M'CAREY SHOULD TAKE MORTGAGE ON LANGFORD'S LIFE RIGHT AWAY

THIS METHOD SUGGESTED AS ONLY MEANS OF PROTECTION AGAINST PUGILISTIC PIRATES UP NORTH

Boston Blackbird Looms Up as Desirable Attraction and Usual Match-Busting Tactics Employed Against Local Promoter Are Naturally to Be Expected—Eddie Keavin Coming from Beantown with Classy String and February Will Be Busy Month at Naud Junction—Webster and Walsh Probably Will Settle Bantam Dispute

BY JAY DAVIDSON

CONSIDERING the past, it would be a fine idea for Uncle Tom McCarey to take a first mortgage on Sam Langford's life as soon as the Boston terror sets foot in Mayor Alexander's territory as a protection against further interference in his plans by the bunch of match busters of Frisco. If that outfit is at all consistent, it will be after Sam real soon with offers calculated to tempt him to jump his contract with McCarey in favor of the northern aggregation. They generally wake up to the value of a fighter as a drawing card as soon as McCarey announces that he has closed with one for a local engagement, and then they get busy trying to break it up. It is not to be doubted for a moment that a fighter of the drawing powers of Langford will be properly appreciated by that bunch as soon as it comes out of its somnolent state and efforts to take him to Frisco will be made without a doubt, unless the match busters fall dead or lose their gall, neither of which good fortune seems imminent at this time.

Langford unquestionably is one of the biggest cards in the pugilistic deck, and like the joker in a cut-and-shack game he fills every hand and therefore is much sought after. McCarey has landed him, and he will fight for McCarey next month, the class of what may be done by the match-busting trust, as Langford and Woodman, his manager, never were known to jump a contract or trifle in business affairs. But matches for the season's unbeatable Boston black are so difficult to get that he naturally keeps a weather eye peeled for anything that sounds like an offer to fight. The size, weight and class of his opponents are secondary considerations, as he bars none of them, and for that reason he is more valuable than the average class feature smasher.

McCarey can use Sammy to advantage for the next ninety days, and while amusing the fans will make some money for himself and Langford. There is a bumper crop of Dub heavyweights, big and little, and down the coast just now, and Sam would be a mighty satisfactory trial horse for them. McCarey has shown a usual enterprise in chasing Langford all over the continent and keeping after him until he was signed up, and the fans naturally expect to see the mighty dingo in action here, with McCarey having first call on him for some time.

FLYNN MAY SPILL BEANS

Of course there is a possibility that Jim Flynn will spill the beans for Sammy, and then another scrap between them would be in order. Notwithstanding that Langford stopped Flynn in the first round of their previous battle, the fighting fireman says he will not be caught napping again and he is inclined to the belief that this defeat was in the nature of a fluke, anyway. It must be admitted that few fans think Flynn can trounce this cool tar preparation, but Flynn is authority for the statement that he will fight the Boston terror in an open question any old time if Flynn can turn loose those same fireworks that he used on Joe Willis.

Flynn uses a style of rough house that will fluster any of the clever and hard-hitting boys. He is what might be termed awkwardly clever, if such a thing could be possible. Fact is, he is a combination of the French savant and the American slugger. He will bite, kick, butt, wrestle, chew the rag and ring in a little jiu jitsu, just as occasion may require, and when he has his opponent bewildered and half

ATHLETIC SPIRIT AT U. S. C. AT LOW TIDE

DEAN CROMWELL IS UNABLE TO AROUSE IT

Methodists Discouraged by Indifference of Star Athletes Regarding Track Work—Outlook for Season Is Poor

Uneasy lies the head that coaches the University of Southern California's track team. Dean Cromwell has been having troubles of his own ever since the Christmas holidays, and the optimistic view with which the coach and students alike looked at the prospects of the track team at the close of the football season has been tinged somewhat with pessimism. The material for a winning team is in the school, according to the athletic authorities, the rub being to get it active.

