HORTENSE NIELSEN WILL OPEN THEATER AS CARMEN

The new Nielsen theater, formerly the Walker, Grand avenue, near Seventh street, will open tonight with a production of "Carmen," the drama. Hortense Nielsen, who will essay the role of Carmen, has surrounded herself with a company of forty of the best stock players in the west. Among them is Mace Greenleaf, who will be seen as Don Jose. Mr. Greenleaf has not appeared on the stage for more than two and a half years, and his re-entry in the theatrical world has been hailed with delight by the many thousands who have previously seen him.

The Nielsen theater will be devoted to stock productions of the highest order. Following "Carmen" Manager C. A. Quintard announces Maurice Maeterlinck's masterpiece, "Mamma Yanna." Miss Nielsen is one of the most capable exponents of the classic and literary drama in the United States. She has the distinction of being the only actress who made a fortune from the literary drama.

For "Carmen" Manager Quintard has spared no expense in making it a most elaborate production. New scenery, new costumes, and a newly decorated and furnished theater are some of the good qualities of the Nielsen production of "Carmen."

DUDLEY LOSES POINT IN CONTEST FOR MAYORALTY

A writ of prohibition, applied for against the superior court by T. H. Dudley, mayor of Santa Monica, defendant in an election contest brought by Roy Jones, his opponent in the city election last December, was denied yesterday by the district court of appeals. Jones was defeated by Dudley by a margin of ten votes.

The ground on which the application for the writ was made was that an order calling a special session of the superior court for the purpose of conducting a recount of the votes of the election was not issued in due time, and that the court thereby lost its jurisdiction in the case.

WINS AND LOSES SUIT

Judge Moss yesterday rendered a verdict for both the plaintiff and the defendant in the suit of K. Lundeen against Helen E. Stone for the recovery of money on two promissory notes. He awarded judgment for the plaintiff on a note for $500 and judgment for the defendant on a note for $540.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED

Divorce suits filed in the superior court yesterday are as follows: Grace L. Kelley vs. John J. Kelley; Willis E. Gaines vs. Mary L. Gaines.

DESCENDING ELEVATOR INJURES HOTEL GUEST

Little Girl Prevented from Following Father Through Prompt Action of Porter

C. L. Newhouse of Bottineau, N. D., was severely injured and his little daughter Nellie narrowly escaped being hurt yesterday when the elevator in the Hollenbeck hotel dropped suddenly from the first floor to the basement.

Mr. Newhouse's right leg was broken. The accident undoubtedly would have resulted seriously for the little girl had it not been for the presence of mind of Frank Morgan, a porter employed in the hotel, who, seeing her about to step back into the cage as it started to sink, rushed forward and seized her. Mr. Newhouse and his daughter entered the elevator on the second floor, intending to go out for their luncheon. When they reached the ground floor the elevator boy threw the door open and little Nellie stepped out. Her father was about to follow her, and, in fact, had placed his right foot on the floor of the building when the cage began to descend. It dropped so suddenly that before the man could withdraw his foot he was thrown over backward and lay with one foot protruding. In this position his leg was caught between the side of the elevator and the elevator shaft and broken just above the ankle.

When she saw her father still in the elevator and the cage sinking from sight, the little girl became excited and started to rush back into the car. Porter Morgan, who was standing some ten feet away, turned in time to see the little girl start for the open shaft, and instantly he made a dive for her, clutched her dress and dragged her back just as she was about to plunge down the shaft.

Mr. Newhouse was taken to his room, where the fracture was reduced. No blame for the accident is to be attached to the management of the hotel, as the city elevator inspector had just inspected the machine a few days ago. The operator in charge was a licensed operator, and it is believed that the accident was caused by some misunderstanding between the operator and Mr. Newhouse, the former believing that Mr. Newhouse desired to go down to the basement and only the little girl desired to alight at the first floor.

When seen yesterday Mr. Newhouse seemed to believe that no one was to blame for the matter, and expressed himself as being thankful that nothing more serious than a broken leg resulted.

While working at the bottom of the elevator shaft in the Wright & Callender building yesterday morning Frank Fitzgerald, a janitor was struck by a descending car, suffering a double fracture of the right arm and numerous bruises.

FITZGERALD'S REPUTATION BEHIND PRIZE PIANOS

When a firm with so well established a reputation for reliability and fair dealing as the Fitzgerald Music company has no hesitation in guaranteeing an instrument, it speaks volumes. And this they have done in the case of the Henry & S. G. Lindeman Baby Grand, and the Steger & Sons Upright, which The Herald has purchased from them to be given away in connection with the $25,000 voting contest which it is now conducting. These instruments may be seen at any time at the store of the Fitzgerald Music company, 222 South Broadway. The contestant who wins either of them may well be proud of the prize.

$5000 SUIT IS RESULT OF TRIP TO CONTINENT

Dressmaker Says Rich Woman Induced Her to Give Up Business

An unusual suit is that filed yesterday in the superior court by Miss Margaret R. Rose against Frances L. Mooers, a wealthy woman, for $5000 damages for failure of the latter to carry out her promises to give that amount to the plaintiff.

