

PAYS TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT FRANKLIN MAC VEAGH TELLS POLICIES OF TAFT

"WILL PROVE TO BE DIFFERENT FROM ROOSEVELT"

Secretaries of Treasury and War Are Guests of Honor in Chicago—Former Expounds Principles of Administration

CHICAGO, June 5.—Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, and Jacob M. Dickinson, secretary of war, were guests of honor at the banquet of the Chicago Commercial club tonight.

In his speech Secretary MacVeagh outlined characteristics of the Taft administration and emphasized the fact that it would be as distinguishable from the Roosevelt administration as Roosevelt's was from McKinley's.

"This administration will be conciliatory if you do not ask it to give up a principle or to go back on its promises. Neither of these things will it do. It will stand by its principles, and it will stand by its promises."

In the mind of Secretary MacVeagh, the leading and controlling note of the present administration was a determined tendency toward regularity of decision and of procedure. President Taft, he said, would administer his office within constituted boundaries.

The effect of this, he declared, would be to keep the present administration of the party organization. President Taft, he said, was the man of progress.

Respect for Congress He referred to the president's deference to and respect for the formal privileges of congress, "and what is more significant and interesting at present is not the actual non-interference, but rather the fine disposition shown to respect all rights and to meet everybody halfway in the hope and in the interest of a homogeneous party of progress—a disposition which can only be interpreted as a statesmanlike conciliation and which it would be a fatal mistake to consider as a change of actual policy or purpose."

As to the Roosevelt policies, Mr. MacVeagh said that they were as safe in the hands of the present administration as they were in the hands of the last.

"We are not hearing much about them," he said, "but they are partly because the president has his own way of arriving at results and because other issues are now associated with them in the activities at Washington, issues that before left the Roosevelt policies the whole stage."

On the question of tariff, Mr. MacVeagh predicted that the revision would be such that the people would accept. The demand for tariff revision, he insisted, was not for a radical and not for an impracticable reduction, because everybody understood that the Republican party stood for and would continue for a tariff revision.

"What the people expect," he continued, "is what the protectionist Republican party promised in its last year's platform. It was not a candidate for the presidency, and while it is talking against the wind to argue that the revision expected is not a revision down, it would be futile to say that the revision down was promised to be a revision down and out."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CUTS DECIDUOUS FRUIT RATES

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—The interesting and welcome news came through the office of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Trade Association of Sacramento today that the Southern Pacific company had reduced the rates on deciduous fruits 10 cents on the 10 pounds, carload lots, except California points and Butte and Helena, Mont. This means a saving of from $25 to $30 a car on fruits, most of which will find its way into the pockets of the fruit growers.

The rate is $1.25 and will be $1.15. It will go into effect June 30. Northern California will receive the greatest benefit out of the reduction.

There also is a reduction in the rate on vegetables to points in Idaho, which is a big market for Northern California.

HUMORIST ADE RETURNS FROM LANDS OF THE KINGS

CHICAGO, June 5.—George Ade, the humorist, and Orson C. Wells have returned to their native heath after being absent in other portions of the globe for more than seven months. "I'm mighty glad to get home," said Mr. Ade, "although we had some good times abroad. We hobnobbed with kings and other rulers and after several weeks we felt so swelled up that they spurned and snubbed smaller potentates. But give me the good old U. S. A. for the rest home sick feeling. There's nothing like it."

Sir Hugh Graham Tells Editors in London Colonies Will Come to Assistance of Mother Country

LONDON, June 5.—The most representative gathering of British newspapermen ever held took place tonight at the gardens at Shepherd's Bush, when 1000 journalists of the United Kingdom gave a banquet in honor of the fifty-seven colonial delegates to the Imperial Press congress, which will open at the foreign office Monday.

The colonial visitors will make a strong plea for the reduction of cable rates and the laying of a government cable across the Atlantic, as suggested by Minister Lemieux, postmaster general of Canada, thus linking the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand by an "all red line." Lord Burnham presided at tonight's banquet. Lord Rosebery delivered a speech of welcome. Referring to the forthcoming visit of the delegates to the fleet at Spithead, where a naval review will take place, he characterized the present situation in Europe as ominous. "There was an absence of questions which ordinarily might be expected to lead to war, he said, yet the threatening and overpowering preparations for war were unprecedented in history."

