

CONFEDERATES TO HONOR LEE MONUMENT TO BE UNVEILED AT VICKSBURG

MANY WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO FAMED SOUTHERNER

Eleven Thousand Dollar Life-Size Likeness Will Mark Great National Military Park Which He Helped Create

VICKSBURG, Miss., June 6.—Next Friday, which will be the day following the close of the United Confederate Veterans' reunion at Memphis, old soldiers and notables will meet in this city to unveil the statue of the late General Stephen Dill Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederate organization at the time of his death.

On the part of the United States, North, South, East and West will send celebrities to do honor to the memory of the chivalrous soldier of Dixie. Major General Frederick D. Grant of the department of the present and the secretary of war to receive the statue of the late Lee on the part of the United States.

FRED D. GRANT will be officially presented to him by General Clement A. Evans of Georgia, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and Colonel George R. Peck of Chicago will be the orator of the day, and Henry Watterson of Kentucky, the veteran editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, will be master of ceremonies and preside on the auspicious occasion.

In the siege of Vicksburg General Lee won his spurs as a commander. The closing period of his life was devoted to the perfection of the national military park. General Lee died at Vicksburg May 28, 1868, and it is peculiarly fitting that the South's memorial statue to him should be erected on the spot which he loved so well.

On the same day another monument to his memory, though smaller, will be unveiled at the agricultural and mechanical college at Starkville, Miss., as he was the first president of that institution. This memorial, though of lesser size, is not less than the Vicksburg statue, nevertheless emphasizes the universal affection of the people of Mississippi for him.

Another monument will be placed at the grave in Columbus, where the old commander sleeps in everlasting rest. Many of the surviving generals of the Confederacy and other prominent men will be present. Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson, who was a fellow townsman of General Lee at Columbus, has expressed his desire that official duties would prevent him from being present.

The well known sculptor, Henry Hunsdon Klitson of Quincy, Mass., who designed the statue, will be present to direct the placing of his handiwork. He is the creator of many handsome monuments of various metals, states already completed and dedicated in the Vicksburg National Military Park. He knew General Lee, then one of the park commissioners, and put his best efforts into this statue.

Vicksburg to Give Welcome The unveiling of the monument will occur at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the national military park. Hospitalizable Vicksburg will receive thousands of Mississippians and Louisianians within her gates. Governor Noel of Mississippi and Sanders of Louisiana, with their respective staffs, will be present and the division officers of the Confederate organization will arrive from Memphis on Friday morning.

Already the people have thrown heart and soul into the work of assisting in the exercises. In an effort to make it one of the most memorable occasions in the history of the historic city, citizens' committees have arranged for every detail, the local military companies will furnish lutes and hundreds of school children will join in patriotic songs. The statue is life size and represents General Lee in a moment of triumph after one of his victories in a skirmish about Vicksburg. Lee was then in the full development of young manhood, and the pose is both noble and heroic. The statue will be a tribute of affection from his only son, Blewitt Lee of Chicago, Captain William T. Rigby, chairman of the Vicksburg National Military Park commission, and hundreds of veterans of the south, who followed the late general in battle, and others who admired him.

IS ASKED TO HELP FIGHT PAPER DUTY

SENATOR ROOT

After the surrender of the city he was paroled and later exchanged. In the latter part of 1863 he was named major general and the following year was named lieutenant general, being given command of the department of Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Eastern Louisiana, and at the close of the war was campaigning in North Carolina.

After the war he was elected a state senator from Lowndes county, Mississippi, where he made his home. He resigned from that position to become the first president of the Agricultural and Mechanical college at Starkville. He retired when commissioned a member of the Vicksburg National Military Park by President McKinley and became chairman of that body. He led a busy and active life in connection with the perfection of the great park system of which he was one of the founders.

THREE END LIVES BY BULLET ROUTE

Insurance Agent, Soldier and Laborer Seek Death by Shooting—One Body is Found in Flames

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Revolver bullets fired with suicidal intent ended the lives of three men in widely separated sections of this city today. The death roll included an insurance agent, despondent because of poverty; a soldier in the army of the United States, who sought death because his sweetheart had jilted him, and a laborer weighed down by the burden of a large family.

Private Peter Sed, battery D, First field artillery, fired a bullet into his heart in the battery stable at the Presidio. Corporal Jackson saw him draw the weapon and press it to his heart, but was too late to prevent the shot. The man's comrades say that a girl in Illinois had jilted him.

G. P. Housel, the laborer, first attempted to end his life by slashing his wrists with a razor. He failed to cut deeply enough, and, bandaging his wounds, went out to buy a revolver which he later shot himself through the head.

DOCTOR HELD AS MURDER SUSPECT

DR. HALDANE CLEMENSTON

THE police of Chicago are holding Dr. Haldane Clemenston, a prominent young physician, whose wife was reported to have been murdered during the night of the 21st. The theory at first was that burglars had chloroformed Mrs. Clemenston and that the drug had caused her death. Later the detectives grew suspicious of conflicting stories regarding the burglar episode and arrested Dr. Clemenston.

