SURPRISES PROVIDED AT COUNCIL SESSION

Members switch on live stock questions. Cattell Changes Mind About Roosters Being Nuisance—Mayor Takes Another View of Dog Muzzling Law.

[Special to The Herald.] PASADENA, Nov. 16.—Today's session of the city council was a succession of surprises. First came Councilman Cattell, saying that he had changed his mind about roosters being a nuisance; that Councilman Root was right when he said the council should legislate for the normal man, and he tried to put through a live stock ordinance not prohibiting roosters. He even named a committee, but the three named voted against his request for a new ordinance to substitute for those defeated, and it was then proposed to postpone the matter for six months. Similarly in the matter of dog legislation, the mayor requested a change in the ordinance so that people who didn't like to live with howling dogs could muzzle it, but nothing doing. The council merely decided to order the present law enforced more strictly, some because they thought it had never been made because it keeps dogs off the streets, and others because they believe in the necessity of preventing the spread of rabies. There are now been eighteen cases of rabies in the city, suffering from hydrophobia, five having occurred within twenty-four hours. Only three cases have been at all violent. One more surprise came in a 14-page opinion from City Attorney J. P. Wood, going at great length into the rights of municipalities, the acquisition of a man's home by the city, the bona fide purchase of the Simons brickyard, the bona fide purchase of the Simons Bros., and the whole of a wealthy and thickly populated section, will have to be given up to the city, as long as it stays within the reasonable limits of the law relative to smoke, noise and general conduct.

PRESENTS CITY LOT FOR IMMENSE NATURAL PARK

First Help Toward Acquisition of Great Pleasure Ground Comes from Dr. R. Schiffmann. PASADENA, Nov. 16.—The first definite step toward the acquisition of an immense natural park extending from the mountains to the south city limits of Pasadena came this morning, when, after several years' working and planning, the city, through its influential men, Dr. R. Schiffmann, one of the leaders in the movement, presented to the city an arroyo, with a total area of about one-half acre of ground, beautifully wooded and capable of high improvement. With the acquisition of the three water plants, which is hoped for in the coming bond election, a large majority of the Arroyo Seco property will have been acquired. It is hoped to secure similar gifts of land from other besides Dr. Schiffmann. It is considered that a long and costly process of realizing the dream of a park greater and better than the famous Golden Gate park of San Francisco, surrounds by boulevards and extending, in time, into the city of Los Angeles.

CHIEF OF POLICE FORBIDS SALE OF MALT EXTRACTS

PASADENA, Nov. 16.—Following a raid last night on a restaurant where a quantity of liquor was confiscated, Chief of Police Wood has issued a notice to all druggists of the Crown city that he will not permit the sale of malt extracts. No brands are discriminated against, but none are to be tolerated. The druggists are to think the orders a little strong, but they will in all probability comply to avoid arrest.

To Improve Car Service

PASADENA, Nov. 16.—City Manager McMillan of the Pacific Electric has asked the city officials to tell him whether he needs any more franchises to put through a plan for merging the cars on the line with California street car lines into one, an act which would require a curfew at Colorado street and Broadway avenue. The change is to be the solution of both the eighteen-minute service on Orange Grove avenue and East Colorado street, and for the better cars used on the California street line. J. W. McCauley, who presented a petition for better service on Orange Grove avenue, thinks the plan is not satisfactory, owing to the fact that the through car line, which would thus be removed, is heavily patronized.

They assert that a young man sat at a table upon which were a number of push buttons, he could vary those below of the approach of police. The free ferry over the Long Beach harbor, started for the benefit of the school children, has been stopped, temporarily at least, owing to a lack of patronage. At a meeting of the Belmont Heights trustees last night a demand for the rebate of $300 license was received from the Belmont Wholesale Liquor company. After a conference between the trustees and the proprietors, however, the demand was withdrawn, for some reason. The liquor house will go out of business with the consolidation of Long Beach and Belmont Heights. INQUEST HELD OVER BODY OF SLAIN MAN