Lord Rosebery Uneasy He was confident of the power of England, and the laying of a reasonable conjunction of powers, but when he saw this bursting out of navies he was uneasy regarding the outcome. Lord Rosebery asked the delegates to carry the message that responsibility rests on every man in the empire and to tell the colonists of the pressure on this little island. Sir Hugh Graham, proprietor of a Montreal paper, responded to Lord Rosebery's toast, "Our Guests." He said the colonial press was responsible for the wave of sentiment which is sweeping the outlying portions of the empire. Canada, he said, had for long years sponsored on the mother country for protection and was too mean to offer to pay her share, but a change was impending.

Inspired by the pluck of New Zealand and Australia, which were attending delegates to discuss the question of the defense of Great Britain. If wise statesmanship governed the delegates in the discussion it meant a new and important step in the safeguarding of imperial interests.

AMERICANS TO QUIT AQUEDUCT WORK IS ENGINEER'S OPINION

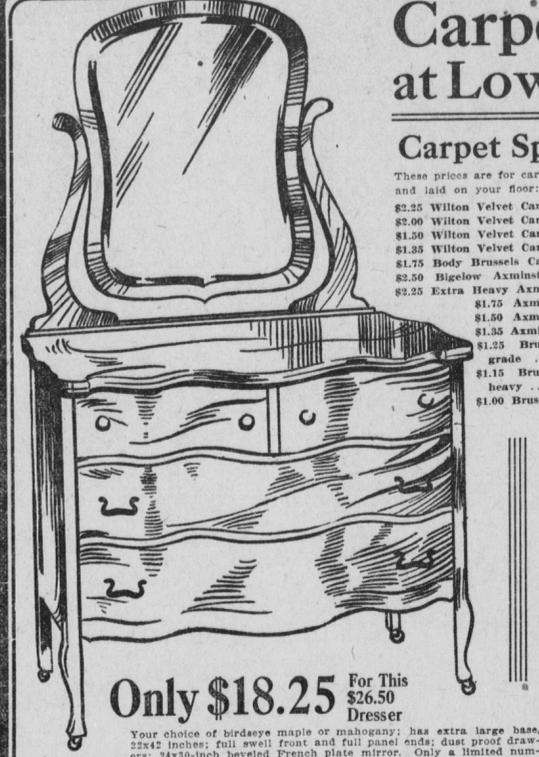

"In the opinion of practically all the Americans on the aqueduct work, if the bonus system of paying is not restored as it was, fully 90 per cent of the aqueduct force will be foreigners by October 1," declared F. J. Newton, a civil engineer, who came down from the Sausage division last night. "The opinion is general along the aqueduct that the change will have the effect of driving Americans off the job and replacing them with Italians, Greeks and other foreign workmen."

"I shall do all I can within the law to reduce their number, and it is to be hoped by giving publicity to the policy to be pursued in the future at Ellis Island the embarkation of such immigrants may be prevented. Illustrating his contention of the laxity of the examination which has prevailed at Ellis Island, Commissioner Williams mentioned the fact that his inspectors had deported seventy-five men, women and children on steamers leaving yesterday. Even heavier deportations are expected during the summer."

A Wonderful Performance

Two Instruments Played at the Same Time by a Young Lady—She Chooses the Violin and an Autopiano and Makes Wonderful Music

Miss Louise Haydn, the expert violinist, has been giving demonstrations in the Bartlett Music company's window, opposite the city hall, every day during the past week. This talented young woman not only plays the violin in a masterly way, but plays her own accompaniments on the piano at the same time. This seems like an incredible statement, but when it is taken into consideration that she is furnished with the wonderful Autopiano (which has an inside mechanism entirely concealed) the mystery is explained. It, however, will be a revelation to many to know that with the aid of an Autopiano one can play their own accompaniments either for singing or for use with any other instrument. It is understood that the young lady will continue to give her performances every day this week from 11 to 1 o'clock and from 2 to 4 o'clock, and we would advise you, if you can get through the crowd, to see and hear her, with any other instrument.
