Daughter of Ancient Montezumas Elopes with Strange White Sweetheart

SUBWAY SWALLOWS COUPLE Leaderless Tribe Pursues Fleeing Pair to Huge Hole in the Ground

NEW YORK, July 10.—A white stranger, bringing the love that had never had a place in the life of their princess, has robbed the wandering Aztec Indians out at Morris Park of their beloved leader. While she is absent, enmeshed in the net spread by the wily little god of devotion, her subjects mourn. They brought their mourning and their story to the queen to Brooklyn police headquarters.

Princess Minocusta, which name would be Dove of the Morning in plain United States, is a direct descendant, according to the veracious account of her tribe, of old Mr. Montezuma, who was one of the first citizens on this side of the water...

of affection and wandered far afield with him when the stars came and the sunset had blanketed the toil of the day.

Tuesday they missed the princess. She was followed and her tribe people found her starting into a huge hole in the ground, through which long trains of cars rushed. They pursued and found also the paleface.

As unto the bow the bow string, so unto the paleface was the subway train. And the princess to the paleface. An end seat hog, doing the first good service of his life, blocked the pursuing host and the princess and her lover were lost in the crowd.

Sadly the tribesmen went back to Morris Park to beseech what gods they hold to return to their leader. To make assurance doubly sure the expedition of the 500 militia men are seeking one eloping princess and one prince consort whose face is pale.

In the meantime the tribe of the Montezumas mourns.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—While officers of the state department declined tonight to discuss the report from Montgomery, ever the prosecution will be taken to prevent the launching of such an expedition toward Nicaragua.

The government throughout has striven to maintain a neutral attitude toward the contestants in the Central American republic and every agency will be utilized to prevent the expedition of the 500 militia men from putting through their rumored plans.

Steps may be taken by the state department to nip the undertaking before it has opportunity to develop.

REDDING SENDS FOOD TO STRICKEN DELAMAR

REDDING, Cal., July 10.—A carload of provisions was sent from here to Delamar today to relieve the people who lost their belongings in the fire there yesterday.

Two hundred residents of the stricken city slept out doors last night. As the weather was warm no inconvenience was experienced. The majority of the people have money to pay for food and lodgings if they could get them.

The loss is now estimated at $94,000, with $40,000 insurance. A few persons have already made arrangements to rebuild.

TWO HURT IN $100,000 FIRE AT STOCK YARDS

CHICAGO, July 10.—Two fires, one in the center and the second on the outskirts of the Union stock yards here, today resulted in the perhaps fatal injury of two men and a property loss of more than $100,000.

In a stampede of 200 horses in a stock yard here, a stable boy and a fireman were severely injured and scores of firemen narrowly escaped being trampled to death.

CARELESSNESS CAUSES FIRE ENTAILING LOSS OF $87,500

SPOKANE, July 10.—Fire, said to have been caused by the careless dropping of a match or a cigarette stump into a shaving bin at the rear of the main factory of the Springston Lumber company early tonight, swept a two-block area, entailing a property loss of $87,500.

KING AND QUEEN'S HOROSCOPES CAST

Ruler of England Will Do Much to Break Up Materialistic Tendency

MARY WILL BE GREAT HELP Lacks Diplomacy, but Wife Will Assist Him in Places Where Needed

LONDON, July 10.—Mr. Alan Leo, the editor of Modern Astrology, has attempted the harmless task of casting the horoscopes of several members of the royal family, including the king and queen. Some of his conclusions are reproduced:

The king will be a kindly ruler, well able to uphold the dignity and the prestige of the British empire. He will rule firmly, generously and thoughtfully.

He will do all in his power to aid true reform and will show philanthropic tendencies in all his dealings with national affairs.

He will do more than any other ruler has ever done toward breaking up the materialistic tendency of our age and will lend his support to all spiritual, moral and mental advancement.

LACKS DIPLOMACY His one defect will be his lack of the diplomatic element. He loves the straight and direct road, and can rely sufficiently upon his own judgment, but this necessary quality of diplomacy will need to be supplied by his admirable wife, whose gift in junction with Jupiter at her birth.

He will suffer from severe headaches at times; also stomach trouble, but will have no real organic disease. He loves temperance, is passionately fond of his children, and firmly believes in spiritual things.

