SPORTSMEN TO PASS HOLIDAYS IN NORTH

Large Sporting Goods House Will Open in January with Big Lines of General Athletic Goods

Will Tufts of the Tufts-Lyon Arms company and Ed Helm left for Santa Company Wednesday and will remain there for the New Year's holidays. They will join Mel Nordlinger, who went up to San Francisco last week. Besides visiting the numerous sporting goods houses and shooting at the various gun clubs around the bay, the trio will incidentally see the sights of the northern metropolis and have a jolly good time. Louis Breer is still burning the midnight oil over his big new catalogue which he is endeavoring to complete before New Year's day.

Dyas-Cline have postponed their removal to their new quarters at 214 West Third street until January 20. They will move out of their present location on the 19th and will occupy business in the new store the following day. A large new stock of sporting goods has been ordered and the new store will be the handsomest sporting goods house on the coast, according to the plans of the proprietors.

SALT LAKES AND EDISONS WILL PLAY AT CHUTES

First Game at Grounds Since Close of Pacific Coast League Season Promises to Draw Big Crowd

The Salt Lakes and the Edison clubs of the California Winter league will use the Chutes park for their first game, scheduled for Sunday's game. This will be the first game played on these grounds since the close of the Pacific Coast league, and no doubt a large attendance will be on hand to cheer their respective teams to victory. Manager Mitchell of the railroad club will have his star pitcher go on the mound against the wire overagers, while "Baldy" Thomas will go in the box for the Edison aggregation. This boy Thomas is ranked as one of the finest semi-professional pitchers in the south. He is the only one who has succeeded in shutting out the fast San Diego club. The teams will line up as follows:

MAYOR WILL DECLARE HOLIDAY FEBRUARY 12

Asks Business Men to Enter into the Spirit of Lincoln Centennial and Help in the Celebration

Mayor Harper yesterday notified Joseph Scott, president of the board of education, that he would declare February 12 a holiday and would call on the business men of Los Angeles to enter into the spirit of the occasion and do what they can to help the celebration. February 12 will be the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, and the school board is especially anxious to have the occasion fittingly celebrated.

ALTO BY JAY DAVIDSON

THERE was no shedding of tears in sport circles throughout the world when the hands of the clock stood on a dead heat last night. It marked the passage of another cycle into history and probably no period in the last century has chronicled more disastrous results for the popular pastimes, fighting and racing. It was rough sledding all through the year. For that reason, sportsmen generally wear mourning, and the 1909 sweater because, like is characteristic of the piker and plunger alike, tomorrow is another day. It brings forth new hopes and renewed energy. Many toasts were said around the fatal hour when sportsmen sat up to bid adieu to the departing year and extend a cordial greeting to the new one. These toasts, in substance, were the same, for the spirit of the sportsman is optimistic and hopeful. "Here's to the new year, Welcome a thousand times, and may it bring forth a settlement of the unsettled conditions in the sporting world that all men may be free and equal before the law and in the esteem of his fellow man, be he banker or bookmaker, be he sportsman or sportsman, publican or sinner." Despite the unsettled conditions in all sports the last year, it is a happy memory to me. The year was the same, for it is among the best sports on earth, and in the best country on earth. Both are away above par with me, and I have no hope or desire to emigrate. Los Angeles sportsmen are as famous and as much as the Los Angeles climate—both being inseparably good—and I hope to enjoy the blessings of association with both for many years to come. Happy New Year to the sportsmen of the world, and a more prosperous epoch in the history of all legitimate sports.

Quite an aggregation of sports attended the Brownies' ball last night at Venice. Many went out of sheer curiosity and others attended to participate in the merry-making. The dancing was of its kind ever pulled off in a down-to-date Venice or Southern California, and while it was fully up to the wide expectations in every respect, it also was most enjoyable affair for those who attended.

Dr. C. P. Harville, one of the leading young medics of the woolly west, came down from Salt Lake City to attend the Kaufmann-Harry scrap, the races and dances with the prettiest girl in the Brownies' affair. Also, he met a big bunch of Missourians and swapped reminiscences with them.

