

PART II

TO BOOST GOOD ROADS SATURDAY

RED-HOT CAMPAIGN WILL BE INSTITUTED

SYSTEM OUTLINED IS REPLETE WITH ADVANTAGES

Sentimentalists Who Object to Omission of Calabasas Road Not Familiar with Facts—Success Seems Certain

Members of the Good Roads association have been called by President S. A. Butler to meet in the Chamber of Commerce building next Saturday at 10 a. m., when it is expected that they will start their individual campaign for the coming bond issue, to be voted July 30.

The association has 350 members and everyone of them is expected to "get busy" and boost the big project to give Los Angeles county good roads.

Only by individual effort, declares President Butler, can the issue be made a go, and certainly, he claims, if members of the association do not do their part it reflects on the worth of the cause and discourages others who might otherwise be relied upon to help. He, therefore, has sent forth an imperative summons to every member to report Saturday and be assigned to specific duty.

However, the bond campaign is not being permitted to rest on the individual efforts of any man or set of men. A steady campaign of publicity is going on, and in every way efforts are making to acquaint the voters with the issue.

Huge maps of the system of interborough highways have been prepared, to be sent out and posted in every ward, city and hamlet, that all may see just how the plan is. These will be hung up for free discussion.

It is felt that when the voters ascertain by actual sight how comprehensive and thorough are the roads as mapped out, they will unanimously say that the work has been well done.

The system, as outlined, connects every town and city with every other one, so that one may drive from one end of the county to another and pass through every hamlet without leaving a perfect, rock-paved highway.

All Will Be Benefited

Thus, market gardeners and farmers will be benefited in the hauling of their produce to the nearest market, or shipping point, and townspeople will have the satisfaction of driving or motoring to any suburban point over the finest roads in the world.

These maps are expected to prove great eye-openers and to convince all that the highway commission has done its work perfectly.

So far the only opposition to these comprehensive plans has come to the commission from the Santa Monica bay region, where a few—perhaps a score—sentimentalists have objected to the fact that the Calabasas road was omitted, it being held to have been a part of the ancient El Camino Real.

Just why this, if true, which it is not, would entitle the Calabasas road to preference over better and more perfect routes is not developed. But the choice of Santa Susanna road to Ventura county is held to be just as much a part of El Camino Real by other authorities, besides which the Calabasas road saves the county $158,000 in real money in construction costs.

Santa Susanna road is about six miles longer from the county's center to Ventura than the Calabasas road would be, but it connects directly with the Ventura county system and is practicable to construct; while the Calabasas road, when it reached Ventura's line, still would be miles from its highway system, making it useless, besides hilly, rough and extremely hard to construct, and adding $158,000 to the normal cost.

Adheres to Practical

Waiving aside the doubtful claims of sentiment, the commission stuck to practicable points and the saving of time and money. It is certain the opposition will melt away when this fact becomes known.

In all other parts of the county approval is enthusiastic—Pasadena, Long Beach, San Pedro, Redondo and the smaller places being loud in their acclamations of the system, and it is felt assured that the bond issue will carry by a tremendous majority.

The East Side Improvement association has been called by Leslie Mearns to meet Wednesday night to consider the bond issue. It is beyond a doubt favorable to the good roads proposition, and is expected Wednesday to join the long list of bodies that have formally approved the scheme, which includes the chamber of commerce, realty board, Civic league, San Pedro board of trade, Long Beach chamber of commerce, Pasadena chamber of commerce, and so on.

Resolutions will be sought this week from every organization not yet pledged, and efforts will be made to enlist them in the good cause.

ED KERN IS APPOINTED

DIRECTOR OF N. A. P. C.

Los Angeles Official Honored by Police Chiefs' Organization, Which Will Meet Here in 1909—Expect Big Time

Chief of Police Ed Kern has been appointed a director of the National Association of Police Chiefs, which meets in Los Angeles in 1909.

Chief Kern is the first Los Angeles official ever accorded this honor.

Chief Kern received word of his appointment yesterday morning, soon after his arrival at the station.

Preparations are already being made by the Los Angeles department for the reception of the police chiefs of the country when they meet in this city next June.

From present indications it is probable the convention will be the largest of any in the history of the association. The members decided to come to Los Angeles only after the greatest efforts had been made by Chief Kern during the last convention at Detroit.

FAKE BANK ROBBERY

FOOLS A FARMER

BRISTOL, Pa., July 4.—Representatives from a Philadelphia firm of moving picture manufacturers were in Bristol and took pictures of the old Bristol bank during a mimic bank robbery. In one of the scenes, where the robbers use five horses to escape, George Farrell of Philadelphia was thrown. He was badly hurt.

Reports reached the farmers that the Bristol bank was attacked by a band of robbers. One farmer hitched up his team and drove hastily five miles to town.

"STAR AND THE CRITIC" IS DECLARED AN INNOVATION

One-Act Drama to Be Presented at Venice Chautauqua, Composed by Los Angeles Men, Epitome of Three-Act Play

Perival Aylmar, formerly leading man for Miss Mary Shaw, who is in charge of several dramatic performances to be given at the California Chautauqua at Venice, July 6 to 18, has presented a play entitled "The Star and the Critic," which is a decided innovation in the theatrical world which promises to be a success. The innovation in question is entitled "The Star and the Critic," and was composed by T. Shelley Sutton, a Los Angeles newspaper man, in collaboration with Eugene Lewis of Salt Lake. "The Star and the Critic" is a one-act drama aiming to tell in thirty minutes what the usual play would tell in three or four acts. In other words, the sketch has been termed by those who have read it "the very essence of suggestion—an epitome of no fewer than six dramatic situations cleverly couched and with all regard to the psychology of transition—something that cannot be claimed for many of the modern four-act plays which frequently bore an audience in their failure to get away from the pivotal point of action. Mr. Aylmar declares the piece is the finest he has ever read, and as Mr. Aylmar is an actor of recognized experience and ability the excellent should count for something. Mr. Sutton, co-author of the sketch, will make a short address at the chautauqua on "Child Slavery," following which Mr. Lewis will read one of Mr. Sutton's poems on the same subject.

