

MAKE FAIREST OF CITIES

CIVIC ARCHITECT TREATS LOS ANGELES' ILLS

NEEDS VISTAS, COLORS AND NEW LANDSCAPE LINES

Distinguished Municipal Beauty Doctor May Write $10,000,000 Prescription at End of Month's Researches in Southland

After round after round of automobile rides over Los Angeles, under the best guides the city affords, Civic Architect Charles Mulford Robinson has gained a general idea of the lay of the landscape here and is beginning to form tentative plans of what Los Angeles should do to enhance its municipal beauty.

Some of the notable points where money can be put to remarkable effects are seen by Mr. Robinson as the Los Angeles river banks, Hazard reservoir site, Agricultural park, Elysian park with approaches, the railroad yards and depots, the Hill street tunnel and Fort Hill, around the Plaza, and at some prominent street corners in the shopping district.

The grouping of public buildings will be worked out on broad lines, involving ultimate condemnation and tearing down of unsightly shacks of low-type business buildings which cut off the vistas, but this is the work of future years.

Chain of Boulevards A plan of connecting all parks, public buildings and cemeteries by a boulevard with probably a drive alongside the Los Angeles river, and the terracing of lake reservoirs, of entry and exit are all possible if the funds are forthcoming.

Centers of population, small but in centers of population, will probably be embraced in the plans.

All of this will, in time, be furthered by the Municipal Art commission.

Putting park strips in the center of a few streets running off the main business thoroughfares is a device which makes for beauty, as are the islands of rest at crowded corners with concrete benches and electrolites, which are a haven of safety for persons crossing congested streets.

The Robinson plans will show schemes which will cost from $100,000 to $10,000,000, which will be done progressively, bonds being voted-year after year if the taxpayers wish.

May Set Aside $100,000 Mayor Harper is anxious that $100,000 be set aside next year to inaugurate the new movement, so that it can be carried out piecemeal without burdening the community too heavily.

If a big start is made before the Owens river water comes to Los Angeles, however, it will make Los Angeles the most beautiful city in the world by the time the Panama canal is completed and the eyes of the world are fixed on the Pacific coast.

In this connection a huge auditorium for conventions, horse shows and other events, similar to the one at San Francisco, which is ever increasing convention crowds which want to see California.

Both in Agricultural park and Hazard's reservoir park the distinguished visitor would be met by the city officials.

Gradually school, playgrounds and athletic places could be laid out at the Brooklyn Heights place, with the same project on a larger scale, with a lake included, can be established at the Fifth ward spot if the city will it.

Magnates May Co-operate With the co-operation of Messrs. Harriman, Huntington and Gould, the time of the far distant probably when the deposits, underground routes and tasteful track parks running alongside the rights of way of all transcontinental lines will give visitors a glimpse of a flowery city or parting glances at miles of flowers beds.

Such a sight will never be forgotten or faded, though these breathing spots are all tourists, it is argued.

With the tendency of modern times to shut out smoke, such a realization is far from being a dream.

During the coming week, Mr. Robinson will begin some preliminary sketching in the office to be provided for him and afterward he will hold a series of conferences with the city officials.

FAVORS FORTY ACRES OF ORANGES FOR POOR FARM

Supervisor Eldridge Reports Land Already Planted in Citrus Fruit Will Yield Crop for Christmas Market

Plans are being made by Supervisor S. T. Eldridge to plant forty additional acres of Valencia orange trees on the county poor farm. Mr. Eldridge has taken great interest in the orange culture on the farm and reports a good showing of fruit.

If nothing happens to set back the coming crop he expects to have seven cars ready for the Christmas market. The fruit is said to be already of a good size.

William Banning was not inclined to place much stock in the report that the Meteor Boat company had withdrawn from competition for passengers between San Pedro and Santa Catalina island.

The San Diego, which formerly made the trips to the island, has left for San Diego, giving rise to the report that the Meteor people were going to abandon the fight. Mr. Banning said he thought the boat had a fair chance of being dry-docked and scrapped and would return to resume the traffic as formerly.

