

THE CITY

Strangers are invited to visit the exhibits of California products at the Chamber of Commerce building, on Broadway, between First and Second streets, where free information will be given on all subjects pertaining to this section.

The Herald will pay $10 in cash to anyone furnishing evidence that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person caught stealing copies of The Herald from the premises of our printers.

The Herald, like every other newspaper, is misrepresented in times particularly in those involving hotels, theaters, etc. The public will please take notice that every representative of this newspaper is equipped with the proper credentials and more particularly equipped with money with which to pay his bills.

THIS HERALD

PATRIOTISM IS VIVIDLY SHOWN IN CELEBRATION

40,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN HEAR SPEECHES

ALL UNITE TO HONOR GREAT EMANCIPATOR

Life, Death and Deeds of Abraham Lincoln Are Fruitful Topics for Orators and Martyr's Friends

Scene at Simpson Auditorium Where Lincoln Memorial Service Was Held

Arthur Letts to Address Club

Arthur Letts will address the City club at its meeting in the Centennial hall on the subject of "The Duty of the Business Man Owing to the State."

E. A. Cantrell to Speak

Edward Adams Cantrell will deliver the second of his series of lectures tomorrow at 7:30 in the Centennial hall, 537 South Broadway, on "The Death of a Great Religion."

The ever-penetrating echo of the assassin's bullet that robbed the world of Abraham Lincoln was heard and forgotten yesterday. Memory of his death gave place in every part of city and nation to beautiful and patriotic tributes in speech and song in honor of the heroic and noblest of men, the great emancipator's birth. Patriotism was the keynote of every expression.

Forenoon exercises were slightly interrupted on account of the rain. Notwithstanding the downpour, 40,000 school children of Los Angeles gathered in the city schools as early as 9:30 o'clock to hear the stirring words of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Speakers at the schools were men well known in business and financial circles of the city, whose personal acquaintance and association with Lincoln led to a special educational feature to their addresses.

Naturally the greatest interest centered in the addresses of the men who knew Lincoln as commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States and the women, the wives and daughters of these men, who know the grief and suffering caused by war. In Los Angeles the commemoration of the Grand Army posts and other patriotic organizations took place in the city auditorium. Similar celebrations were held in near-by towns, principal among them being the exercises at the Soldiers' Home, Savelle.

Standard firm we shall not fail," was the keynote of the addresses delivered.

"Lincoln freed us from bondage of slavery; the prohibition party would free millions from worse bondage than African slavery ever was," said J. H. Blanchard, chairman of the day.

"Therefore it is eminently fitting that the prohibition organizations should celebrate Lincoln's birthday," were the remarks of Rev. E. H. Taft, of Savelle, M. W. Atwood, Rev. C. E. Nash, C. J. Hall, Mrs. Lucy C. Wilburt, Mrs. Catherine P. Wheat, Rev. P. F. Breese, Mrs. Julia D. Phelps, Dr. Laura M. Locke, Mrs. Mary A. Stewart, of Pasadena and Col. John Sobieski, Bishop A. L. Bellows of Chicago, who was the principal speaker at the night meeting. Organizations taking part in the rally were the county prohibition party, Y. W. C. A., C. M. U., Loyal Temperance legion, District God Templars, Junior Prohibition league and Woman's Prohibition league.

Lines of blue and gray mingled in the bloodiest conflict that ever found record on the pages of human history.

"Then came the second crisis. Should the shackles fall? Should the negro be free? Should the foundation stone be laid away that treason's citadel might fall?"

"Conflicting opinions smote the presidential ear from every side.

"He listened in silence, prayed for guidance, and—waited. Disaster and defeat were desolating the fields of war. The sick and wounded were crowding the hospitals. Graves were rapidly multiplying. Rebellion's awful shadow was covering the land. Criticism became public clamor, harsh and bitter. Still patient and serene, Lincoln waited. No word passed his lips.

"Over the wide desert of doubt and despair amid the wild tumult of conflicting forces, he stood a voiceless Sphinx. Men doubted his courage, his wisdom, some his sincerity of purpose. He came to strike. Hence, he waited, not of his cabinet, not of the senate, not of the generals. He felt sure that in his own good time God would fix the hour to strike. Hence, he waited, parchment in hand, ready to paint its bow of promise on the awful thunder cloud; waited till the bloody tide of defeat was turned back, till our conquering soldiers bore their banners forward, till Lee was driven out of Maryland, till no longer its issuance could be charged to desperate fear, till Europe could have no cause to doubt its meaning, till on the victorious battlefields of the republic a million conquering bayonets could write its effective fulfillment. Then he gave it, and smote the Confederacy to its fall. It stands amid the wreck and ruin of war, the sublimest monument for all the ages.

