OFFICE ESTABLISHED BY PEACE SOCIETY

ANTI-JAPANESE SENTIMENT TO BE COUNTERED

National Organization Recognizes Importance of Pacific Coast and Picks Special Man for Work in Los Angeles

The American Peace society, which last week established offices in Los Angeles under the direction of Robert C. Root, Pacific coast representative of the society, is taking active measures in the interest of universal peace, to counteract the anti-Japanese sentiment prevalent in the western states.

The Southern California branch was organized last March. The persistent hostile attitude assumed toward Orientals had a great deal to do with the establishment of a coast branch of the main society, which has headquarters in Boston and has been in existence since 1828.

"It is the purpose of this society to endeavor to counteract just such sentiment as Captain Hobson endeavored to create by his speech at the Denver convention," said Mr. Root yesterday. "I once heard him utter a statement in this city and I heartily desired an opportunity to get on the stage and answer him. I remember that he then said, 'If I had 3 per cent of the money spent in this country for liquor I would build a navy and maintain the peace of the world.' In that remark he out-kaisers the Kaiser, for he leaves out the Deity altogether."

"If I were called upon to diagnose Captain Hobson's trouble I should call it a bad case of exaggerated Ego and still give him credit for his performance at Santiago. He is not a representative in congress, but a misrepresentative. He goes about stirring up strife with a friendly nation when he has no business to do so. He said Roosevelt was deeply humiliated in the San Francisco matter. Is it humiliating for the chief executive to insist on the carrying out of the stipulation of a treaty with a friendly nation?"

Literature Distributed Mr. Root has for several years been superintendent of peace for the Friends' society of California, and before coming here was a prominent educator in eastern cities. The society has already sent out 40,000 pieces of literature to the schools of the state, to public men, clergymen, professors and jurists. Some of the pamphlets written by experts, which can be had by application at the home office in the Severance building, are: "Is Japan a Menace to the United States?" by Rev. J. H. De Forrest, D. D., for thirty-three years a missionary in the country; "The Absurdities of Militarism," by Ernest H. Crooby; "Successes and Failures of the Second Hague Conference," and many others.

In the recent annual report of the American Peace society the reasons for the establishment of a branch of the society on the western coast are given plainly as follows: "During the past year it has become increasingly evident that the Pacific coast is to play hereafter a very great part in the relations of the nations, especially between the east and west. We feel the time has come to extend our labors to that field in an organized way. We have therefore established a Pacific coast agency at Los Angeles and chosen as our representative Robert C. Root, a man of ability, energy, good judgment and devotion to the cause. One of the most imperative duties of the hour is to maintain good relations between the United States and Japan and China, and we expect this new agency to prove most valuable in this direction."

Officers of the Southern California Peace society are: President, Dr. W. V. Coffin; vice presidents, Prof. H. N. Wright, Rev. Baker P. Lee, Miss Frances Root, Rev. H. H. Gu and L. W. Pedrick; executive committee, Rev. Hugh K. Walker, Rev. Arthur S. Phelps, Rev. Andrew F. Mitchell; secretary and treasurer, Robert C. Root.

WILL CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY WITH OLD FOLKS AT HOME

E. E. Overholzer of Los Angeles to Join in Family Reunion on Natal Anniversary at Gettysburg, Pa.

E. E. Overholzer is looking forward with great pleasure to a family reunion at his old home in Gettysburg, Pa. Mr. Overholzer will be 60 years of age September 2 and he expects to celebrate the day with the "old folks at home." He will start for the east tomorrow and make the trip for the first time in twenty-four years.

Mr. Overholzer is one of the prominent citizens of Los Angeles, having resided here twenty-one years. He is engaged in the undertaking business and is an active member of the Odd Fellows.

After visiting his old home he will go to Baltimore and later will attend the sovereign grand lodge of the Odd Fellows in Denver.

SWARM TO LIBERAL ALLIANCE MEETING

TWO THOUSAND PRESENT AT CHUTES PICNIC

Perfect Order Prevails, and Speeches by Mayor Harper and Other Noted Citizens Are Cheered to the Echo

About two thousand persons attended the outing of the Liberal Alliance of Los Angeles, held at Chutes park yesterday afternoon. An abundance of beer was on tap, but it was not sold outright, being given in exchange for tickets which were procured upon entering the park. Although the large crowd of members of the order and their many friends all seemed to be having a good time there was nothing in their conduct that verged on the boisterous.

Mayor Harper, Isidore Dockweiler, Gaston Williams and Captain Thomas B. Merry were the orators of the day, and their speeches, delivered in the open air amphitheater, were vigorously applauded.

Kammermeyer's Catalina band played in the open air theater, while Professors Grosser and Cook's stringed orchestra provided music in the dance hall, and Schoenemann and Blanchard's orchestra performed while the various sport events were pulled off.

Immediately after the speeches the crowd was entertained for half an hour with running races, in which men, women, boys and girls participated. Following these there were sack races, and potato races. The prizes for the events consisted of shares of Labor Temple stock, contributed by various local unions.