Many of the high school track stars who entered the university this year, and of whom so much was expected, are falling to get out. Some have very good reasons for not taking part in athletics this year; others have not. Just what chance the methodists will have with the other conference colleges, unless some of the hitherto backward track men get into the game, is hard to predict, and the authorities at U. S. C. are more worried than they care to admit.

LACY DEFEATS CHAMPION

Lacy, using a tennis racket, defeated Gordo Whelan, the champion handball player of the Los Angeles Athletic club, at handball Saturday in two hard fought games. The tennis expert won the first game by the score of 21 to 6, and the second by the score of 21 to 10. A large crowd of club members witnessed the exhibition.

RIALTO GOSSIP

By Jay Davidson

EVIDENTLY Tom Jones, manager for Wolgast, is lacking in confidence in Sid Hester, promoter of a mythical fight club somewhere above the Tehachapi. Jones is a shrewd business man and wisely sends articles of agreement for his fighters before signing them. He objects to taking any chances of being paid off in stage money and declines to accept a check deposit for the cash forfeit of Hester for them to fight it out. McCarey will do well to nail down this match, too.

One distinct bit of evidence of the loss of horsemen occasioned in 1909 by the passage of laws adverse to racing interests is four in the statistics just published by the Daily Racing Form as to the distribution in purses for the year. The sum of $3,146,935 was paid out last year, while $4,331,691 was paid out in 1908. This shows a decrease last year of $1,204,956, when, had there been no adverse legislation, the distribution would have shown an increase of more than $3,000,000. Therefore, horsemen lost more than $4,000,000 last year as a result of these laws. That much money was kept out of circulation.

Belmont park, which August Belmont is anxious to make the turf headquarters of America, now occupies first place in the list of race courses in this country. It is the handsomest racing plant on the continent, thoroughly modern in every particular, and last year it led all other courses in daily average of money distributed. More than $840 a day was paid to horsemen during the twenty-three racing days it was operated. This is an average of $1000 a day greater than the next largest average sum paid out. This average will be materially increased during 1910, as Belmont park will lead the way for all other metropolitan courses in increasing the purses and stakes for the year.

Vincent Powers again led the winning jockeys' column, as in 1908, with 173 bets, winning $122,000 in purses. Archibald, the Los Angeles boy, is second with 159 winners, but owing to the fact that he has been frittering away his time in the bushes when he should have been on the big circuit he only won $42,000 in purses. Schilling dropped to thirteenth place.

Joe Madden was the champion 3-year-old in America from the viewpoint of purses won, but his stablemate, Fitz Herbert, was the real champion when it comes to a consistent showing of performance. Joe Madden started fifteen times, winning $49,950 in five winning starts, while Fitz Herbert won fourteen in fifteen starts and Tommy Murphy is reported as saying that he will come to the coast in a short time and try to force Battling Nelson to give him a fling at the title. Murphy is some fighter, but those eastern scrappers usually are too short-winded to tackle anything over 100 pounds, and when Nelson gets Murphy to trotting down the Marathon lane the eastern boy will have his tongue hanging out. Murphy would fit in nicely in the ten-round cards at Naud Junction, and McCarey may land on him with an offer if he comes west.

Classiest Exhibition This Winter is Furnished by League Players and Colored Champions. May Play Again

All-Stars, 0; Occidentals, 0. For twelve innings, until darkness interfered, the Stars and the Occidentals played a game that was the greatest exhibition of the national game that has been witnessed at Chutes park this winter. The contest was replete with thrilling plays from start to finish, and the fans who attended were given the treat of the season. This makes the second long distance event for the Oxy's within twenty-four hours of each other. Saturday this clever aggregation went over the same route with the McCormicks to a 1 to 1 score. Reiger and Harrison, the opposing pitchers, were steady and strong at all stages and both are entitled to an even amount of the glory. Shortstop Lane of the smoked club played a sensational game in short field, making several hard one-handed stops and throwing his man out at first, where Pettus played on the Hal Chase order.