"It was the beginning of the end. Victory soon perched on our advancing banners. European nations hesitated or came to our side. Hence, he waited, days of anguish, months of heroic sacrifice had to intervene. The atonement for seventy years of wrong and injustice had to be made. Lincoln knew it and did not falter.

"With a courage that nothing could daunt or dismay, a vigilance that nothing could tempt to relax, and an energy that never failed, he gave it steadily, patiently, bravely to the end. Friends fell off; enemies maligned. He never lost his faith, never let his tender, gentle heart desert him."

Then followed a description by the speaker of the final triumphs of the great president.

Believed Insane

William T. Lane, residing on Clover street and employed at the Globe Milling company's plant, was taken to the receiving hospital last night and confined in the extension ward for inquiry into his mental condition. He is believed to be insane.

Child Breaks Arm

Edward Johnson, 12 years, living with his parents at 2329 East Seventh street, fell while playing in his yard last night and broke his left arm below the elbow. He was taken to the receiving hospital where Dr. S. J. Quint reduced the fracture.

To Refill Balloon

The balloons at Centennial park will be refilled today for a double ascension Sunday afternoon, when Pilots Knabenshue and Mueller will take up a number of local newspapermen as guests of the California Aeronautic society for a short pleasure trip.

W. O. Morton Returns

W. O. Morton has returned from a trip to Washington, where he endeavored to secure provision permitting the Chukawalla irrigation project in which Los Angeles capital is interested. The project is before congress, but no action has as yet been taken.

DAY IS CELEBRATED AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Notwithstanding Rain, Veterans Listen to Interesting Program and Address on Lincoln by Judge Noyes

Lincoln Exhibits

Dr. Ervin S. Chapman, whose topic was "Greater Than All Else," was the principal speaker at the celebration under the auspices of the State Anti-Saloon league in the large auditorium of the First M. E. church. Choir loft and platforms of the church were almost covered with Lincoln exhibits gathered by Dr. Chapman during a period of more than fifty years.

The church decorations were patriotic in character. Two meetings were held, one at 2 o'clock, the other beginning at 7:30 p. m. Rev. A. C. Smith presided at the afternoon session, and the speakers included Rev. Hugh K. Walker, Miss Stella King, Will W. Logan, Rev. Matt S. Hughes and Lee C. Gates. The night meeting was presided over by Rev. Warren F. Day and the program was made up of addresses and singing. Addresses were made by Rev. A. W. Adkinson, Rev. P. Ryland, Mrs. Sylvia Chapman Martin, Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, Judge Curtis D. Wilbur and Rev. Charles Edward Weeks. Prof. P. Douglas Bird led in the singing.

Given by the Men's club of this church, the keynote of the addresses delivered.

"Lincoln freed us from bondage of slavery; the prohibition party would free millions from worse bondage than African slavery ever was," said J. H. Blanchard, chairman of the day.

"Therefore it is eminently fitting that the prohibition organizations should celebrate Lincoln's birthday," were the remarks of Rev. E. H. Taft, of Savelle, M. W. Atwood, Rev. C. E. Nash, C. J. Hall, Mrs. Lucy C. Wilburt, Mrs. Catherine P. Wheat, Rev. P. F. Breese, Mrs. Julia D. Phelps, Dr. Laura M. Locke, Mrs. Mary A. Stewart, of Pasadena and Col. John Sobieski, Bishop A. L. Bellows of Chicago, who was the principal speaker at the night meeting. Organizations taking part in the rally were the county prohibition party, Y. W. C. A., C. M. U., Loyal Temperance legion, District God Templars, Junior Prohibition league and Woman's Prohibition league.

Lines of blue and gray mingled in the bloodiest conflict that ever found record on the pages of human history.

"Then came the second crisis. Should the shackles fall? Should the negro be free? Should the foundation stone be laid away that treason's citadel might fall?"

"Conflicting opinions smote the presidential ear from every side.

