At the meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, held yesterday afternoon, the secretary was instructed to extend an invitation to the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit association to hold its convention in June, 1910, in this city.

The chamber of commerce has just received word from the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast that the Chinese chamber of commerce, through the Chinese consul general in San Francisco, has extended an invitation to the chambers of commerce of the Pacific coast to visit China.

The industrial division of the Elks' parade, which is in charge of the chamber of commerce special committee, of which Carl E. McStay is chairman, is assuming an important part in the festivities. Up to date there are 125 vehicles of various kinds entered in this division and the display will be a very creditable one to the city.

The Elks lodge committee has offered the chamber one of the large windows in the Phillips block, where the Elks' registration headquarters have been established; also counter space in the main hall. The chamber will install a supply of literature on the counter inside and will place in the show window a display of Southern California products, so that every Elk, as he goes to register, will have difficulty in going in or out without seeing the display of the chamber in the window.

PRINCE OF PEACE CAUSES TROUBLE

MAZDAZANAN CONGREGATION IS DIVIDED

Rev. Adushit Hanish and Rev. T. V. Jakimowicz Are Leaders of Opposing Parties—Defy Each Other

The Mazdaznanan congregation of the Spenta Mana of Los Angeles is divided into two factions, each of which is defying the other and threatening to take possession of a lot owned by the organization on Boylston street, between Temple and Court streets.

Yesterday evening at the residence of Mrs. Emma Collins, 729 1/2 South Figueroa street, Rev. T. V. Jakimowicz, who is the leader of the other faction, delivered a lengthy oration on the merits of the case, setting forth to an audience of half a dozen pale women and a few foreign appearing men the principles of the cult and saying that inasmuch as their branch was the only incorporated one in the United States, the lot was entirely their property.

Jakimowicz, who is a robust man, with a decided German accent, and who was attired in a long, gray coat reaching nearly to the floor, worked himself at times into such a fury that he nearly fell from his chair. "Everything is good," said he; "there is no wrong in anyone or in anything. But we must get hold of that lot. If we do not care what Hanish says, and we must get hold of that lot. The Los Angeles members are all right; it is Hanish who is interfering with them. When he leaves we'll get back our lot."

CALIFORNIA LODGES WILL MEET HERE ELKS' WEEK

A state convention of delegates from California lodges of the Grand Fraternity, a benevolent order, whose supreme lodge is here in Philadelphia, is among the events scheduled for Elks' week, reports of which will probably be eclipsed by the big Elks' doings.

Some eighty delegates will be present from all over the state and from Arizona, which is a part of the jurisdiction. The assemblage will convene on Monday afternoon in the Fraternal Brotherhood building and the session will continue on Tuesday and Wednesday.

CONSOLIDATIONISTS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

(Continued from Page One) from San Pedro and it is really more difficult to make this trip than to go to Los Angeles and back? If consolidation comes I am sure that the city of Los Angeles, of which we shall then be a part, will establish a ferry at a low rate and which will permit a team or automobile to come over. I think, judging from recent events, that we need a little initiative, a little referendum and a great deal of recall, as well as many other things which will be possible under consolidation, but which we now find impossible.

"The only argument against consolidation you hear now is, admitting, as they all do, that consolidation is a good thing, how do we know that Los Angeles will spend the money for a big harbor? You have never seen a harbor, and you have never seen a thing the city said it was going to do; you never knew Los Angeles to need anything that she didn't get it. Los Angeles needs a harbor, and is going to get it. If we give her the opportunity she will spend the millions here."

A. P. Fleming made a strong plea for faith in the good intention of Los Angeles, citing the city's past record, particularly in relation to San Pedro harbor, as an earnest to this end. "The opponents of consolidation, while admitting it to be a good thing, assert that Los Angeles won't make good," said Mr. Fleming. "Now, will Los Angeles make good? At the bank a man's honesty is known by his deeds. What of Los Angeles? What has Los Angeles done that may be used to judge the city's present standing?"