CENTURY MARK IS SHATTERED

JAKE DE ROSIER MAKES RECORD AT COLISEUM

CLASSY CARD PRESENTED TO 4000 PERSONS

Whittier and Lingenfelder Compete with Frenchman and Finish Respectively in Second and Third Places

MOTORCYCLE RACE RESULTS Niederhauser won the 6-mile event in 6:42 seconds. Kittle won the 4-mile event in 3:33 seconds. Kittle won the 5-mile event in 4:06.25 seconds. De Rosier won the 100-mile event in 92:06 seconds.

In the presence of at least 4000 spectators Jake De Rosier again proved himself the king of the motorcycle track, just as Barney Oldfield holds the crown of the automobile track. In 92:06 minutes the Frenchman pulled down the 100-mile record more than five minutes, came in first and becomes the continued champion of the world, with Whittier second and Lingenfelder third.

The remarkable and weeks adherents of Lingenfelder and De Rosier have been almost at daggers' points over the qualities of their favorites, but all the time the Herald has held the line and has not wavered in its belief that it is compelled to believe now, that Jake De Rosier has not his equal in the world on a saucer track.

From the fifth to the sixteenth mile De Rosier held the lead as he has held it in the past. In the seventeenth mile Whittier, who had been doing some star riding, took the lead and held it till the nineteenth mile, when the Frenchman walked into the game again and carried his machine across the tape with the 100-mile record well within his keeping in the time of 92:06, slipping fully five minutes from all the records of the past. This sets a mark for the world to follow which will take many a moon to duplicate.

Whittier came in second and Lingenfelder third. It was a day of splendid sport, and the management will have to look through the books for a long time to find the page where they may select a better program than the one presented to the public at the meet of yesterday. Every event was a classy one, and those present showed their approval of every effort by each of the riders.

The remarkable offering like a duck takes to water, and when the nine frames were over they had registered thirteen safe ones. Wild Bill Lane, formerly of the Oakland outlaws, held down the initial sack for Downey. Young Downey pitched a steady game and was never in danger, while Sawyer was the fielding star with eight putouts. The remarkable offering like a duck takes to water, and when the nine frames were over they had registered thirteen safe ones.

Contest three was for five miles, open to all, seven-horsepower machines, and in this event Kittle was the winner, making the five miles in 4:06.25. The last and main event was the 100-mile race, with the five fastest riders in the world on the track. The riders for the miles in this event were the greatest ever made in the world, and the saucer track of Los Angeles received additional fame, which will go all over the globe.

The remarkable attendance, despite the Oldfield attractions at Ascot park, shows the interest that is taken in the clean events that are from time to time being presented to the public by the Los Angeles Coliseum. The event was conducted as they are the public will show its appreciation by liberal patronage.

OLMSTEAD IS STAR PITCHER IN WESTERN

Official Statistics Are Given Out by President O'Neill—Omaha, Pennant Winner, Leads in Honors Won

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The Western League produced twenty-six 300 hitters during the season of 1909, according to the official figures issued by President Morris O'Neill here yesterday. Welch, the hard-hitting outfielder of Omaha, led in batting with an average of .372 for 151 games. He made 196 hits for a total of 288 bases. Miller of Pueblo was second with .367 for 87 games, and Mertens of Des Moines was third with .363 for 14 games.

Sioux City led in the team batting with the remarkable average of .285 and Omaha was close behind with .283. The Des Moines team, which won the championship by the narrow margin of two points, was the best league Wichita in the team batting at .289. Omaha led in team fielding with .948 and Sioux City was second with .952. The champion Des Moines team was fourth with .948.

Melter of Sioux City led the pitchers in percentage of victories, with 7 games won and 2 lost, for .778. Olmstead of Denver is the best leaguer with 24 games won and 8 lost, for .750. Lange of Des Moines won 29 games and lost 12 for .707.

On the Clearwater diamond yesterday the Downey baseball team went down to defeat before Pete Hansen's sporting goods boys by the score of 7 to 2.