"He listened in silence, prayed for guidance, and—waited. Disaster and defeat were desolating the fields of war. The sick and wounded were crowding the hospitals. Graves were rapidly multiplying. Rebellion's awful shadow was covering the land. Criticism became public clamor, harsh and bitter. Still patient and serene, Lincoln waited. No word passed his lips.

"Over the wide desert of doubt and despair amid the wild tumult of conflicting forces, he stood a voiceless Sphinx. Men doubted his courage, his wisdom, some his sincerity of purpose. He came to strike. Hence, he waited, not of his cabinet, not of the senate, not of the generals. He felt sure that in his own good time God would fix the hour to strike. Hence, he waited, parchment in hand, ready to paint its bow of promise on the awful thunder cloud; waited till the bloody tide of defeat was turned back, till our conquering soldiers bore their banners forward, till Lee was driven out of Maryland, till no longer its issuance could be charged to desperate fear, till Europe could have no cause to doubt its meaning, till on the victorious battlefields of the republic a million conquering bayonets could write its effective fulfillment. Then he gave it, and smote the Confederacy to its fall. It stands amid the wreck and ruin of war, the sublimest monument for all the ages.

"It was the beginning of the end. Victory soon perched on our advancing banners. European nations hesitated or came to our side. Hence, he waited, days of anguish, months of heroic sacrifice had to intervene. The atonement for seventy years of wrong and injustice had to be made. Lincoln knew it and did not falter.

"With a courage that nothing could daunt or dismay, a vigilance that nothing could tempt to relax, and an energy that never failed, he gave it steadily, patiently, bravely to the end. Friends fell off; enemies maligned. He never lost his faith, never let his tender, gentle heart desert him."

Then followed a description by the speaker of the final triumphs of the great president.

Centennial Celebrations in Los Angeles

Centennial celebrations in Los Angeles were at their height in the Simpson auditorium, at the celebration under the auspices of the State Anti-Saloon league in the large auditorium of the First M. E. church. Choir loft and platforms of the church were almost covered with Lincoln exhibits gathered by Dr. Chapman during a period of more than fifty years.

The church decorations were patriotic in character. Two meetings were held, one at 2 o'clock, the other beginning at 7:30 p. m. Rev. A. C. Smith presided at the afternoon session, and the speakers included Rev. Hugh K. Walker, Miss Stella King, Will W. Logan, Rev. Matt S. Hughes and Lee C. Gates. The night meeting was presided over by Rev. Warren F. Day and the program was made up of addresses and singing. Addresses were made by Rev. A. W. Adkinson, Rev. P. Ryland, Mrs. Sylvia Chapman Martin, Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, Judge Curtis D. Wilbur and Rev. Charles Edward Weeks. Prof. P. Douglas Bird led in the singing.

Program at Simpson

Songs of patriotism were the only ones sung and words breathing a love of country were the only ones spoken. The large audience joined in the singing of national airs with a vim and the music of life and drum was accompanied by impatient beat of foot that told plainly of the never-dying memories of other and more stirring times.

The program was as follows: Music by the veteran life and drum corps; address by Mrs. Clara J. Wilbur; oration, Comrade John M. Lovell; invocation, Comrade Rev. Eli McClish; reading of the emancipation proclamation; Allen Allsworth, colored; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address; Judge Curtis D. Wilbur; address, Comrade Rev. John L. Pitner. Inter-esting of patriotic songs by the women; address, led by M. F. Price, F. A. Werth and Prof. James A. Foshy.

The ritual by Judge Wilbur of Lincoln's Gettysburg address was listened to with marked interest, the eloquence of the speaker lending power to the words. The jurist's remarks following the reading of his address and which breathed increased devotion to the cause of liberty were greeted with the highest measure of appreciation. Judge Wilbur spoke as follows:

EVERY CHURCH HAS LINCOLN CELEBRATION

Emancipator's Centennial Widely Observed in Pasadena by Organizations of Every Kind—Rev. Burdette Chief Speaker

PASADENA, Feb. 2.—Lincoln's birthday was celebrated in every church and most of the halls of Pasadena today, in services conducted not only by the Grand Army, but by every church in the city and most of the societies.

Prominent among the services of the day was that held in the forenoon by the members of the First Methodist church, at which Rev. Robert J. Burdette was the chief speaker.

