THE CITY
Art Review

BY KATHRYN RUCKER

THE art and crafts exhibition held in the reception rooms of the Friday Morning club on Tuesday, November 24, proves the increasing interest in these branches by laymen and the development for a higher standard of workmanship among our craftsmen and women, for there were crowds of enthusiastic visitors to the work shown.

AROUND TOWN

Fire Quickly Put Out
A defective grate in the residence of Mrs. Rosa Kaplan, 443 South Hill street, caused an alarm of fire from box 241 last night. The fire was extinguished after doing damage to the amount of $50.

Chinese to Be Deported

Denies Friction
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(Ma.) Chas. F. Tarrabee, assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, has resigned, effective November 30. Mr. Tarrabee denied reports that there was friction between the secretary of the Interior and himself, and said his resignation was due to ill health.

SUPERVISORS TO ACT ON BONDS AT THE THEATERS

"HALFBREED" IS USUAL HIT AT THE BURBANK MOROSCO-COTTRELL MELODRAMA CATCHES AUDIENCE

Laughs, Weeps, Plenty of Action, Good Staging, Strong Leads and Pleasing Character Parts

Interest in Los Angeles city and county centers today in the action of the board of supervisors will take as to the sale of the $3,500,000 good road bonds, bids for which were received last week ago. Sentiment generally is in favor of accepting one of the bids for a small issue of the bonds, one reason given being that only a part of the whole amount is needed at present and that better prices for future issues can be secured, owing to an advancing bond market.

recalled as a former leading woman of the local Belasco company, has just been engaged to play this same role with Mr. Miller, who is still presenting "The Great Divide" in the eastern syndicate theaters with uninterrupted success.

The presentation of the William Vaughn Moody play by the Stone company will be the first time it has ever been used by a stock company. It brings to Mr. Miller a weekly royalty of $1000 and is classed with "The Col lege Widow," "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" and "Beau Brummel" as a high water mark in royalty play.

Next week Mr. Stone will be seen in another Henry Miller part—that of Sydney Carton in "The Only Way." Local patrons recognize in this role Mr. Stone's most admirably white Florence Oakley as Martin Devereaux ought to be well fitted to see the Dickens' story in its dramatized form.

Manager Blackwood of the Lewis S. Stone company has just secured the rights to "The House of a Thousand Candles" for an early production in the Auditorium. This story of Meredith Nicholson has been made ready for the footlights by George Middleton, and the romance and mystery that made the book so tremendously popular have been retained in the stage version. The story of John Glenam should at Mr. Stone's admirably white Florence Oakley as Martin Devereaux ought to be a constant delight.

WILL DISCUSS NEW LINE OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Lecture to Be Given Tonight at Y. M. C. A. and Additional Classes Likely to Be Organized Shortly

"New Requirements and Opportunities in Technical Education" is the title of a lecture to be given this evening at the Young Men's Christian association. Numbers of technical courses are at present being conducted by the educational department of the association, and plans are on foot now for organizing new classes in oil gas engineering, blue print reading and machine design.

A. W. Gordon, who has had an extensive experience in the installation of gas plants and other engineering enterprises, is to have charge of these new lines of work and will give a lecture Monday evening, which will be of particular interest to men connected in any way with the oil gas business, as well as to draftsmen and machinists.

With reference to the enterprise, Lloyd B. Austin, educational director of the association, said: "Numbers of officers of local gas companies have encouraged the Young Men's Christian association in their plan to offer practical instruction in the field of oil gas engineering. The oil gas industry in Southern California is becoming so important that there is a demand for technically trained oil gas engineers, and the association hopes to be able to conduct a course that will be of benefit both to individuals and to the gas companies in Los Angeles and the surrounding towns. If sufficient interest is shown at the lecture Monday evening the association will organize classes at once."