The queen has a strong will and decided opinions, with a quiet, firm and determined nature.

In disposition she is open, frank, truthful and self-contained. She is very faithful in all her friendships, constant in her attachments, a shrewd judge of human nature, and rarely deceived in her estimate of the character of others.

The poor, and all who suffer, will be glad to know that Queen Mary's chief concern will be the welfare of her people. A good nurse, and an excellent mother, she knows some of the sorrows of the world.

Queen Mary will in many respects be a remarkable queen, and the nation is fortunate in having one so capable and competent to help the king through his great responsibilities.

The duke of Cornwall will be generous to a fault, he will value money at its true worth, and having philanthropic tendencies he will give his money freely to all those charities that he feels are in need of help.

His marriage will take place in his twenty-third year under the influence of the sun sextile Venus. He will thus marry under the most favorable auspices, and will be blessed with a beautiful and good wife.

NEGRO ROUGHNECKS GET WORST OF RACE RIOT

Are Ejected from Amusement Place at Venice Pier

VENICE, July 10.—Refusal of Manager Elliot of the joy wheel on the Venice pier to a number of negroes to ride on the whirling disk while it was occupied by several white persons almost led to a race war here, Elliot says a half dozen burly negroes, apparently intoxicated, and shouting, "Oh, you Jack!" entered the building and attempted to board the wheel. They were requested to await until the white patrons were through with it, but refused to do so and were ejected from the place. An officer arrived in time to prevent the rioting, but the negroes loitered in the vicinity of the joy wheel and threatened vengeance on the management.

CHICAGO CHURCH RAIDED; CONGREGATION ARRESTED

CHICAGO, July 10.—Police of the Harrison street and Cottage Grove avenue stations raided the Holy Nazarine Church of the Apostolic Faith, Dearborn and Thirtieth street, during services today and arrested the entire congregation, composed of more than 100 negro men and women.

Among those arrested were a woman bishop and three ministers. All of those arrested were placed in cells at south side police headquarters.

Aside from saying that riotous scenes had occurred in the church, the police refused to explain the reason for the raid and for the imprisonment of the congregation.

Later, Lieutenant Reed, who headed the police raid, said the members of the congregation had made a nuisance of themselves through their religious frenzy.

"Their all day and all night meeting," Lieutenant Reed said, "began at 4 o'clock this morning. The shouting, yelling, crying and singing continued hour after hour without abatement. At 10 o'clock tonight I sent word to the church that the raid would be made unless the meeting disbanded. The members paid no attention to my warning and after an hour's wait I ordered the police squad into action."

KANSAS MAN PURCHASES REDONDO BEACH ESTATE

REDONDO BEACH, July 10.—Joseph White of Abilene, Kan., has purchased for a new home the beautiful H. B. Rollins home on the Esplanade; the consideration, while withheld, is said to be $16,500. Mr. White is a close friend of President Taft and is prominent in urging the early completion of the proposed golf links and clubhouse that he may include mention of them in an invitation he will send to the president during his vacation here.

The fact that a president of the United States has never spent a vacation on the Pacific coast will be given prominence.

6 WOMEN VICTIMS OF ACID THROWER

Police say Italian, Crazed by Heat, Showered Many with Vitriol

HIDES BEHIND A BIG TREE When Captured Has Half-Filled Syringe and Bottle of Deadly Fluid

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—Hiding in the shadow of a group of trees on Fifty-second street near the corner of Lancaster avenue after 11:30 Sunday night, the police say, Michael Bomba, 34 years old, of 5060 Merion avenue, squirted vitriol through a syringe at girls who passed and it was not, it is asserted, until he had burned the clothing and flesh of six young women that he was captured by Patrolman Johns of the Sixty-first and Thompson streets station. He was held in $800 bail for court by Magistrate Boyle at a hearing yesterday morning.

Bomba, who is an Italian of seven years' residence in this country, left his home on Merion avenue about 8 o'clock Sunday evening, saying to his sister that he intended to take a walk through the park. He was seen by residents in the vicinity of Fifty-second street and Lancaster avenue early in the evening, however, and his peculiar actions and dodging through the small streets and back alleys of the section created suspicion.

