YUMA INDIAN IS ORATOR OF DAY

MISSIONARY MEETING REPLETE WITH SURPRISES

SECOND DAY OF CONVENTION IS FULL OF ACTIVITY

Addresses Principally Devoted to Indians and Mexicans with Reference to Schools and Conditions

"Blind Joe," a full blooded Yuma Indian acting as interpreter of the English into the Indian language, called the attention of the Yuma Indians, during the session last night of the Home Missionary convention at the First Methodist church.

The second day of the convention was fraught with great activity. The time was occupied from 8:45 o'clock a. m. until 10 o'clock p. m. and a large amount of routine business was transacted.

The addresses were principally devoted to the interest of the Indians and Mexicans with reference to their schools and conditions. Miss Lydia Spoke, superintendent, Lynden, Wash., spoke of the conditions of the Stekney home of that state which was followed by a ten minute address by Rev. J. M. Ocheltree, missionary to the Yuma Indians, giving a graphic description of the Yuma Indians, calling upon the platform of full-blooded Yuma Indian who interpreted from the English into the Indian language a familiar verse of the New Testament.

Four girls the leading Frances de Pau school gave a vocal selection which was enthusiastically endorsed. Miss Jennie Matheas, superintendent, made an address.

Mrs. L. G. Harris, superintendent of the Tucson Industrial school, made an interesting address and introduced two of the girls of the school who spoke and sang.

Dr. Ira G. Cartwright, superintendent of the New Mexico mission, spoke on the subject, "Mexico in the United States."

Talks of Missionaries

The first session of the day was held at 8:45 o'clock when a conference on young people's work was held. Mrs. David Bailey of Philadelphia, presiding. "Aims and Purposes of a Young Woman's Missionary Society" was the subject of Miss Carrie Barge of Ohio, young people's secretary. She said: "A young woman's society develops missionary character, in that it leads to greater interest in the work. The unification of the efforts of the society stimulates interest among the workers and they give much more of their time to the society than they otherwise would."

"Centralized society work invariably develops leaders, who are the primary force in the carrying out of the work. The society aids greatly in bringing to the front and training leaders for mission study effort."

"The snare of things not worth while is a great menace to the work of the society. It is always easy to be led off on some line of the work that matters little in the long run, to the neglect of things that are urgent. We must learn to discern the best and give it the most of our attention."

"Large things naturally have small beginnings and it is only through constant effort that we can expand. We must give our personal attention to the details."

DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES HELD

At 9 o'clock Mrs. Wilbur Adams, corresponding secretary of the Puget Sound conference, opened the session with a devotional service. Following the reading of the minutes of the last session a meeting of the finance committee was held.

A deaconess conference was held at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Margaret Delight Deaconess, home, presiding.

The fund for aged and infirm deaconesses was discussed at the session, Mrs. Moore making an address on the subject.

A discussion on the children's work of the society was led by Miss Alice M. Guernsey, secretary for the Home Guards and Mothers' Jewels. A symposium for corresponding secretaries was conducted by Mrs. Hedley R. Woodward of Asbury Park, N. J., followed by conferees of organizers, led by Miss Mary Mahon of Buffalo, N. Y.

HOME GUARDS HOLD CONFERENCE

A conference of the department of Home Guards and Mothers' Jewels will be held at 8:45 o'clock this morning, followed by conferees of the department of the general session at 9:30 o'clock, led by Mrs. Stanley Webster of San Francisco. Extension work of the society will be the general topic, with reports by the general organizers. Reports from the various orphanages will also be made at the morning session.

At 1:30 p. m. a department deaconesses conference will be held, with conferees of the corresponding secretaries, department of young people and organizers at the same hour.

At 2 o'clock the general session will open with devotions by Mrs. John Stevens of Stockton, Cal. The afternoon will be devoted to the consideration of the work of the deaconesses. In the evening the training schools of the society will be discussed.

The secretary for the bureau for the Pacific coast Indians asked and received yesterday the sum of $100 to open a free dispensary for the Yuma Indians.