He was allowed to attend the funeral of his wife under guard and stoutly denied any complicity in the murder. Chicago's captain of detectives says it will prove the most sensational murder case in the history of the city when the public has been informed of the true facts.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Dr. Haldane Clemenston further involved himself in a maze of contradictions today when he denied ever having assailed the character of his wife, Nora Jane Clemenston, for whose murder he is being held.

This, coupled with the statement of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Clemenston, that the young wife was a "good woman," threw a light on the mystery and made the police believe the possibility of suicide ever more remote.

The detective, Albert Beauschulte, returned from the southern part of the state without the alleged "affinity" for whom he went in search.

MAH-PE PROVES ITS SWIFTNES

DEFEATS MISCHIEF II IN LIGHT WINDS

OPPONENT OF NEW YACHT HAS EXCELLENT START

Captain Pugh's Boat Retakes Lead After Competitor Had Been Twice Ahead of His Craft and Wins

SAN PEDRO, June 6.—Having beaten the Detroit in a heavy wind yesterday, Capt. Joseph Pugh this afternoon proved the fitness of his new yacht Mah-Pe by beating Walter Folsom in his Mischief II in light winds during a try-out which took the boats up nearly to Point Vicente.

The Mischief II had a good start in a fair breeze off the end of the breakwater at 1:50 o'clock, and during the time, but on the return Captain Pugh came around the breakwater two minutes and a half ahead of the Mischief. Capt. Fritz Whitney took the II. Capt. Pugh, of the course, being about fifteen minutes behind at the finish.

Having posed as an able seaman aboard the Detroit in rough weather yesterday afternoon, The Herald correspondent was well content to be a passenger with Captain Pugh today. Other guests aboard were Mrs. H. W. Fortuna Paloo, the English bulb terracing, the mascot of the yacht Mah-Pe, which will be the challenger in the Corinthian cup, and the Francis which Captain Pugh hopes to capture for the South Coast Yacht club when he races the yacht Corinthian here on June 12.

When within two miles of the Point Vicente buoy, the wind being so light, the Mah-Pe put out and the Mischief II put in. The Mah-Pe was soon followed by the Mischief II. What breeze there was now came from the east. The boat put in at times to the southeast and shifted at times to the east. The Mischief II was taken the jib and jib-topsail being creped by a balloon-jib, members of the crew claiming that it more properly is a reaching jib.

Folsom passed on to windward, but the breeze soon died and the two boats tacked about in the swell with sails up. A puff of wind coming up, Captain Pugh passed astern of the Mischief II and took the windward berth, and with the next tuck put in the Mischief II and gained a slight lead.

CREW IS SELECTED TO SAIL YACHT IN BAY CITY RACES

SAN PEDRO, June 6.—Captain Joseph Pugh, former commodore of the South Coast Yacht club, has selected his crew which will sail in his new yacht, Mah-Pe, against the yacht Corinthian, the defender of the Corinthian cup, which Captain Pugh hopes to capture for the local club June 19 at San Francisco. The crew all told will number nine with Captain Pugh at the stick and Dan H. Laubersheimer, rear commodore of the yacht club, acting as first mate.

The Mah-Pe, built by the Fulton Marine Construction company of San Pedro, under plans made by Designer Gardner, who is recognized as the best yacht architect in the country today, will race against the Corinthian, built on a freak design and put out as the fastest boat at San Francisco.

The Mah-Pe is the larger of the two boats, being 60 feet over all, while the defender is about 50 feet long. The best wishes of the South Coast Yacht club Captain Pugh will leave with his handsome challenger for the north next Saturday in tow of the steamer Hamlet. On arrival in San Francisco he will have a few days to try out in the northern waters and make preparation for the race.

The course will be seven miles in length, there being two beats to windward of about ten miles in all. After the race the yacht will sail back to San Pedro, suppling on the way at Monterey and Santa Barbara.

Thousands of Sacks of Sand, and Hay, Trees and Brush Partly Check Overflow of Waters

[By Associated Press.] HANFORD, Cal., June 6.—The Kings river began overflowing its banks near the head gate of the Last Chance ditch, one of the largest irrigation canals in the valley, early today, and a wide tract bordering the ditch is flooded.

It was reported at first that the head gate had gone out, but later advices state that the gate is holding well under the terrific strain put upon it.

The worst of the two breaks yesterday occurred on the south levee yesterday—that on the Haymaker ranch—is about repaired. It lies directly north of this city. A large force of ranchers has been at work constantly since the flood began.

Thousands of sacks of sand, together with loads of hay, trees and brush, were flung into the breach today and the flow was checked.

Work on the second break 100 yards below was begun tonight. The water is six or seven feet deep for a distance of four miles below the first break, and the loss to the orchardists and vineyardists has been heavy. The river is stationary tonight and a drop is expected tomorrow.
