JAPANESE IS SENT TO FOLSOM PRISON

SENTENCED FIVE YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Judge Wilbur Sends Two Boys to George Junior Republic—Other Punishments Meted Out by Courts

Titsu Ito, a Japanese, who killed K. Okazaki, a fellow countryman, in a lodging house, February 4, and who pleaded guilty to manslaughter, was sentenced to Folsom penitentiary for five years by Judge Willis of the superior court yesterday.

Five years at San Quentin was the sentence imposed on Phillip Buetter, a messenger, by Judge Wilbur yesterday. Buetter pleaded guilty to a charge of robbing the home of G. E. Agenbrod, January 23.

After telling Judge Wilbur that he had taken a temperance pledge before a priest, Pedro Valiza, charged with assault to commit murder, was placed on probation for ten years by Judge Wilbur. Valiza cut a man with a knife, and one of the terms of his probationary sentence is that he must refrain from carrying a pointed knife.

One charge of burglary against S. Shimura was dismissed. On two other charges he was given a concurrent sentence of five years in San Quentin, and on a fourth he will serve a probationary term of ten years.

On condition that they will join the George Junior Republic, Alton Eckman and John Atkinson, charged jointly with robbery and burglary, were placed on probation for five years by Judge Wilbur.

George Buchanan, who pleaded guilty to passing a fictitious check, was sentenced to Folsom for five years by Judge Willis. A large number of other criminal matters, set for yesterday, will be disposed of next week.

MAN MAKES THREATS; WIFE GETS DIVORCE

SAYS HUSBAND WAS FOND OF ANOTHER

Sees Him at Theater with Strange Woman—Reconciliations and More Separations Follow Discrepancy

Agnes E. Fleming, an instructor of acting, was granted a divorce from A. F. Fleming in the superior court yesterday, after relating a story in which she said she was the victim of extreme bodily cruelty, while also suffering mentally on account of her husband's fondness for another woman.

The Flemings were married in Lorain, O., in 1894, coming to Los Angeles about six years ago. Not until last week of 1908, she said, did she first suspect that Fleming was neglecting her for other than business reasons, the knowledge coming to her when she saw him at a theater in company with a woman she did not know, but whose identity she discovered later. Fleming's relations with the woman resulted in a separation in 1907, while the husband and wife were living at the Ottawa hotel.

Husband Makes Threats Reconciliations were followed by other separations, said the wife, until about a year ago, when her husband threatened to kill her while they were living at Bellevue terrace.

Mrs. Fleming said she was compelled to seek refuge in the home of a friend, where she lived under an assumed name, fearing her husband would discover her whereabouts.

A divorce was granted to Harriet May Huston, who said her husband, Thomas H. Huston, failed to support her since their marriage, in 1902.

Lizzie J. Hess was granted a decree of divorce from John C. Hess on the ground of desertion.

The following divorce suits were filed: Laurelie Joyce against Frank H. Joyce, Arville M. Boyle against Orley Ira Boyle, Nora A. Hourigan against John D. Hourigan, and Anna Ohmer against John Ohmer.

Accused of Attempt to Kill Charging that Adolph Myers threatened to kill him while they were riding in a Temple street car Monday, Joseph Gadden caused Myers' arrest. Myers was released on $500 bail and his preliminary hearing was set for 9:30 o'clock, April 9.

Complaint Dismissed Owing to the absence of the prosecuting witness, the complaint against William Henry Brown, charged with a statutory offense, was dismissed and Brown ordered discharged by Justice Ling yesterday.

Found Not Guilty George A. Fremlin and Samuel Chapman, charged with attacking Morris White near Calabasas March 9, were found not guilty by a jury in Justice Pierce's court yesterday.

MAY PROBE AMATEUR STANDING OF FREETH Wants to Settle Permanently the Position of Life Guards and Bathhouse Attendants

The members of the South Coast Swimming and Athletic league of Venice are seriously considering the advisability of making an appeal to the governing board of the A. A. U. at its next meeting regarding the amateur standing of George Freeth, who it is understood, will play on the Redondo water polo team during the coming season.

They argue that it is a poor rule that won't work both ways and state that as Freeth was barred from playing with them on account of being under salary to perform the duties of life guard, he should likewise be barred from playing on any other team.

It is also rumored that the standing of other players will be protested and the matter carried through to a final settlement, so that it will rest for once and for all.

The organization is preparing to put a fine team of amateurs in the field during the coming season and desires to have the standing of life guards and bathhouse attendants settled at once.

POLY SHOWS SUPERIORITY OVER POMONA HIGH TEAM

Defeats Visitors by Score of 7 to 4, Outlasting Them at All Stages of Game

Polytechnic high school showed its superiority over the Pomona high school team yesterday afternoon on the St. Vincent's campus by defeating it by a score of 7 to 4.

Polytechnic not only outlasted its opponents in regard to baseball playing but showed its experience in signals and stealing bases.

Pomona had an excellent infield, but through the lightning play of the Washington street team the players were unable to recover themselves.

Brooks Tomkins, who pitched the last two innings, struck out his opponents in one, two, three fashion. Porter, who pitched the other seven, was a little discouraged, but he twirled a masterly game until relieved by Tomkins.

Manager Strang has never yet shown what Porter could do in a nine-inning game, and therefore should allow him to twirl that number of innings in recognition of his pitching ability. The work of Mary Pierce in left garden was of excellent quality.