Will McDaniel, brother of Henry and trainer for the J. J. Walsh stable, was much elated last night because Lee Koo broke all records by being the only 2-year-old to win the first and last 2-year-old race of the year 1908. He thinks he has the best 2-year-old on the coast and expects to capture the derby with him next March.

It begins to look like it will be only a short time until all the horses of any real class will be racing at Santa Anita. Slowly, yet surely, all the big winter stables are shipping to Santa Anita, and the only ones who are holding out their stalls at Emeryville, Charlie Ellison and Frank Weir are among the latest to leave the northern track for the south. The winter stables are holding out their stalls at Santa Anita. Also, about all the real jockeys riding this winter are at Santa Anita.

At last, the break in the outlaw ranks has come, and it now seems assured that "Los Angeles" will profit thereby to the extent of realizing upon the dream of continuous baseball. Sacramento has broken away from the outlaw ranks and will be a member of the Coast league next year. This will necessitate a six-team league, and Los Angeles will get the sixth club. This settles the outlaw question in so far as the Coast league is concerned, and it not only takes away Sacramento from them, but it also fills the extra space in Los Angeles so that the outlaws cannot expand in this direction. It settles the vexatious problem of continuous baseball for Los Angeles in a most satisfactory manner. Little is known yet as to plans for organizing the other Los Angeles club, but that it will have ample capital and will furnish a strong team is assured. The members of the national baseball commission will co-operate with the Coast league in making the two new clubs a successful enterprise, and the financial success of the Coast league is assured. If the outlaws are looking for trouble they can get all they want of it now.

New Year's will be celebrated at Santa Anita this afternoon by some high class racing. A card of seven races, the first of the season, has been arranged by Secretary-Handicapper Smith, and the Rose selling stakes will be the feature event. This event is at one and one-half miles, and is named in honor of George Rose, who endowed the stake. Some good horses are named to start, representing the cream of the plate racing at Santa Anita. The arrangement guarantees a contest worthy of the event. The yearlings of yesterday will be 2-year-olds today, and will have a place on the program. Despite that there is a stake feature, many will attend the races today just to see the baby racers make their maiden start. The race will be a division yesterday. Grover Baker bet on his old horse, but could not collect even the show money, and expressed the hope that he would win the race. He would claim him. He was in for $400, and Pelter got him for $725.

J. Pelter was the lucky one of several who filed claims for Red Gunterlet, which finished in the also a division yesterday. Grover Baker bet on his old horse, but could not collect even the show money, and expressed the hope that he would win the race. He would claim him. He was in for $400, and Pelter got him for $725.

DEAR BROTHERS GET BIG BAG OF GAME

Secure Limit of Duck and Quail, and Birds Are the Best Brought to Los Angeles This Season

A finer display of duck and quail was never seen in Los Angeles than that brought yesterday by three Dear Brothers of Alhambra, who have been hunting near San Diego. They bagged the limit of both duck and quail, and everyone who saw the hunters yesterday declare that a better string of birds was never brought to this city. Frank Lawton, W. F. Oraboud and Ed Brandenburg left the city yesterday for a couple of days. Edward, who is E. Corneau and a party of friends departed yesterday for a duck shoot in the south. T. J. Gibbon and some friends will shoot at the Bolsa Chica today.

OLDEST MASON ON PACIFIC COAST DIES OF SENILITY

Octogenarian Was Known in Square and Compass Circles Throughout World, Having Been Honored by King Edward

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 31.—Jacob Mayer, a pioneer of Portland and member of the wholesale dry goods firm of Pleisner, Mayer & Co. of this city, with branches in Spokane and Seattle, the largest wholesale house in the Pacific northwest, died today of old age. Mr. Mayer was born in Hesse, Darmstadt, Germany, May 7, 1826. He came to America in 1842 and lived in New Orleans until 1849, when he started for the Pacific coast. He came to Portland in 1857. Mr. Mayer was the oldest and best known Mason on the Pacific coast, and has a world-wide reputation in the Masonic order. He was the Pacific coast representative of the grand lodge of England, having been appointed to that position by King Edward when the king was the prince of Wales.

