MULLALLY QUILTS PARK SERVICE

RESIGNS AFTER FIVE YEARS IN CITY'S EMPLOY

"Uncle Dick," Friend of Deposed Superintendent, Declares Interest of Board Will Be Served by His Leaving

After five years of faithful service, R. E. Mullally, formerly known as "Uncle Dick," resigned his position as secretary of the park department...

"I feel the contentment of the board will be better subserved by the appointment of a man whom the board may designate, and for this reason desire to remove any handicap which might result by my remaining."

"Uncle Dick" believes his request that he be carried on the payroll until April 1 in his resignation...

"I feel the contentment of the board will be better subserved by the appointment of a man whom the board may designate, and for this reason desire to remove any handicap which might result by my remaining."

"I am sorry Mr. Mullally resigned just now," said the mayor yesterday, "as it is just between the meetings of the commission. The place pays a salary of $125 a month, but I believe it should pay more and the man who should fill the position should be able to fill the position of forester."

The position of secretary of the park commission is one of the few positions in the city not under civil service, and the park commission can fill it as it pleases...

CUPID APPEARS IN TRIPLE SUIT

ROMANCE REVEALED IN ACTION FOR DAMAGES

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Injured by Car in Courtship Days, Ask $17,000 from Railway Company

A triple damage suit of unusual interest commenced in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday in which Miss Lulu B. Cliff, who does not exist, and William H. Cooper are suing the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway company for damages aggregating $17,000 for injuries sustained in a collision with a car at the corner of Western avenue and Sixteenth street September 12, 1908.

Miss Lulu Cliff is suing $10,000 damages for permanent injuries she alleges she has sustained. Cooper is suing for $5000 for personal injuries and doctor's bills. He is also suing for $1400 the extent of the damages to the car which was taken to his automobile on the fateful night.

All three cases are being tried with the one jury and separate verdicts will be given. The evidence in all three cases will be the same, and the peculiar feature of the affair is that while Miss Lulu Cliff is one of the plaintiffs she is represented by Mrs. W. H. Cooper, who died at the time of the accident. This is explained by the fact that Miss Lulu Cliff married Cooper about three months after the accident.

On the stand the plaintiffs declared the motorman on the car failed to give a signal of any description, and as some trees hid the corner they were unable to see anything until they were struck. It is on this ground that they have brought the suits.

The defense declares an alarm was given, but that the couple did not appear to notice the car, although the conductor declared he saw them all right, in spite of the trees, and expected they would turn or stop.

The crash demolished the automobile and threw the occupants a considerable distance, and they allege permanent injury and shock to their systems from which they have not yet fully recovered. Mr. Cooper declared he had been confined to his bed for over two weeks following the accident.

The defense sprung a surprise in court on this testimony by producing a photograph of Cooper, which he was compelled to admit had been taken the day after the accident in a local garage. On the stand Cooper declared he had been confined to his bed for over two weeks following the accident.

SIMPLE ASSAULT IS CHARGED TO HINDU Foreigner in Country but Two Months Delayed Too Long in Resenting Blow, is Opinion of Court

Explaining to the court that the striking of a blow in his country was the most violent form of insult known, Ahmed Ali, the Hindu held on the charge of assaulting Mike Serry with a deadly weapon, pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of simple assault yesterday morning and was sentenced to two days in the county jail by Judge Davis.

In the testimony it came out that Ali had only been in the United States two months and was new to the customs of this country. He is the sole support of his mother and small brothers in India, and in view of the fact that he had already spent over a month in jail the prosecuting attorney was inclined to let him down as light as possible. It was explained to him that if he would plead guilty to simple assault he would be given a light sentence, and he agreed.

In the testimony it came out that Ali had been with such force as to knock one of his teeth out. He was dazed at the time and did not retaliate. Smirking under the charge of assault, he was taking a stick of wood he had carried with him and was about to strike Serry with a blow on the head.

It was his delay in retaliating which appeared to constitute his real offense, and it is understood he would have gone free if he had struck back instantly in the heat of passion. Nursing his revenge and considering the real offense of Ali, who, however, was delighted at getting off with such a short sentence.

