

$787.50
Double Trip to the Orient

THE HERALD is going to send two candidates to the Orient, through China and Japan, with stopover privilege at Honolulu and at all ports of call in the Orient. This double trip will be good for twelve months and will include transportation, staterooms and meals on board. By "double" trip is meant a trip for TWO persons, the winner of this prize and a companion to be named by the winner. Stopover privileges will comprise stopovers at all "ports of call," i. e., all ports in the Hawaiian islands, China and Japan visited by the Tenyo Kisen Kaisha (Oriental steamship) company's ships. Japan, China and Hawaii are all beautiful countries. Here is what Mr. W. H. Avery, assistant general manager of the T. K. K. S. S. company, wrote in a letter to the Contest Department: "We will make this trip a memorable one for your winners." The Herald guests travel on either the Tenyo Maru or Chiyu Maru, the most elegant ships on the Pacific coast. These trips will be a treat of a lifetime. They are the Third Capital Prize.

$600 Mahogany Dining Room Set

WE have purchased from the Mackie - Foley company, 723 - 735 South Hill street, a nine-piece Colonial dining room set, made of solid Cuban mahogany. This set includes extension table, sideboard, china closet, five side chairs and one arm chair. Go and see this set. No matter how pretty a picture you may have in your mind this set will surpass all expectations. It is made in Grand Rapids, Mich. — the home of good furniture — and the fact that the Mackie-Foley company stand behind this set is of importance to all careful furniture lovers. It is a beauty! This is the First Grand Prize.

$750—Lindemann Grand Piano

THE Lindemann piano was first made in Dresden, Saxony, and is being made today by descendants of the original Lindemann. We have purchased a beautiful Grand Piano from the Fitzgerald Music Company, 523 South Broadway, where it is now on exhibition. Words cannot do it justice; go and see it! This is the Fourth Capital Prize.

$500—in Jewelry
All
Special Prizes

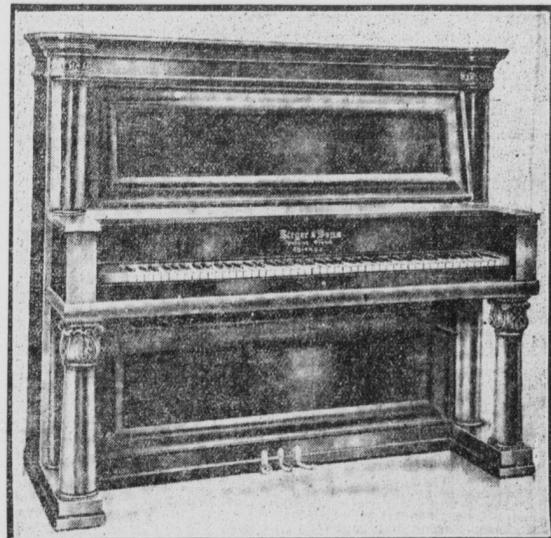

The Herald has purchased from
S. B. Bailey
the well-known manufacturing jeweler,

$500 Worth of Jewelry

Comprising Diamond Rings, Gold Watches, etc., to be awarded as special prizes at frequent intervals during the Voting Contest.

See Page 4 for Special Nomination Prize Announcement.

$600 Steger "Innovation" Upright

FOR a special prize (to be awarded as announced at a near date) nothing could be more attractive nor a more generous offer than this piano, a $600 Steger "Innovation" Upright, truly an innovation in style of case, appealing to those whose artistic sense is most delighted by the unusual.

$300—De Chauvenet Conservatory

THE De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Art, with Jean de Chauvenet—the second De Pachmann—as its dean, is one of the West's leading institutions of its kind. It offers complete graded courses of study under thorough and highly qualified instructors in piano, voice, organ, violin, orchestral instruments, languages, dramatic art and all kindred branches. These are special prizes.

$100—Instruction in Violin

KARL PROCHNOW, with the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Art, will instruct winners of these prizes. These courses are to be awarded as Special Prizes. Instruction under Professor Prochnow is a prize that is a prize.

$500—Bank Account

WE have deposited with the Oils and Metals Bank and Trust company $500. The picture shows the check with which the deposit was made. The winner of this prize has something which hardly needs any lengthy description. It speaks for itself. Five hundred dollars is not often obtained through pleasant work and a few weeks of pleasant energy at that. Will your name be the one which goes to the bank as the name of the winner? It rests entirely with you. This is the Second Grand Prize.

$900—Imperial Valley Property

WE have purchased four Imperial valley lots, valued in the aggregate at $900. Two of these are located in the hustling city of Brawley and the other two in Westmoreland. These lots will be awarded as special prizes. So for a few days' effort four candidates are going to receive awards which will go on growing in value with time's passing. Brawley and Westmoreland are thriving centers of Imperial valley—and no Californian needs be told anything about Imperial valley. It is as rich a section as can be found in the world. Any property in the valley is valuable, and Brawley and Westmoreland are in the very center of this wonderful area. Watch for further facts regarding these lots, methods of awarding, etc.

WE have purchased scholarships in the Page Military Academy to half of this amount, and in the Page Seminary another $350. These will be prizes that are sure to create brisk competition. Page Military Academy, 137 West Adams street, is a model institution of its kind and the boy who receives his training there is fitted for his life's work in the most thorough manner. Above is a picture of the exterior of Page Seminary. Both scholarships include board and lodging for a full term, as well as tuition, so are prizes that are wholly complete and attractive indeed.

$300—Double Trip to Honolulu

UNDER the setting sun, in the mid-Pacific, lie the Hawaiian islands, offering the traveler more alluring features than any country in the world. The Herald has purchased from the Matson Navigation company of San Francisco two round trips to Honolulu, capital and chief city of the Hawaiian group. The value of these two trips is $300, but the pleasures and beauties in this voyage cannot be measured in dollars. The sea voyage, the scenery and scenes of the islands; their people and their customs—all are delightful. This double trip is the Third Grand Prize. Remember, by "double trip" is meant a trip for the winner and his or her companion—to be named by the candidate. So nominate yourself and have some near relative or dear friend as your "first lieutenant." The winner and companion will travel on the "Wilhelmina," a fast, fine steamship, with every modern feature.
