Amateur Notes

"Chub" Drown, representative of the Union Hardware Club in the intercity league, is the only south pay twirler in that organization...

The cork center baseball has been tried out in Los Angeles by the various managers both in the amateur and semi-professional ranks and will shortly be placed on the baseball market...

Orange will meet the Huntington Beach Ball club on the latter's diamond this afternoon in conjunction with other athletic sports held at the beach town.

The Radium Springs and the Blinn Lumber company nines will battle this morning on the Colegrove diamond. Both teams are evenly matched, and a close game should result.

The Los Angeles Blues will mingle with the Whittier state school cadets this afternoon on the Quaker City diamond.

Managers desiring games for next Saturday and Sunday should make their wants known to the booking manager at A. G. Spalding as early as possible after Monday, as several out of town clubs desire Sunday games for these dates.

Rumor has it that Phillip Hartenstein, manager of the Whelan ball club, has the organizing bug and will endeavor to organize a six-club league to play in the Sunday ranks.

George Peter Hansen, manager of the Golden State in the Southern State league, has at last won a game. George Peter, with his bunch of ball tossers, defeated the Quaker City nine Sunday on the Los Naitos diamond by a score of 7 to 1. Keep the good work up, Peter.

The National Lumbermen defeated the Hatboxes by a score of 7 to 6 in a great eleven inning contest on the twenty-fifth and Alameda street diamond yesterday afternoon. The National is playing great ball and expect to keep up their winning stride through the season.

FOR HE'S A JOLLY GOOD FELLOW

One of the old-time editors of the south sometimes imbibes too freely of Kentucky's famous product, and when he so refreshes himself he forgets to go home at a reasonable hour, and sometimes ambles in at 3 a. m. He was in a joyful mood on one occasion, and after succeeding in getting into his hall, but he could not find the stairway.
