

THE CITY

Strangers are invited to visit the exhibits of California products at the Chamber of Commerce building, on Broadway, between First and Second streets, where free information will be given on all subjects pertaining to this section.

The Herald will pay $10 in cash to anyone furnishing evidence that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person caught stealing copies of The Herald from the premises of our patrons.

THE HERALD.

Admiral Now Grandfather
Admiral Willard H. Brownson, former chief of the navigation bureau of the United States navy, has a grand-daughter. She was born at the Good Samaritan hospital yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Rowell R. Brownson is the child's mother.

Held on Suspicion
J. H. Hanlon, arrested on suspicion, is held at the central station while the police investigate his actions since he has been living in Los Angeles. He was arrested on suspicion of being a burglar and was taken to the station yesterday morning.

Trip to Hawaii
"A Trip to the Hawaiian Islands," illustrated by over 100 colored views, will be the subject of the stereoscopic lecture at the Salvation Army chapel, 121 San Pedro street, tonight. Vocal and instrumental selections of music will be interspersed during the service, which is free to all.

Will Fete Bond Buyers
Arrangements have been made by the officers of the chamber of commerce for a special train to convey the purchasers of the $5 gold bonds to San Pedro, July 4. Each purchaser of these bonds will be allowed special privileges, among them being a trip to Catalina and luncheon on the steamer.

Flames in Basement
Fire, caused by the overflowing of an oil heater in the basement of the barber shop at 256 South Main street, did $50 damage yesterday morning. Flames were seen issuing from the basement window by a fireman who was passing, and he turned in an alarm. The shop is owned by R. Ninakawa.

Parrot Taken for Burglar
A parrot that attempted to find shelter from the night air caused a resident in the vicinity of Tenth and Grand View to think burglars were trying to gain admission to their houses. Several telephoned private water closets, but when the latter arrived they found the bird scratching at a front door.

Mexican Heavily Armed
Armed with a large revolver, a short club and a long-bladed knife, E. Madrigal, a rough appearing Mexican, was arrested by Patrolman Gifford on San Fernando street early yesterday morning. The patrolman questioned Madrigal, but the Mexican refused to tell what he was doing with the weapons.

De Wilde Denies Cruelty Charge
Francis de Wilde, accused by officers of the S. P. C. of cruelly treating young puppies by trimming their ears and fastening them with safety pins, denies the charge. He says he did not trim the ears, but that he was careful to avoid causing them any unnecessary suffering.

Sunday School Picnic
The Sunday school of Christ church will hold its annual picnic today at Anaheim Landing. The children will assemble in the woman's waiting room of the Pacific Electric station, leaving on special cars about 10 o'clock. All children, members of the Sunday school, will be taken free, but all parents and friends and children of the parish in good standing are invited to accompany the Sunday school.

Three Insane at Hospital
With two women, said to be insane, and one man held for examination on a similar complaint, the receiving hospital was a lively place yesterday morning. One of the women was Rosemary Penn, who lives on Rosemont street, while the second was Sarah Harris, who lives on Mateo. The man was M. C. Carlton, from Third street. The three were taken to the hospital at about the same time.

HOW I TOOK MY WRINKLES OUT

After Massage, Creams and Beauty Doctors Had Failed

BY HARRIETT META

Trouble, worry and ill-health brought me deep lines and wrinkles. I realized that they not only marred my appearance and made me look much older, but that they would greatly interfere with my success, because a woman's success, either socially or financially, depends very largely on her appearance. The homely woman, with deep lines and furrows in her face, must fight an unequal battle with her younger and better-looking sister.

I, therefore, bought various brands of cold cream and skin foods, and massaged my face with most of them regularly, hoping to regain my former appearance. But the wrinkles simply would not go. On the contrary, they seemed to get deeper. Next I went to a beauty specialist, who told me she could easily rid me of my wrinkles. I paid my money and took the treatment. Sometimes I thought they got less, but after spending all the money I could afford for such treatment, I found I still had my wrinkles. So I gave up and despair and concluded I must carry them to my grave. One day a friend of mine who was versed in chemistry made a suggestion, and this gave me a new idea. I immediately went to work making experiments and studying everything I could get hold of on this subject. After several long months of almost numberless trials and discouragements I finally discovered a process which produced most astounding results on my wrinkles in a single night. I was delighted beyond expression. I tried my treatment again, and lo and behold, my wrinkles were practically gone. A third treatment—three nights in all—and I had no wrinkles and my face was as smooth as a baby's. I next offered my treatment to some of my immediate friends, who used it with surprising results, and I have now shown it to the public.