As a writer of industrial and romantic verse Mr. Sutton has gained considerable of a reputation through the columns of The Herald and of several eastern magazines. He is now writing an emotional society drama which he will submit to Margaret Anglin, and in which it is claimed there will be several dramatic devices absolutely original. The play deals with Southern California life of today.

WORLD UNITY LEAGUE TO MEET AT VENICE

SEEK TO UNIFY SPIRITUAL FORCES OF HUMANITY

Bertha Hirsch Baruch and Other Noted Women in Charge of Congress to Convene at Chautauqua Next Sunday

"A World's Congress for the Unification of Spiritual Forces" is the name under which the World's Unity league will convene in the auditorium at Venice next Sunday afternoon in connection with the California Chautauqua under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch and under the auspices of a committee of associated chairmen of the league, composed of Mrs. Elizabeth Boynton Harbert, Ph. D., of Chicago and Pasadena, leading chairman of the world's extension of the Parliament of Religions; Mrs. Ella A. W. Hoswell of Los Angeles, recording secretary of the World's Unity league; Mrs. Annie Rix Mills of India and Los Angeles, department of spiritual cooperation; Miss Josephine C. Locke, Rev. Helen Van Anderson, "Education"; Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch, "The Drama."

The Unity league, which is meeting for the first time in California, was organized at the time of the Congress of Religions at the world's fair in Chicago in 1893 and subscribes to the following bond: "Recognizing the interdependence and solidarity of humanity, we will welcome light from every source, earnestly desiring to grow in knowledge of truth and the spirit of love, and to manifest the same by helpful service. 'Love is the fulfilling of the law.'"

BEAR FIGHTS SURGEON AND ZOO IS IN UPROAR

PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—"White Silver," the big polar bear in the Highland park zoo, in addition to the discomfort of sweltering with the extreme heat these days, is a victim of the surgeon's knife. An operation was successfully performed on the massive creature after he had made a desperate fight to prevent it. While making his objections he succeeded in creating pandemonium through the zoo, but the operation of removing a growth from one of his legs was successfully performed by Head Keeper Ernest Tretlow and his assistants.

It required the exercising of considerable ingenuity and nerve to operate on the big fellow, who is one of the largest in captivity. He is particularly vicious and aggressive during the summer months. For that reason great precautions had to be observed.

Keeper Tretlow himself entered the savage animal's cage and constructed a trap of heavy planks while he was feeding. This trap was to prevent the animal from wriggling and squirming while the operation was being performed. The bear was then enticed into it by a bucket of fresh fish. While he was devouring them his "sick" leg was noosed with a heavy rope in the hands of three husky keepers.

The strength of "White Silver" is something prodigious. The three keepers were not sufficient to pull the leg out through the iron bars, and reinforcements were called. Finally the captured member was outside the cage and the rope made taut.

While this was going on "White Silver" indulged in a series of startling growls and snarls. His mate in the next cage seemed much interested in the proceedings, but did not show any particular excitement until the surgeon's knife began to cut deep into "White Silver's" flesh. The latter then uttered a series of shrieks and yells. The blood-curdling cries were then taken up by Mrs. White Silver and she pranced madly up and down her cage. These gyrations were occasionally varied by a plunge into her pool. The noise was so great around the polar bear cages that it excited the lions, tigers, bears and hyenas. They joined in the ungody chorus, which was continued for fully fifteen minutes.

It was discovered while "White Silver" indulged in his fits of rage that he had grown to an abnormal length. An animal chiropodist was called upon to remedy this. With a huge pair of pliers the nails were clipped off. When released he made several plunges into his pool, but continued to growl and roar until palliated with another bucket of fish.

The operation was necessary to prevent "White Silver" from becoming a permanent cripple and probably saved his life, as the growth was developing rapidly. Keeper Tretlow says "White Silver, who is worth several thousand dollars, and one of the most valuable animals in the big collection, will be as sound as ever in a short time

MOTHER IN OPEN COURT WHIPS HER SON OF 16. PITTSBURGH, July 4.—Angered at the conduct of her 16-year-old son, who had violated a city ordinance, Mrs. Josephine Sobert grasped her young hopeful in the court room before the magistrate and officers, and removing her slipper from her foot, laid the boy across her knee and gave him an old-time walloping. The boy howled and blubbered at the punishment, which he felt more than the $15 fine or five days in jail inflicted by the magistrate. The mother paid the fine before insisting the punishment and amid the jeers and taunts of the magistrate and his officers the boy skulked out of the room. Young Sobert had been arrested for breaking windows.

BRIDAL PAIR STARTS ON HONEYMOON IN HEARSE. NEW YORK, July 4.—Frederick D. Romine, a well known real estate dealer of Newark, N. J., started on his honeymoon today in an undertaker's wagon. When he learned that his friends were planning a great send-off for himself and his bride, who was Miss Florence L. Apgar of New Germantown, N. J., the pair sought to escape after the ceremony. They made their way into an alley in the rear of the house and there in lieu of any other vehicle an undertaker's wagon was impressed into service and in it the pair made their escape.
