Chance for All

"There is for every man another chance. God holds out his salvation for every man, whether the man wants it or not."

"With no frills or oratory I come to you to bring just one truth. I believe in God, and take his word for the statement that he sent his Son to redeem men—that each one of us might have another chance in life to live for ever. Some of you do not dare a rap about this, and some of you will think about it. If you could have a good talk with me and you were sure I would not tell, you would confide to me the message which you wish had not been there. A man can effect you the gospel, but it is up to you whether or not you receive it. My message is one of hope. Blessed is the man that walketh not in the councils of the ungodly."

"Don't let the taste for liquor beat you out this year. I come to you without animosity to any man, and I am not here to set forth the doctrines of any church or creed, but just to bring you the message which men in hope and another chance for every man who is willing to accept it."

CARRIES REVOLVER TO 'BLUFF' HUSBAND

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN'S WIFE CONVICTED

Jury Finds Mrs. A. N. Starr of Pasadena Guilty of Committing Assault with a Deadly Weapon

"I only took the revolver along as a bluff," declared Mrs. A. N. Starr yesterday in Judge Wilbur's court, where she was on trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, her husband being the prosecuting witness.

The couple were married about sixteen years ago in Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Starr said her husband had deserted her two years after the wedding ceremony, leaving her with a child, which, she said, he had kidnaped and brought to California, whither she followed. Starr located in Pasadena, where he established himself as an osteopathic physician, placing the boy in a military school. Mrs. Starr also located in Pasadena, but at some distance from her husband, and supported herself by telling fortunes.

Her mother love on November 21 led her to call at the school her son was attending and making application to see him, but the request was refused unless she carried an order from the boy's father. Fearing this would be refused, Mrs. Starr returned to her home and secured an automatic pistol from the room of George Preffer. Wrapping the weapon in a newspaper she placed it on her arm and went to her husband's office, where she demanded the order which would admit her to the school.

This was given her promptly and without the necessity of a display of firearms, and Mrs. Starr was about to take her departure when a movement in one of the rooms adjoining her husband's office aroused her suspicion.

Opening the door, she says she saw a woman, scantily dressed, lying on a couch. Mrs. Starr said she called the woman names and told her to get out, but declared she made no move as though to use the pistol. Her husband, she said, took the weapon from her and put her out. Anna Cornell, the woman discovered in the room, in her husband's office, declared she had gone there for treatment.

Mrs. Starr said she did not know whether the weapon was loaded or not, and would not have known how to discharge it had she wished to do so.

The case was given to the jury about 4 o'clock and a verdict of guilty was returned a half hour later. Sentence was continued until today.

YEAR SHOWS INCREASE IN MARRIAGE LICENSES

Two Hundred and Twenty-two More Permits Issued During 1907 Than for Preceding Year

Months

There was a considerable falling off in the number of marriage licenses issued by the county clerk yesterday as compared with the days immediately preceding Christmas and New Year's. This falling off is not an exceptional case, however, as each year at this time shows a large decrease in these licenses.

Two hundred and twenty-two more licenses to marry were issued during 1907 than for the same period a year ago, and it is the belief of the county clerk that had it not been for the period of stringency the high water mark would have been reached. During the year 4927 licenses were issued, against 4715 the preceding year.

Another circumstance which is believed to have had an effect in holding down the number of licenses was the declaration of holidays during the financial stringency, many persons believing that marriages contracted during that period would not be legal, while others feared licenses could not be issued.

RECORD BREAKING NUMBER OPEN SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Security Has 115 New Patrons First Business Day of Year—Big Crowd Draws Dividends

The first business day of the year opened auspiciously for the Security Savings bank yesterday. According to the officials of the bank 115 new accounts were opened, which breaks all records of the kind in the bank's history.

This is regarded as the most encouraging outlook for the year, as showing the full confidence of the public in savings banks. Yesterday was also dividend day at the Security, and a large crowd filled the bank. The force was fully equal to the demand, however, and the patrons were handled with ease and dispatch.

