DYING BOY REFUSES TO DIVULGE WHO SHOT HIM 6-Year-Old Lad, Injured in Play, Fears Playmate Would Be Blamed

YONKERS, N. Y., July 29.—Dying of a bullet wound in St. John's hospital, George Pelham, 6 years old, has sturdily insisted that the injury which brought him there was self-inflicted. After a careful examination the hospital physicians announced, however, that the course of the bullet made it impossible that the boy could have shot himself. Some of the playmates of the lad were closely questioned, and the story was gotten from them. He had been shot, they said, by a girl friend, Mildred Baxter, 7 years old, and rather than get her into trouble, as he thought, he had determined to take the blame upon himself. Several of the children, left alone for the afternoon, had decided to play soldier, and George had appointed himself captain. The others armed themselves with toy rifles and cap pistols, but Mildred could find no weapon, so George went up stairs and got his father's revolver. "It's all right," he said; "it isn't loaded." But when the command to fire was given there was a flash and an explosion, and the little captain fell with a real bullet in his breast. EXPLOSION IN CHICAGO WRECKS BOX FACTORY BOMB THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN THROWN ON CONDUIT ACROSS THE STREET

CHICAGO, July 29.—An explosion which was heard for miles occurred last night at Twenty-fifth and Canal streets, partly wrecking the front of the plant of the Louis Hutt Box company, breaking hundreds of windows in the neighborhood and causing terror to scores of families. Peter Wilhelm, a watchman employed at the Hutt plant, narrowly escaped losing his life. A conduit cover across the street from the building, it was found, had been blown into a dozen pieces, and this gave rise to the belief that the explosion was due to a bomb placed on the cover. Recently the Cosmopolitan Electric company has been having trouble with its lines, it is said, and persons in the neighborhood expressed the belief that a bomb had been set off to damage the wires of the electric company. Ernest J. Magerstadt, city collector, who is president of the Louis Hutt company, was one of those who attributed the damage to a bomb. The damage amounts to about $10,000. ST. LOUIS MAN HURT NEW YORK, July 29.—James Arbuckle, a St. Louis exporter and Spanish consul in that city, is under a surgeon's care at Rockaway Park, recovering from injuries received late yesterday when he was knocked down by an automobile at a Broadway corner. His right leg and left knee and left arm were badly cut and bruised.

RAILROAD EXPERT DISCUSSES TAXES

Northern Pacific's Comptroller Talks to State Board of Equalization ADVOCATES LONGEST TERMS Thomas Mellersh Would Have the State Legislature Appro-priate $250,000

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—Thomas Mellersh, comptroller of the Northwestern Pacific railroad and a recognized authority on railroad valuations and earnings throughout the United States, addressed the state board of equalization at length today on railroad valuations and taxation, bringing out with considerable importance a bill which he intends to have presented to the legislature for an appropriation of $250,000, which shall be used by the board in bringing about a more thorough system of ascertaining the values of all properties in the state. The law firm of Gillett & Cutler, of which the governor is a member, represents the road and endeavors will be made by Judge Fleming A. Cutler to have the lawmakers vote the money. Governor Gillett has been given a copy of the address and will be asked to give his cooperation in having the proposed measure carry. Mellersh also recommended in his address that the constitution be changed in order to have the members of the state board of equalization serve for eight years instead of for four. He also stated he would favor eight years for the equalizers, the state controller and county assessors, because he believes that a man just begins to get a good understanding of the duties before him when it comes time to go out of office. The Northwestern Pacific, as shown by the report submitted by Mellersh, took in gross receipts amounting to $2,599,601.44 in 1909, as compared with $2,763,133.01 in 1908. The business is increasing rapidly, so it is expected that the report for the present year will offset the differences of the previous year, during which time the company was not sufficiently recovered from the panic of 1907-8. During the examination by board members Mellersh mentioned the significant fact that the business of the railroad of the country can be given as 6 per cent after paying all taxes and interest on bonds.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; TWO ARE KILLED

