Empire day, the annual festival anniversary celebration of Queen Victoria's birth, was observed yesterday in every English speaking community in the world. In Los Angeles the celebration took the form of a concert and dance at Blanchard hall in the evening. There was a big attendance of English, Irish, Scotch and Americans, who united in singing "God Save the King," "America," and "Auld Lang Syne." The entertainment was under the auspices of the Caledonian club and Royal Oak lodge, Sons of St. George. Those who took part in an excellent program of songs were R. Craig, H. E. Crouch, Mrs. James Tait, H. Woodcock, W. Roman, Edward Heyes, A. J. Munton, George Howard, Miss Margaret Lyon, H. C. Blaney and Harry Brandon.

Characteristic Scottish features in the entertainment were bairn selections by D. Ward delivered an address on "The British Empire," in which he talked of the great growth and expansion of the British branch of the English speaking race. J. E. Wilson presided.

CONVERTED INDIANS TALK AT BAPTIST CONVENTION

Missionaries Tell of Rapid Strides Made in Protestant Work in Mexico, Cuba and Porto Rico.

By Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 22—Presentation of annual reports of general denominational societies and appointments of committees on matters connected therewith, an address by Col. E. H. Haskell, president of the Baptist Home Mission society, outlining the work and presenting future plans, constituted in the main the second day's work of the northern Baptist convention.

An interesting feature of the day's program was the presentation of several full blood Indians, including the late Chief Haskett, who was converted to the Christian faith. They addressed the convention through an interpreter. All the tribes in this region are represented and each day some of them participate in the program.

Addresses by missionaries representing the fields in all of the Spanish speaking countries told of the marvelous strides that have been made during the last year in Mexico, Cuba and Porto Rico.

The meeting of Chief Left Hand of the Arapahoe tribe and T. K. Tyson, delegate from Michigan, who forty-four years ago led a party of soldiers in a pitched battle against the Indians of this region, commanded by Chief Left Hand, and in which many were killed on both sides, was dramatic, and when they embraced each other on the platform the delegates let loose a storm of applause.

Tomorrow will be taken up with the appointment of committees and work by the committee of reference.

FATHER WAITS COMING OF ACTRESS DAUGHTER

Deputy County Assessor Proud of Success of Los Angeles Girl, Who is Soon to Play at Local Theater.

Proud as a newly made father is Deputy County Assessor John T. Best, for Mr. Best is the father of Katherine Grey, who is to appear Monday at the Mason opera house at the head of Martin Beck's company playing Clyde Fitch's comedy, "The Truth."

Mr. Best has not seen his daughter on the stage since her last appearance in San Francisco, when she appeared for a week in a stock company during a visit to her native city.

Mr. Best says his daughter was resolute even in her schoolgirl days to become an actress, and was educated with that end in view. She left San Francisco sixteen years ago and took the stage name of Katherine Grey. She first attracted attention in New York by her remarkable beauty, but the managers soon discovered in her the rare combination, beauty and talent.

Mr. Best traveled all the way to New York to see his daughter play the leading role in "Arms and the Man," with which Richard Mansfield opened his own theater, the Garrick.

It was a great surprise to Mr. Best when Miss Grey wrote him that she had engaged with Mr. Beck's company in San Francisco, and that she has steadily refused to leave New York. Miss Grey has been starred in a new production each season for the last eight years, her last great success being as Christine in "The Reckoning."