"Never," said Rev. Mr. Burdette, "was there a victory without its scars, and the death of Lincoln was the scar left by the civil war deep graven on the hearts of this people."

He told stories of Lincoln, stories old and stories new, holding his audience spellbound between tears and laughter for an hour.

Never in the history of Pasadena has such a crowd gathered in the rain as was present at this service.

Of the evening services the most important was that of John F. Godfrey post, G. A. R. He saw the right path, Douglas did not stop to consider.

"The rebel flash in Charleston harbor set the north aflame. Massachusetts, which followed by special services, poured her armed avalanche through the blood-stained streets of Baltimore. The 19th of April became again historic. The wrath of man was beginning to execute the statutes of the Almighty. Lincoln was being justified; Douglas answered.

"You know the story better than I can tell it.

"On a hundred battlefields, whose tumult shook the earth, those long

SCIENTISTS OBSERVE LINCOLN CENTENNIAL

Judge John D. Works is Principal Orator of Morning and Pays Martyred President High Tribute

Lincoln day services were held at the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, beginning at 11 o'clock yesterday. In spite of the heavy downpour of rain a congregation of several hundred persons gathered to hear the exercises. Judge John D. Works was the principal orator, and delivered an oration and a masterly oration on Lincoln. Judge Works spoke, in part, as follows:

"George Washington, the Christian Scientist should commemorate the life and reverse the memory of Abraham Lincoln. He was the man of the tenderest sympathy, possessed of innate love of liberty and equal rights. He rose by the strength of his own genius, ability and worth from the dust of obscurity to be president of the United States.

"He assumed the duties of that great office at a time when the country was torn by passion and hate that threatened the dissolution of the Union.

"In his first inaugural address he said to the people of the south: 'I am loath to close; we are not enemies; we are friends; we must not be enemies. Passion may have strained, but it must not break our bonds of affection.'

Lincoln's Memorabilia Words

"Four years later Mr. Lincoln stood in the same place to deliver his second inaugural address after being re-elected a grateful people. On that occasion he used these memorable words: 'With malice toward none, and charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us continue the work we are in, to bind up the wounds of the nation, to care for him who shall have borne the weight of the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which will achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations.'

"This was an earnest appeal for charity, for forgiveness and peace. Between these two occasions great and momentous events had taken place in the history of our country.

"Hardly had the smoke of the great conflict of the Civil War passed away until another great and noble soul had entered upon the search of the scriptures to find that great and universal Principle of freedom from sin, sickness and death. Lovingly, devotedly, patiently she pursued her search until her efforts were crowned with success. In the beginning she stood absolutely alone. She was maligned, persecuted and ridiculed for her religion. But one by one the Truth found its way into the minds of men, until today she has raised up an army of defense of this great Principle whose name is legion; an army actuated not by malice, but by the love of conquest, but by love; armed not with weapons of war, but with the truth. Today is the greatest woman and the greatest humanitarian of the age.

"George Washington came to establish on this continent a free and independent republic. Abraham Lincoln came to preserve and protect the Union, and to free from the reproach and inconsistency of human slavery.

"Jesus of Nazareth came to establish in all the earth the great and universal principle of freedom from sin, sickness and death, and to preach the gospel of love, peace on earth, good will to men.

"Mary Baker G. Eddy came to re-establish the great principle of freedom, and to awake a sleeping world to the truth and significance of the teachings and work of the Master."

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

Long-hip corsets for the short and medium full figure—moderately high in the bust—very long in the hip and back. This style, while it has no extreme features, gives the straight, long line over the hip required by present fashions.

Height of bust, 7 3-4 inches. Length of back, 15 3-4 inches.

Height under arm, 6 3-8 inches. 12-inch clasp.

Length of front, 15 inches. Style 246—White Coutille.

Length of hip, 9 3-8 inches. Price, $1.50 per pair.

Security

Rubber Button Hose Supporters are attached at front and hip. GUARANTEED TO WEAR—NOT TO RUST, BREAK OR TEAR.

If you like to eat in an airy, quiet room, with deft, prompt service of appetizing foods that are selected with the greatest care, you will enjoy luncheon (from 11:30 to 2:30 daily) in our Fourth Floor Cafe. Service a la carte—prices moderate. Cafe open until 5:30 for tea, sandwiches, tamales, ices, etc.

