the paper.

There is not a dollar available for improvement, the present funds being scarcely sufficient for current needs.

The water department has relieved the situation somewhat by the installation of more hose, larger plugs, and more equipment is imperative.

The addition to apparatus which the passage of the bonds would make possible, say insurance men, would be followed not only by the restoration of the rates effectively before the enforcement of the arbitrary 25 per cent, but also by the raising of the limit to each business block to $5000 more than the $20,000 mark.

Chief Urges Move

Chief Walter Lips and the fire commissioners have for six months agitated the enlargement of the department.

Early in the year Chief Porter of the Coast Underwriters' Board came to Los Angeles at the invitation of insurance interests and laid before the city council wise and business men facts showing that unless expansion in the department was ordered rates would inevitably be increased.

He pointed out the urgent need of more houses and companies in the business district, more hose, larger plugs, and at least a dozen more companies scattered through the city.

Commercial organizations, notably the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, took up the movement seriously and asked the council to find the funds for an increase.

At that time the question of voting $23,000,000 bonds to build the Owens river aqueduct was pending, and it was deemed wise by the lawmakers to postpone the issuance of bonds for the fire department until after the water bonds had been disposed of.

The city bought a large fire engine and found it was useless because the plugs lacked the capacity needed for the steamer.

The fire commission in a general way drew up a scheme for expansion, which included the purchase of sites for houses in the business and industrial districts, and the council promised to call an election to vote on an issue of bonds to provide this equipment.

Mr. Williams, who is an insurance man, insisted on ample provision being made in the budget to carry part of the expenditures for the department increase, but his colleagues outvoted him.

All expenditures out of the ordinary will be charged to this $300,000 if the people so ordain by their votes.