Foot and Mouth Disease Controlled

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—"I believe we have the foot and mouth disease nearly controlled," declared Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today. "No new outbreaks of the disease have been found since that which occurred in Snyder county, Pennsylvania, December 18," continued the secretary. "I want to emphasize, however, we are letting up on our investigations very slowly, because if we did not, foreign countries might quarantine against the whole United States."

usually attractive, and a record crowd is anticipated. Hen Berry and his brothers and their families celebrated the departing year at the Alexandria at a private family banquet. Hen, of course, was toastmaster, but Clarence is as good a talker as Hen and thinks as much of a good time as his baldheaded brother. Sig Beutler, chief of the Pinkerton forces at Santa Anita, was on duty again yesterday after a day in bed with la grippe. He said that he was feeling better, but was so saturated with tonics, quinine and pills that he was game enough to bet as much as $5 on a single race. He will be fully recovered today, he hopes, unless it rains. George Rose, who has been in bed since Wednesday morning with an attack of la grippe, promised last evening to recover sufficiently to witness the running of the stakes that is named for him. Dick Hyland returned from Frisco yesterday, accompanied by his brother, who will assist him in training. Dick will work at the Eastside club, beginning Sunday. Paaky McFarland also has a brother here with him, and Dick and DeWolf will be well acquainted at Santa Anita and probably will accept one of several offers made him yesterday for a business and pleasure vacation job at the track. Declarations for the Speed and California handicaps are due today, and those left in after this midnight will incur a penalty of $25. These are among the most valuable stake events of the winter season, and much interest is manifested in the declarations. "Lucky" Baldwin could not stay indoors any longer and visited the grounds at Santa Anita yesterday morning. He would not risk a relapse by remaining for the races, but showed up just to prove that he still is on earth and expects to live many more years. He will be in the saddle again away from the races for a long time, he says that he is on the road to complete recovery and hopes to be on hand regularly after this week. Doc Rowell left yesterday for Frisco, leaving three horses at Santa Anita in charge of John Broad. Big Chief, Perdigon and DeWolf will be the Williams string at the track for the future. He sold Rubric to R. L. Thomas before leaving, but the terms of sale were private. Red Walker yesterday sold his contract on Jockey Harris to the Maine stable any more. No explanation is forthcoming, but it is whispered about the grounds that a quarrel terminated the contract. McStrave is not riding for the Alvey stable any more. No explanation is forthcoming, but it is whispered about the grounds that a quarrel terminated the contract. Pat Dunne shipped his stable of twelve horses to Emeryville yesterday. He says that he won only one race at Santa Anita, and that he believes the game is easier at Emeryville. J. Pelter was the lucky one of several who filed claims for Red Gunterlet, which finished in the also a division yesterday. Grover Baker bet on his old horse, but could not collect even the show money, and expressed the hope that he would win the race. He would claim him. He was in for $400, and Pelter got him for $725.

PROMINENT MEN TO NEW SCHEDULE OF RATES IN FORCE

NEW YEAR BRINGS ODDIOUS RISE OF CHARGES East Expected to Curtail Materially Its Consumption of California Products, Increase Being Largely Prohibitive

