REPUBLICAN VICTORY IS COMPLETE IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The Republican national and state tickets have gained a complete victory in Illinois, although the pluralities probably will fall short of those obtained by the party in the Roosevelt campaign of 1904. Taft has carried the state by approximately 170,000 votes, although it will be some time tomorrow or Thursday before the exact figures be obtained. Charles S. Deneen, Republican candidate for governor, ran far behind the national ticket, but has been elected by a plurality of about 100,000 over A. E. Stevenson, his Democratic opponent. Deneen's greatest losses were suffered in Cook county, which is his home. The feeling against him was strong in Chicago, and he was heavily scratched. Chicago and Cook county gave a plurality to Taft of 50,000, against 125,000 for Roosevelt four years ago. Outside of Cook county the plurality for Taft is not far from 120,000. The plurality of President Roosevelt in 1904 was 304,339 for the state.

Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor, carried the city of Chicago by about 8,000, and Cook county by about 6,000. He lost heavily, however, in the state outside of Cook county. The legislature, which is to select a successor to Senator Hopkins, will be strongly Republican and it is certain Mr. Hopkins will be succeeded either by himself or by another Republican. In Chicago a hot fight was waged over the office of state's attorney, but John E. Wayman, Republican, was elected by about 5,000. The Socialist vote showed a considerable falling off from that of four years ago. Debs in 1904 received 69,225 votes. From the returns so far obtained it seems probable that he will not receive much over 40,000.

If there is any man, woman or child in Los Angeles who did not watch The Herald's election bulletins last night it was because they were bedridden. It was rumored early in the evening that two Hollywood men were absent, but they appeared later. Street cars were diverted, and all truck and automobile traffic was turned aside by the dense crowd of patriots which packed Broadway in front of the Herald office. For four hours a squad of policemen was kept busier than a pup scratching a hole in a roof in an ineffectual attempt to keep the walks clear. Several times reports circulated in the crowd that lantern bulletins were being shown at other offices, but they could not be verified, and none cared to leave long enough to investigate. Even the din of siren whistles and the shooting of cannon crackers by other ambitious purveyors of political information failed to interest the dense throng of zealous breathlessly awaiting news of their candidates, and until the last telegram was in, The Herald remained the converging point of all the downtown crowds. The intense excitement of the campaign reached a climax as one by one the bulletins showed the race to be close in different states, and the different factions were almost hysterical in cheering news favorable to their sides. The scenic and moving pictures that were interspersed with the bulletins were almost as eagerly received as the political news, and the crowd was generous in voicing its appreciation of The Herald's enterprise. Three cheers for The Herald were given lustily, and the crowd thronged the Broadway entrance in an attempt to offer personal congratulations to the management. Cartoonist Barnett contributed to the gaiety of the occasion by a number of his inimitable cartoons, which were thrown on the screen. These included several playful squibs at the expense of the defeated candidates. The pictures and bulletins were by no means the only diverting features. Late in the evening a man who looked like a panhandler, with a battered derby hat several sizes too large for him, created a stir by shouting that he had $10,000 to bet on Bryan. Several persons with sporting proclivities offered to receive any additional help of whole of his superfluous cash, but when he was asked to put up the money he recalled that the banks had been closed during the day and that he had only a few hundred in his pockets—barely enough to last until tomorrow. The crowd indulged in considerable airy persiflage. Somebody sprang the hoary old joke about one man asking another whether he was going to vote for Bryan, and the other man replying that there was no hurry about it—he could stick around and vote for Bryan most any time. They seemed cruelly ill fated "Doodle Dees," and jeered heartlessly as the Hearst candidates appeared time and again at the bottom of the ticket. The cosmopolitan character of a Los Angeles crowd was shown by the familiarity of the watchers with the different candidates for congress and smaller offices scattered over the country. William Scroggins, carrying Hoopole township, Ind., was just as sure of a cheer as Taft or Bryan, and certain to be known and commented upon by some one in the crowd. Late in the evening the bulletins were flashed so rapidly that the crowd had difficulty in following them, and with the confusion and the exulting of the partisans of the winning candidates Broadway, from First to Third streets, was a bedlam of densely packed, struggling, vociferous humanity which had all the other political gatherings in the city backed clear down the elevator shaft. In the night wore on the crowd showed little intention of leaving, and several tired watchers, their candidates defeated, inquired pathetically if certain to lie down and sleep somewhere around the office, as there seemed to be no chance to break through the crowd and go home.