The first victim of the acid was Miss Grace Daley of 6305 Girard avenue. Miss Daley was passing under the trees where the police say the Italian hid himself, when she suddenly felt the acid burning through her shirt waist and in a short time her back was blistered.

Following Miss Daley up the street were Miss Marie Merna of 5247 Thompson street and Miss Margaret Harvey of 1833 North Fifty-second street. They, too, received a portion of the vitriol and in turn ran to their homes suffering from severe burns.

Before Bomba was arrested three other girls had been injured by the burning acid. They are Miss Helen Welsh, 1212 Wilton street; Cecelia Sullivan, 5110 Kershaw avenue, and Julia Hetter, Carrington, Delaware county.

Some of the girls was accompanied with him. The police say the man had been temporarily deranged by the heat of Sunday.

WHITE MAN IS LYNCHED BY MOB IN LOUISIANA

Murderer's Appeal for New Trial Drives Crowd to Frenzy

RAYVILLE, La., July 10.—Aroused by the fact that an appeal to the state court had been taken following his condemnation to death here Friday on the charge of having murdered Town Marshal Chenault, a mob gathered in front of the court house at Rayville today and dragging J. D. Freeman, a white man, from his cell, hanged him.

"This is the outcome of the appeal," read a note pinned to the dead man's clothing. Freeman, who was a blacksmith, shot and killed Chenault three weeks ago when the latter attempted to arrest him for a minor offense.

REDLANDS, July 10.—The political pot is boiling in Redlands and the primaries have brought out a noticeable increase in the number of candidates for nominations, and already the contest of office are on in a real campaign. The county fight between the regular and Lincoln-Roosevelt league Republicans will provide the warmest contest of the August election, but Redlands is admitted to be the stronghold of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league for San Bernardino county.

In the city Justice Clifford is to have opposition for justice of the peace after serving several terms, P. G. McIver having announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination, Tommie Rivers and Crain are candidates for re-election without opposition as yet in their party. The Democrats have two candidates for justice of the peace, Clarence Conklin, former Constable J. J. Curtis has announced his candidacy in Mission township, West Redlands.

REDLANDS ORANGE CROP WILL TOTAL 3800 CARS

REDLANDS, July 10.—The Redlands orange crop for the year will be nearly 3800 cars, and with 200 more to ship the season's total will be near 3900 cars. It is about 700 cars short of a normal yield and will materially cut down the revenue brought to the district for its annual crop. Evidently the crop is short in other sections as well, for a comparison shows the Redlands district ahead of all others for oranges, Riverside being the nearest competitor with about 3200 cars.

The packers are delighted with the high prices that are being received for the last of the fruit, some records having been made in a just week and a half. The outlook for the crop next year is good. The June drop probably is over, and when it takes no element of discovery. It does not compare with the drop of last year, hence the coming crop is expected to be a record breaker and may reach the 5000 cars total.

TO HOLD PICNIC

VENICE, July 10.—The Central Labor council of Los Angeles has arranged for its annual picnic to be held at Venice on Labor day. It is expected that about 2000 members of the Los Angeles labor unions, and their families will attend.

MUST REPAY $180 OF OTHER'S MONEY

Seer Tells Man He Is to Get Fortune, and $200 Check Comes

BUT IT BELONGED TO ANOTHER Atlantic City Resident Spent It All but $20 on New Clothes

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 10.—Faith of Charles Zehner, a humble cabinetmaker of this city, in fortune tellers has been shattered since discovery that a "fortune" of $200, which he had received shortly after he had been promised a windfall by a boardwalk seer, belongs to another man.

Zehner had spent $180 of his "fortune" the purchase of new clothes and furniture for his home here before he learned that the draft which he cashed was meant for another man. Now the sorrowing Zehner is engaged in paying back the money.

Zehner, who has made a livelihood at his trade in a little shop at 249 1/2 Pacific avenue for years, has always dreamed of some day becoming wealthy. About three weeks ago he visited the fortune teller, who told him that he would fall heir to a fortune in a very short time. Within twenty-four hours Zehner received through the mail a draft for $200 drawn by the Frankfort Trust company of Philadelphia.

Supposing that the draft represented the expected "fortune," Zehner visited the Marine Trust company of this city and presented the warrant. Bank officers demanded identification and Zehner produced a well known local business man who declared that he had known Zehner for years. The happy man placed the amount of the draft to his credit in the bank and thanked fortune for the sum.