Los Angeles Port "In Los Angeles the greatest commercial organization judged by its results, bar none, took hold of this harbor matter when it was almost decided that Monica was to be the harbor here and insisted that San Pedro was the place for a great harbor. From then until this present time, when Los Angeles is saying, 'Give us a chance to spend $10,000,000 on your harbor! Give us a chance to make here a city of a million people!' there has never been a time that Los Angeles has not made good. Recently she was fighting at Sacramento for what ought to be handed to you and to us on a plate. She is fighting to recover for the people the tidelands, which she will have back within two and one-half years to the public use, for which it is worth millions.

"Judge Los Angeles by her results. Of course you can trust Los Angeles. She trusts you. Consolidate, and we will give the world an object lesson in building a great port."

Joseph Scott made a characteristic speech, full of humor, which closed the sarge-worshiper may exert through the ballot, and urged those present not to allow any man to influence their votes through intimidation or threats.

VACATION OF STREETS OPPOSED BY CITIZENS

SAN PEDRO, July 7.—Following the complete breakdown yesterday by the board of city trustees, who rescinded their former hasty action on the F. E. Shaw lease at East San Pedro by dedicating this 800 feet of frontage to the public, the only other matter before the board of city trustees was the vacation of the 4900 feet of streets asked for by the Pacific Coast Steamship company and other corporations.

as it is not believed that there are more than thirty-five votes at the most among the Consolidated Lumber company's employees and no member of the committee thinks that the company can control more than three or four of these votes, even with intimidation. A worker of the anti-consolidation forces, who recently boasted that he went to Los Angeles and notified the consolidation committee that it must deposit the $1,000,000 for harbor improvement in the Wilmington bank before there could be any hope for carrying the election, was sent to San Pedro today to spread rumors regarding disintegration at Wilmington, but his statements will hardly be taken seriously.

No opportunity for colonization in Wilmington exists except through the locating of the lumber company here, and members of the consolidation committee hardly think it will be attempted there.

RUMORS OF OPPOSITION IN WILMINGTON HEARD

WILMINGTON, July 7.—Voters of Wilmington are hearing many rumors that there is unexpected opposition to the consolidation, but the consolidation committee is unable so far to verify any such statement. It is stated that employees of the Consolidated Lumber company are being influenced against consolidation of Los Angeles and Wilmington.

Among the rumors started is one that an official of the lumber company has been betting that consolidation will not carry, and several Wilmington men are looking for him with money to place. Another rumor is that the boast has been made that the lumber company will swing eighty-six votes against consolidation in Wilmington. This is scouted by the Wilmington committee the most objectionable, most of the property owners take the ground that this street is the only remaining approach to the outer harbor, and if the Pacific Electric Railway company once gets its tracks down on this approach it will be hard to gain access to the harbor. The fact that the Pacific Electric refuses to ask for the electric road franchise directly and allow it to come up for competitive bids and sale, and provides a technical provision in its application that steam will not be used, makes the whole application appear suspicious to many property owners. That Carl Jorgensen, who yesterday spoke to the board on the "nigger in the application," voiced the sentiment of many, is shown by the hearty applause his speech brought forth.

The Huntington interests have, in the opinion of many, not kept faith with the people here who have, through the trustees, granted them a valuable concession in the Outer harbor, which has never been improved and cleverly drawn documents that "listen well," but are full of "bugs," have made the people suspicious of any application that apparently dodges the law which requires electric franchises to be sold to the highest bidder.

CHLOROFORM BOTTLE IS FOUND BY DOCTOR'S BODY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Dr. Maurice Baum, a prominent physician of this city, until recently connected with the marine hospital service, under Dr. Rupert Blue, committed suicide last night.

His body was found in a room at the Hotel Congress today, with an empty chloroform bottle in one hand. A note written by him was found on the table, in which the physician said he was tired of life, but assigned no other cause for his deed.

LA JOLLA PINES SAVED FROM FIRE BY AUTOISTS

SAN DIEGO, July 7.—The La Jolla grove of Torrey pines, said to be the only grove of those trees in Southern California, and perhaps in the state, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire today, through the carelessness of some campers. Occupants of a passing automobile noticed that the underbrush in the grove was burning and hastened to La Jolla for help. A party of fire fighters was quickly made up and hurried in automobiles to the scene. After several hours of hard work the flames were extinguished and the rare trees saved.
