

FORBID UNION MEN TO MEET

PHILIPPINES COURTS ISSUE INJUNCTION

IS FIRST RESTRAINT OF ITS KIND EVER GRANTED

Manifesto is Posted Declaring Manila Street Railway Company Unfair and Law is Invoked to Intervene

(By Associated Press.)

MANILA, May 30.—The first restraining order ever obtained from the Philippine courts for the purpose of enjoining the actions of a labor union was granted yesterday on petition of the Manila Street Railway company.

It directs that certain union mass meetings, scheduled to take place today, be not held.

The injunctive writ proceedings follow the calling off of the recent strike of the street car employees which led to a factional split in the carmen's union.

The dominant faction, headed by President Obrera of the Manila labor council, decided after much discussion to renew the strike and boycott against the company.

A manifesto was issued declaring the company unfair and a series of meetings announced for today (Sunday) with the names of those who would speak.

The action was not accompanied by any specific demands on the company and as the majority of the street car operators are not members of the union, the strike had no effect.

The company, nevertheless, sought the aid of the courts, applying for and obtaining an order directing that the proposed meetings be not held.

The general issue involved is not the right of the union to resort to a boycott, but whether it is to enforce or call a boycott without having made any demands upon the company and without having any special interest or issue involved.

The company claims that the boycott is merely a malicious attempt to injure it because of the failure of the first strike.

Several minor strikes and labor differences are progressing in the city at this time and it is feared that the labor situation will be complicated during the impending assembly election.

THOUSANDS ARE AWAYED BY FLIGHT

Trouchtlingen, a small city in central Bavaria, was awakened by the noise of the propellers of the craft, which was passing slowly.

This was the first time the count had journeyed over Bavaria, and his arrival an hour and a half later at Nuremberg caused the greatest surprise to thousands of pleasure seekers, who were preparing for the holiday excursions.

The ship maneuvered over the city and then a card was thrown out, stating that a greater amount of water and benzine had been put in than was expected, and that the craft would descend to the surface of Lake Dutzentzich to replenish the water supply.

This, however, was not carried out. Count Zeppelin continued his cruise onward without interruption and in a few hours was back in Nuremberg.

Telegrams received there from the south indicated that Count Zeppelin would make a landing, and the entire population waited for several hours in the streets and open spaces to greet him.

Instead of landing, the count put his craft through a series of maneuvers for a half hour, coming at times comparatively close to the tops of buildings. He then went on, crossing Halls to Bitterfeld. No time was lost there, and to everybody's surprise the airship, after describing a circle, turned again and sailed to the south.

In the meantime the military authorities at Berlin were absolutely without advice as to the count's plans. Major Gross, commander of the air balloon corps, said that no arrangements had been made for the landing of the airship at Tegel, the military balloon headquarters.

The local authorities, however, learned from private dispatches that the airship was approaching, and so informed the emperor and the princes. When it was definitely announced that the airship would not land here the crowds at first refused to give credence to the report, but finally dispersed.

Youngest Brother of Czar Insists on Unpleasant Service Because of Duma's Criticism

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, the youngest brother of Emperor Nicholas, has been appointed commander of a line regiment of cavalry stationed at Yelets.

He will serve the customary period with the regiment in the little provincial town. This course is unprecedented. Grand dukes up to the present time have been permitted to serve entirely in the elite guard regiments at St. Petersburg.

At intervals during the night groups found it necessary to fire upon groups of the insurgents and thieves.

President Leguia issued a proclamation today thanking the people for their refusal to support the revolutionary movement and the army for remaining loyal. He promoted the officers who saved the palace, and the leaders of the revolutionists and freed him from the mob.

Many leaders of the faction which took part in the rising have been arrested. Pedro Pizarro, Pizarro, was killed in the fighting yesterday, while Charles Pizarro and Amadeo Pizarro were wounded. The office of the newspaper Prensau was sacked by the troops.

DEBATE ON TARIFF WILL END IN JULY

CONGRESS LEADERS FIGURE ON CLOSE OF SESSION

Decision on Lemon Rate Expected and Agricultural Schedule to Be Considered This Week

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Progress on the tariff bill is being made steadily between speeches and, while the leaders are unable to predict the end, they now believe that the work will be disposed of in time to permit congress to adjourn early in July.

The outlook for the present week is for many speeches and for slow progress on the schedules. The probability of night sessions is not so great as it was a week ago, but the policy with reference to them will not be decided for several days.

The work of the week will begin with a decision of the rate on lemons, and after the agricultural schedule is disposed of the cotton and woolen schedules will receive attention.

If the house succeeds in obtaining a quorum when it meets Tuesday it will continue the discussion of the Porto Rican bill, and when action is taken on the bill making for the next census, probably will be taken up.

SALUTE FIRED BY CRUISER TENNESSEE FOR IJICHI

SEATTLE, May 30.—The Japanese training ships Aso and Soya, formerly the Russian cruisers Bayan and Varlag, arrived from Tacoma today and were welcomed as enthusiastically as the weather would permit, for rain fell continuously.

As the visitors entered the harbor a salute of thirteen guns for Rear Admiral Ijichi was fired from the cruiser Tennessee, flagship of Rear Admiral Uriel Sebree, and the flagship Aso returned the compliment and played the Japanese national hymn. Then in return Rear Admirals Sebree and Edward B. Barry, from the West Virginia, and John A. Rodgers, commanding the Puget sound navy yard, called on the Japanese commander and each as he departed was honored by the Japanese guns and the band, which played the national air.

Admiral Rodgers is the grandson of Commodore Perry, who opened Japan to foreign influences and whose name is held in sacred memory by Japanese naval officers. Admiral Ijichi greeted him affectionately.
