

AUSTRALIAN IS VICTOR IN MAIN BICYCLE EVENTS

WALKER WINS TWO PROFESSIONAL RACES

CHAMPION LAWSON SECURES ONLY THIRD PLACES

Contests at Saucer Track for Cyclists Are Exciting, and Some Excellent Scores Are Made by Two-Wheel Riders

It was "Walker" day at the Fiesta park stadium yesterday, and the little Australian cycle champion had the honor of crossing the tape first in the two main professional events. In the first, a five-mile handicap race, Walker, with a handicap of ten yards, sprinted away from a field composed of the best bicycle racers in the country, closely followed by his fellow countryman, Eddie Farrer.

Walker rode a careful and held his strength in reserve, not participating in the sprints. Lawson rode cautiously, but it is evident this great rider has not yet struck his full stride. Williams, who had some sensational sprinting in this race, as did Parley Giles. At the half-way point it looked like a sure win for Samuelson, but again the young man made his debut as a professional rider and breezed across the tape a winner.

mile motor-paced race furnished a fitting climax for the racing. Dyer, the Buffalo endurance rider, paced Lingenfelder, won the event by a single lap. Emil Agraz, who came from San Francisco especially to win this race, finished second and Steve Senhouse finished in a near position. This race was exciting from start to finish, and Dyer made a remarkable exhibition of his ability to follow pace. Agraz started out like a sure winner, and, paced by Samuelson, soon obtained a slight lead.

In the six-mile Dyer began to draw away from his opponents, and by the hardest kind of sprinting gained the lap which decided the race. The finish of the race was spectacular. The three riders were bunched closely together, making a pretty scene as they tore around the track. Senhouse made strenuous efforts to regain his distance, but Dyer, never varying his pace, held the lead until the race was over. The time for the ten miles was 14 minutes 25 seconds. W. E. Samuelson challenged Dyer to a match, ten-mile, motor-paced race, which will be held at Fiesta stadium next Sunday.

A stiff wind blew across the stadium during the afternoon, which was a decided factor in the time made in the various events.

DE ROSIER IS THE CHAMPION

DERKUM UNABLE TO DEFEAT THE FRENCHMAN

MADE MISTAKE OF STICKING TO OLD MACHINE

Winner Sets New World's Records for Twenty-five Miles and Ten Miles, but Falls in One Mile

Jake De Rosier is still the motorcycle champion of the world. Despite all the well intentioned plans of Paul Derkum to take his honors away from him he failed. And yet, it was not Derkum, Derkum had not failed in one instance during all his efforts at the local Coliseum track. His machine has failed, time without number. Derkum has gotten weak in the distance, every unit of horsepower and every second of speed out of his machine every time he has ridden, yet, lamentable as the fact is, he has not had the machine that would deliver the goods.

And, retrospectively, it has not been the machine's fault. Derkum's machine has been a hastily assembled affair, but on the track to meet a machine that has been undergoing a process of construction as a racer for two years. Derkum had a new machine yesterday and should have ridden it in every race in which he entered, as subsequent events proved. But during the last days of last week he got stuck with the set up by De Rosier a half hour previously he undoubtedly would have had his specially built racer in such perfect attitude as to place him on equal terms with the doughty Frenchman, mounted on his redoubtable Indian. If Derkum will only devote his efforts to state his old machine, he will be able to look like dress parade affairs.

De Rosier not only successfully defended all of his records, but, in addition, annexed two more world records to his already fattened list. These were the twenty-five mile and ten mile records. In the first event he set up the figures of 21:38.5 and in the latter he established the remarkable figure of 10:15.1. He realized that his twenty-five mile record was hung up only after having run the last mile or over on a flat tire, his performance was in getting up these new figures he was compelled to travel the distance in almost four minutes faster time than that which he had set up two weeks ago on the local Coliseum track on an N. S. U. machine.

Machine Goes Stale. In the ten-mile event Derkum for a few laps was a well placed contender, but his machine went stale at the third mile, and from that time on the local daredevil was, out of it and for the remainder of the day was unable to show in the form he is able to put his leg across the saddle of a machine that will stay with him as long as he will stay with the machine. De Rosier's new twenty-five mile record against the figures, using the local Coliseum track, was won by Derkum after the afternoon. Although stiff from lack of tuning out, after five miles had been negotiated, the machine slithered under him and at the end of ten miles Derkum was but thirty seconds behind De Rosier's time and "coming".

The crowd was so big that it got on the tip of expectancy and was cheering Derkum on to renewed efforts when the fatalistic shutting off of his engine was heard, and when Derkum came to a halt at arm's length a broken chain which connected the sprocket and rear wheel. The one prominent feature of the accident was the fact that the chain was again played in good luck, even though mingled with hard luck, in not having been thrown to a disastrous fall while the tangling chain had not wound around his wheels and brought his racer to an untimely stop.

