

NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH IN FLAMES

Three Persons Forced to Fight Way Through Blaze and Are Painfully Burned

ORIGIN OF FIRE MYSTERIOUS

Occupants of Dwelling Unable to Account for Conflagration. Paralytic in Danger

Roused from slumber by the crackling of flames, to find themselves hemmed in by fire, three persons narrowly escaped death last night in a fire of mysterious origin at the home of Mrs. L. B. Foote at 431 North Teasdale avenue. Jacob Gladman and his wife and A. Lefcovitz, a relative of Mrs. Gladman, occupied the rooms in which the fire originated, and all three were painfully burned in fighting their way through the flames by which they were surrounded. Daniel Sweeney, a partial paralytic, who occupied a room directly over that of the Gladmans, was overcome by smoke and was carried from the apartment unconscious, but soon recovered. Gladman, when aroused by the fire, grasped his wife in his arms and, dashing through the flames, hurled himself through the glass screen of the window of their room to the roof of a porch at the front of the house, carrying the woman with him. Gladman sustained a number of painful burns about the arms and legs and Mrs. Gladman was burned about the arms and shoulders. Lefcovitz ran through the fire to the door of his room and escaped into the hall, being also burned about the arms and legs.

Mrs. V. S. Terry, Who Will Travel 10,000 Miles on a Seven-Foot Ticket

REVISITS PLANTATION HOME IN TENNESSEE

Mrs. Terry Takes Long Trip to Celebrate 70th Birthday with Girlhood Friends

ONE NIGHT STAND WINS THRONE FOR AN ACTRESS

Governor of French West Africa Loves Beauty on Sight

PARIS, June 25.—Mlle. Juliette Thaldy now shares an almost viceregal throne. Six months ago she was an unknown young actress. The other day she was quietly married to M. Merlaud-Ponty, governor of French West Africa. The story of her engagement and courtship was rapid and dramatic. Last September a company in which she was touring was homeward bound from South America. The manager decided to give one performance at Dakar, on the coast of West Africa, where the ship called for twelve hours, and he called to that effect. The boat was due at 6 o'clock p. m., and the performance was announced for 8 o'clock. A storm delayed the vessel several hours and she stood off Dakar at midnight. "No give the performance," she will remember the company off in canoes ashore in the dead of night and toward 1 o'clock the performance was ready to begin.

Ten thousand miles on a railroad ticket seven feet long—said to be the longest ever sold out of Los Angeles! Such is the outing Mrs. Victoria S. Terry is enjoying. She is now at the old plantation home in Tennessee, where she went as a bride years ago. Today she is celebrating her seventieth anniversary.

Mrs. Terry left May 25, accompanied by her grandson, Calvin McAuley, on a tour to Tennessee and other points, and her ticket, which covers ten thousand miles, is the longest ticket ever sold out of Los Angeles over the railroads.

Mrs. Terry will visit her old home where she went as a bride and which has been in the Baird family over one hundred years. The plantation, called "Forest Home," is in Wilson county, Tennessee, between Nashville and Lebanon, and consists of 2000 acres.

Mrs. Terry will also visit friends in Washington and New York, returning by way of the Canadian Pacific, stopping at all points of interest. En route east they visited San Antonio and New Orleans.

Mrs. Terry was born in Princeton, Kentucky, and married Z. A. Baird, who took his bride to the old home in Tennessee with his host of negro slaves. The small railroad which connected the two cities of Nashville and Lebanon was built by his orders. When Mrs. Terry reached the plantation word was sent to all the old friends, as well as the old servants who were still there, and the whole country turned out southern fashion to greet her.

Mrs. Terry became the wife of Dr. A. W. Terry some years after the death of Mr. Baird, and upon Dr. Terry's death came with her daughter to Los Angeles, where she has lived sixteen years. Mrs. Terry is a member of the Ebell club and is quite prominent in society here. She lives at 1210 Ingraham street.

WINSTED, Conn., June 25.—A chicken with four legs was hatched at Bradley Bros. in Lee, ten days ago, but it died yesterday when nobody was looking. A herd of about ten deer this week ruined a piece of rye in Heppaug, owned by Pleasant Valentine. Commissioners appointed to appraise Valentine's loss awarded him $20.

