THOMPSON BALKS WHEN HE IS REFUSED BERTH Wife Tired, Decides He Would Rather Fight Extradition RENO, Nev., July 5.—Frank Thompson, who with his wife has been under arrest connected with the Altorre case in Los Angeles, and who, in charge of Deputy Sweeney, was permitted to attend the big fight yesterday, was taken in charge by Deputy Sheriff Branton under a warrant for fugitive from justice. Deputy Sheriff Brown, who arrived here to take Thompson and his wife back to Los Angeles, swore to the complaint. He was thus transferred from the jurisdiction of the police to the sheriff's office. Brown was intending to return with the couple tonight, but because that officer insisted upon them sitting in a coach instead of being permitted to engage sleeping berths, Thompson refused to go and declared he would fight extradition. He claimed his wife, after the strenuous days of fight excitement here, was too fatigued to take the long ride without a berth.

Club News

The directors and chairman of committees of the Humans society will have a luncheon Thursday at the Holtenback hotel to complete the plans for the great outing for children to be given next Tuesday at Venice.

After the luncheon there will be a board meeting at the office of the society in the O. T. Johnson building. Arrangements for the outing are progressing rapidly, and the children of all kinds, from infants to young adults, are being prepared for the outing.

The committee on refreshments has decided upon a wise menu for the little folk. There will be sandwiches of all kinds, ice cream, in cornucopias, and plenty of cake, and peanuts and popcorn. There will be no candies and the children will have nothing at all to eat while they are in the automobiles. This will be of special interest to the owners of machines, as it will prevent any possible damage to cushions or upholstery.

The members of the society are anxious that there may be plenty of cars, for the idea of disappointing even one child of this great day of pleasure, would be most unfortunate.

Mrs. Chalmers Smith, president of the Los Angeles Federation of Parent-Teacher association, presided at a meeting of the executive board in the offices of the California Congress of Mothers, Chamber of Commerce building, yesterday morning.

Business for the year was closed, several reports were read and it was decided to adjourn for two months.

Committees are at work perfecting the arrangements for organizing the society for the prevention of the white slave traffic. The initiatory meeting held in the Y. W. C. A. building some days ago has been followed by the action of the executive board in the committee on organization and the committee on organization has held two meetings. At a session at the home of Mrs. Bertha Starkweather yesterday morning a sub-committee was named to look toward the extension of interest in this subject among other clubs and associations. The women who are the movers in the action of this kind should have representative women from all large organizations, and that it will be wiser to defer the actual organization until the co-operation of such women may be secured.

Mrs. Agnes H. Downing has been appointed chairman of this committee and will have the assistance of Mrs. K. F. Bryan, Mrs. Martha Y. Salyer and Mrs. Miss Young.

The Philathen class of the Pico Heights Congregational church will present a drama entitled "Facing the Music" in Cumnock hall Thursday evening.

The Theaters

Kara, the juggler, is the headliner of this week's bill at the Los Angeles theater. He can juggle most anything from tiny objects to tables, chairs, etc. His performance is pleasing and calls forth much applause.

Good music, classical and popular, is being offered in Verdi and her brother. The "cello playing is particularly attractive.

Rollicking fun, down-to-the-minute songs and hard sync dancing make the sport of Wolfe, Young and Moore a big hit. The two girls in the act are pretty and dance very well. Charles Wolfe can sing ragtime pleasingly as well as imitate a college chap.

Morlock and Watson score a big hit with their ragtime songs and playing. In one portion of the act Watson picks a mandolin and fingers a guitar, while Morlock does the same, reversed. The stunt is difficult and makes a big impression.

Richardson's posing dogs, Rolf Rafferty, cartoons and a new motion picture complete the bill.

Margaret Anglin opens at the Mason opera house tonight in her new play, "The Awakening of Helena Richie," a dramatic adaptation of Margaret Deland's novel of the same name. The play in four acts has been made by Charles Thompson, a young California playwright. "Helena Richie" is reported to be suited to Miss Anglin.

On Saturday night Miss Anglin will give a special performance of "Mrs. Dane's Defense."

"A Merry Whirl" is the title of the farce Alphonse and Fargus are offering this week at the Olympic theater. Jules Mendel, Monte Carter and Al Franks bore the burden of the web of complications while Dan Morris and Leonard Brisbane in blackface and dashing Walter Spencer rendered excellent support. Blossom Seelye did a clever bit of acting in an ingenue role and Vera Stanley sang a solo, receiving many encores.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN TO BECOME MINISTER AT 65

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—His forty years' training as a business man is considered by Col. F. J. Hart, a civil war veteran, aged 65, his chief equipment for the ministry. Colonel Hart, who has for several months been preaching to the congregation of the Olive Branch Congregational church, told a reporter his theory on this regard as he waited for his examination by a committee of Congregational ministers.

If the result of the examination proves satisfactory, he will be ordained and installed as pastor of the church, which is at Sidney street and Missouri avenue.

The theological training which most of our preachers get does not fit them for meeting and interesting business men," said Colonel Hart at his appointment, 438D Olive street. "A man who can talk to the people and listening to music, so long as people don't drink, I visit such places myself, to meet the people who go there."

"I am opposed to liquor, but not to all those who drink it. I ran hotels for nearly twenty-five years, including one of the large hotels in Tampa, Fla., and there was never a bar in any hotel of mine."

"The church should be run as a business proposition, and not seek special favors. I prefer the small church to the wealthy one, as it gives the preacher a chance to get closer to the people."

"There has been too much mystery placed about religion. I don't argue over Jonah and the whale. I just take the Bible as it stands and draw lessons from it. I don't believe that a man is saved in a minute. He must work out his salvation. I was in the Union army in four years of continuous service, has a competency, and says he undertook preaching because he thought he could in that way best turn his experience to account for the good of others. He has preached as supply pastor in Congregational churches in Brookfield, Mo., and Sedalia before coming to St. Louis, and was a licensed, though not ordained, minister."

TO ELECT OFFICERS OFF FOR YOSEMITE

Two hundred members of the Y. M. C. A. Glee club and their friends left yesterday afternoon for the Yosemite valley. They will have an outing of ten days in the valley and will participate in the Chautauqua there.