Though there is a decided discrepancy between the estimates made by President Ripley of the Santa Fe railroad and those made by the shippers of California, the aggregate amount that will be realized by the railroads entering California under the new freight schedule, one fact remains undisputed, and that is that the rate is in effect, despite all the protests of the shippers. This is the day that the much-discussed increase in freight rates goes into effect. According to the railroad officials it will result in an increased revenue to them of only $2,500,000, but the shippers, both eastern and western, assert with much positiveness that it means fully four times that amount, $10,000,000, which will go into the railroad treasuries. Protest after protest has been made by organized bodies all over the east and west, representing every branch of industry, but the railroads have held stubbornly to their original plans. While and explanation protests its height, the seriousness of the proposed increase was emphasized by the decision of the federal courts to the effect that the provisions of the interstate commerce act, which were intended to suspend changes in freight rates until hearings might be held, were ineffective, in that the interstate commerce commission had not been granted such far-reaching powers as had been contemplated. Thereupon the much-exploited rate regulation law instantly became a dead letter. Throughout California scores of mass meetings and special meetings of commercial and industrial bodies have been held. The railroads have been drafted and filed with the railroads and the government. The increases range from 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds, and the effect of the increase, however, it is claimed, will be greatly to curtail the consumption of California products, especially canned goods, dried fruits, walnuts, beans and vegetables, olives, wool, nursery products, mustard seeds, hides, leather and some manufactured goods. Even 10 cents a hundred pounds means $40 a car, which is claimed to be almost prohibitive to eastern buyers. A strong effort will be made at the coming session of congress to amend the interstate commerce act so as to give the commission power to regulate these alleged prohibitive rates and prevent their adoption in the future save where the commission has investigated and approved their reasonableness.

SACRAMENTO LEAVES RANKS OF OUTLAWRY

Management Decides to Accept Opportunity to Enter Organized Ball and Will Become Member of Pacific Coast League

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31.—Sacramento during the coming season will be a member of the Pacific Coast league, which includes Los Angeles, Oakland, San Francisco and Portland baseball teams. Manager Charles Graham of the Sacramento team last night at a meeting in San Francisco refused to meet with the State league team, but would not follow them into outlawry; so when the other teams refused to go in for organization, the only thing left to do was to accept the offer of a franchise for a Sacramento team in the Coast league. Certain says he and Graham will have a strong team to enter, and believes Sacramento will gain much by its membership. There are several players among the State league teams that the Sacramento team will pick, the players being only too glad to get back into organization. Cy Edwards, trying to put a State league team in Sacramento. He has made overtures to Brown and Doyle of the Sacramento team to organize and make necessary arrangements, but they state that they turned the proposition down. To Repair Torpedo Boats VALLEJO, Dec. 31.—The torpedo boat destroyers Preble, Hopkins and Fox arrived from San Diego today. The Preble and Hopkins are to be overhauled and the Fox will be placed out of commission. Word has been received here to the effect that the Pacific fleet will return to Magdalena bay toward the end of February.

Los Angeles Boy Who Goes to League Company in 1909

Albert Bresino of San Pedro Merchants

Albert Bresino of San Pedro Merchants

Albert Bresino, who plays for the San Pedro team in the California winter league, is considered to be one of the best shortstops in the league. Before going to the Harbor city club, Bresino was connected with the Northwestern league and was selected by the Portland newspapers for the all-star team of the professional circuit. Bresino is a fast man on his feet, and has demonstrated in the games he has played with the San Pedro aggregation that he is a heavy batter. His average with the stick being more than 400. Without Bresino the San Pedro club would find it difficult to secure a man to play that position as well as he does. He seldom makes an error, and although young in years, he is an experienced ball player, and next year probably will be seen in faster company, either with the Northwestern or Eastern league clubs.

TO MEET WEDNESDAY AND NAME OFFICERS

Chamber of Commerce Will Also Appoint Sixteen Chairmen of Working Committees, Making Twenty Officials

Members of the chamber of commerce will meet in annual session Wednesday, January 6, at 4 p. m., for the purpose of nominating officers for the coming year. The president, vice president, treasurer and sixteen chairmen of the working committees will be named to succeed the present retiring officers. These twenty officials will be members of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce for 1909. The chamber, which probably has done more for this part of the state than any other organization, owes its success during past years to the competency and energy of the men chosen to fill the various executive offices. By a system of promotion tacitly agreed on, members of the organization who have served in various capacities on committees are gradually shifted to vice president and then become presidents. This method of choosing officers results in securing first-class and experienced men for leadership. It is practically known just what men will be chosen, and the meeting of January 6 will be more for the purpose of discussing policies and hearing remarks from nominees for office than for the purpose of election. The meeting will be held January 13, when the members may vote any time from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

