MEMSIC AND PICATO WILL FIGHT MAIN EVENT

OTHER GOOD YOUNGSTERS WILL OPEN ENTERTAINMENT

Even Money Is Figuring of Fans on Ten-Round Bout and Both Men Promise Hard Battle—Two New Sluggers Appear

Manager McCarey has provided plenty of amusement for the fight fans for next Friday evening, for besides the battle between George Memsic and Frank Picato the preliminaries are of the best quality and there will not be a slow moment from the initial bout to the wind-up.

Memsic and Picato have been anxious to get at each other again, as the last contest between the two ended unsatisfactorily, neither having the better of the argument, which, however, was one of the fiercest battles of the year. Picato was knocked down in the first round and it looked at that moment as though the end had come, but by stalling through this and another session Picato came back, and thereafter held his own, Memsic being unequal to the task of putting the swarthy lad away with his favorite punch.

By this lesson Picato has profited much, and he will be careful not to run into any more of those hammer-knocks which he is capable of taking care of himself in any sort of going. Picato has come back from his visit to Murietta feeling in better shape than ever before, and his subsequent training has shown that he will be a much improved boxer when he enters the ring Friday evening.

Fans are slow at doing the outcome of the meeting. Picato is the favorite with many of the patrons of the Naud game, but the true and tried fan seems to hook up with Memsic, as he considered to have had more real experience and is able to see all of the best points of the game, especially if he handles himself as he did in his fight with Wolgast. The betting so far is at even, though one or the other will go to the fore before the night of the fight.

Three of the best preliminaries which the matchmaker has arranged of late are down on the same bill. Curley O'Connell has made such a hit in his two appearances here that the fans have been waiting to have him go again, and Kid Cleveland will be placed opposite him once more. O'Connell has begun to show signs of improvement in his boxing, and he is anxious to win over the knockout course in order to get some other boy of his weight who will give him a chance to step higher.

Herb White will show for the first time before a Los Angeles crowd. His appearances in the suburbs have shown him to be a capable lad with the mitts and he will be a worthy opponent for Eddie Robinson's Jap Oyama. Robinson is completely wrapped up in his protegee and he has delayed his trip east so the losers out of his fight in action again after his reputed improvement in the science of self-defense.

Joe Reilly and Al Rogers are the third pair to meet in the ring preliminary to the Memsic-Picato battle. The mere mention that this duo will fight is enough to guarantee that there will be a great mix-up for both of the boys are game and neither knows what it is to back up. Reilly will make his first appearance for over a year in this contest.

ST. LOUIS CLUB AND LOCAL TEAM MEET IN MATCH

GOOD SCORES ARE MADE BY LOS ANGELES MEN

Douglas Makes Highest Score of Ten Members of Team Representing Southern California—Another Contest for May 16

Another 50-yard revolver contest between the ten-man teams of the Colonial Revolver club of St. Louis, Mo., and the Los Angeles Revolver club was held yesterday, each team shooting on its home range and exchanging the total results by wire. The final result had not been received here at a late hour last night.

During the morning the shooting conditions of the local club, but the changing light made good shooting rather difficult in the afternoon, as the target sights had to be changed quite often during the contest.

A. B. Douglas was high man on the local team, boring out a score of 271 out of a possible 300, his three ten-shot strings being 90, 88 and 93. Every man except one averaged above the 80 mark, and the team average was over 83, a very good average for a ten-man team. The total score of the team was 2498, just four points above the local score in the last contest with the Colonial club.

The conditions of the contest were ten men on each side, thirty shots a man at fifty yards on the standard American target.

Following are the scores of the Los Angeles team:

The shoot for the Hoegge handicap and pistol medals was postponed to next Sunday.

On May 16 another telegraph match is booked with the Colonial club. The conditions will be five men on a side, fifty shots a man at fifty yards on the standard American target.

This week the annual meeting of the club will take place, at which the election of officers and other important business will be brought before the club.