The Burks company asks judgment for the latter amount. The plaintiffs ask that the lots be sold at auction and that the proceeds be turned over to them and judgment given against Miss Slauson for the balance of the amount due.

NEW RECORDS ARE MADE FOR TAX COLLECTIONS

Friday's tax receipts were larger than they have ever been on November 1 of any preceding year, reaching a total of $46,533.88.

County Collector W. O. Welch reports the receipts for October to be also much larger than for the year previous, being $18,787.82, which is $200,276.41 more than for October, 1906.

Receipts from county taxes are deposited each day in local banks, each bank taking its turn.

WOODMEN HONOR CONSUL A. R. TALBOT

PROCESSION ESCORTS OFFICER TO AUDITORIUM

Drill Teams Assemble for Occasion, Composer of Organization's Odes Participates—Order is Nearing Million Mark

The Modern Woodmen of America held a reception last night at Simpson auditorium in honor of their head consul, A. R. Talbot. The order gave an enthusiastic demonstration.

In pursuance to a call issued several weeks ago by the commanders of the Forester battalion, Modern Woodmen, drill teams from Los Angeles and surrounding cities met at 7:30 o'clock at Seventh and Spring streets to form the parade which escorted Head Consul Talbot to the auditorium.

The ranking officers in charge of the parade were as follows: Col. H. H. Morgan, Third regiment, M. W. A.; Maj. G. F. H. Murray, Seventh battalion; Lieut. Col. A. M. Newton; Capt. Russell Kimball, regimental adjutant.

Col. Morgan, who had his legs broken several months ago in a street car accident, was unable to walk sufficiently well to take actual command of the battalion and therefore turned the actual command over to Maj. Murray.

The parade formed as follows: Sergeant Smith and squad of policemen; M. W. A. banner; horn band; carriages containing Head Consul Talbot and members of the order; California, Pacific and Whittier drill teams; Golden State band; Long Beach, Garvanza and Golden State drill teams.

The line of march was from Seventh and Spring to First; west to Broadway; south to Seventh; west to Hope and south to the auditorium.

The chairman introduced J. O. Davis, state deputy of the Woodmen, who in turn introduced Head Consul Talbot, who was the chief orator of the evening.

Mr. Talbot, who is one of the finest speakers in the world, touched upon the fundamental principles which underlie the great order, and also spoke many words of praise for California and Los Angeles in particular.

Mr. Talbot has that happy faculty of interesting all within hearing of his voice, and brought down the house with his masterly use of the women present. He ascribed the great success of the order to the women, who, he declared, inspire men to heroic deeds.

The Modern Woodmen of America today have more than 90,000 members and will have passed the million mark by the first of next January. There are about 10,000 members of the order in Los Angeles, and 5000 more in the county exclusive of Los Angeles.

A pleasant surprise was sprung when Mr. Leland of Lanark, Ill., composer of the order's national song, was called from a seat in the audience to the platform. Mr. Leland was the first advisor elected at the first head camp and holds policy No. 57.

Langdon Gives Views District Attorney Langdon: "The district attorney's campaign for re-election has been one of the most successful in the history of the Republic. Democratic and Good Government tickets. I feel confident that if the election were held tomorrow I would be elected by an overwhelming majority. Two years ago I received 40,000 votes for the district attorneyship, and I know of no reason now why I should lose a single vote cast for me then.

"It is true that I have antagonized powerful interests in the community, but this is because I have stood for honesty and integrity and for fair and just administration of the laws have rallied to my support by the thousands. While certain factions in the Republican, Democratic and Good Government parties will support me, the vast majority of the voters will be offset very greatly by the backing I shall get from the ranks of labor. It is evident to me that there will be few straight Union labor votes cast in this election. My contact with the men of the party convince me that 50 per cent of the votes will be for me. I confidently expect that of the 55,000 votes to be cast I shall get at least 40,000."