Women's Clubs

COMMEMORATING the centenary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, members of the Friday Morning Club met yesterday at a symposium by Mrs. Martha M. McCann, Mrs. Frances N. Noel and Mrs. Caroline W. Foster, who read a program of the great emancipator's character.

The Gettysburg address and selections from Lincoln's inaugural address were read by Stella King of New York.

Mrs. McCann pictured Lincoln's early life, dwelling at length upon his personality, told of her visit to his birthplace. A hand-wrought iron candlestick that was placed in front of the cabin where Lincoln was born and is supposed to have been made by his father, who was a blacksmith, and a large hand woven quilt, thought to have been made by the woman who cared for his mother at the time of Lincoln's birth, were shown to the club by Mrs. Foster.

Mrs. Noel was introduced as representing the Woman's Union of the Centennial, and as the subject of her interesting paper, "American Workers' Appreciation of Lincoln." Lincoln was claimed to be a man of peace, and the speaker said he was living today he would undoubtedly stand with organized labor in its demands.

Mrs. Foster, a past president of the Friday Morning Club, paid an eloquent tribute to the dead hero, and then turned to the women of this generation to carry out and live the principles of patriotism. The idea was treated with a view to the fact that man can vote and fight in patriotism possible, and it was made very plain that women who have homes and children to train, women who have foundations for the patriotism of the next generation, must be living the lives of life, know its cost and value, said the speaker, and they should be active in teaching the principles of peace. To live the simple life, eliminating from the home all unnecessary detail so that she might have time for her own development, and to give herself and her abilities to her country and to the social body were among the duties outlined for patriotic women.

Men's Madras Pajamas $1.00

Despite yesterday's rain, we sold a quantity of these fine pajamas at a dollar each. Assortment today is equally good, however, and will amply repay your investigation:

Men's madras pajamas, well made and finished, specially priced, to close out odd lines, at..... $1.00

Men's negligee shirts, in a good range of patterns; all in good taste, pleated or plain, cuffs attached or detached; specially priced at..... 75c

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

Long-hip corsets for the short and medium full figure—moderately high in the bust—very long in the hip and back. This style, while it has no extreme features, gives the straight, long line over the hip required by present fashions.

Height of bust, 7 3-4 inches. Length of back, 15 3-4 inches.

Height under arm, 6 3-8 inches. 12-inch clasp.

Length of front, 15 inches. Style 246—White Coutille.

Length of hip, 9 3-8 inches. Price, $1.50 per pair.

Security

Rubber Button Hose Supporters are attached at front and hip. GUARANTEED TO WEAR—NOT TO RUST, BREAK OR TEAR.

If you like to eat in an airy, quiet room, with deft, prompt service of appetizing foods that are selected with the greatest care, you will enjoy luncheon (from 11:30 to 2:30 daily) in our Fourth Floor Cafe. Service a la carte—prices moderate. Cafe open until 5:30 for tea, sandwiches, tamales, ices, etc.

UNIVERSITY OF REDLANDS WILL BE BEGUN MARCH 15

Mattison B. Jones Receives Letter of Acceptance from New President of Baptist Institution

Arrangements are practically completed for the beginning of the erection of the university of Redlands about March 15, and for the opening about October 1.

Mattison B. Jones, president of the board of trustees of the new university, has received the formal response to a letter sent to J. N. Field, notifying him of the election to the office of president of the university.

In speaking of the university, Mr. Jones said yesterday:

"We are much pleased with the election and acceptance of Mr. Field as the president of the university. We have now in sight $200,000 to cover the whole cost, besides a site of fifty acres. The Redlands people own the site and $100,000, and we have raised $100,000, and that, including the equity of $200,000, we have in the college on Commonwealth avenue, Los Angeles, completes the $500,000.

"We shall first build the administration building, which will be of reinforced concrete, with artificial stone finish. A classic style of architecture has been adopted for the buildings. The president's mansion and the arts building will be erected as soon as possible following that of the administration building."

CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS WILL DISTRIBUTE ORANGES

Good oranges, but too ripe for shipment, which have hitherto been allowed to rot on the ground by orange growers of Southern California, are being utilized by a new method of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, and are being distributed among the philanthropic institutions and to the needy of Los Angeles.

The project was launched by Judge Silent at the meeting of the federation at Venice last November, and now there are ready for distribution 150 boxes of golden fruit. Those to receive these boxes include nearly all the charitable institutions of Los Angeles.