He has the making of a coming ball player. His baserunning is meritorious.

One thing noticeable in the game yesterday was that Porter did not support his catcher by backing him up in pinch plays, thereby leaving the responsibility to the first baseman. Porter has speed and within a few more years will become one of the foremost slabsters in the interscholastic league.

Bibo at second shows ability in holding down that position. Price at some stages of the game showed his angry passion by not getting a hit with the new bat which he recently bought, therefore jeopardizing the lives of the fans by throwing the stick. It was noticeable in the game that he came within an eighth of an inch of striking Coach Brewer and crippling him for life.

This afternoon the Pomona high school team will try conclusions with the Ontario team on the latter's diamond.

INVENTOR HITS CUPID WITH A DARNED SOCK

Bachelors Say Yo, Ho! for New Machine Will Mend Holes in a Twinkling

NEW YORK, April 2.—As if Cupid's job of cutting down the supply of bachelors wasn't hard enough these days, along comes a fellow and invents a sock darning machine which is destined to keep a great many bachelors from waiting at the church reached town a few days ago. Its success was instantaneous. Manufacturers of the article were working their forces night and day to supply the demand.

"What is a bachelor's apartment worth without a sock darning? It does the work of a woman could, and doesn't brag about it."

This is a sample of the claims made for the new invention. It has thrown many jewelers and installment houses into a state of panic. Even at this writing they can see rust accumulating on the cash register. It is both a labor and a love saving device. You don't have to labor with a woman to convince her that you love her, in order to win her for sock-darning purposes.

That old matrimonial bait about the comfort of having a woman to stop the holes in your clothing goes into the discard now. Millions have gone down before it. With the new machine, the way, bachelors are immune. Coming as it does on the eve of Easter, it is expected that the little machine will save thousands of intended victims.

It is simple in construction and easy to operate. In appearance it is a cross between a cruller and a soft shell can, having the hole of the former and the legs of the latter. First of all, the invalid sock is emptied of feet. Then it is drawn over the prongs until the affected part is directly over the bore of the machine, which fits into the palm of the hand like a dollar watch. It is the work of a few seconds to close the gaping wound. The contrivance may be used for half-soleing and healing trousers.

KING'S LOVE OF PIES IS OF SUCH SIZE THAT HE WITHIN A PRISON LIES For Ninety Days, Fitzpatrick Says, Jim as the County's Lodger Stays

NEW YORK, April 2.—Jim King, a tramp, whose love for pie is known from shore to shore, last night collected people's grub with twenty pies or more, along York road, and with a bun to keep him nice and warm, was starting on his plighted feast when, hist! A uniform! For Watchman Billy Hergett saw the tramp with all his legs, and giving chase, the two were soon as-sprouting up the road. Fast to his pies James tightly clung, while running like the wind, but one of the pies fell along the road and dropped behind. Then Hergett struck a fat mince pie, and with an awful thud, the watchman's feet flew in the air and he flew in the mud. Now King thought the sight so droll that, stopping in his flight, he went to see the injured cop—for he enjoyed the sight. Then a man Hergett wild with rage, and jumping on the tramp, he wiped his face with lemon pie particularly damp. And now to jail poor Jimmie goes for three long months to rest, and disgrate Fitzpatrick's just and summary behest.

GOVERNOR AND MINISTERS BAR "SALOME" AT BOSTON

Object to Strauss' Opera—Mayor to Stop it if Production is Attempted

BOSTON, April 2.—The opera "Salome," which the Manhattan grand opera company intended to present at the Boston theater next Thursday, will not be given because of protests from Governor Draper, Mayor Hibbard, Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church, Vicar General Patterson of the Roman Catholic church, Rev. G. A. Gordon of the Congregational Trinitarian body, former Governor Curtis Guild and other leading citizens.

The clergy objected to the opera on moral grounds, and many of them consider that a presentation of "Salome" next Thursday would be a profanation of Holy Week.

Mayor Hibbard notified the lessees of the Boston theater—Frohman & Harris—that if the Manhattan company persisted in its intention of producing "Salome" he would invoke such power as he possessed to stop the play.

FRENCH URGE OBJECTIONS TO NEW TARIFF MEASURE

Ship Arrives with Silk Cargo VICTORIA, April 2.—With a cargo worth over a million and a half dollars, the silk alone valued at $318,500, the Empress of India reached port this morning. There were 534 Chinese aboard. Most of them are en route for the plantations of Cuba.

LOS ANGELES HERALD wishes to announce to its readers that Frederic J. Haskin of Washington has been engaged to write a series of articles on American tariff laws. These articles will be prepared with extreme care. They will treat the subject from an historical standpoint and will be absolutely non-partisan.

The tariff is the mightiest of all American political issues. It runs through the history of the United States like the veins through an oak leaf. It was a factor in the breaking down of the confederation, and it was an argument for the adoption of the constitution.

The second act signed by George Washington was a tariff law and was popularly styled "the second declaration of independence."

Many statesmen claim that Abraham Lincoln owed his election to the tariff rather than to slavery.

The congressional debaters on the tariff will fill tens of thousands of pages in the records, to say nothing of hundreds of thousands of pages of hearings and reports on the subject. The laws themselves fill a large 600-page book.

The tariff is such a great subject that it enters into every man's home, into his daily life, into his work, into his bread.

No reader can afford to miss a single installment of this extraordinary series.

These Articles Are Now Running in Los Angeles Herald