Mother and Daughter Dead, and Two Sons Injured Near Reedley Station

FRESNO, July 29.—Mother and daughter dead, one son seriously injured and another slightly hurt, is the result of a collision which occurred at Reedley between an automobile and a Southern Pacific passenger train drawn by engine No. 15. MRS. JOHN S. KLEINASSER is the dead woman. The family was on its way to Reedley from its country home to meet the train and the machine was struck by the on-rushing engine while crossing the tracks about one block south of the depot. The automobile was turned completely over as a result of the impact, and some of the occupants were thrown a distance of forty feet. Mrs. Kleinasser lived about ten minutes after she was picked up, but her small daughter was instantly killed and badly mangled. Both occupied seats in the rear portion of the machine. The accident occurred in plain view of many people who had gathered at the depot platform to await the coming of the train. The Kleinassers are wealthy Germans who about four months ago purchased a ranch in the Reedley vicinity. John Kleinasser, the husband and father of the dead and injured, has been in Yale, South Dakota, attending to business for some time past, and arrived in Reedley, accompanied by another son, about half an hour after the accident. The two boys, who occupied the front seats in the machine, were thrown several feet, and that they escaped instant death is considered miraculous.

BIRDS ARE MORE HELPFUL THAN HARMFUL TO CROPS

Department of Agriculture Bulletin Gives Result of Study WASHINGTON, July 29.—Birds as a rule are more helpful than harmful to the farmer. This is the opinion expressed in a department of agriculture bulletin on the result of investigation as to the effect of California birds upon the fruit industry of that state. The more the food habits of birds are studied, it is said, the more evident becomes the fact that, with a normal distribution of species and a fair supply of natural food, the damage to agricultural products by birds is small compared with the benefit. After studying the food habits of the seventy species which live among the orchards and vineyards on the Pacific coast it was found that but four species—the linnets, the California jay, the steelhead and the red-breasted sapsucker—can be regarded as of doubtful utility.

REPORTED BREACH WITH VATICAN CAUSES UNREST

Spain in Turmoil as Result of Report That Rupture with Rome Imminent SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, July 29.—At the conclusion of a conference this evening between King Alfonso and Premier Canalejas it was announced that Marquis Emilio de Ojeda, Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, had been recalled to the Vatican, when he had been in the city. At the same time the opinion was expressed that rupture with the Vatican was inevitable. Senor Canalejas told the king that the government could not accept the conditions of the Vatican's last note and that the Vatican would be so informed. Premier Canalejas will continue his anti-clerical program, counting on the support of King Alfonso. MADRID, July 29.—Ominous reports are received following the publication of the news that a rupture between the Spanish government and the Vatican is imminent. At San Sebastian Don Jaime, the pretender, has issued a manifesto in which he says he will lead the Carlists in the battle which he intimates may be coming soon. He has expected that Premier Canalejas will ask King Alfonso to set the stamp of his approval upon the course that the pretender has adopted. The Vatican has declared that the negotiations looking to a revision of the concordat cannot be continued until the imperial decree permitting non-Catholic societies to display the insignia of public worship has been withdrawn. Canalejas has responded that he cannot cancel the program which the government has announced. The Carlists believe that the holy see counts on the fall of the government. Canalejas, however, is said to have the assurance of the Catalan provinces and the occasional clashes between the Catholic and non-Catholic elements throughout the country.

PROCLAMATION ISSUED TO CARLISTS BY DON JAIME

SAN SEBASTIAN, July 29.—Don Jaime de Bourbon, the Carlist pretender to the Spanish throne, issued a manifesto today to the Carlists in payment congratulating them on their loyalty to the pope and their defense of the church, and declaring: "I think the day is not far distant when my followers must rally to our flag. I will lead the battle." MODIFICATION BILL PASSES LONDON, July 29.—The bill modifying the declaration of religion required by the king on accession passed today by a vote of 54 to 42. In its final form the bill not only eliminates the phrases offensive to the Roman Catholic subjects, but also makes it acceptable to the non-conformists by striking out the proposed statement of adherence to the new religion. King George is established church. King George is established church. King George is established church.