Expects Labor Vote Frank McGowan, Union Labor nominee for district attorney: "I'll get practically the solid Union labor vote. I'll get the votes of many personal friends in the Republican party who stand for honesty and integrity and for fair and just administration of the laws have rallied to my support by the thousands. While certain factions in the Republican, Democratic and Good Government parties will support me, the vast majority of the voters will be offset very greatly by the backing I shall get from the ranks of labor. BLUE, YELLOW AND GREEN SLIPS ARE USED AS MONEY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—Little blue, yellow and green slips of paper in denominations of $1, $5 and $10 were put in circulation as money today by the National Bank of Commerce, the third National bank in the Mechanics American National bank.

These differed from the cashier's checks which have been in circulation for a week in that they were made payable to bearer and no indorsement or identification was required to cash them. At the same time that the new checks were put in commission Auditor Wilson and Cashier Lottman of the St. Louis post-office announced that checks will no longer be accepted by the postal department in payment of any sort of obligation.

All deposits to cover postage on second class mail matter must be made in cash.

TREASURY OFFICIALS AGREE THAT SITUATION IS IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Treasury officials agree that the financial situation is distinctly improving and reports from financial centers were of a reassuring character.

News of the resuming of the banks in New Mexico and Oklahoma was received with satisfaction and there is said to be abundant evidence that the fear for more serious conditions is subsiding.

National banks in all parts of the country are arranging to increase their circulation and the treasury officials and clerks are working overtime in the effort to keep up with their vastly increased correspondence.

ALL DEBTS PAID IN CHECKS, PLAN ADOPTED IN PITTSBURG

PITTSBURG, Nov. 2.—The checking or scrip system decided upon here yesterday is in general use today by the members of the Clearing House association. It is believed that business men and employees will accept the plan in the light that it will insure the steady operation of the

MONEY COMING TO AMERICAN BANKS

SHORTAGE OF CURRENCY IS THE CHIEF CAUSE OF ALARM

GOVERNOR OF OREGON TO PROCLAIM MORE HOLIDAYS

By Associated Press. PORTLAND, Nov. 2.—Governor Chamberlain has consulted bankers in every section of the state regarding the financial situation and as a result will proclaim a day of holiday in the state until such time as it may be expedient to restore the usual order of things.

The bankers of this city are considering seriously the proposition adopted by the banks of Pittsburgh in issuing checks as a medium of exchange to be used as collaterals by the working classes. The pay rolls of the manufacturers in this city are very heavy and it is believed should Portland follow Pittsburgh's example a considerable step will have been taken to relieve the financial situation.

JAMES J. HILL FINANCING MOVEMENT OF GREAT CROPS

ST. PAUL, Nov. 2.—The Dispatch today says that James J. Hill has his hand at the wheel of the northwestern financial situation and there is great confidence among St. Paul bankers and business men that he will be able to steer things right.

Mr. Hill is in New York using his influence to secure $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 of currency to be used in the purchase of grain. It will take a million or two actual cash to handle the grain situation as it should be handled and this cash must be shipped from the east.

KNICKERBOCKER TRUST CO. GIVEN FOUR WEEKS OF GRACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The financial week came to a close today without any notable developments. The stock exchange was comparatively steady over the day with little activity. The runs upon banking houses seem to be practically at an end, and few important conferences were held by financiers.

The decline in the reserves of the New York clearing house banks was heavier than in any recent experience, but will be largely offset by the arrival of gold next week.

The apparent loss in the reserve was about $7,000,000, but $7,000,000 of this was due to the requirement of the Federal Reserve bank to deposit $2,000,000. This increase in deposits in clearing house banks apparently represents the transfer of funds from the institutions which have been subject to the run.

The actual loss in cash is about $20,000,000, which reduced the reserve on hand to about $25,000,000.

The gold engagements increased slightly today by orders from Pittsburgh and other points, making the total engagement to date $150,000,000. If all these amounts should go into the reserves of the clearing house banks it would practically restore their supply of cash during the past week. Even the diversion of a part of the amount to other cities would have the effect of making the gold go into New York banks, and will probably result in an increase of reserve next week.