[Special to The Herald.] SANTA ANA, Nov. 16.—Coroner George S. Smith held an inquest this morning at Orange over the body of Roland Fletcher, who was yesterday shot dead by W. W. Downs. The verdict was that Fletcher came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by W. W. Downs with intent to murder. During the examination Mrs. Downs, widow of the murderer, who died last night as a result of self-inflicted wounds, testified that her husband returned Sunday night from a several days' stay in prison, and broke into her house. He threatened to kill her, but after a little delay said he would wait until the next day before finishing her. He found Fletcher's gun on the floor and was told by her that Fletcher had left it for the woman herself and Miss Esther Huff, who was living with her. He took the gun and shot Fletcher with that very gun. Going in yesterday with his wife's room, and finding Fletcher there, Downs proceeded to make his way good, shooting Fletcher with his own gun while the two men were engaged in a struggle. The inquest on the body of Downs, who died at 10 o'clock last night at the Santa hospital after firing a bullet through his own head after being arrested in the afternoon, will be held tomorrow afternoon in Santa Ana.

[Special to The Herald.] SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 16.—The best amateur production ever seen on a local stage was presented last night by the San Bernardino lodge of Elks. In past years only light comedies have been attempted in the annual shows of the lodge, but the difficult operatic extravaganza, "1492," was last night staged with success. The affair was of social importance, and for days every available seat in the lower floor of the opera house has been sold. Dr. D. R. Owen, exalted ruler, took the part of Christopher Columbus; Mayor S. W. McNabb, the royal treasurer; E. B. Wilkerson, the queen of Spain; O. P. Sloat, the king of Spain. These men are all former stars of the Elks shows in the past. Miss Margery Hooper, as Princess Joanna, made her debut on the amateur stage with distinct success. The chorus was made up of forty of the society belles of the city. The entire cast numbered sixty persons, and the production was the most elaborate ever attempted by any amateur troupe. YOUTH IS SUPPOSED TO BE SUFFERING FROM PTOMAIN

Nineteen-Year-Old Hunter Is Taken Seriously Ill While on Moun. tain Trip

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 16.—A most peculiar case is receiving the attention of local physicians. Arthur Crampton, 19 years old, is suffering intense agony and delirium from what is supposed to be ptomaine poisoning, which he contracted while on a recent hunting trip in the mountains. He is said to have eaten something at that time that caused him to become deathly ill and has since affected his brain. A brain specialist was called from Pasadena today to consult with local doctors in regard to the case. Young Crampton resides with his widowed mother, Mrs. H. M. Crampton, at 1217 Fourteenth street. About three weeks ago, or during the night of very hot days in late October, the young man went to Topanga canyon to hunt deer. He carried along a supply of food, said to include considerable canned goods. He had been absent but a few days, when he was taken ill and was brought home. Santa Monica Denies Disturbance of Peace. NAVAL INSPECTORS VISIT THE HARBOR

Officials from Bremerton Yard Are on Tour of All Probable Sites on the Pacific Coast. SAN PEDRO, Nov. 16.—The inspection board of naval officers sent here by the navy department to look over the site of the proposed rifle range was taken to the sites on the San Pedro ranch by a committee of the San Pedro chamber of commerce this morning. The visiting officers were Capt. M. Johnson, Ensign S. Doherty and Civil Engineer C. A. Bestrom, all from the Bremerton navy yard. Major Howard of the National Guard accompanied the party. In two automobiles the committee and the visitors went out to the proposed sites and were guided by James H. Dodson, the owner of the land, which is just west of San Pedro. This particular locality was chosen by Capt. Howard of the U. S. S. Tennessee and sites were recommended at other points along the coast. It is understood that a piece of ground 1000 yards square is desired, the land to be in such shape that different ranges from different points of the compass may be used at the same time and upward of 500 men be accommodated if desired. The present board is to make a report on the various sites available along the Pacific coast and on their report rests the appropriation which will be provided by the next session of congress. While no information was given out by the commission that San Pedro is regarded very favorably by the inspection boards, although the land conditions are not exactly ideal. With the climatic conditions perfect and plenty of land it is believed this place will be the final selection for the naval rite range.