The convention is publishing a three-column, four-page daily which gives addresses and proceedings of each day. Mrs. Hester T. Griffith brought greetings to the convention in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. of Southern California, the latter of which she is president. Mrs. Griffith made a happy speech and presented Mrs. Robinson, the president of the Home Missionary society, with a beautiful bouquet of Shasta daisies tied with white ribbon. Mrs. Robinson graciously received the bouquet in behalf of the convention. The Shasta daisy is the emblem of the W. C. T. U.

DEMOCRATIC VOTES ORDERED TO BE RECOUNTED

Judge Murasky of San Francisco Declines Ballots for Nomination of Prosecutor Shall Be Gone Over

[By Associated Press.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Charles M. Fickert, Republican nominee for the office of district attorney, who also lays claim to the democratic nomination, alleging that the latter was not properly awarded to Francis J. Henry, was granted today his request for a recount of the Democratic votes cast at the recent primary election.

Judge Frank J. Murasky ordered that the ballots be produced in his court, and the recounting will be begun on Monday.

The ruling was upon a demurrer interposed by Henry's attorneys to the petition of Fickert, the demurrer being based upon the contention that wherever the word "votes" appeared in the petition it should have been preceded by the word "legal," which had been omitted in each instance.

FORMER LIEUTENANT OF ARMY COMMITS SUICIDE

Noted Inventor and Architect of Freak Houses Ends His Life in Indiana

GOSHEN, Ind., Oct. 7.—James De Vor, once a lieutenant in the United States army and afterward widely known as an inventor and architect of freak houses, committed suicide near his home south of Elkhart by stepping in front of an interurban car.

When the city of Elkhart opened a road through his estate De Vor fought off the workmen and planted bombs along the right of way to prevent the grading of the road. He was confined in an asylum for a time.

De Vor was a lawyer and writer of some note.

Idle Thoughts

The chilly Boston girl might be won with gumdrops. The hard-shell crab is about the only great delicacy that's cheap. A boy can't have his cake and eat it, but he can compromise by licking the icing off.

It is no easy matter to impress the man who sees all the headlines in vaudeville. The health department's back yard crusade has so irritated one of our citizens that he has moved his trash and ashes into the house.

REVOLUTION NEAR, SAYS EXILE IN PARIS

Member of Chamber of Deputies, Ostracized for Denunciations of Government, Says Liberals Are Uniting

[By Associated Press.] MADRID, Oct. 7.—The Spanish troops are engaged today in fortifying Nador and Zetun. Block houses will be erected, guns of large caliber installed and a railroad built between the two towns.

The searchlights on the fortifications of the city last night disclosed several groups of Moors among the cactus in the surrounding country.

When they were discovered the Moors opened a hot fire, to which the Spaniards responded with artillery and rifle volleys and drove the enemy off after half an hour's fighting.

Believes King Weak

Le Roux is of the opinion that King Alfonso is weak and has no prestige except with the army; that the monarchy is irretrievably doomed, and that the only way to save Ferrer is through international agitation for a public trial.

The French Socialists are calling meetings throughout the republic to protest against the Spanish repression. The police today broke up a gathering of social revolutionists who had assembled in front of the Spanish embassy to protest against the trying of Ferrer by court martial.

Subsequently the manifestants paraded along the boulevards, carrying banners inscribed with the words "The Monks Want the Head of Ferrer."

The Temps deprecates General D'Amade's utterances as published in the Matin today, and in general his harsh criticism of Spain in her Moroccan campaign.

Charges Unjust

The Temps contends that it is unjust to charge Spain with harboring designs of conquest after reiterated assurances that the operations in Africa will be confined to the punishment of him.

Health and Refreshment

In Puritas Distilled Water Natural waters are dangerous for drinking in the fall. The early rains wash into the streams impurities that have gathered all summer on the dry, hard surface of the soil.

The minerals in natural alkaline waters also are a fertile cause of rheumatism and kidney trouble. Distilled water—and TWICE distilled water—should be copiously drunk by people so afflicted. No impurity, no germ is to be found in Puritas Distilled Water.

Puritas is the only twice distilled water obtainable hereabouts. It is the most refreshing distilled water because, aerated with pure ozone, it has the sparkle of natural water.
