O'DONNELL'S QUICK WORK PREVENTS FIRE SPREAD
Asphaltum Plant Damaged by $500 Blaze

A spectacular fire, caused by an overheated asphaltum kettle in one of the refining rooms of the Asphaltum Oil and Refining company, 2475 East Ninth street, last night for a time threatened a number of other buildings. Assistant Fire Chief O'Donnell called for extra engines and by considerable effort confined the blaze to one small building.

The fire was discovered by a passerby who saw the flames shooting from the top of the building. An alarm was sent and engine and hose from a nearby station responded. The flames had gained great headway and owing to the inflammable nature of the stock stored in other nearby buildings it appeared that the entire plant was doomed. The prompt arrival of additional apparatus and the fast work of the firemen resulted in the flames being subdued before they had a chance to spread.

The damage to the building is estimated at $500.

$5,000 A DAY FOR SIX DAYS OF MARRIED LIFE

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 3.—Five thousand dollars a day for each day of married life is the amount De Witt Beach of High Falls, Ulster county, will receive as the result of the New York law by which a wife by a spinner or widow is invalidated by her marriage.

Mr. Beach married on May 31 last Mrs. Mary B. Krom, a Kingston widow. From her former husband, Capt. John B. Krom, she had inherited over $30,000. He died in April, 1908, but his estate was not finally settled until last October. Mrs. Krom then made a will leaving the entire estate to the children of Krom by his first wife.

Mrs. Beach died on June 6, and a few days later, when her stepchildren filed the will for probate, Mr. Beach contested it. He had been married only six days when his wife died.

85,000 CROWD TO THE BEACH TOWNS

Railway Companies Run Cars on Frequent Schedule to Handle Traffic

30,000 GO TO LONG BEACH
West Coast Resorts Draw 40,000 and Redondo 15,000 Holiday Seekers

The rush beachward yesterday, with a two-day holiday in aid, was tremendous and the carrying capacity of the various car lines was taxed. Totals given out by the companies follow:

Table with 2 columns: Company Name, Passengers. Los Angeles Pacific 40,000, Pacific Electric 30,000, Los Angeles & Redondo 15,000, Total 85,000.

Nobody accused anybody of being lonesome at the beach yesterday. No solitary figure strode majestically down the strand and stretched his arms to heaven in anguished appeal for human companionship. About 85,000 persons went down from Los Angeles to look at the splashing surf and play the beach. If anyone was lonesome it was because he was radically exclusive.

Officials of the Los Angeles Pacific Railway company reported last night that over 40,000 persons visited the beaches on their lines. Every car in the barns were pressed into service, 169 being kept busy from early in the morning until late at night. Nine trailers, old cars which have been deprived of their motors, were employed. Three, four and five car trains were run on the beach lines on a two-minute schedule all day. Extra ticket sellers were placed on the outside of the station to facilitate handling the crowds.

THREE-CAR TRAINS
Thousands of persons were taken to the beaches on the Los Angeles Pacific line Saturday, who remained over for the celebration of the Fourth. Three car trains were run on a five-minute schedule all day Saturday. Yesterday's two-minute schedule will be resumed today and preparations are being made to care for an enormous crowd.

Long Beach had over 30,000 visitors yesterday, according to figures given out by Pacific Electric officials. It was the biggest day the company has known this year. Six and eight car trains were run to Long Beach every five minutes. Travel was heavy to Newport, Balboa Beach and Huntington Beach, also. Saturday's business on the Pacific Electric lines was large, and a fast schedule will be maintained today.

RUSH TO CATALINA
The Pacific Electric company reports an especially large rush of Fourth of July pleasure-seekers to Catalina Island. The company has an especially large number of boats to the island made extra runs. Fewer persons journeyed to the island yesterday, although fifteen cars were required to handle the crowd.

The Redondo Beach line carried 15,000 passengers yesterday. A five-minute schedule was maintained. Today a three-minute schedule will be established.

Hotel accommodations at the beaches are few and far between for those who were not fortunate enough to obtain reservations early Saturday. It was said yesterday that many persons slept on the sand Saturday night because of their inability to find a bed.

At the beach of Los Angeles were thronged yesterday. The holiday spirit was in the air Saturday afternoon and yesterday, because of the great national holiday which follows today. The beach has an especially large crowd at its regular Sunday afternoon band concert. Ice cream cone merchants confide that business is good nowadays.

READY TO SPEND NIGHT ON BEACH AT VENICE
Crowds Swarm the Amusement Places at Venice and Ocean Park

VENICE, July 3.—With all accommodations taken tonight at hotels and rooming houses, this city faced the problem of caring for the great crowd that came here today to remain over the Fourth of July on the Los Angeles-Pacific system was placed in service today and each carried a capacity load on every trip to the beach. It was estimated that the crowd coming here by interurban line numbered 30,000, while those coming by automobile added at least 5000 to the total. Railway officials say they expect this crowd to be increased by 25,000 tomorrow.

All attractions here and at Ocean Park were patronized throughout the day by the most elaborate in the history of the beach, will continue all day and include spectacular features, most important of which is to be the naval sham battle in the sea off the breakers. This will occur in the afternoon following a patriotic concert by the choir of the First Methodist church of Los Angeles.

REDONDO OPENS HOMES TO SWARM OF VISITORS

REDONDO BEACH, July 3.—One of the largest crowds ever assembled at this resort is here today. Conservative estimates place the number at 22,000. Every hotel and rooming house in the city is full, and it is estimated that

Three Los Angeles Musicians Who Will Pass the Autumn in Europe

Los Angeles musicians are making a pilgrimage this year and the mecca to which their tours lead is always Europe. They are not alone in this, for society, professional and business folk also are making the same trip, but it is unusual for so many of them to be departing at the same time.