Part of the decline in cash in the face of heavy deposits of treasury funds has been due to the call for the gold for currency. It is believed these have been partly largely met, and the amount will be not nearly as large during the coming week.

Check System General Reports received from various parts of the country indicate that the system of meeting pay rolls by checks instead of in currency is being largely adopted without essential inconvenience to wage earners.

William A. Nash, president of the Corn Exchange bank, and member of the clearing house committee, said in explanation of today's bank statement that the clearing house banks have been taking over the loans called by the trust companies, and this increased the bank loans.

It is the National Airship company, headed by Deutchro, the last named a titled Austrian, with a bent toward invention, have incorporated the Bayonne Aerial Navigation company. Bayonne is a suburb of New York city.

The company is capitalized at $100,000 and will be turning out airships next February, possibly in or near Bayonne, if its plans carry. According to specifications filed prior to incorporation the airships are to be propelled by wings measuring twenty-four feet from tip to tip. A twenty-four horse power gas engine will supply the power and the whole contrivance is to weigh 250 pounds.

Mr. Deutchro is the inventor of the machine.

POLICE FAIL TO GET TRACE OF HITCHCOCK

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Notwithstanding the active efforts of the detectives in the district attorney's office and the "God bless you" men, no trace has been found of Raymond Hitchcock, the missing actor. Witnesses are being held in custody to testify concerning the charges made against him by several young girls.

Unimpeachable news indicating that Hitchcock is on his way to Europe and is in New York in disguise have been investigated to no effect.

CHINESE MOB ATTACKS SCANDINAVIAN MISSION

HONGKONG, Nov. 2.—The Scandinavian mission in the district of Nampier has been attacked by the anti-foreign elements of the population.

Mrs. Wendell and Erymas were stoned by Chinese, who alleged that native women were forced to become Christians and were kept for immoral purposes.

The magistrates succeeded in restoring order.

EMPLOYEES SUPPLY PAYROLL TO TIDE OVER STRINGENCY

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Payroll worries are not among the chief worries of Henry M. McNulty, a manufacturer of mantels. A score of his own employees, all workmen, yesterday surprised him by offering him enough currency, about $5000, to carry him through two pay days.

Mr. Dawson shall need more money than the furry in the market is ended the men on the other side of his desk will bring more next week.

GIRL STEALS SECRETS OF PROSECUTION

STENOGRAPHER BELIEVED TO BE BETRAYER

OIL TRUST EVIDENCE SOLD TO DEFENDANTS

Arrest of Miss McLean and Her Companion in Chicago May Clear Up a Mystery

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Secret service operatives are working to determine to what extent government secrets in recent cases of national importance have been sold by Miss Etta McLean and Alexander B. Gerde, who yesterday were held in $200 bonds to the grand jury on charges of conspiracy and the theft of papers in the John R. Walsh case.

Discovery of papers relating to the Standard Oil trial in the room of Miss McLean has led to the suspicion that she and her confederate may have disclosed government plans, not only in the Walsh case but in the Standard Oil case, the Chicago & Alton railroad and the school book case.

Miss McLean's position was stenographer in District Attorney Sims' office, which she held since April, giving ample opportunity to obtain copies of the most valuable papers in the cases. The fact that Gerde, who was arrested, was able to live in dress, dining at expensive restaurants, for the past six months, has made it apparent he had some secret source of income.

While the officers feel confident that they have unearthed a far-reaching conspiracy they have yet to learn its magnitude, or to what extent its operations have injured government prosecutions. In the prosecution of the Standard Oil, the Alton, and the book combine, it was so apparent at every turn that the defendant knew in advance the government's moves, no matter how secretly planned. The arrest of the couple, it is believed, has solved this enigma.

SPOOKSTERS RAIDED BY DETECTIVES

(Continued from Page Three.) long, glimmering spook appeared. This time it was "Uncle Pat," a friend or relative of a number of those who were present. Pat answered inquiries regarding friends in Spiritland, received a rose for a departed loved one and shook hands with several.

