VAUDEVILLE ACT NEW ROLE FOR PREACHER

HEARTS TOUCHED, EYES WET AT STRANGE SERMON

Gospel Message Delivered to Lowell Audience by Pastor Between Turns by Short-Skirted Girls

Lowell Nov. 1.—Surrounded by pretty chorus girls in red tights and his hearers men and boys who smoked tobacco as they listened open mouthed to one of the strangest vaudeville acts they had ever seen, the Rev. Robert F. Y. Pierce, D. D. of Scranton, Pa., delivered one of the closing addresses of the Sunday school convention here.

Dr. Pierce was as much affected by his experience as was the assembly which he addressed. The Scranton pastor, who had never been billed as a theatrical star before, has been one of the prominent speakers at the three days' convention here.

This afternoon one of the delegates attended a performance at the Boston theater, which is adjacent to the First Congregational church, where the conference has been held, and found a 10-cent burlesque show on the boards.

The idea struck him that the management of the house might be persuaded to allow Dr. Pierce a fifteen-minute act with board and crayons. Manager J. C. Davey was willing, but refused to shoulder responsibility, and said the reverend speaker could take his own chances.

When the matter was put up to Dr. Pierce he readily consented. The show tonight was in two parts, with vaudeville stunts between.

Pretty Girls in Short Skirts When the curtain went up there were twenty handsome girls with skirts above their knees, who danced and sang and were enthusiastic plaudits. Then the manager came upon the stage to address the crowd.

In the audience were men and boys of almost every race, and the dingy theater was so filled with smoke that from the stage only the faces of those in the front rows were visible. Pipes and cigarettes predominated. There were no cuspidors, yet two-thirds of the crowd chewed and expected. The piano was out of tune. It was a typical cheap theater scene.

"Gentlemen," said the manager, and the beginning started a ringing burst of applause. "There is a number which is not on the program," continued the speaker unabashed, "we have a crayon artist here who will tell you about himself. I don't know what he will do."

A large blackboard was brought upon the stage by stage hands and the Rev. Dr. Pierce followed. Dignified in appearance and having all the marks of the clergy in dress and action the appearance of the "artist" had a startling effect. "I come to you with a message of joy," said Dr. Pierce, as he arranged his chalks. "I bring to you men and boys and to these dear young ladies who have just entertained us (referring to the short skirt dancing exhibition) a message of love and happiness."

Unprepared for anything of this kind the strange gathering began to sit up and take notice. Many forgot to smoke. It was impossible to tell whether the "actor" was trying to be funny by being serious or whether it was a real sermon that was coming.

Drew Pictures and Preached Dr. Pierce began to rapidly sketch pictures in colors, and as he did so he talked on the wrecks of lives men made for themselves. He told of the hope that was always awaiting realization if men believed in Jesus Christ and followed his teachings.

Meanwhile the girls of the chorus, who had changed into tights of more color for the second burlesque, gathered one

MUTINEERS KILLED BY RUSSIAN GUNS

OUTBREAK OF SAILORS QUELLED BY CZAR'S TROOPS

Official Report of Trouble at Vladivostok Indicates That Revolutionary Agitators Were Slain

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—According to the official report of the recent mutinous outbreak of sailors at Vladivostok, the crews of the torpedo boat destroyers Skory, Serbitin and Trevozhny mutinied, hoisted the red flag and shelled the port, doing considerable damage to buildings and killing some civilians.

The Skory, on board of which were three revolutionary agitators, including one woman, took the lead in the mutiny, the crew rising at the instance of the agitators. Killing the commander of the boat and wounding the other officers, who were overpowered and confined below decks. The fire of the rebellious torpedo boat destroyers was answered by the batteries a short time afterward.

The Skory was surrounded and a raking fire was poured into her, which battered her to pieces, exploded her two boilers and caused fire to break out on board. Nearly all the mutineers of the Skory were killed on the vessel. The three or four survivors threw themselves into the sea. The mutiny on board the Trevozhny was quelled by her own crew after six of the mutineers had been killed and six wounded.

General Count Unterberger, commanding the military district at the Amur, arrived at Vladivostok and assumed charge of the situation.

The United States embassy here today received a dispatch from the consulate at Vladivostok saying that the American who was wounded during the bombardment of Vladivostok by the mutinous torpedo boat destroyers is Harry Nietert, an employe of the Pacific Commercial company, whose building was struck by a shell.