STANFORD CLUB TO HOLD ITS NEW YEAR'S BANQUET

Reunion at the Hollenbeck Hotel, Saturday Evening, January 2, Will Be Followed by a Theater Party

Members of the Los Angeles Stanford club, the largest organization of Stanford alumni in the world, will hold their regular New Year's banquet at the Hollenbeck hotel Saturday, January 2, at 6:30 p. m. Following the banquet, the members will be the guests of Raymond G. Osborne at a theater party. "Jolly up, Show up," is the text of the notice and invitation sent out to Stanford men of Southern California yesterday. The Stanford club is an unusually active body, and its banquets are always the scene of much merriment and enthusiasm. The newly appointed officers of the club will preside at Saturday's meeting and outline the course of activities to be pursued during the coming year. There will be toasts, college songs and roasting Every Stanford man in Southern California is urged to be present.

AUDITOR IS MADE HAPPY BY RELEASE OF MORTGAGE

"This is certainly a happy ending for the old year," said C. H. Bridges, auditor for the Title Insurance and Trust company, as he rushed into the office of the county recorder yesterday. Mr. Bridges presented for record the release of a mortgage, given by him as the result of his confidence in the integrity of Robert A. Wurtz, a former employe of the trust company, now serving a seven-year sentence at Folsom for forgery. Early in July Bridges affixed his initials to two checks presented for payment by Wurtz and aggregated $240. The checks were cashed and when it was discovered they were forged Mr. Bridges was called upon to make good the loss. He did so by mortgaging his home for the amount required. Yesterday a meeting of the board of directors was held and a release of the mortgage was ordered given to the auditor. "If there's something useful which you can teach—even for a small part of your time—a want ad will keep you busy."

MEMSIC SHOWS IN GREAT FORM

SEEMS TO HAVE COME BACK IN GOOD SHAPE

EXPECTS TO DEFEAT LITTLE ENGLISH CHAMP

Training Faithfully and with Excellent Results at East Side Club, and Surprises Fans with His Showing

ALBERT BRESINO OF SAN PEDRO MERCHANTS

The next pugilistic card to be offered for the entertainment of Los Angeles fight bugs will be the ten-round affair between Freddie Welsh and George Memsic, which Manager McCarey will stage next Tuesday evening at Naud Junction. That this bout will be of more than ordinary interest is proved in the fact that fans are attending the workouts of both scrappers in large numbers and are discussing the probability that Memsic has returned to his oldtime form, which made him a serious contender for the lightweight championship more than a year ago. Memsic shows up surprisingly well in his workouts and encourages the belief that he is returning to that good form and that he has an even chance to defeat the great little English champion. Moreover, George is full of confidence, which he has lacked in some of the bouts recently, when he was required to make 133 pounds at the sacrifice of much ready flesh. Now Memsic is down to the lightweight limit and has not been obliged to lose his strength in making the figure, for his road work for the past month has taken off all of the superfluous fat with which he has been burdened, and now, for the first time in his career, he can do himself justice in the ring at the lightweight notch. Memsic declared yesterday that he did not go into this match with the expectation of losing prestige, but that he fully hopes to surprise the fans by his return to form. His hot fight with Jack Blackburn, which was reported as one of the fiercest of the late eastern scraps, shows that he has his hard right punch left, and if he has a chance to use this member on Freddie, the English champion will know that something struck him. Welsh, of course, as usual, is not much concerned over the outcome, for he has prepared a program for the next two months which he reverses at the hands of Memsic would sadly shatter. He is training regularly, however, and will be in his usual fine shape when he faces his opponent in the ring Tuesday. Welsh has turned in so many victories in Southern California that the fans at Venice are beginning to believe that he is invincible, but they may get a rude awakening when he meets Memsic, if the Los Angeles lad is as good as he was when he conquered Neary with that one awful punch. The program Tuesday evening will include a battle royal and a ten and six-round bout. The six-sixer affair was arranged yesterday and will be between Roy Moore, a Denver lightweight, and Andy Rivers, who has won a name locally as a knockout puncher. The boys will schedule 138 pounds up at 3 o'clock.