At the Dominant club entertainment, given by Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Shank at their Glendale home last Saturday, it was discovered that three of the members and guests present would leave within a month to enjoy the inspiration of foreign travel.

Miss Mary O'Donoghue will leave today, and her trip will be without any definite plan. She will land at Hamburg and will go directly to Munich for the music festivals there. She will also visit several of the better known cities of Germany and France, and may eventually decide to remain throughout the year. In the latter event she will study with some of the best of the European teachers, and will bring back to her local associates the enthusiasm and strength which follows such a trip.

Mrs. Edmund S. Shank will go abroad, but her plans so far allow only for a three months' absence. She will visit Italian cities and will coach with the masters of the Italian method. Her voice gained materially in breadth and expressive qualities when she last studied abroad, and she believes that this trip will be partially devoted to the study of new thoughts and ideas in their work frequently.

Archibald Sessions, who has been organist at Christ church for several years, has secured leave of absence for six months and will pass that time touring Europe. He will be accompanied by his mother, and both these enthusiastic musicians are making plans for the vacation. Mr. Sessions has studied the organ in Paris before, and this trip will be partially devoted to work. There will be some sightseeing in it also.

There are so many Los Angeles students now in France and Germany developing their vocal or instrumental powers that these visitors from home are assured of a royal welcome, no matter what city they visit.

The meeting of the Dominant club at Mrs. Shank's was interesting also on account of the presence there of Mrs. Jennie Kempton, the only honorary member of the club. Mrs. Kempton was formerly one of the most noted singers of grand opera, and her indomitable spirit still carries her to all those musical functions in which she is such an honored guest. Her presence at operatic first nights is one of the events of the brief seasons of opera, and all singers and instrumentalists eagerly seek her patronage and approval when coming here to establish themselves.

MANY ANGELENOS PLAN FOREIGN PILGRIMAGE
PAPA, DISCOURAGED, KNOCKS SON'S CAFE
Uses Axe and Stamford Has One Good Cooking Stove Less

STAMFORD, Conn., July 3.—Any son with advantage to himself consider the untoward occurrences at the Temple restaurant here at 3:30 this morning, when Elmer A. Temple, father of the proprietor of the establishment, felt called upon to make some formal expression of his annoyance at being discharged by his son.

It was only a few days ago that the elder Mr. Temple, without any concurrence on his part, was detached from his son's salary list. Until that time the elder Mr. Temple had regarded himself as a valuable adjunct to the restaurant business as that business is carried on here.

When the son decided that the restaurant could have to struggle along without the father the latter was retired on approximately half pay. To be precise, he got his board and a certain sum of money, which, handed to him weekly, was looked upon by the son as a bulwark of sufficient strength to keep the wolf away.

The events of early morning today seem to show that the elder Mr. Temple is one of those persons who, dissatisfied with a living that comes unearned, would not be without a chance of getting an appellate decision of any sort on the judgment of his son, that he picked up a sledge hammer and a hatchet and proceeded directly to the restaurant and proceeded directly to the restaurant.

In Stamford restaurants are not open at 3:30 in the morning, but even if they were sledge hammers and hatchets would not be worn in them by the most careful persons. Little cared the elder Mr. Temple about this as he gaily broke the front windows in his son's food room and entering the place smashed beyond any hope of recognition the two ranges on which his son's employees were accustomed to prepare those tempting viands which have made Stamford famous the world over as a good town in which to eat. Having placed the ranges in such condition that not even tea could be made on them the elder Mr. Temple turned on all the water faucets and flooded the gilded cafe.

Just as he raised his arm to implant the sledge hammer on the cash register there came to the place a policeman. The latter recognized Mr. Temple and arrested him on once.

HIP BROKEN; HELD FAST MAN JOKES TWO HOURS
PITTSBURG, Pa., July 3.—With his left hip broken Harry Hill, an engineer on the Union railroad, hung head downward for more than two hours between the cab and tank of his locomotive. He joked with rescuers through the terrible ordeal, though the engine was balanced by a miracle on the edge of a forty-foot bridge at the yards of the Carrie blast furnaces at Rankin.

Despite his terrible injury on the painful position of his body, Hill kept smiling and said "take it away." When strength began to ebb and a powerful stimulant seemed absolutely necessary he continued his refusals, each time remarking, "water is just as good."

Two hours and ten minutes after Hill had been caught in trying to leap from the engine as it left the tracks he had been released from his perilous position. The reaction proved too great and the big fellow collapsed after one of the gamiest fights in the history of workmen in that section. He was rushed to the West Penn hospital in a serious condition, but is expected to recover. He is 35 years old, married, and lives on Stokes avenue, North Bradock.

NEEDLE IN MOTHER'S DRESS TREE GIVES UP WATCH advertisement: BROOKVILLE, Ind., July 3.—The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Master, while playing about the room, ran in glee into her mother's arms. Mrs. Master bent over and caught the child in her arms, when the little one uttered a sharp cry and knicked to him at the time a twig picked his pocket, neatly extracting his watch. He did not know of his loss until he reached home and he did not know what had become of the watch. Walking in the woods yesterday Raynor saw his watch depending from a twig about the level of his head. He believed he must have bent the branch down while passing and that his pocket was picked at that time. The watch suffered no harm by its year and a half exposure, but started ticking when he wound it up.
