MINERS STILL ARE JOCKEYING

BREWERY ENGINEERS' CLAUSE IS UNSATISFACTORY

ANOTHER CONFERENCE PROBABLE AT DENVER

One Feature of Day Was Denunciation of Slang Terms Hurled at Workers Who Were Foreign Born

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, July 20.—An effort to rush through before the day's adjournment, a settlement of the controversy growing out of the brewery engineers' strike, in Butte, Mont., resulted in the adoption of a motion which, in retrospect, does not satisfy any of the parties to the agreement.

The effect probably will be to necessitate another conference between the national officers of the United Brewery Workers of America and the Western Federation of Miners.

The resolution presented was based on the agreement reached last spring between President Moyer, for the federation, and Secretary Proebstle, for the brewery workers.

The Butte delegates, led by P. W. Flynn, was opposed to the agreement in its entirety.

By this action, the settlement authorized by the convention today was rendered unsatisfactory to the administration.

A feature of today's deliberations was the reading of a paper written by the Rev. W. C. Hedrick, temporary pastor of the Butte local union of the Western Federation, and charged its members with attempting to disrupt the organization.

Secretary Proebstle of the brewery workers admitted having written the paper and declared that he still believed the charges to be true.

Condemnation of the American manner of referring to foreigners as "dagoes," "round-heads," "butternuts," "red-necks" and other obnoxious titles occupied some time in the convention of the federation today.

The greater part of the membership is of foreign birth and it objects to the titles as commonly applied.

James Kirwin of the Black Hills, a native born Irishman, expressed himself thus: "I consider that I am a better citizen than a large portion of native born Americans, for I came in with clothes on my back and my fare paid."

A motion to call a committee representing all classes of mining and underground work for the purpose of forming one large miners' organization was defeated on the ground that its wording was not clear and did not represent industrial unionism in its true sense.

Joseph Bracken, from McNeill, Nev., was denied his seat as a delegate, because it was proven he had not paid his dues in his local union.

PULLS OUT EYE WITH MEAT HOOK; DRIVES 12 BLOCKS FOR SURGEON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Holding in his hand his right eye which had been torn from its socket by a meat hook, Andrew Anderson, a butcher, calmly walked into the receiving hospital today and asked surgical aid.

Despite the terrible agony he had endured, Anderson merely said: "I got tangled with a hook and pulled out this eye," holding it out for the surgeon to examine.

The accident occurred when Anderson tried to keep his hat from being blown off by the wind. He slipped on the walk and fell against the hook.

The injured man drove a dozen blocks after the accident to get aid. His stoicism astonished the physicians. They said that Anderson's capacity to endure pain never had been equal to their knowledge.

Africans Fall Before Cannon of the Enemy, and Spanish and French Forces Compel Tribesmen to Retire

(By Associated Press.)

MELILLA, Morocco, July 20.—The attack by Moorish tribesmen made on the Spanish forces here last Saturday afternoon was executed under cover of a feint against the Spanish flank. The first charge was repulsed, but in the evening a more violent assault was made for the purpose of capturing the Spanish battery.

The Moors displayed great courage and skillful tactics. They rushed in small squads and many succeeded in breaking through the barbed wire entrenchments, where they fell at the mouths of the cannon after hand to hand fighting.

It was 3 o'clock Sunday morning when the Moors finally retired. The Moors numbered 6000, while the French and Spanish forces were composed of 2000 men.

Gen. Marina, commander of the Spanish force in Morocco, directed the struggle, encouraging his men forward heroically.

Random Rambles in Fashion's Realm

ALTOGETHER too dainty and charming to stay long on display are the fluffy masses of lace and embroidery—the lovely lingerie dresses! So they go dancing out to summer homes, to seaside resorts, to parties and picnics, delighted at every chance they find to make a pretty woman more enchanting. The prices, being extremely moderate, present no obstacle to their possession.

THE slender woman especially is rejoicing that plaited skirts are again popular, the new models in white voile being particularly attractive. Although exceedingly dainty, they do not soil readily on account of the peculiar wiry weave of the material. Some of these dressy skirts are specially priced at $5.00.

ALTHOUGH the cozy sweaters have in times past been worn almost exclusively by misses and younger women, they have overreached their prescribed boundaries, and in their new guise of fashionable dignity are being adopted by women—young and old, big and little. The latest models are decidedly smart.

FINDING it useless to attempt to limit women's fancy in the matter of waists, Fashion wisely sanctioned the widest possible latitude in the selection of the low, Dutch-cut, three-quarter or short sleeves, as well as a thousand variations in trimmings. Prices as varied as the styles, beginning at $1.00.