HOLD UP CREW, STEAL CAR: ARRESTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 31.—The robbers who last night held up and robbed the motorman and conductor of a Rose City park car and then stole the car, are in custody and have confessed to the crime. They give the names of Al Miller and Herman Schwartz. Miller was first arrested. He confessed and told the police that he had occupied with Schwartz a room in a cheap lodging house. Schwartz thrust a revolver into Officer Keller's face and was shot in the arm.

DECREES OF SEPARATION GRANTED DURING PAST TWELVE MONTHS NUMBER 791—GREATEST NUMBER IN JANUARY

If the superior courts of Los Angeles county had held a session every day during the year 1908 the average divorce decrees granted would have been a little more than two a day. There were 791 decrees granted during the past twelve months. The greatest number were given in January, when ninety legal separations were recorded, and the lowest number, thirty-nine, is shown in June. While the number is regarded as large, the total shows a falling off of seventy-nine when compared with 1907, when 866 decrees were granted.

YOUNG WOMAN SHOWS REMARKABLE NERVE

"Newsboy's Friend" Fulfills Singing Engagement, Though Suffering from Two Broken Tendons in Her Ankle

Lillian May Lancaster, a well known musician, known in Chicago as "Newsboy's Friend," displayed remarkable fortitude last night when she insisted in filling her evening engagement at a downtown cafe, although suffering from two broken tendons in her ankle. Miss Lancaster was alighting from a street car last night when she slipped and fell to the pavement. She was assisted to arise. She was unable to stand and it was found that two tendons in her ankle were broken. The police ambulance was summoned to take the singer to the receiving hospital, but she refused to go, declaring she must fill her engagement. A carriage was summoned and she was taken to the cafe. She arrived in time to take her place in the orchestra. Miss Lancaster is well known in musical circles throughout the country. Ten years ago her younger brother, while selling papers on the streets of Chicago, was killed in an accident. She took a great interest in his education and the betterment of the conditions of newsboys and founded a memorial library in Chicago.

STOMACHS

Every Man Has a Stomach Every Woman Has a Stomach Every Child Born into the World Has a Stomach

The stomach is the most vital and at the same time the most abused and longest suffering organ in the body. THE STOMACH A COMMON RECEPTACLE In infancy and childhood, and later on in adult life, the stomach is the one common receptacle for everything that its possessor can swallow; and after a period of patient endurance it rebels, and stomach-trouble, with its long and grim array of bad tastes, dizzy sensations, aches, pains and mental depressions, is on.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD DIGESTION

The sufferer from chronic stomach troubles is, indeed, a truly pitiful being; for we must live, and in order to live we must eat. Hence the simple proposition, "It is not what we eat, but what we digest, that governs life, for without digestion we cannot nourish our body, and without nourishment the body, sooner or later, will die."

SELF-DOCTORING A GRIEVOUS WRONG

The discouraged victim of long standing stomach trouble does himself a great injury in attempting to cure himself by taking all the doses and prescriptions recommended to him by his friends, for each case is a vital problem in itself, and should be studied and treated according to its own individual requirements and not in any haphazard manner.

OUR METHODS BEST

Our method of treating and curing disorders of the stomach is to individualize each case, prescribing such diet, remedies, etc., as will best meet the requirements of the particular case only; and this is the simple secret of our wonderful successes. CONSULTATION FREE We freely invite you to consult us about your trouble and it will cost you absolutely nothing, for it is free. DR. FOSTER'S MEDICAL OFFICES 316 1/2 SOUTH BROADWAY Office Hours—9 A.