A number of persons stood on a back porch at Mad River last night looking for Halley's comet. One of them finally pointed out a light streak which he thought was the tail. His companions thought likewise and they were admiring it and looking sharply for the head of the comet, when somebody reading overhead put out a washing on a new clothes line—the comet's tail.

COLORADO GENIUS INVENTS WONDERFUL NEW MACHINE

William L. Abbott of Denver has invented a house furnace that is also a cook stove and a small power plant, according to the New York Mercantile and Financial Times. Its official name is the Abbott Air and Electric machine. The device consists of a small gas engine operating a duplex air compressor of an entirely new type. This engine is used to fill the air tank up to a certain pressure only. Then by the introduction of electric sparks into the tanks the air is made to expand and the pressure is greatly increased. When the maximum pressure is reached the compressed air reacts upon a second engine whose motive power is obtained from the air itself. It is this engine which works without fuel and apparently without cost, that continues to pump air and to maintain a working pressure in the air reservoirs. This air power engine operates a dynamo which transforms the energy into an electric current that may be carried on wires to any part of the building.

The power thus supplied may be used in lighting fixtures, heat radiators, electric cook stoves, motor running electric fans, exhaust and ventilating systems, and to pumps for raising water from cisterns, wells, etc.

LOCAL Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE NEW PHYSICAL DIRECTOR

Roy Horning Will Act as Assistant to W. A. Reynolds

The Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. has secured the services of Roy W. Horning, late physical director of the University school for boys at Stone Mountain, Ga., as assistant physical director of the local association. He will be there to take up his work Tuesday. Horning will have complete charge of the physical department for a short time shortly after his arrival as Physical Director W. A. Reynolds will leave early in July for the east to be married.

Mr. Horning comes to Los Angeles highly recommended by the school with which he was formerly connected, and also from the Y. M. C. A. of Atlanta and Macon, Ga., with both of which he has been connected.

Not only has the new physical director a complete and scientific knowledge of indoor gymnasium work, but he is also an expert in coaching outdoor sports, such as basketball, baseball and track. In four years, while at the University school, he turned out two state championship basketball teams and one second place team, and winning teams in both baseball and track.

LONG BEACH TO HAVE MARATHON RACE AUG. 6-8

Southern California Logrolling Association Makes Plans

At the meeting of the Southern California Logrolling association, held last night, it was decided to have a Marathon race again this year at the picnic at Long Beach August 6, 7 and 8. Delegates were present from Long Beach, Pasadena, Pomona and other places outside of the city, while the Los Angeles camps of Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen were all represented.

At the beach the Forester teams and regiments will have an encampment at the high school grounds and there the prize drills will be held. During the three days of the picnic prominent members of the two orders will be there and make addresses.

In addition to the marathon race there will be other sports, foot races, mounted ball games between teams representing different camps.

The Pacific Electric is preparing to handle big crowds for the picnic and will advertise it extensively.

ANTI-DOG AGITATION UNPOPULAR IN TURKEY

People of Constantinople Befriend Canines on Religious Grounds

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 25.—There is something like a social revolt here over the suggestion that the city shall get rid of its dogs. It is said that when the dogs were banished before war with Russia followed, and the Turkish reverses were popularly attributed to the evil results of the banishment of the dogs. The dog is an unclean animal, according to the Mussulman belief, and one is never allowed inside the door of a believer.

But the dog is an outcast, and the Koran directs the followers of Muhammad to help the outcast. The Mussulman is, therefore, logical in excluding the unclean animals from his house and, on the other hand, giving the outcast the freedom of the streets and feeding him with refuse.

The dog is, however, a source of disease and of frequent pestilences. According to the director of the Pasteur Institute in Constantinople, there are 80,000 dogs at large in the streets, which suffer from all sorts of disease that they spread around. Their dead bodies give rise to a curious industry. Certain of the intestines are of fine skinlike quality, and these are removed and shipped to America chiefly for the making of fine gloves. They are made up in sacks of twelve pounds each, for which 36 cents is charged, a rate of $3.50 per cwt., and the export of these intestines is estimated at 10,000 sacks. A thousand persons live by this industry. Perhaps that explains the agitation against the banishment of the dog.