Miss Gladys Desmond of Pittsburg, Pa., writes that it made her wrinkles disappear in one night. Mrs. W. V. Graves of Bridgeport, Conn., states: "There is not a wrinkle left; my friends say I look twenty years younger. I consider your treatment a God-send to woman-kind." Mrs. James Bares of Central City, S. D., writes: "The change is so great that it seems more a work of magic." I will send further particulars to anyone who is interested, absolutely free of charge. I use no cream, facial massage, face steamings or so-called skin foods; there is nothing to injure the skin. It is an entirely new discovery of my own and so simple that you can use it without the knowledge of your most intimate friends. You apply the treatment at night, and go to bed. In the morning, lo! the wonderful transformation. People often write to me, "It sounds too good to be true." Well, the test will tell. If interested in my discovery, please address Harriett Meta, Suite 323, Syracuse, N. Y., and I will send you full particulars.

RUBY CASSELMAN SENT TO PRISON

YOUNG FORGER MUST SERVE SEVEN YEARS

JUDGE WILBUR HOLDS SHE IS NOT UNBALANCED

Former Sunday School Teacher Says She Is Eager to Be Taken to San Quentin—New Trial Is Asked

Seven years in the penitentiary at San Quentin was the sentence imposed on Ruby Casselman when she was arraigned before Judge Wilbur in the superior court yesterday. The charge against the young woman was forgery. Several other charges of a similar nature are hanging over her, but these will now be dismissed. Attorneys for Miss Casselman some time ago petitioned that the young woman be placed on probation. In a lengthy opinion Judge Wilbur declined to take this step. In this opinion he discussed the case and the charges against the girl, and also set forth his reasons for imposing sentence. He held Miss Casselman is not mentally irresponsible.

Miss Casselman entered the court dressed in a pretty white gown. When asked if she had anything to say before sentence was pronounced she said "No, sir," and stood up before the judge. When the sentence was pronounced a series of exclamations of astonishment arose from the hearers, as the majority of them had believed the girl would be allowed her liberty. A motion for a new trial has been made.

After being taken to the jail the girl was calm and said she wished to be taken north at once, so she could begin serving her sentence.

Miss Casselman formerly was a teacher in a local Sunday school.

Young Woman Forger Who Must Serve Seven Years in San Quentin

MISS RUBY CASSELMAN

CLAIM BELL LETTER WAS CUT AND DRIED

HANDWRITING EXPERTS GIVE TESTIMONY

Witnesses to Character Called by Defense Speak Disparagingly of Complainant's Reputation for Veracity

Was the letter which Frank M. Bell claims he wrote while under fear of death at the hands of Attorney O. P. Widaman and A. R. Sanger really written at that time, or was it written several days previously? If the letter was written before that date did Bell or some friend of his write it?

These are the principal questions attorneys for the defense and the prosecution in the now famous case are trying to solve.

Handwriting experts were called yesterday to give their opinion. The letter Bell claims to have written while covered by Widaman and Sanger's revolver was produced and compared with a letter which Bell admitted writing. The writing of the two was carefully compared and experts testified they believed each was written by a different person. They said that even fear of death would not make such a difference in writing.

The attorneys for the defense attempted to bring out the fact that Widaman and Sanger were highly respected men and numerous character witnesses were called along this line.

A number of these witnesses testified they had difficulties with Bell, while several said they would not believe his word.

One witness, D. S. Brown, an Alhambra automobile dealer, said he had once said he had been to India. "He told me," said Brown, "that the king had twelve of his children decapitated for his amusement."

"Ask that he be stricken out," said Attorney Fleming, for the defense, and it was so ordered.

BLAME FOR STREET CAR ACCIDENT YET UNSETTLED

Whittier Passengers Were All Thrown from Their Seats, but Physicians Report No One Was Injured Seriously

Officials of the Pacific Electric railway worked all yesterday attempting to fix the blame for the street car accident which occurred early yesterday morning when a Whittier and a Santa Ana car collided at Slauson Junction.