Zehner purchased new furniture for his home, a fine suit of clothes and a top hat, in which he strutted before his neighbors, when Charles Zehner, an employe of the Friends' asylum of Frankfort, wrote to the Frankfort bank and asked why he had not received a draft for $200 against his account, which he wished to use while in Atlantic City. Investigation then showed that the Philadelphia Zehner had been delivered to the Atlantic City Zehner by mistake.

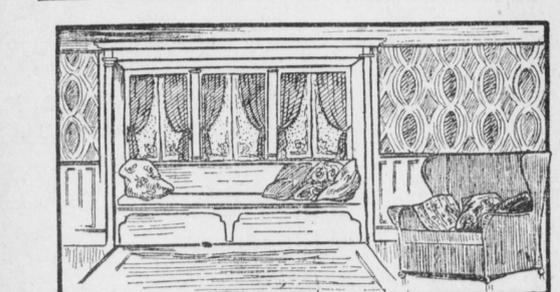

Summoned before the banking officers and as other people seek to find out the truth, Zehner told of his belief that the fortune teller's prophecy had come true. He offered to pay back the amount which he had spent, and will not be prosecuted. The unfortunate man will be forced to save the amount from his scanty wages, and will probably spend at least two years in making up the amount of his expenditure when he believed himself a lucky heir.

It is as easy to secure a bargain in a used automobile, through a realtor, as it is to be—and still is—to secure a horse and carriage.

FEMININE FANCIES

Refurnishing the Summer Cottage for Winter

With the coming of November a great many summer cottages are closed and the move is made from the country house to the city one. Still every year we find the liking for country and suburban life is increasing, and a great many people start out of town every winter with their sets in. Then, too, a great many suburban cottages are lived in by their owners the year round, thus a few suggestions for furnishing the summer house so that it will be comfortable and tenable even in really cold weather.

REFURNISHING FOR WINTER.

In the better class of houses, hardwood floors are the rule, and small mats take the place of the old time carpetings. Fine muslin curtains are hung in the windows of the bedrooms and fat lace or madras curtains in the family rooms. The other draperies, both upstairs and down, are cotton or jute prints or such simple and inexpensive weaves. The upholsterings are likewise of the simplest type, and the majority of the furniture is generally in willow, wicker or white enamel. This is all very tasteful and charming for warm, summery weather, but when the chill days of late fall arrive, these light furnishings begin to lose their cheerfulness, and are apt to look a little bare.

Refurnishing for the cold weather can be very easily done, without a great expenditure, by using as far as possible the framework already there. Just as cotton and linen slip covers will make heavy upholstered furniture look cool and comfortable during the hot weather, so will tapestry and velvet slip covers in warm colors hide the coolness of wicker furniture. The sketch shows a treatment of this sort for a wicker settee, the cover being made of printed velvet, which is so made that the wicker framework is entirely concealed.

Where slip covers are not desirable or practicable, movable cushions, tapestry or velvet covered, will suffice. Sofa pillows can also be completely changed by

The Separate Waist Still in Popular Favor.

BY DOROTHY DALE.

The decline in favor of the separate waist has been predicted year after year, and still each season it reappears in new and attractive forms, and continues to hold its own in popular favor. It is really independent of the coat suit, in that the separate waist, and this fall several new models have appeared that are especially designed for wear with the cloth street gown. This new blouse shows some definite touch, either in color or trimming, or material which brings it in direct connection with the coat suit. In morning attire this is not so noticeable, as the white washable shirt continues in favor for morning use, but the more elaborate blouse is so trimmed that it is an essential part of the gown to which it belongs and cannot be worn with any other frock. For instance, many of the new blouses are especially designed for wear with a coat and skirt of broadcloth, and are made of flannel or lace dyed the same color, with strappings or cut pieces of the cloth of which the suit is made introduced about the lower part of the bodice. The yoke and undersleeves in draperies of silk, or velvet take the place of the simple little cotton curtains. The window shown in the sketch was treated in this way, the panes first being hung with flat flannel panels, and then curtains of velvet, finished with a tiny fringe draped as illustrated.

