SPECULATION IN STOCKS REVIVED

EASING OF MONEY MARKET RESTORES CONFIDENCE

BANK OF ENGLAND FAILS TO CONTROL SITUATION

Wall Street Dealings Proved Broad and Active, and Comparative Advance in Prices of Securities Enacted

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Today saw a considerable revival of speculative interest in stocks. The cause was the easing money market, and the confidence conditions would further relax with the passing of the November 1 money settlements.

The sources of supply of the additional funds offered in the money market was believed to be London, where it was reported private bankers had been reduced to a state of panic.

The week's currency movement has been against the New York banks, according to preliminary estimates, although the net result is ameliorated by the operation of funds from the interior, the balance in favor of New York being estimated at upward of $3,000,000.

The stock market proved broad and active and a comparative advance in prices was effected. The covering operations of a substantial short interest were given credit for a good part of today's buying.

Vigorous recoveries in some of the stocks which have hung back in recent movements, notably the Hill rail group, were persistent throughout the day. United States steel absorbed a large proportion of the total dealings, and its aggressive advance formed an effective leadership.
