

REPUBLICANS' INSURRECTION THREATENING

FIGHT ON RULES PROMISES SERIOUS RESULTS

TARIFF AMENDMENTS EXPECTED TO "SWAMP" CONGRESS

Champ Clark Opposes Proposed Limitation of Advice—Minority Leader Makes Speech on New Revenue Schedules

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Like a South American revolution, the insurrection in the Republican ranks in the house refuses to be subdued.

While there is no apparent indication of any movement on the part of the insurgents to reopen their fight, it is known that no rule to limit amendments to the tariff bill has been brought in because of the uncertainty of the intentions of Representative Muddock of Kansas and the other insurgents.

It is understood the rules committee is merely awaiting a favorable opportunity to bring in a rule which will limit the changes in the Payne bill to committee amendments.

As several Republican members have announced their intention of forcing record votes on certain proposed amendments, it may also be the purpose of the rule to prevent such votes being taken.

The proposed rule would be opposed by a large number of Republicans and Democrats alike, but as it would prevent votes being taken for the purpose of putting members on record with regard to certain schedules it might receive the support of those Republicans who desire to offer amendments to the bill.

Champ Clark and the minority members of the way and means committee have announced their intention of opposing any rule which will tend to limit the offering of amendments.

The consideration of the rule would require also the democratic "boilers" to go on record again.

The insurgents believe that all of the southern Democrats who voted for the Fitzgerald amendment would vote with their fellow Democrats.

The tariff bill to be recommended by the senate committee on finance will be ready to be reported on the day the Payne bill passes the house according to present intentions of the Republican members of the committees who are holding daily sessions.

Consideration of the resolutions on earthware and pottery was begun and concluded today.

Ideas presented by Senator Aldrich yesterday in favor of reducing public expenditures so as to fit the normal revenues of the government rather than expanding the income to growing extravagance, are receiving general support among senators.

It now is believed it will be possible to avoid all forms of special taxes, especially as the government is counting confidently upon better industrial conditions throughout the country as soon as disposition is made of tariff legislation.

Harmony in Senate Few controversies between Republican senators on the finance committee are expected. The tariff experts in the employ of the committee, it is said, regard such questions as those of free trade and protection as purely technical, believing that placing them on the free list would subtract little from the revenues of the government and that the importations would be so infinitesimal as not to enter appreciably into competition with American lumber and hides.

As a result of the harmony which exists behind the locked doors of the finance committee rooms, the impression is growing that the real tariff law will be made in conference after the bills have passed both houses. These conferences may continue for several weeks.

The senate committee will begin holding night sessions within a few days. Interest in today's tariff discussion in the house centers upon the remarks of Champ Clark of Missouri, minority leader and ranking Democratic member of the committee on ways and means.

From the outset Mr. Clark's remarks attracted great attention. At times he injected humor into what he had to say and was frequently interrupted by applause.

For Mr. Payne, the minority leader had only words of praise, and his remarks in that connection elicited applause on both sides of the house.

Mr. Payne's powers of endurance, he declared, were marvelous and his nine hours' speech on the tariff had made him an historical person.

Mr. Clark had a kind word for every member of the committee on ways and means.

"We worked like galley slaves in trying to ascertain the truth," he said. He denied that the committee had bullied any witnesses as had been charged, declaring that if any witness had received an indecent word in the committee room he had provoked it by his own acts.

ATTORNEY FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Edgar C. Chapman, an attorney of this city, was arrested today on a warrant sworn to by Oliver N. Moxey charging him with having embezzled $16,962.76 in April, 1907.

Moxey while employed in a local physical culture academy several years ago married Mrs. Gage Phillips, an elderly widow, possessed of considerable wealth. Mrs. Phillips' children were bitterly opposed to the marriage, and finally Moxey and his wife separated.

It is said she allowed her husband $46,993 in an amicable arrangement for separation. Chapman was engaged to her, and according to Moxey, retained possession of the money.

Moxey brought suit against his lawyer and was given judgment in the superior court. This judgment was sustained recently by the supreme court.

When Superior Judge Sewell directed Chapman to satisfy the judgment he did not have the money.

His arrest followed. He was released upon $5000 bail.

Chapman's contention is that he is not indebted to Moxey.

COSTLY LAGUNA DAM COMPLETED AT LAST

BIG MILLION-DOLLAR WEIR WILL DIVERT FLOODS

Government's Successful Project to Be Celebrated March 30-31 with Parade of Flots and Public Barbecue

YUMA, Ariz., March 24.—The last carload of rock was dumped into the apron of the Laguna dam and the great diversion of water being cleared preparatory to the opening celebration on March 30 and 31.

Laguna dam extends across the entire river section of the Colorado river between granite cliffs one mile apart at a point fourteen miles above the city of Yuma.

The dam, which has been built by the United States reclamation service at a cost of more than a million dollars.