Wooden rugs should be used to replace the matting and fibre rugs of summer, and the halls and stairways especially should be made to look warm and comfortable. A strip of wool carpeting should be used under the stairways, and the halls should also have a carpet strip or plenty of rugs.

A great many of the new suburban houses are equipped for steam heat, which much simplifies the question of heating during cold weather. Open fireplaces, where a log fire is provided for is usually found in at least two or three rooms, and portable oil or gas stoves may be very satisfactorily used in the other rooms when necessary. Cotton batting, stuffed securely into the interstices of the windows may be used in lieu of weather strips. In many of the larger rooms, where the necessary ventilation can be secured through the open fireplace.

THE SEPARATE BLOUSE OF THE SEASON

The Art of Being Agreeable.

BY BEATRICE CAREY.

Everyone wishes to be liked—to be popular, but few people are born with a power of fascination that is irresistible; therefore the average person must study the art of being agreeable. Agreeability is largely a trick. A woman is seldom so plain that she cannot be fascinating if she devotes time and thought to it. A great majority however do not realize this—they just accept themselves as they are and as other people seek to find them and quietly submit to it, trudging through life only half enjoying it.

Beauty of course is a valuable asset. Still it is most encouraging to look back over the world's history and find that most of the great women were not beauties, and that their power has been from within rather than from without. They have stirred nations with their wits, their personalities, their charm. Charm—how much that word means. What a gift of the gods!

Remember that in this busy world, people are apt to accept the surface. If a woman sets herself up to be charming, and has a reasonable amount of kindness and some insight, to back up why she is charming, but the general impression remains that she is thin. All she does is seen through rose tinted glasses. It is truly wonderful what reputation will do, and how an idea set in motion will develop.

To be original and interesting, to compete admiration and respect is surely worth some thought and study.

Recipes Without Eggs.

Here are some excellent recipes, which may be recommended to the economical housekeeper. In that none of them call for eggs, which are at this season of the year high in price.

Roly Poly—The filling of this pudding may be composed of any suitable materials that one has in the house. One pint of flour, one rounded tablespoonful of baking powder, one tablespoonful of shortening, one-half tablespoonful of salt, two-thirds cup of water. Add the baking powder and salt to the flour, sift once or twice, add the water carefully. The dough must be soft, not wet. Knead quickly and roll out into a very thin sheet. Brush with melted butter or melted suet or oil. Sprinkle over blackberries, huckleberries, raspberries, currants or chopped dates, figs and raisins; in fact, almost any combination of fruits may be used. Sprinkle with flour, tablespoonful of sugar and roll up, place in a baking pan; brush the roll with water, and bake in a moderately quick oven three-quarters of an hour. After the roll has been baking half an hour, draw it from the oven, brush it quickly with a tablespoonful of sugar, dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of water, and return to glass. Serve hot with hard sauce, or it may be served with sugar. If dry fruits are used for roly poly, they must be soaked over night and chopped fine in the morning. Do not cook them before putting them into the pudding.

Apple Pone—Pare and chop fine one quart of sweet apples. Pour a pint of boiling water into one quart of granulated white corn meal; when cool, add sufficient sweet milk, about one pint, to make a very soft batter. Stir in the apples, turn the mixture into a greased shallow pan; cover and bake in a moderate oven for at least two hours. This same recipe may be turned into a mold, steamed three hours and used as a pudding.

Ginger Sponge Slices—One-half pint of molasses, two ounces of butter, one level teaspoonful of soda, two cups of flour. Heat the molasses slightly, dissolve the soda in two tablespoonfuls of warm water, add hot tablespoonfuls of the butter, melted, and cook in a moderate oven 30 minutes. Serve warm, cut into squares, with lemon or ginger sauce.

Perfection Cake—Two cups sugar, one cup butter or lard, one cup cold water, one-half cup cornstarch, one teaspoon cloves and cinnamon mixed, one teaspoon raisins, one teaspoon vanilla, three teaspoons baking powder, enough flour to make soft dough. Bake in layers.

Soft Gingerbread—One cup lard (very hot), one cup brown sugar, one cup New Orleans molasses, one cup boiling water, three level teaspoons ginger and any other spice desired, three teaspoons soda in just enough hot water to dissolve it. Mix with enough flour to roll easily. Cut in shapes and bake.