The amateur race furnished a pretty phase of the program, three exciting races having been run by them in which Balke was the invincible winner and Graves the heretofore underdog. The White garage was selected as a point of safety because of its entire immunity from trespassers, thus insuring the strict protection of the White's garage awaiting the various machines. The White garage was selected as a point of safety because of its entire immunity from trespassers, thus insuring the strict protection of the White's garage awaiting the various machines.

Six Protests Filed. Six machines were protested on the ground of excessive piston displacement, and these machines are now under the various agencies and official examination in the presence of officials of the American Federation of Motorcyclists and of representatives of the manufacturers of the various machines. The White garage was selected as a point of safety because of its entire immunity from trespassers, thus insuring the strict protection of the White's garage awaiting the various machines.

De Rosier first protested against the Reading Standard rider by Derkum, Derkum was apparently led for this protest, for he sprang three typewritten protests against the three Indian racers at the track. After the second amateur race De Rosier produced two more protests against the Reading Standard and the Thor machines, both of which racers had defeated the Indian rider by Graves.

It is said that all protesters were formerly primed for the N. S. U. machine, formerly ridden by Graves, which won the world mile record against the watch two or three weeks ago, but the managers of this machine did not offer to race in competition with any of the day's events, so that the protests, which had been made out in blank previously, were filled out to reach other racers. The settlement of this much mooted question of displacement will prove of great good to the new sport and satisfy everybody whether the various agencies and manufacturers are really racing machines in a thoroughly fair and sportsmanlike manner. The decision of the official examiners of the machines will therefore be watched with considerable interest by the entire public.

Huntington Park was easily defeated by the Redondo team of the Southern State League yesterday afternoon on the Redondo Beach diamond by the one-sided score of 15 to 1. The losers used two pitchers and the winners placed Venable in the box, the latter pitching a good game. Venable and Hauck each fanned two, while Good struck out one.

Before the game the Redondo Beach band, marched through the public street behind the chamber of commerce of the seaside city to the ball field. One of the largest crowds of the season was present to witness one of the final games of the season, "Chow Chow" Allen, Schaffer and El Lechner were the heavy hitters for the winners, each making two runs and two hits out of four trips to the bat. ROUGH HOUSE AT GATE CITY. In a general rough house between the players of the Santa Fe club and the Edison team of the California Summer League the game on the San Bernardino diamond was won by the latter city team by the score of 8 to 2. The dispute was started in the seventh inning between Captain Salyer of the Los Angeles team and Captain Clifton of the Santa Fe over a foul. Captain Salyer claimed he caught a foul ball and Clifton disputed him and called him a liar. De Rosier, who was the umpire, finally called Salyer out for a foul tip on his pocket and in an angry passion the two players engaged in a free boxing contest between these two warring captains. Before Salyer could defend himself in the manly art of self-defense he was thrown to the side lines. Umpire Putnam taxed Salyer, Wilkinson and Clifton $3 for their afternoon's sport.

After De Rosier's victory at the San Bernardino diamond, the Santa Fe club of San Bernardino would have a thorough investigation and place the blame for the rowdy actions on the guilty players. Manager J. E. Glenn said after the game that nine whiskey flasks were found in the dressing room of the Los Angeles players, which should have been placed as evidence before the other directors of the California Summer League at the next meeting of the league.

Hits were made off the delivery of Tom Grayson for the losers and seven off Dye for the winners. The game was protested.

Santa Ana Beats McCormicks. SANTA ANA, May 16.—The Santa Ana ball team this afternoon at Hawley park defeated the McCormicks of Los Angeles by the score of 8 to 2. Coleman, who twirled for the winners, fanned sixteen of his opponents and allowed but three hits.

SAYS HE'LL BEAT WESTON. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 16.—"I'll beat Weston to the coast," declared Sergeant John Walsh, U. S. A., tonight. Walsh started from Boston April 8 to walk to San Francisco, and he is now with Edward Payson Weston. Walsh will start early tomorrow for Fort Leavenworth. After that his next stop will be Junction City and Fort Riley.

WAKENAY, Kas., May 17.—Edward Payson Weston resumed his walk to San Francisco shortly after midnight.

HEREDITARY INFLUENCES CAUSE MOST OF CRIMES. That nine-tenths of the crimes committed during the present time can be traced to hereditary influences is a statement made yesterday afternoon by Chaplain G. W. Wilson of the Soldiers' Home. Saxe Steele is his address to the members of the Y. M. C. A. That such influences generally materialize after a generation has passed on is one of the assertions of the speaker, who gave figures to support his contentions.

"The defaulters and other criminals are men between the ages of 45 and 50 years," said Chaplain Wilson, "and but few young men are numbered in the great criminal class." The subject of the address was "Psychical and Physical Effects on Sin." Chaplain Wilson closed his remarks with a strong appeal to the moral nature of men, urging them to place the standard of morality on as high a plane as is required by the Christian religion. Monsieure Lefebre, the well known saxophonist, contributed several solos before and after the address.