Professor Le Royce made a balloon ascension at 4 o'clock, which was applauded vociferously. Colby, the "Great Comet," leaped a fifteen-foot gap on a bicycle and was followed by Professor Williams, who executed many clever stunts with a bicycle on a wire. Professor Lewis ended the out-of-door performance with an exhibition of fancy diving, concluding with a high plunge from a platform erected for the occasion.

The committee which had charge of the picnic caused the auditorium to be beautifully decorated. The columns were hung with the pictures of various states and foreign rulers, which brought forth many references from the speakers of the day. President Le Royce of the Liberal Alliance expressed himself as highly pleased with the way the members of the organization had turned out and pronounced the picnic most successful. Other members of the committee were: Charles Sandler, Atalus Niemeyer, R. V. Meier, Carl Unger, Ferdinand Parmentier, E. B. Dykhuizen and Frank Dornier.

In addition to the special sports there were the regular Chutes attractions which were generously attended by the members of the order, with the exception of the House of Trouble, Cave of the Winds, circle swing and roller coaster, which did not receive the full patronage of the crowd. Inquiry soon proved that these had been boycotted indirectly because, it is said, they refused to treat with the Labor day committee. There were numerous private meetings among the various officers of the local branches of the order regarding labor questions, and arrangements were made for the coming Labor day program.

OPENING CEREMONIES TO BE CONTINUED TEN DAYS

September 2 Will Be Grand Occasion in Connection with Y. M. C. A. New Building, When Flag Will Be Presented

Although the formal opening of the new Y. M. C. A. building on Hope street, near Seventh, will occur Tuesday, September 1, when the building will be opened for the exclusive use of contributors and their families, yet a series of opening days will last from September 1 to September 10, so that every person in Los Angeles may have opportunity to see the building.

The big day will be Wednesday, September 2. The general public is cordially invited to be present. The address of the occasion will be delivered by Judge Seiden P. Spencer of St. Louis. He was president of the international convention of the Young Men's Christian association which held its sessions last November in Washington, D. C. While Judge Spencer is the chief speaker for this grand opening day, an attractive program of music will add to the occasion. President Arthur Letts will preside.

Immediately following the main address will come the flag raising ceremony, and a handsome United States flag will be presented to the association by the Grand Army of the Republic. Representatives of various posts will form at Central park and march to the building in line. A splendid program will be presented in connection with the ceremony.

During the ten days' opening opportunity will be given to every class of citizens to visit the building. Special days have been arranged in order to accommodate the large crowds who may come, and to make possible a visit by every citizen.

SHRIEKS FOR HELP DESPITE HIS THREAT

ASSAILANT CLAIMS HE WAS ROBBED OF $1300

Runs on Approach of Police, and He, the Woman and a Friend Are Put Under Arrest on Suspicion

Struggling desperately in the grasp of a man who pressed the muzzle of a pistol to her temple and threatened with instant death if she made an outcry, Marie Rodgers nevertheless let out a shout for help and it was responded to by two policemen.

The man who held her in his grasp with the pistol to her head was H. G. England, and when he heard the rapid steps of the police turned and ran.

He did not escape, however, for the policemen caught him when he had gone but a short distance, and both he and the woman were taken to the central police station and locked up on suspicion.

Marie Rodgers lives at 511 1/2 North Main street. The address and occupation of England are unknown to the police, but he has had a long acquaintance with the woman, and to the officers who made the arrest he claimed that she had taken from him $1300 which she had refused to return. He stated that he was simply trying to frighten her into giving him back his own.

England went to the house yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock and visited the woman in her room. They had talked together over nearly an hour before her cry for help was heard. The landlady of the house ran and peered into the room and saw her in the grasp of England with a pistol pointed at her. She also cried for help and Patrolmen Pautz and Buttorf of the Chinatown squad ran to the place.

Before the police reached the house, however, England had run down the hall to the room of a C. H. Engle, and to him he gave the revolver with a rapid word of explanation. He then tried to escape by a rear doorway but was caught.

The woman denied that she had had England's money, but she admitted having a good time until an explanation of the matter could be had.

England also was arrested later in the evening and locked up at central station on suspicion. When searched at the station the revolver belonging to England was found on his person.

THE DOCTOR says "drink beer" to the weak and the convalescent. To those who need strength—need a food and a tonic. If it is good for them, isn't it good for you?

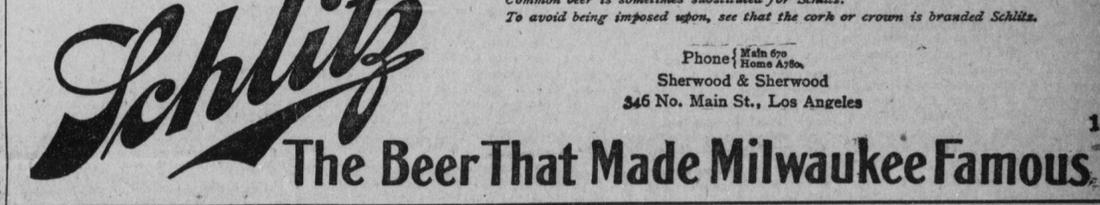

The virtue of beer does not lie in the alcohol. There is only 3 1/2 per cent. of that.