PINCHOT BOOMED TO HEAD TICKET

(Continued from Face One) tain newspapers here are trying to make the people believe that Pinchot came to California at Roosevelt's behest. We were not seeking any aid from Colonel Roosevelt and we were confident he had not taken or would not take any part in this campaign. At the same time we wished to show him that advantage was being taken of the fact that Pinchot came to California soon after conferring with him and that following Marshall Stimson's visit to Roosevelt, newspapers were intimating that the colonel was getting behind Johnson. I am making this fight on my own merits and am well pleased with conditions as I find them throughout the state. The following telegram was received at Stanton headquarters last night from Colonel Roosevelt: NEW YORK, July 29, 1910. Hon. Philip A. Stanton, Los Angeles Cal. At the request of your brother I wire you to say I have just given out the following authorized statement: "I have told Mr. Stanton that I have refused to take part in this contest for the nomination for governor just as I have refused to take part in all similar contests. No man represents me or has any authorization to speak for me in the matter or in any similar matter concerning a contest for a nomination and I wish to state with all possible emphasis that I am not taking part one way or another in this or any similar contest for a nomination. I would like to add that it ought not to be necessary for me to repeat this statement which I have made again and again for if I should take part in any such contest I would be expected to take part in literally hundreds." THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

FAILS TO ASCEND MOUNT M'KINLEY

Newspaper Expedition Reports Insurmountable Precipice Surrounds the Top OTHERS REPORTED AS FAILING

Route Mapped by Cook Followed to Peak Mentioned by the Discredited Explorer (Associated Press) SEWARD, Alaska, July 29.—Al Cool and Joseph Redley, members of the Portland Oregonian-New York Herald expedition which set out in April to ascend Mount McKinley and which turned back unsuccessful, arrived in Seward last night. G. E. Rusk, leader of the party, and F. H. Rejcek, the photographer, were delayed at Crow Creek, eighty miles from Seward, and will arrive tomorrow. Cool and Redley declined to give a detailed statement concerning their experience on the great mountain, which never has been ascended during the summer months. The two men insist that no party has ever reached the summit, but it was ten miles distant from the summit. Because of shortage of supplies the party was obliged to retrace its steps. The weather conditions were generally unfavorable, the air being damp and foggy most of the time. The Rusk expedition reached the summit on the mountain ascended by Dr. Cook and Edward Barrill and found the route of this peak easy enough, but it was ten miles distant from the summit. Because of shortage of supplies the party was obliged to retrace its steps. The weather conditions were generally unfavorable, the air being damp and foggy most of the time. COOK'S ROUTE FOLLOWED The explorers in attacking the mountain took practically the same route as Dr. Cook, beginning the ascent at a point a little northeast. They left Tulkoona, a trading post of the Alaska Commercial company, on the Sustena river, the last outfitting place, in the latter part of May, ascending the Chulitna river as far as possible in a small boat and then going overland on foot. They came out the same way. The American Geological society's expedition, headed by Prof. Herschel Parker of Columbia university, and Belmont Brown of Tacoma, left Talkeetna a day later than the Rusk party, and went up the Chulitna in the power boat Explorer, built expressly for the party. It is creditably reported that this expedition also failed at 1 turned back, and that the members have returned here in a few days. Prof. Parker gives shortage of supplies as the reason for abandoning his effort.

ANOTHER EXPEDITION MAY ATTEMPT FEAT IN SPRING

Other Trails Leading Toward the Summit to Be Followed SEATTLE, July 29.—The American Geographical expedition to Mount McKinley, generally known as the Herschel-Parker expedition, sailed from Seattle May 15 for Cook Inlet. It was much more expensively equipped than the Rusk expedition, but was not considered so strong, for most of its members had done no Alaska mountain climbing. Prof. Parker was in charge of the scientific part of the work, and Belmont Brown, a veteran mountaineer, directed the field movements. Prof. Parker was the first scientist to challenge Dr. Cook's claim that he had reached the north pole, and previously had been the first to dispute Dr. Cook's assertion that he had attained the top of Mount McKinley. Prof. Parker intended to take special pains on this summer's trip to analyze Dr. Cook's story and the ascent. It is thought the failure of the two summer parties will lead to the organization of parties to make the ascent by the Fal banks or Lloyd trails early next spring, according to Lloyd, the ascent in March from the Fairbanks side is entirely feasible. The Parker party included besides Parker and Brown, Prof. J. H. Cuntz of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J.; Norman L. Tucker of Newton, Mass.; Weldmar Grassi of Columbia university; and Merle Laroy, an Alaskan packer.
