

THROW SIDELIGHT ON STRANGE CASE

Thompsons, Accused of Receiving Stolen Money, Have $50,000 in Property Here

FLIGHT THEORY ATTACKED

Detective Browne Starts for Reno to Bring Back Attorney and His Wife

Samuel L. Browne, chief of District Attorney Fredericks' department of criminal investigation, left last night for Reno, Nev., to bring back to Los Angeles Attorney Fred Thompson and his wife, who are charged by Orlando F. Altorre, a convicted federal prisoner, with having received stolen property, Altorre claiming that the Thompsons had fled this city with $15,000 in currency which Altorre confessed to stealing while employed as a clerk in the Los Angeles postoffice.

Detective Browne will proceed to Reno by way of San Francisco, where he will be joined by Postoffice Inspector O'Connell.

Friends of Attorney Thompson, among them several professional men of this city, are loth to believe that Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left Los Angeles to evade arrest.

The Thompsons have a beautiful home, which is not incumbered by a mortgage, while Mrs. Thompson owns several valuable properties in Los Angeles. Their joint holdings are estimated to total about $50,000. Neighbors of the Thompsons assert that on various occasions the attorney has made up his mind on the impulse of the moment to take pleasure trips out of the city with Mrs. Thompson and that on such occasions he told no one of his exact destination. Those who feel assured that Mr. Thompson will be able to clear himself of all charges in connection with the Altorre case point out that had he and his wife contemplated remaining away from Los Angeles they would have disposed of their holdings, which are said to amount to three times as much as the sum Altorre accuses them of securing from him. It is pointed out, also, that had they wished to avoid detection they would not have made Reno their destination, for they certainly would have realized that many prominent people of Los Angeles would be in Reno to see the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

WOMAN HELPS HUSBAND

The Thompsons were married eighteen years ago. At first Thompson was employed by a railroad company. Mrs. Thompson was ambitious to have him study law, however, and he yielded to her persuasion. During the time that he was studying law she conducted a grocery store near Eighth and Olive streets and also managed an apartment house in Olive street, near Second. After he was admitted to the bar she determined to be near him, studied stenography and took a clerkship in his office. Here she, too, studied law, and recently she passed at least one term and possibly two as a pupil of the law school of Southern California.

A devoted mother, caring for her two children and ambitious for their ultimate success in life, Mrs. Thompson has left them to the care of teachers that she might be constantly at the side of her husband. Recently, as his eccentricities have become more pronounced, she has found much relaxation in taking long motor trips, frequently calling her from her business or household duties with only a moment's notice to go away on some trip of several days' duration. It is evident, say friends of Mrs. Thompson, that she has been worried over frequent mental disturbances which have afflicted her husband recently.

RECRUITING STATION RESUMES OPERATIONS

United States Wants Machinists for Service in Navy

The local United States recruiting station resumed operations yesterday after being closed since June 20, and now all applicants for positions in the navy will be given the same treatment as the necessary entrance examinations. A bill recently passed by congress providing for an addition of 3000 men to the present complement of the navy will be in effect by the time the necessary entrance examinations are given.

The local recruiting officers are anxious to secure a number of machinists for naval service. According to Lieut. A. Stanton, who is in charge here, this class of seamen is most in demand and the hardest to secure.

At the same time the position pays $44 per month to begin with and with a little work on the machinist's part he can be drawing a salary of $77 per month a short time after enlistment. Other positions besides machinists also offer good chances of promotion to recruits. The men are allowed to take the examinations for promotion often and may, by passing these, work up to be warrant or even commissioned officers.

THINKS LITTLE CRIPPLE IS ON WAY TO CURE

Gordon Campbell, an 8-year-old Pasadena boy who underwent a serious operation in the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, Wednesday, is reported to be recovering. The boy's mother is with him constantly. Surgeons operated on the tendon of Achilles of each leg, and if the operation is successful the boy, who has been a cripple since his birth, will be enabled to walk perfectly. It will be three weeks before it can be determined whether the operation was fully successful. Citizens of Pasadena raised $300 for the treatment of the boy, and his condition is being watched by his friends with anxiety. Arthur K. Wyatt and P. E. Culver were instrumental in the raising of the fund.

WILL HOLD NEGROES FOR MURDER OF CHAS. SMITH

Complaints charging Fred Young and Joe McClarity, negroes, with the killing of Charles Smith, one of their own race, June 23, will be filed this morning in Police Judge Chambers' court by Deputy District Attorney Arthur Veitch. An inquest was held yesterday over the body of Smith and a verdict of death caused by a gunshot wound, inflicted by Young, was returned by the jury.

McClarity is alleged to have furnished Young with a revolver with which he shot and killed Smith, which under the laws of the state makes him an accessory before the fact or a principal to the crime.