So far the officers have been unable to place the responsibility. They say the Whittier car had stopped at the junction to turn off on the Whittier line. The Santa Ana car, which was following, crashed into it. The passengers in the Whittier car were all seated and well forward, but all were thrown from their seats to the floor.

The Whittier car was crowded and many were cut by flying glass. The injured men and women were brought to Los Angeles and taken to the emergency hospital, where the physicians said none was seriously hurt.

HADLEY RECOVERS; WIFE HAS CHANCE FOR LIFE

Condition of Woman Shot by Husband Shows Some Improvement. Assaultant Now in Cell

Guy Hadley, who shot his wife and then attempted to commit suicide several days ago, was taken from his bed in the receiving hospital yesterday and placed in a cell in the city jail. Hadley is rapidly recovering from his wound and the physicians say there is no danger of his dying.

Mrs. Hadley is still at the county hospital and will probably recover and the physicians who have been attending her say she may be able to leave that institution within another week.

If the woman lives Hadley will be tried on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

LODGE TEAMS TO DRILL HARBOR DAY

SPECTACULAR FEATURES FOR FOURTH OF JULY

Battleships and Torpedo Boats Will Make Sham Night Attack on Forts on Deadman's Island at San Pedro

Fraternal society drills and evolutions will be a picturesque day feature of the Fourth of July celebration on Harbor day in San Pedro.

Men and women garbed in their distinctive uniforms will compete for prize cups or do exhibition work with flags, axes, wands of other paraphernalia pleasing to the eye, while thousands look on. Drill teams from perhaps a score of lodges are expected to assist in the work.

The battle is looming up as a spectacular affair of a noisy, pyrotechnic character. Four battleships each 110 feet long, built out of flat barges as supports, will discharge shot and shell at the evening's San Pedro being adorned with flags and bunting.

Captain Louis Hansen of the decoration committee has already arranged for the erection of arches at principal street corners of the harbor city.

Councilman R. W. Dromgold of the council's finance committee left the Harbor day committee meeting exercises to attend the committee's session in the mayor's office last night and brought the assurance that his committee had agreed that $1200 could be raised from the city treasury for Fourth of July purposes. This, with what the county supervisors have voted, the transportation companies have agreed to contribute, and the city assures nearly $6000 so far for expenses of the day.

Harry Siegel was selected as general treasurer last night to look after expenditures, he having served on several previous Fourth of July committees.

TREES BRUTALLY TORN UP BY UNDISCOVERED VANDAL

Property Owners Along West Thirty-ninth Street Victimized in Most Deliberate and Painstaking Manner

One of the most malicious acts of vandalism ever reported to the police was brought to the attention of the department yesterday when property owners along West Thirty-ninth street, between Vermont and Normandie avenues, told how young ornamental trees, planted along the parking, had been broken and destroyed.

The work was done in the most careful and painstaking manner. In almost every case the trees were broken below the lowest limb, and then twisted and bent, while in several cases the bark was pulled from the side.

Among several trees can be seen the footprints of a fullgrown man, and the police suppose he was the one responsible.

One tree was broken in front of each house in the vicinity, and for this reason the police do not believe it was done for spite against any one person. In the past that district was barren of trees, but recently they have been planted at great expense by the property owners.

Herald Patterns

A GRACEFUL SKIRT MODEL

Through all the changes of fashion the gored skirt continues to retain its popularity, and it is especially favored by the discriminating woman who values the graceful effect produced by long, flowing lines. The five-gored model illustrated is one of the smartest of the new designs, and the tapering effect of the small tucks, which insure a correct fit at the hips and a graceful flare at the lower edge, will invariably be found becoming. The tucks are stitched down over the hips, but below hang free to the hem, which is finished plainly without trimming, though a fold may be applied if desired. English silienne was used for the development shown, but any of the fashionable silks or supple-textured fabrics would make up satisfactorily on the same lines. For the medium size 4 1/2 yards of 44-inch goods will be needed.

No. 6140—Six sizes, 22 to 32 inches waist measure. The price of this pattern is 10 cents.