The official results of the indoor championship matches of the United States Revolver association, which were held last March throughout the United States, have just been announced. The Los Angeles club made a good showing in the match A revolver contest, A. B. Douglas, who made the highest score of the locals, won twenty-first place in the contest, and he also won third place in the state championship, winning a bronze medal.

SYLVANS DEFEAT PIONEERS

The Sylvans and the Pioneer Stars played yesterday afternoon at the Boyle Heights Athletic park at Fourth and Indiana streets, and the Sylvans won by a score of 4 to 1 in seven innings. The feature of the game was the pitching and hitting of Sandy Pierce for the winners, who made a home run and a three-bagger, letting the Pioneer Stars down with but one hit and striking out ten of the losers. Errors were plentiful on both sides. The score:

FORMER LEADERS LOSE GAME TO SANTA FE NINE

Race in California Amateur Ranks Becomes Close and Three Contests Produce Exciting Situation

The Woodill-Hulse baseball team, former leaders of the California Summer league, were dropped one notch in the percentage column yesterday afternoon on the San Bernardino diamond by the Santa Fe, who were the tallenders in this organization. The score was 5 to 2, but at that the leaders were compelled to donate to the treasury of the league the sum of $3 as a fine imposed by Umpire Butler on Centerfield Owens for Thomas' last like conduct on the diamond during the game. Hester, who went in the box for the Santa Fe, struck out eight of his opponents, while Charlie Miller, for the losers, fanned four.

Hester was touched up for six singles and nine were credited to Miller. Both teams played a fine, fast game, but the losers, at the initial sack made a double, also Dye and Clifton. Leahy and Waters caught an excellent game and showed great improvement over previous efforts. The fans say that the hoodoo is broken and that the Gate city aggregation will show the other teams in the league a point or two in the national game the rest of the league series.

Manager Thomas complains that the umpire did not give him a square deal and that if he had any competent umpire he would have won the game.

"Putnam handled the indicator more like an amateur than a professional, as he claims to be," said Thomas last night, "and lost not an opportunity to show that it was his intention to have the Santa Fe team win whether fairly or otherwise."

The Malers defeated the McCormicks yesterday by a score of 5 to 1. Raleigh of the Malers struck out six, the McCormicks' batsmen and allowed but four scattered hits, while Clark, on the other hand, was hit freely by the Malers. Raleigh has now a string of fifty-nine strikeouts in four games and his opponents have secured but one run in the same number of games.

The fielding features were a one-handed stop of a difficult drive by Kelley of the Malers and a one-handed catch of a high fly by Outfielder Kerwin of the McCormicks. Kerwin's throw carried off the batting horns by securing two hits each. The score:

FRATERNAL AIDS WIN

The Fraternal Aids still continue to play winning ball, and their record in the last month shows that they can compete with any of the semi-professional teams in Southern California, having won seven, losing six-inning games to the Wellington club by a score of 4 to 3.

Yesterday morning on the Ascot grounds the Fraternal Aids turned the tables on the Wellingtons by getting hooked them to the tune of 13 to 3, caused by the heavy hitting of the winners making seventeen hits off Kutz, while six were made off Louis Smith. The Fraternal Aids will try conclusions next Sunday with the Dolgevill team on the Dolgevill diamond.

Winners of Herald Contest to Be Given Opportunity to See Natives of Siberia

CHIEF JOKOOK. SIBERIAN BABY. ATUNGA, ARCTIC BELLE. PICTURESQUE MEMBERS OF THE SIBERIAN VILLAGE, ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION, AT SEATTLE.

A party of thirty-four natives of northeastern Siberia will be a feature of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. They come from three different villages, and although living within 150 miles of each other, each tribe speaks a different dialect. No Siberian Eskimos have ever been exhibited at a world's fair before. The community idea is strong with the Siberians. If one gets a dozen sealskins or half a dozen deer carcasses and has a full box of tea, he is rich. If the food supply of one family runs out, the others contribute, with no thought of remuneration. If a hunter strays away from his tribe, he is privileged to draw upon the food supply of such other tribes as he runs across. Old and useless members of the family are killed.