MORE CONGRESS FOR UNCLE JOE

ILLINOIS RE-ELECTS HIM DESPITE CHURCHES

Speaker of the House Receives Probable Plurality of 10,500, Much Less Than Claimed, but Enough to Please DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 3.—Joseph G. Cannon has been re-elected to congress by a plurality considerably above the normal. It probably will be at least 10,500. The result has been something of a surprise even to friends of Mr. Cannon. The fight made against him by various church organizations, the Anti-Saloon league and organized labor, coupled with the fact that the Democrats had, for the first time since 1884, a complete organization in this district, led the Republicans to believe Mr. Cannon's plurality would not be over 5000. In the heaviest union labor sections, however, Cannon received as large a vote as he ever received before, and in some of them he made decided gains.

ALL REPUBLICANS ELECTED, EXCEPT, PERHAPS, ESTUDILLO

SANTA ANA, Nov. 3.—Returns up to 12 o'clock indicate the election of the Republican ticket, with the possible exception of Estudillo for the senate. His Democratic opponent will carry Orange county by between 500 and 600. Estudillo claims Riverside by 500, and if his figures are correct will be elected by between 200 and 300. Twelve precincts out of thirty-seven give Taft 671, Bryan 302.

TOKIO IS INTERESTED

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—The announcement of the election of Taft was received in Tokio with much interest. The local papers issued extra editions.

NORTON PROUD OF THE PARTY

Chairman Norton of the Democratic county committee said: "We have not complete enough returns to tell just who we have elected. "We have made a fight the like of which has not been seen in Los Angeles county in the last twenty years. "We had only two months' time in which to work up our organization, which amounted to absolutely nothing when we took hold of it. "We have just started in to build up our Democratic organization in this county. We have to depend entirely upon patriotic Democrats to do our work, as we have no 'patronage workers' to do politics for us. "All our candidates were good, clean men. We have no apology to make for any of them. "I have come to the conclusion that the Republicans vote the straight Republican ticket in a presidential year for fear of invalidating their ballot, whether their candidates are machine men or not. "We will not await the prosperity that the Republicans have promised we would enjoy in the next four years. "I hope it will come and we will rejoice with them. If it does not we will hold them and Mr. Taft responsible for it. "We will now await the prosperity state to fight the Southern Pacific machine and its allied interests and will keep our organization so clean that they will not be able to control it as they do the Republican organization. "I am glad to say that the Independence party is a thing of the past. It polled the smallest vote of any of the parties on the ticket, and did not have the effect Mr. Hearst thought it would have on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Hearst is now a thing of the past, a man without a party and without friends, not even the own party he created. "The Herald did magnificent work for the ticket and takes its place as the foremost Democratic paper in the west. We are fortunate in having it with us and it deserves the support of all good Democrats and people of independent political leanings."

REPORTS PECULIAR WORK AT ALISO STREET MILL

Watcher Mason Asks Democratic Headquarters to Send Extra Men While Count is in Progress J. W. Mason, of the watchers at the sash and door mill polling place at 739 Aliso street, reported last night that there was something peculiar about the count there. He asked for more watchers and made a trip in person to the Fay building to insure quick action. As far as the count had proceeded at 10 o'clock the vote was 38 for Bryan and 29 for Taft. It is estimated that 283 out of the 338 registered voters cast their ballots. Find a use for a want ad—a task for it. Needn't be a usual or an easy task.

Taft Gets San Bernardino County, But Vote Falls Off

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 3.—The Democrats will control the board of supervisors, having elected three members—West in the First, Glover in the Third and Horton in the Fifth district, the latter by a good lead over Nelson. The other two candidates had no opposition. Taft has carried this county by about 1500 plurality, a great falling off as compared with Roosevelt's plurality of four years ago. Flavelle defeats Levering (Dem.) for assembly by less than a thousand votes. Railway Case Nears End WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Argument was begun today in the supreme court of the United States in the case of the Interstate Commerce Commission vs. E. H. Harriman, involving the right of the commission to compel Mr. Harriman to answer questions concerning the purchase by the Union Pacific company of the stocks of competing companies.