WANTS LIFE INSURANCE OF HUSBAND SHE LEFT Despite Second Marriage, Woman is After Estate of Her First Liege Lord

Seeking collection of the $1000 insurance policy of her first husband in the Independent Order of Foresters, Mrs. Anna Ganset has filed suit in the superior court against the organization to compel payment.

Her first husband, Stephen T. Podurg, was a member of the Foresters, in which he took out insurance after she left him. She married E. Ganset over a year ago and shortly afterward her former husband died.

On the grounds that she "had a vital interest in him in view of the fact that she had supported her," she now seeks to secure his insurance.

E., to recover $382, which he claims is due him for rooms he prepared for the delegates of the lodge during the Elks' convention of 1909 in Los Angeles. He alleges the lodge contracted with him for forty rooms, each at the rate of $2 a head for five days. He declares that only $28 was given him, that the Elks did not use the rooms, and he is endeavoring to recover an outlay in preparing for them of $382.

CANDY COMPANY IS SUED R. L. Schenck has filed suit in the superior court for $10,000 damages against Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Young for injuries he is alleged to have sustained by coming heavily to the ground in a defective elevator operated by the defendants. In his complaint he states that he was delivering ice to the Pin-Ton Candy company on Broadway by the elevator and because of its defective construction and the negligence he was precipitated to the basement, where he sustained a broken arm and other injuries.

HEARS TESTIMONY OF HAY After two days' testimony regarding the property owned by William A. Hay, the real estate man, had been given in the superior court before Judge Hervey in the suit instituted by his divorced wife for an equal division, all the verbal testimony was heard yesterday afternoon, and the rest of the evidence will be submitted by briefs. The defendant claims he is worth only $75,000, while his former wife is endeavoring to prove that he is worth $100,000.

FOOTBALL IS ABOLISHED BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 11.—The student body of Illinois State Normal university was started yesterday by the announcement of President David Felmy that the faculty had decided to abolish permanently intercollegiate football because of the physical danger and the lessening in scholarship of those identified with the sport. HUSBAND RELEASED; WIFE HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE Information Alleging Mrs. Grant Sold Hotel Property Belonging to Another is Filed

Information was filed by the district attorney in Judge Willis' court yesterday charging Margie Virginia Grant with obtaining money under false pretenses by selling property which did not belong to her.

The defendant is charged with representing that she and her husband, John Grant, owned the furniture and personal property in the residence at 1401 Winfield street, together with a five-year lease on the place, dating from August 13, 1909. She is alleged to have sold their "holdings" to Ella Richey for the sum of $1600.

When she came to take possession Mrs. Richey found that A. C. Smith claimed the lease and property as his own, and both Mr. and Mrs. Grant were recently arraigned in Justice Summerfield's court on the charge of fraud. A writ of habeas corpus against the husband was dismissed and the charge of obtaining money by false pretense has been placed against Mrs. Grant.

PARTIAL DISTRIBUTION OF GERMAIN ESTATE ORDERED Block on Spring Street Valued at $400,000 Given to Widow of Late Capitalist

Judge Hervey of the probate court yesterday afternoon granted an order to Mrs. Caroline Germain for a partial distribution of the estate of the late Eugene Germain, who died in February 18, 1909, leaving property and effects valued at $982,622.99.

Mrs. Germain, the widow, with four children are heirs to the estate, the former and Clara Germain being the executors. The order for distribution made yesterday in favor of the applicant resulted in the Germain block on Spring street being turned over to her. This block is valued at $400,000, but mortgages and other claims upon it amount to about $350,000, leaving a balance of $50,000.

FINAL SETTLEMENT OF KEATING ESTATE DELAYED Proper Presentation to Court of Claims Amounting to $8000 Cause of Postponement

Final settlement of the estate of Isabel Keating Smith, which has figured extensively in the probate court for the past few weeks, was again continued by Judge Hervey yesterday afternoon on the ground that the differences required to be settled had not been properly given to the court.

The case in question is a matter of about $8000 claimed by Henry Keating, which prevented the approval of the accounts of Elmer E. McDowell, administrator of the estate, and has nothing to do with the legal tangle in which the Keating estate has been involved for some time.

SUES REDDING LODGE L. R. Dows has filed suit in the superior court against the Redding lodge, B. P. O.