This dam is not a storage basin, but a diversion weir, which allows the water to pass through sluice gates on either side of the river into main channels from which many laterals and ditches will extend over approximately 130,000 acres, under the Yuma project.

Construction of the dam was commenced in July, 1905. Its construction consists of cement and rock and is 4770 feet long.

Opening day will be celebrated by a grand parade in which will be many picture floats representing frontier days to the present time. On March 31 a barbecue will be given at the dam.

WOMAN, WINNER IN HEALTH QUEST

LOS ANGELES RESIDENT HAS NOTABLE EXPERIENCE

RECOVERS OF SEVERE ILLNESS BY NEW TREATMENT

Mystery of Stomach Which for Years Baffled Science is Cleared by Skill of Modern Investigator

Following is an interesting statement made by Mrs. J. C. Rockhold of 2115 Boucetto avenue at the Owl Drug Store, 625 South Broadway, relative to the preparations which L. T. Cooper is introducing in Los Angeles at this store, Mrs. Rockhold said:

"I suffered from catarrh of the stomach nearly all my life. While I could eat to some extent, I had no real appetite, and the food did not seem to give me any nourishment. Last February I had an attack of acute gastritis which caused me intense pain and great frightfulness. I read of the record made by Mr. Cooper's medicine and determined to give them a trial. It was not very long after beginning the treatment that I noticed a change for the better. Within two weeks the improvement began to show itself. I became more active, my mind was made clear, and all the time, but perfectly able to attend to all my household work without becoming worn out and injuring my health more and more. At present I never have that uncomfortable feeling due to gas on the stomach and my appetite could not be better. I feel twenty years younger and consider this the best medicine I ever heard of. It is the first I have ever taken that really does what is claimed for it."

Referring to Mrs. Rockhold's statement, Cooper said: "As I have stated repeatedly, my medicine acts directly on the stomach and bowels, expelling from them all impurities, and restoring them to a strong, healthful condition. I am convinced that the stomach regulates the condition of the blood and is the fountain-head of health or disease according to the mode of living of the man or woman. My medicine is intended primarily for the regulation of the stomach, but it is no uncommon thing for persons who have used it to come to me and explain that it has relieved them of many ailments not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach trouble. It is very easy to verify this statement. An hour spent listening to what people who call to see me are saying about my medicine will convince the most skeptical. It has already dawned on many people here that I am not talking merely to hear myself. A few thousand healthful people are beginning to realize that I speak the truth when I say there is but one thing the matter with them and that is their overworked and profligate stomach. My medicine can convince anyone of the truth of my statement who will give my preparations a trial."

TWO MEN KILLED IN WRECK IN WYOMING

Engine Buried in Sand and Five Cars Piled up Like Scraps—Engineer and Brakeman of Engine Perish

OGDEN, Utah, March 24.—Engineer Layng and Brakeman Pearson dead, Fireman Rasmussen seriously injured, an engine buried to the smokestack in a wreck on the Oregon Short Line this morning is the result of the wreck at 5 o'clock this morning of an Oregon Short Line freight train, No. 24, in charge of Conductor Schnocke and Engineer Layng, running between Granger and Green River, Wyo., on a recently double-tracked section of the Union Pacific road.

The accident occurred five miles east of Granger at Gauntlet bridge No. 261, where the double track on the Utah division of the Union Pacific also is used by the Oregon Short Line trains.

This morning freight train No. 24, from Pocatello over the Short Line road, stopped for a moment at Gauntlet bridge No. 261, and as a result of this error the train ran up to the "derailer" and sped on until it struck the loamy soil at the east end of the bridge, burying Engineer Layng and Brakeman Pearson in the wreck.

The men were dug out of the wreck as quickly as possible, but they were dead.

The bodies were sent to Montpelier on the Oregon Short Line, where their families live.

CANADIAN RAILWAY MEN PLAN NEW AGREEMENT

Important Conference Held at Winnipeg to Satisfy the Demands of Employees

WINNIPEG, Man., March 24.—Negotiations for a new working agreement between the Canadian Pacific railway and its mechanical employees opened this morning when an important conference between representatives of the company and men held a meeting.

These represent mechanics, boiler makers, boiler makers' helpers, blacksmiths, blacksmith helpers, carmen, fitters, coach builders and store men.

Among the principal matters complained of is the pension question, the men wanting old workers reinstated to positions they had filled before the strike of last year.

The sore point with the men and one that might lead to trouble is the question of union shop.

At present Canadian Pacific railway shops are what the men term "wide open," the union is not recognized as the company's official bargaining agent.

The company is likely, however, to strenuously oppose agitation to have a complete union shop.

The conference is being conducted with reference to western lines of the Canadian Pacific railway only, and affects about 6000 men in the territory from Port William to Vancouver. The conference will resume next week.