It lies in the malted barley—a digested food. And in the hops—a tonic and an aid to sleep.

It lies, too, in the fact that the drinking of beer flushes the system of waste. So would water, of course, if one drank enough of it. But you don't drink water like beer.

When beer is pure there is nothing more healthful. And Schlitz beer is pure. It brings no after-effects, no biliousness.

But better go without beer than to drink the wrong beer. That is why the Doctor generally says "Drink Schlitz."

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous

Ask for the Brewery Bottling. Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz. To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

LOS ANGELES THEIR INVARIABLE MECCA

ARTISTS EAGER BUT WOBBLY IN THEIR GEOGRAPHY

Squint at Behymer's Mail Shows a Flood of Often Comical Communications from All Over the World

"That Los Angeles is rapidly coming to the front as a booking center of attractions, both dramatic and musical, is becoming more apparent every day," remarked Impresario Behymer last night as he turned at a desk heaped with mail carrying postmarks from all over the world.

"There is much that is of interest in a booking office," said Mr. Behymer, "which never seeps through to the general public. One of the amusing phases of the work consists in the applications received both from well known and unknown talent asking for engagements in sections of the country which the writers know little about. One concert artist recently wrote from abroad asking for 3000 and 4000 engagements in San Francisco, which he had heard 'is a good matinee town,' and suggesting an evening performance at the Van Nuys, where he had never been."

"A glance through some of the letters lying on the desk proved highly entertaining. One application was from a man in central New York who offers to give an illustrated lecture on 'The Hygienic Milk Supply of Large Cities and the History of Its Transportation from the Cow to the Consumer,' and another was from a well known violinist, Richard de Herter, of the Conservatoire of Bukarest and holder of the gold medal of the Rhine cities, wishing to make a tour of concerts 'wherever they are in America.'"

From Santa Cruz comes a request for stipulation that the repertoire shall include "Madam Butterfly" and Paul Laurence Dunbar's poems, while from Eugene City, Ind., comes a request for a young lady who has a most beautiful, rich, low contralto voice of the most exquisite quality and entrancing sweetness, the desire for one who can sing that he "never met one singer that could compare with this one."

Budapest sends an application for dates in an American tour for the "famous Tamini, a most wonderful German Caruso. 'Take my word for it, he will bring grit to the mill, not only in California but elsewhere west of Omaha,' says the writer.

Grosvenor Street of England sent an application from Miss Janotha, "the German Empress's court pianist, whose splendid work and decorations are medals received from royal personages have made her musical reputation a matter of history." She wishes to tour in America, Washington, Boston and other places during January and February.

Hon. John A. Johnson, governor of MINNESOTA: Hon J. Frank Hanly, governor of Indiana, and Hon. Joseph Folk, governor of Missouri, are each willing to speak for $200 per night.

If the local clubs have the price they may also hear Maud Ballington Booth, the "Little Mother;" Mrs. Florence Maybrick of English prison fame; Mrs. Helen Pickett, widow of the hero of Pickett's charge; Hon. Henry Waterson, Jacob Hills and other noted orators.

EAGLES ENTERTAIN GRAND OFFICERS

Officers of Grand Aerie and State President Will Address Eagles of Southern California at Public Meeting

Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and their friends from all parts of Southern California will pack Eagles' hall, 113 East Third street, to honor the order's grand officers, who are visiting Los Angeles today. The score of lodges in this part of California have united in greeting the representatives of the grand aerie. The meeting tonight will be open to the public.

B. J. Monahan of Philadelphia, the worthy grand president, broke down in San Francisco as a result of overwork at the Seattle convention and was unable to accompany the other officers to Los Angeles. Senator Thomas F. Grady on behalf of the Southern California aeries will be made by R. B. Goodcell of San Bernardino, state president of the order.

The meeting will be called to order by Peter R. Froelich, worthy president of the Los Angeles aerie, and Jesse R. Shafter will be the chairman of the evening. Addresses on the progress of the order will be made by Capt. R. F. Pelletier, former grand president; Conrad Mann of Kansas City, the worthy grand secretary, and John S. Parry, one of the old guard of the San Francisco aerie.

"The session just closed at Seattle was the tenth annual convention of the grand aerie," said J. R. Shafter, secretary of Los Angeles aerie, last night, "and there were more delegates there than there were members in the order at the first convention in 1889. Then there were 1780 members reported and total assets of $8433. This year we had a report of 31,000 members in 1894 and assets amounting to $4423,509, with $18,813 disbursed the past year in sick and relief benefits. Los Angeles, the mother aerie in Southern California, is 8 years old and has a membership of 1000."

"The convention was held in Seattle this year in recognition of the fact that the order was established in Seattle a decade ago. For the first four or five years the membership in the west predominated, but since then the representation has been fully national. The Eagles is distinctly an American order."

The grand officers arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco and are registered at the Alexandria, Angelus and Van Nuys hotels. They will be given an automobile ride this afternoon and will leave for the east tomorrow morning.