While crossing Spring street at Sixth yesterday afternoon Josephine Laughlin, a 12-year-old school girl, living at 237 West Avenue Fifty-five, was knocked down and slightly injured by an automobile. She sustained numerous abrasions about the body, which were treated at the receiving hospital. The driver of the automobile did not report the accident to the police and his name could not be ascertained.

The judges' names were: Ralph Van Cleave, Globe Savings bank; H. E. Rice, Central National bank; Robert G. Hill, Hibernian bank; M. A. Baird, Oil and Metals bank.

The Herald and contest department offer congratulations to the successful candidates, and to the vanquished would say that "the battle brings its own rewards."

The pleasing part of it is that victors and vanquished all received the square deal, and that the outcome lay entirely with the candidates themselves.

The following is the list of capital and grand prize winners in The Herald's $25,000 voting contest: Miss Jennie Van Allen of Los Angeles, representing the American Woman's league, won the first capital prize, the $5000 home, with a total vote of 1,676,388.

Mrs. Clara E. Jackson of Bakersfield, Cal., with a total of 1,524,218, won the second capital prize, the $3380 Knox Tourabout.

Mrs. Hester T. Griffith of Ocean Park, representing the W. C. T. U. of Southern California, won the third capital prize, the $750 double trip to the Orient, with a total of 838,655 votes.

Dr. C. T. Pepper of Los Angeles won the fourth capital prize, the $750 Lindeman Grand Piano, with a vote total of 252,157.

Miss Marguerite Weygand of Pasadena won the first grand prize, the $600 dining room set, with a total of 709,968 votes.

J. Landrum Graham, jr., of 4433 Benefit street, won the second grand prize, the $500 bank account of the Oil and Metals bank, with a vote total of $23,060.

Mrs. Oscar B. Smith of Los Angeles, Cal., with a vote total of 161,550, won the third grand prize, the $300 double trip to Honolulu and return.

WHITE SQUADRON WILL BOOST HARD

Elks Prepare to Flood Detroit with Praises of Southern California

100 COMPRISE DELEGATION

Will Leave Los Angeles for Convention July 6 on Special Train

Members of the Elks' White Squadron, who are busy making preparations for the long talked of trip to the annual Elks' convention at Detroit, July 11 to 16, say that when the aggregation hits the Michigan town there will be a big explosion which will sound like "Los Angeles and Southern California," and which will be heard by every man, woman and child in Detroit, and by every Elk at the convention.

The trip is to be first of all a boosting expedition. Of course the Elks will have a good time, for there are few occasions on which they fail at that, but it is said that every individual in the party will be under serious with the purpose of "telling 'em" in more ways than one of the glories of the country they call home.

The special train on which the party will travel will leave the Santa Fe station the evening of Wednesday, July 6, at 2 o'clock. Forty members of the White Squadron and about a hundred other Elks and their families will comprise the Los Angeles representation.

About twenty of the Elks will be delegates at the convention. The train will be in charge of T. J. Darnody. It will arrive at Detroit Sunday morning.

Capt. Robert Atkinson of the White Squadron says that the Elks will do everything in their power at the convention in the way of boosting to show their appreciation to the people of Los Angeles for the encouragement which they have always seemed ready to lend to any Elks' enterprise. Captain Atkinson says that the Elks are especially appreciative of the patronage of the recent White Squadron benefit at the Auditorium.

A special train will be run from San Bernardino for the convention. It will be known as the "Orange Belt Special" and will carry representations from the San Bernardino, Redlands, Pomona and Riverside lodges. On this train a complete orange orchard on a small plan will be transported for exhibition in Detroit. A number of these heavy with oranges will be placed in huge tubs and carried in a car in which the heat will be kept at the proper temperature on the entire trip.

The Los Angeles chamber of commerce will have an exhibit at the convention under the direction of Charles Wilson.

SEEKS GOLDEN BALM FROM P. E. RAILWAY FOR INJURIES

Suit for Value of Outfit Is Also Asked

Civil proceedings were filed with the clerk of Justice Stephens' court yesterday by K. Kilason against the Pacific Electric company, wherein Kilason seeks to secure judgment for $299, claiming that on May 9 of this year, while driving across the tracks of the company at Tennessee and Eighth streets, he was hurled from his wagon by reason of one of the company's cars being driven in excess of the speed allowed by law. He claims to have sustained bodily injuries and therefore seeks golden balm.

Marston & Marston, fruit dealers, who owned the horse and wagon that Kilason was driving when the collision occurred, filed civil action in Justice Stephens' court yesterday afternoon against the Pacific Electric company, in which they ask judgment in the sum of $2500, claiming that their wagon and harness was damaged to that amount, due to the careless manner in which the motorman in the employ of the defendant was operating the car. Both cases will be heard shortly.
