The purpose of the banquet was to introduce the guests to the various activities in the association with which they were unfamiliar, especially the social phase. Bright holly wreaths and sprays of mistletoe, the gift of William Walters, were everywhere in evidence and gave to the scene an atmosphere of Christmas festivity.

The dinner was served by representatives from the senior clubs of the association, the Adelpheia, the Indoor-

Outdoor and the Ayuda. After the guests had partaken of and enjoyed the many good things at the table the company adjourned to the members' room on the seventh floor. Here a roaring fire greeted them and more holly and mistletoe. Miss Mollie Adella Brown rendered several vocal numbers, aided by clarinet, violin and piano, to the evident delight of all present. WANKOWSKI APPOINTED TO DEPUTYSHIP UNDER STATE SUPT. ANDERSON Robert Wankowski, cashier of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank, and for years a dominating influence in the National Guard of California, was yesterday appointed by Alden Anderson, state superintendent of banks, to the position of chief deputy.

Mr. Wankowski confirmed his appointment last night, and stated that he would leave for San Francisco to enter on his new duties the first of the year. The position is purely an appointive one and no formalities are to be gone through before taking up active work.

In order to accept his position under Mr. Anderson, Mr. Wankowski will be forced to resign from his present occupation. The bank with which he is connected but recently consolidated with the Metropolitan Trust company, and is one of the largest banking institutions of Los Angeles.

Mr. Wankowski is expecting a change in conditions governing the office of the state banking superintendent, and is confident that a branch will be established in Los Angeles in the near future. His acceptance of Mr. Anderson's appointment partially hinges on this, so he states that unless he is allowed to reside in Los Angeles he will not retain office. The last legislature enacted a measure which provides for the local branch, and Mr. Wankowski is certain that he will soon be able to return to the south for active service in his new field.

COMMITTEE OF NINE PLIES DOBBINS WITH QUESTIONS Another Statement Issued in Regard to the Rapid Transit Discussion PASADENA, Dec. 29.—The board of trade committee of nine, named by the committee of three to investigate the Pasadena Rapid Transit company's project, met late this afternoon in the office of the chairman, Judge G. A. Gibbs in the Boston building. At this meeting was read a remarkable letter from Seward A. Simons, who has been under fire at the guns of President Dobbins of the Rapid Transit company and left the other members of the committee in doubt as to Simons' intentions. He put up to the committee of three the question whether he shall remain upon the committee of nine or not. He was not present to explain in detail just what he meant and the letter was not acted upon. It will probably be considered later by the committee of three of which John McDonough, Leo McLaughlin and W. F. Knight are members.

The eight members of the committee of nine who did not attend the meeting discussed in general the scope which the investigation shall take, and President Dobbins of the road was invited to aid in the discussion. He very frankly answered all questions put to him and the sentiment was that the investigation should now go forward without delay or regard to the controversy in regard to the naming of the committee of nine and particularly the placing upon it of Seward A. Simons.