In her complaint Miss Rose states that for several years prior to 1903 she conducted a dressmaking store on South Broadway which brought in a revenue of about $3000 a year. She did work valued at $500 for the defendant, and the latter suggested that she accompany her to Europe on an extended tour. She declares the defendant offered her $5000 if she would make the trip, or she would give her a house and lot equal to that amount. They went to Great Britain and the continent, she alleges, and she took care of her for a number of years, during which time the defendant was constantly ill.

Finally, the plaintiff alleges, they returned to Los Angeles prior to 1907, and she was much worn out from her care of the defendant, whom she alleges refused to give her the $5000 agreed upon, or a house of a relative value. Consequently she has filed suit for damages on the ground that the defendant talked her into giving up a lucrative business to go on a fruitless trip to Europe.

The preliminary hearing of Charles Williams, alias "The Duster," charged with having attempted to steal a diamond stud from Attorney Le Compe Davis, which was set for yesterday in Justice Pierce's court, was continued until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

SHOOTING AFFAIR BECOMES MYSTERY

Mexican Who Figured in Whittier Road Revolver Fight Disappears

YOUTH AT POINT OF DEATH Frank Howard Injured, Tells His Story of Encounter with Horse Thief

The shooting of Frank Howard, 21 years old, who is lying at the point of death in the Whittier hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen as a result of a running revolver fight with a Mexican Thursday night on the Whittier road, near Jordan road, five miles east of the city of Whittier, has developed into a mystery which the local authorities so far have been unable to solve.

Sheriff Hammel, accompanied by a number of deputies, Thursday night searched for the man who is supposed to have shot Howard following an argument between them over a stolen horse. The sheriff returned from Whittier yesterday morning without any clues as to the whereabouts of the wanted man, but left again in the afternoon for San Fernando on a clew which may result in an arrest. Up to a late hour last night he had not returned.

Fearing that Howard would die from his injuries, Chief Detective Browne of the city attorney's office and Deputy District Attorney Hill went to the hospital late yesterday afternoon and secured an ante-mortem statement from the dying Arizona cowboy in which he told of the shooting and the circumstances.

BUYS STOLEN HORSE

According to Howard's story, the man who shot him sold him a horse for $50 which it is said the Mexican stole from his employer, C. A. Friend, a rancher near Santa Ana, for whom he had been working the past six months. Howard said Friend told him the horse had been stolen and for him to try to find it for him. Howard stated that he saw the Mexican riding the horse on a road about seven miles north of Long Beach, and upon recognizing it as the one stolen he bought it. He could not give any description of his assailant other than that he is a Mexican and wore overalls and a black slouch hat. He said he had only seen him twice previous to the shooting Thursday night. Howard declared he fired only two shots and that the Mexican fired one.

"I can not tell whether my shots hit him or not, because after he fired at me he galloped away toward Whittier," said Howard. "I was riding along the road on a horse toward Whittier and the Mexican from whom I bought the horse came up to me from behind. I asked him where he was going and he replied he was going into the foothills beyond Whittier. We rode a few feet farther and he turned and fired at me."

According to reports received from Santa Ana, Howard is alleged to have stolen a horse from Friend, his employer, Tuesday night, which Friend caught him riding as he rode from a livery stable at Long Beach. When asked where he had procured the horse he replied he bought it from the man who had stolen it from Friend's ranch.

CONTRADICTORY STATEMENTS

Howard was closely interrogated by Detective Browne and Deputy Hill as to his past record and circumstances surrounding the purchase of the horse, but his statements were contradictory, which it is thought was due to his intense suffering.

Different theories have been advanced as to the real cause of the shooting, but nothing has developed which points to a solution. Sheriff Hammel has not yet returned yesterday morning without any clues as to the whereabouts of the Mexican. It is thought that he may be lying injured somewhere near Whittier. The horse which he was riding at the time of the shooting could not be found.

Howard's mother is said to live at Latin station on the Long Beach electric line. A verification of the identity of the Mexican was furnished by Howard.

An effort was made to learn the identity of the Mexican from Friend and other ranchmen living in the vicinity of the purchase of the horse, but nothing could be learned.

"I Buy Angelus $3 Shoes in Preference to Paying $4 to $5 for My Footwear"

That's a secret one woman whispered to the writer a few days since. She appreciated the broad variety of styles there was here to choose from; she appreciated the splendid way Angelus shoes are made; she appreciated the splendid comfort she derived from wearing them; but, best of all, she appreciated the difference in price between the "Angelus" and the "higher grade shoes"; and there wasn't one of her friends could tell the difference between her footwear and the $4 and $5 company they kept. Doesn't this incident reveal the importance of your investigating this Angelus $3 line? These are not ordinary $3 shoes—if they were we wouldn't be able to satisfy so many people.

PRISONER ESCAPES WHILE JAILER ANSWERS PHONE

Takes Advantage of Open Door and Enjoys Short Liberty

STOCKTON, April 1.—Louis A. Bailey, who is awaiting trial in the county jail here, escaped today while the jailer was answering the telephone. He was captured later at the point of a gun by deputy sheriffs, who pursued him in an automobile.

Through an oversight his door was left open and he managed to slip past the jailer in the front room of the jail to the front entrance, which was opened to receive provisions. Bailey has a long criminal record.