McCAll PATTERNS

Coulter Dry Goods

219-223 S. BROADWAY

224-226 S. HILL ST.

224-226 S. HILL ST.

USUAL SATURDAY SALE OF REMNANTS—various lengths and kinds—all of them the silks that have sold best during the week; plain colors and fancy stripes, dots, checks and like effects. Pay just half price for any of them.

Men's Madras Pajamas $1.00

Negligee Shirts 75c

Despite yesterday's rain, we sold a quantity of these fine pajamas at a dollar each. Assortment today is equally good, however, and will amply repay your investigation:

Men's madras pajamas, well made and finished, specially priced, to close out odd lines, at..... $1.00

Men's negligee shirts, in a good range of patterns; all in good taste, pleated or plain, cuffs attached or detached; specially priced at..... 75c

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

Long-hip corsets for the short and medium full figure—moderately high in the bust—very long in the hip and back. This style, while it has no extreme features, gives the straight, long line over the hip required by present fashions.

Height of bust, 7 3-4 inches. Length of back, 15 3-4 inches.

Height under arm, 6 3-8 inches. 12-inch clasp.

Length of front, 15 inches. Style 246—White Coutille.

Length of hip, 9 3-8 inches. Price, $1.50 per pair.

Security

Rubber Button Hose Supporters are attached at front and hip. GUARANTEED TO WEAR—NOT TO RUST, BREAK OR TEAR.

If you like to eat in an airy, quiet room, with deft, prompt service of appetizing foods that are selected with the greatest care, you will enjoy luncheon (from 11:30 to 2:30 daily) in our Fourth Floor Cafe. Service a la carte—prices moderate. Cafe open until 5:30 for tea, sandwiches, tamales, ices, etc.

UMBRELLA LOST

(if not)

WE WILL RE-COVER IT

McALLISTER-SUNDIN CO.

632 SOUTH BROADWAY

UMBRELLA AND PARASOL FACTORY

LOCKSMITHS

We handle all kinds of umbrellas, parasols, handles, etc. All our work guaranteed. Prices reasonable. Phone: F1164, Main 7355.

Santa Catalina Island

Via Banning Line—Daily Service.

S. S. Hermosa CAPACITY 450 Hotel Metropole

The only steamship line to Catalina Island. We do not operate gasoline boats.

EUROPEAN PLAN

BANNING CO. 104 Pacific Electric Bldg., Los Angeles. Phone: Main 4492, F678.

INTERESTING ROUTES TO TRAVEL

Santa Catalina Island

Via Banning Line—Daily Service.

S. S. Hermosa CAPACITY 450 Hotel Metropole

The only steamship line to Catalina Island. We do not operate gasoline boats.

EUROPEAN PLAN

BANNING CO. 104 Pacific Electric Bldg., Los Angeles. Phone: Main 4492, F678.

Hotels—Restaurants—Resorts

Live at Venice

"The Safest Beach"

Windward Hotel

Newly furnished, steam heat, electric light. Hot and cold, salt and fresh water baths.

BAND CONCERTS DAILY

Ship Cafe, Aquarium, Auditorium, Bath House Open Daily.

VENICE - - - CALIFORNIA

52 BULBS 25 CENTS

All different kinds, assorted colors. Will bloom in the house all winter and can be transplanted in the garden in the spring.

Plants, Chinese Slugs and Flowering Plants, Begonia, Gladiolus, Tulip, Iris, etc.

LEVY'S CAFE

N. W. CORNER THIRD AND MAIN. Cars to Pasadena and all points.

CAFEB RISTOL

Visitors to this famous cafe are delighted with the perfect appointments, the complete menu, faultless service and fine music.

Entire Basement

H. W. Hellman Bldg., 4th and Spring

The Louvre Cafe

Good things to eat and drink. Nuff Said! 810 S. Spring St.

Blust & Schwartz

Proprietors.

STENCILLING

—taught by— KATHRYN RUCKER. Classes held in the Y. W. C. A. Inquire for terms.

Shoes Half Price and Less

Over two hundred big display bargain tables are displaying shoes for men, women and children, on sale in many instances for half price and less. Convince yourself and come to the MAMMOTH SHOE HOUSE, 810 South Broadway.

Anybody who would be able to find an address in the dictionary would be able to find our CLASSIFIED ad.