SUES TO FORCE CITY TO BREAK CONTRACT

COUNCILMEN AND COMPANY NAMED IN COMPLAINT

Order Issued by Judge Monroe to Prevent Publishing House and City Fathers from Entering Into Agreement

An order was yesterday issued by Judge Charles Monroe of the superior court to show cause January 10 why members of the city council and the Daily Journal company should not be restrained from entering into a contract signed December 31 to do that printing.

The suit for the restraining order was filed by George Lyons, who says he acts for himself and other taxpayers of the city. Lyons is business manager of the News and says the bid for the printing submitted by him called for an expenditure of 12 1/2 cents per inch, while that submitted by the Daily Journal company was 15 cents.

Those named in the suit as defendants are the city of Los Angeles, R. W. Dromgold, E. A. Clamptin, W. T. Wren, A. T. Wallace, H. H. Yonkin, Henry Lyon, Bernard Healy and E. L. Blanchard, composing the city council, and the Daily Journal company.

VALUABLE HORSE WON BY THOMAS CASSOU

MANY ATTEND DRAWING AT DESMOND'S STORE

Ticket Bearing Lucky Number Drawn from Jar Containing 50,000 Coupons—Two Alternates Chosen from Remainder

Eager throngs yesterday crowded Desmond's haberdashery establishment and overflowed to the streets in front of the building, after filling all available space behind counters and on the show tables within to witness the drawing of the valuable Arabian riding horse, given away as a premium by the clothing firm.

In order that all possible chance for partiality would be eliminated the management of the firm placed the sealed glass cases, containing more than 50,000 tickets, upon a platform which has been erected, and poured the pasteboards in full view of everyone into another glass container. Even an outsider, John S. McGroarty, a newspaper man, was chosen to do the announcing and handling of the tickets.

A 10-year-old cash girl, Arline Holt, was then blindfolded and lifted into the huge box and instructed to draw three of the circular cards one at a time.

The first one produced bore the number 5900 and the corresponding name on the entry ledgers was found to be Thomas Cassou. Mr. Cassou, who was thus declared the fortunate owner of the prize steed, lives at 417 South Olive street. The following numbers drawn as alternates, in case the winner should not appear to claim possession, were 5747 and 679 and belonged to Elmer F. Crosby, 502 H. W. Hellman building, and John Kramer, 333 South Grand avenue, respectively.

C. H. Treat, office partner of the winner, who had come to represent his associate at the drawing, was loudly called upon by a resolution of the board, and in answer to the appeal he mounted the platform and explained his partner was out of town, but that all should have a ride on the horse when the owner returned.

REAPPOINT MISS LEBO AS PUBLIC SCHOOL NURSE

Board of Health Names Former Incumbent in Preference to Married Woman on Civil Service Eligible List

Miss Elting M. Lebo was again appointed school nurse yesterday by the board of health.

Through civil service exigencies the board had only a week ago named Miss Euceta T. Van Eman of 314 South Figueroa street to the position which Miss Lebo held formerly, but Miss Van Eman yesterday asked for a six months' leave of absence, saying that she was anxious to attend a post-graduate course, and Miss Lebo was reappointed.

There is one other eligible on the list, Mrs. Margaret E. Sirch of 1918 West Eighth street, but the board recently adopted a resolution stating the sense of the board that unmarried women should have preference for school nurse appointments.

Miss Lebo's services and efficiency during the past school term endeared her to education and health officials alike, the board members said.

HERALD PATTERNS

A New Dress Sleeve

6022

The graceful sleeve model here shown will strongly appeal to the woman who wishes to remodel a last season's gown, for it is one of the most popular of the new designs and embraces all of the most attractive features of both the long and the short sleeve. The mitten extension, which is the most popular form of the new long sleeves, is generally composed of lace or some transparent material. It not liked it may be omitted, though it is one of Fashion's latest departures. To make the sleeve in the 12-inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of material 22 inches wide.