When a spirit gives a hearty handshake he is said to be "strong." That Pat was strong I had an opportunity to learn.

Baxter invited me to shake Pat's hand, and after stepping hesitating down the darkened room, I found myself facing a spook for the first time in my life. That he was "strong" I was sure, for he was manifested by the manner in which I was held. On one side stood a man holding my left wrist; on the other, Baxter held my right wrist, and in front stood "Uncle Pat," holding my right hand. I tried to study the spook's face, but owing to the darkness could only see that the features were small in the dim light thrown off from the perfectly white costume. The hand was small, like a woman's. Nothing could be learned from the voice, as the ghost spoke only in whispers.

"Query—Why do so many spooks whisper? Why not speak aloud?" A dozen or more spirits appeared after this, and were made much of by those present.

Ring in "Dr. Lurton" An hour and a half after the seance began the spooks seemingly concluded we had enough of their company and no amount of singing religious songs could induce any one of them to return.

Then the second part of the program began. One of the spooks came a shout of hoarse laughter, which was startling to a stranger, but which the others present seemed to recognize.

"Why, there's old Dr. Lurton," said a number.

Dr. Lurton, it was explained to me by a person sitting near by, had died ninety years ago. He was very strong that night and his voice sounding through the trumpet filled the room. The doctor is a jovial fellow and likes to crack jokes and poke fun at his acquaintances. Among his expressions of "don't bust in," "you bet your boots," and other slang phrases do not agree with the common language used a century ago, this did not seem to puzzle any one present, and probably has been explained easily by the conductors of the seances.

After a number of spirits had talked through the trumpets I heard my own name called.

"Mr. Hamilton," whispered the spook, "could you very well, and wanted to know if the spook was Aunt Elizabeth."

Yes, it was auntie, and she had good news for me. The worry I was undergoing would soon cease and my legal troubles would soon be over. The great estate left by "Aunt Elizabeth" would be estate left.

How soon would this take place, I inquired, but auntie could not say.

She also said "Uncle Henry" was well, and after bidding me good night and "God bless you," she disappeared. The great I was properly impressed with it all.

When the seance ended the three trumpets were found in the middle of the room, where they were supposed to have been carried by some supernatural power. The people present looked at them in amazement, as if a miracle had been performed before their eyes.

A man named Chaudet passed around with uplifted palm and each person present dropped a half dollar into it.

Baxter passed a box of cigars to the men and the dupes and gullibles fled out into the night.

GIVES BEGGAR DOLLAR, REPAID WITH $1000

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—On Christmas evening, 1888, John McNulty, a man in desperate circumstances, while returning to his home aided a beggar who stopped him on the street and applied for a dollar.

The man insisted on getting his benefactor's name and address, saying that some day, perhaps, he might be able to show his appreciation.

McNulty thought no more of the matter until last night, when, upon returning from his work, he found a letter which had come from the man who had given him a thousand-dollar bill and a brief letter, which read:

"Dear Sir: Enclosed you will find $1000 in payment for your kindness and your Merry Christmas given to me nine years ago, when I was broke and wanted a meal. I have traveled considerably in many places since that night, but I have always remembered your kindness. Take this and use it. Believe me, yours, P. E. McNulty. I have no idea of the identity of the grateful man. The letter was mailed from the financial district in this city."

LONG BEACH, Nov. 3.—Mrs. C. L. Tremble, arrested with Mrs. Herrington, "Polly Pry," declares that she was promised immunity from prosecution the night of her arrest on consideration that she sign a damaging confession.

"I was promised that my name would not be mentioned in connection with this affair," she continued, "and one of the first things the police did was to give it out. Now, I have decided that I can go against my word as well as they, and I shall deny the whole of my 'confession' when placed on the stand. I will not say now what the confession was, but it was damaging."

Mrs. Tremble, the police at one time admitted, was not considered by them equally guilty with "Polly Pry."

The hearing of the case has been postponed from day to day because of the holidays.
