

SAN DIEGO WINS FROM HOEGGES

HARDWARE MEN UNABLE TO FIND STIVAL'S BALL

WINNERS PLAY AN ERRORLESS GAME THROUGHOUT

Annis, Pitcher for Losers, Starts in Wild, but Soon Settles Down. Score is One-Sided

[Special to The Herald.] SAN DIEGO, Jan. 17.—San Diego easily defeated the Hoegges this afternoon.

The visitors were unable to do anything with Stival's delivery, while Annis was easy for the locals. San Diego played a fast game in the field, not an error being made in spite of the fact that some of the chances accepted were extremely difficult ones.

During the first few innings Annis was wild as a March hare, being unable to locate the plate. After Snodgrass went behind the bat he pitched much better ball.

SANTA FE TAKE DOWN BEACHITES

Pitcher Hensling, Beside Being Credited with Winning Game, Secures a Two-Bagger—Attendance Largest of Season

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 17.—The Santa Fe of this city defeated the Long Beach club here this afternoon by a score of 7 to 1.

Pitcher Arthur Hensling, a former Los Angeles pitcher, was in great form and struck out fifteen of his opponents. Hensling has been twirling fine ball for the Santa Fe and has the making of a big leaguer. Myers, who was on the mound for the beach team, fanned seven.

Besides winning his own game Hensling was chalked up with a two-bagger. The largest attendance of the season was had, there being more than 500 paid admissions. San Bernardino is baseball crazy and gives loyal support to the home team.

Next Saturday the Los Angeles high school team will cross bats with the locals, Manager Glenn having made such arrangements while in Los Angeles this week.

ASCOT CLUB IS LAID LOW BY EUCLID NINE

Hurst, Pitcher for Auto-Trac, Team, Fails to Land Ball Over Pan. Tompkins in Good Form

The Euclid baseball club defeated the Ascot team yesterday afternoon at the Euclid diamond by a score of 5 to 3. Leonard started the game off by sending the ball out to deep right field for a two-base hit. Pitcher Tompkins advanced to second on a grounder, which advanced Leonard to third and the latter stole home. Tompkins sneaked to second and went home on Packard's long fly to center garden.

In the second inning F. Kutz at shortstop gathered in a grounder but dropped the ball, allowing Nichols to advance to second. Fitz Williams, the next man up, hit to right garden, going to second on the play and afterward stealing home. Williams hit to first, sending Fitz Williams to third. The Ascot team played good ball up to the last of the seventh, when they went to pieces, failing to set the world on fire by any brilliant plays. William Hearst, who twirled for the Ascots, was not in his usual form, and he failed to place the ball over the pan when most needed. In the fifth inning Hearst knocked the sphere over the third base line for a two-base hit.

Captains of both teams agreed that a policy high, second man up, put a grounder through second, which advanced Leonard to third and the latter stole home. Tompkins sneaked to second and went home on Packard's long fly to center garden.

CONTEST DEVELOPS INTO BATTLE OF PITCHERS

ELY, ONE-ARMED WONDER, DOES PHENOMENAL STUNTS

By Sensational Catches, Second Baseman Prevented Runs, and Although Handcapped, Made Only Hit and Run in Game

Malers defeated the Azusas yesterday afternoon at the South Side Athletic diamond by the shutout route, the result being 1 to 0.

The game was a pitchers' battle between Rugar of the Chicago White Sox and Schaefer of the American League. Each pitcher struck out six batters.

George Ely, the fast one-armed wonder of the Malers team, played a sensational game as did Kelley, the third baseman, in covering several hits which looked good for runs. Ely ran thirty yards backward after a fly ball and received considerable applause when he grabbed it safely.

President Harry Lelande of the league and secretary of the Pacific Coast league, with Freddie Maler and "Hap" Hogan, was present, and thought so well of Ely's playing that they may recommend him for the second team of the Pacific Coast league. The Malers played a loose fielding game.

DYAS-CLINE PUTS IT ALL OVER GARDENAS

Haight, Cahill and Obioles for Winners, and Bennett for Losers Do Feature Work—Ruhland Is Weak

A large number of spectators witnessed the ball game between the Dyas-Cline and the Gardena club at the Gardena diamond, the score resulting 7 to 1 in favor of the sporting goods club. Several fast plays were made by both clubs.

Third Baseman Cahill for Dyas-Cline hit the sphere for a two-base hit in the third inning, and repeated the trick in the eighth inning, bringing home two men on the play.

Obioles, shortstop for the winners, got a two-base hit by sending the ball out in left field, but he died at third.

Ruhland, pitcher for the losers, was to the bad in some stages of the game, in sending 'em over the plate, and he was touched for ten bingles and two free passes.

Earl Haight, for the winners, struck out five of the strawberry club men, while Ruhland fanned eight of the Annerboudts to the Gardena team, and Harry Bouett to the Gardena team, and he should make good with the country club, as he is said to be one of the best shortstops in Southern California.

One feature of the game was that new suits were worn by both clubs, the Dyas-Cline suits being of dark blue material with white trimmings, and white socks with a four-inch blue border. The Gardena club has chestnut brown suits with navy blue trimmings, and socks of the same material and a four-inch white border.