This is one of the many interesting features of Pay Streak, which is to be the greatest collection of interesting, instructive and amusing attractions the world has ever known.

Each and every exhibition will be absolutely free to each member of The Herald party at all times. If you would care to take advantage of this opportunity there is still plenty of time to get into the contest. Full details are to be found elsewhere in today's paper.

FAST GAMES IN THE SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Huntington Park, Redondo, Rivera and Gardena Are Winners in Sunday's Contests on Southern California Diamonds

The Pico Heights and Huntington Parks played an interesting game yesterday afternoon at Huntington park, which was featured by the sensational sliding at the home plate by Catcher Edward Price for the losers.

The score was 6 to 3. The hitting of Boyer for the winners, who got three singles out of three times at the bat, was a sensation. The grounds were in poor condition, which made good fielding impossible, allowing several drives to go for hits which would have been easy outs on a first-class diamond.

The Pico Heights played with a fanned eleven. Lamb, for the losers, struck out seven.

The Pico Heights executed two double plays. Huntington Park did their heavy sifting work in the fifth inning, making five runs and four hits.

Cooney, who plays first base for the Pico Heights team and is a member of the U. S. C. variety club, made one fanned eleven. Lamb, at bat, Cooney is good in making hits, but needs a speed ball now and then in running them out to the various bases. Score:

BOOK ON COPPER IN NEW EDITION

STEVENS' FAMOUS ANNUAL INCREASES SCOPE

No Less Than 6767 Mines Are Described in Detail—Chapter on Statistics Most Comprehensive on Record

The eighth annual edition of the Copper Handbook, just issued by the author, Horace J. Stevens of Houghton, Mich., is at hand. It is an octavo volume of 1500 pages, in briefer type, but by slight increases in the width and height of the printed matter on each page, together with a reduction in the leading, but without using a smaller face of type, each page carries one-third more printed matter than formerly, and the new edition, with only 150 pages, contains one-half more matter than the preceding edition, which had 1225 pages.

The principal chapter of the book, devoted to detailed descriptions of the copper mines of the globe, has 1185 pages, describing no less than 6767 copper mines of the world, with a vast amount of information relating to the geology and mineralogy of copper and copper ores, with chapters devoted to mining, milling, smelting, leaching, refining, and yet other chapters treating of the history of the metal, brands, grades, substitutes and uses.

The very complete glossary of mining terms is reprinted from volume VII. The final chapter, devoted to statistics, is the most complete and compendious given in any work dealing with the subject, whether issued officially or privately, and its authority has been recognized officially and by the copper trade.

It is rarely that a single work is found of such general importance to such a great diversity of interests as is the Copper Handbook, which is practically an encyclopedia of the entire subject of copper, and as such is of equal interest to miner, metallurgist, refiner, producer and consumer. To the investor or speculator in copper shares it is a nearly indispensable work of reference can become. As usual, the Copper Handbook is exceedingly frank in its comments, and the description of mining companies considered by the author to be dishonest are marked by the utmost limit of plain speaking. That seven preceding editions embodying language of the same postage stamp being brought into court, though many companies are branded as swindlers, is evidence that Mr. Stevens, notwithstanding the fact that he denounces several hundred companies as frauds, is sure of his ground in making such scathing arrangements as are contained in this and the past editions of his book.

The price of the Copper Handbook is $5, in a strong green buckram binding, and the selling plan is unique, as the book is sent to any one ordering it from any part of the globe without a penny in advance, the publisher prepaying carriage charges and allowing the purchaser a week's inspection, and accepting the return of the book in settlement of the charge if upon inspection it does not prove satisfactory.

That this plan is successful is proved by the fact that it has been followed for six consecutive years and that the Copper Handbook now circulates in every country that has a postage stamp of its own, and is claimed by the publisher without recorded contradiction to enjoy the largest circulation of any mining annual printed in any language.

Any one interested in copper or copper shares can well afford to write Mr. Stevens, ordering a copy of the Copper Handbook, without advance payment and subject to approval after a week's inspection.