WHILE the hat is an all-important feature of every woman's costume, the veil is every day growing more interesting from a stylish standpoint. The present mode of fastening the veil closely about the hat and head gives a distinctly smart effect, although many of the beautiful auto veils are still worn with ends that float in the breeze. Many black hats are worn with charming white veils, and vice versa, the contrast being quite effective.

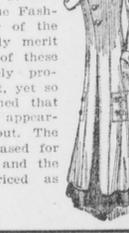

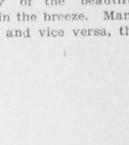

THE new felt hats which have made their appearance during the past few days, although wonderfully jaunty and dashing, are, strange to say, delightfully soft, both in fabric and color. This peculiarly admits of an infinite variety of stunning effects in the same model, and is one of their chief attractions. Price is $4.75.

IT is not always permitted a woman to be at once stylish and sensible, but this season Dame Fashion has made a special concession in favor of the clever coats of linen and pongee. They fully merit such a description, for when clad in one of these garments one is completely protected from wind and dust, yet so skillfully are they fashioned that they retain their stylish appearance until literally worn out. The linen coats may be purchased for as small a sum as $3.95, and the real pongee coats are priced as low as $12.50.

STATES READY FOR AN INCOME TAX LAW

15 GOVERNORS OUT OF 23 SAY LEGISLATURES FAVOR IT

Seven Others Are Noncommittal and Only Utah Declares That It Would Cast Negative Vote

NEW YORK, July 20.—In order to ascertain sentiment in the various states of the Union on the question of amending the federal constitution so as to provide congress with authority to levy an income tax, a New York newspaper has sent telegrams to the governors of the several states.

Of twenty-three chief executives who have replied, fifteen were in favor of the income tax proposition; seven were non-committal, or had not sounded public or legislative sentiment, and one opposed.

Governors of the following states replied that their state legislatures probably would ratify the proposed income tax amendment: Florida, Mississippi, Kansas, Indiana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Virginia, Oklahoma, Texas, Kentucky and Iowa.

The non-committal replies were from Georgia, Illinois, Rhode Island, Wyoming, Missouri, Oregon and Washington.

In Utah only, however, was it foretold that the amendment would be rejected. Governor W. R. Spry of that state replied:

"I am inclined to think the income tax amendment will not meet with great favor in Utah. The matter has been before the people of the nation once before, and it is remembered that I did not meet with special favor. Because of this, I have no reason to believe the people of Utah will change their minds. Personally I am not an advocate of the idea."

Governor Haskell of Oklahoma had this to say: "I compliment the president for having gone so far in recommending a sensible proposition. That is an Oklahoma proposition and the voters will have to endorse it or turtle on their position of fourteen months ago."

"LAZY BUG WORM" RAISING SAD HAVOC IN THE ARMY

Report of Surgeon General Will Throw New Light on Art of "Soldiering" in the Service

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The hook worm, or "lazy bug," which has been shown to exist in the southern states, according to investigations of the physical condition of army recruits, will form an interesting chapter in the forthcoming report of the surgeon general of the army, and probably will lead to a widespread effort on the part of the boards of health in the southern states to eradicate this disease, which a few years ago was brought prominently to the attention of the world in connection with the Porto Ricans.

According to investigations made by the surgeon general, the hook worm is found in the rural districts of the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana. It is a parasite which the army against the hook worm in Porto Rico resulted in saving more than 5000 lives annually. The lazy bug has a medical name. It is uncinariasis.

TRACKED HUSBAND OVER 2 CONTINENTS

AFTER 12 YEARS WIFE ASKS ANNULMENT OF DIVORCE

Son Born Before Husband Left Her is Basis of Mrs. Eva Levy's Suit in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—A wife's pursuit of her husband covering two continents and extending over a period of twelve years was the feature of an application filed in the superior court today, when Mrs. Eva Levy asked that divorce be granted to Max Levy, her son.

The woman alleges that she was married to Levy in Warsaw, Poland, in 1893, and that her husband deserted her twelve years ago. Accompanied by her 2-year-old son, she set out in pursuit of her wandering spouse, according to the complaint, just missing him in London, picking up his trail in New York, arriving a day late in Norfolk, Va., and working her way slowly across the continent by way of Chicago and St. Louis.

After the chase had lasted twelve years, she affirms, she arrived in this city to find that Max Levy had obtained a divorce from her on the ground of desertion, his complaint alleging that there was no issue of the marriage. In her counter-complaint, she contends that her husband deserted and asks an equal share of the property, said to be of considerable value, that he has acquired in this city.