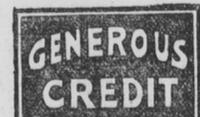

You can buy it, perhaps at many places, but there's one BEST place to buy it—and that place advertises.

CORPORATIONS PRODDED TO HURRY TAX PAYMENTS

Revenue Collector Parker Mails Second Notices

Claude I. Parker, internal revenue collector for this district, has mailed second notices to all corporations which have not paid the corporation tax, and as June 30 is the last day allowed by law before the assessments become delinquent, Collector Parker is of the opinion that the final rush will be so great that some will be unable to pay in time and on being left out will have to pay a penalty.

This tax is levied by the government from reports showing the corporations' net incomes from January 1 to December 31, 1909. About $200,000 has been assessed against the corporations of this district, but up to the present time only $80,000 has been paid in.

Collector Parker has done all in his power to prevent delinquencies and penalties, but the majority of the corporation officials have not appeared with their tax money. June 30 is also the last day on which special taxpayers may make their final payment, therefore Collector Parker and his assistants will be very busy.

RELIGIOUS PROCESSION ENDS IN PRIEST'S DEATH

GENEVA, June 25.—A religious procession and service at Aitdorf, the chief town in the canton of Uri, came to an abrupt and tragic end.

The procession, led by Cure Kappler, who was supported by acolytes, entered the church and the priest, praying, mounted the steps of the altar. When all the persons were in the building the priest faced the congregation and with uplifted hands commenced to repeat the benediction, when he swayed and fell dead on the altar steps. A doctor was soon on the spot, and he declared that heart failure was the cause of death.

MULEY HAFID'S REIGN AS SULTAN ALMOST ENDED

FEZ, June 25.—According to both native and European opinion here, Sultan Muley Hafid's reign cannot last for more than two months longer. The fighting between the rebellious tribes and the sultan's troops is now taking place around Fez.

Some days ago the sultan sent the lord high chamberlain to the scene of the fighting with orders to bring back some heads of rebels and some prisoners at any cost, to impress the Fez citizens. This week he sent back three heads stuck on spears and eleven prisoners.

The Fez people are much amused, for they declare that six of the eleven prisoners have been recognized as soldiers of the sultan, while the heads, though so mutilated as to be unrecognizable, are also believed to be those of soldiers and not the rebels.

TO DEDICATE THE TORAH IN HEBREW SYNAGOGUE

Services will be held in the synagogue at Twelfth and Valencia streets this evening at 7:30 o'clock, the occasion being the dedication of a "torah" (scroll of the Hebrew law), which was presented to Sinai congregation by Mr. and Mrs. A. Granas of 1101 Westlake avenue.

The "torah" is the holiest of religious articles used in a Jewish temple, and when not in use is kept locked in a specially prepared closet in the rear of the pulpit. It is regarded with much reverence and is very costly. In order to be confirmed a male member of the Hebrew race must be capable of reading from the "torah."

The one presented by Mr. and Mrs. Granas arrived from New York Thursday. It has two mantles, one of white

NEW INDUSTRIAL DISTRICTS RECOMMENDED TO BOARD

Several new industrial districts are recommended in a report of the board of public works which will be submitted to the city council at its next meeting.

The boundaries of the proposed districts are as follows: That portion of the city bounded by Arlington, Third, Santa Monica and Santa Barbara avenues.

That portion of the city bounded by Jefferson street, Grand avenue, the Southern Pacific's right of way and Hope street.

That portion of the city bounded by Pasadena avenue, Avenue 36 and Carleton boulevard.

MCCLAIN AGAIN CHOSEN TO LEAD INDIANA SOCIETY

At the annual meeting of the Indiana society in Maple hall, Fraternal Brotherhood building, Friday night, President J. W. McClain was re-elected; George Rumble, vice president; E. L. Moon, treasurer, and Mrs. John C. Mahlin, secretary.

The membership contest was won by Miss Bertha McClain. She received a silver loving cup. Mrs. Moon won a rocking chair.

An entertainment committee was appointed and it will plan to make each meeting lively and interesting. A large reception committee will meet all strangers who attend future meetings and see that they are entertained. Regular meetings are held in Maple hall the fourth Friday evening of each month.
