Undermuslins of Unusual Quality

You can't carry goods "in your eye." Even our most expert buyers select by comparison. We want you to compare these undermuslins on special sale with others; to be painstaking and exacting; to spend your money to best advantage.

Silk for June Brides Nowhere hereabouts can you find a more comprehensive array of silks suitable for the shimmering gowns of white that are being planned in many homes just now, for June brides and "sweet girl graduates."

NEW THINGS IN WOOL DRESS GOODS INEXPENSIVE AND THOROUGHLY GOOD Women who like to keep fully abreast of Fashion's tendencies will be much interested in the news which follows—it means money-saving possibilities:

B. Priestley's Tussah Royal is a new silk finished crepe weave which is enjoying great popularity this summer; it sheds dust beautifully and won't crease or wrinkle; shown in a full line of colors, 44 inches wide, at... $1.50

A new English mohair Sicilian in gray, blue, tan or black, is much in demand for separate skirts, tailored suits and motoring coats; its weight is just right, and its luster is very attractive. This goods, 54 inches wide, at... $3.50

We will make complete suits from this mohair for... $10.75

Anglo-Saxon Alliance The visit of ex-President Roosevelt to London has revived the subject of an alliance between the English speaking nations. This fascinating topic will be discussed tonight at the Gospel pavilion, corner of Main and Fifteenth streets, at 7:30, by Evangelist J. W. McCord of London, England, under the title "Will America and England Rule the World?" (A Bible prediction). The evangelists are drawing large crowds each evening. Come early. Free seats.
