

SENATOR DICK TO COMMAND TROOPS

Soldiers Guard Streets of Ohio's
Capital, and No Further
Rioting Occurs

NUMBER OF ARRESTS MADE

Entire National Guard of State
Ordered to Be Ready for Emergencies

CALDWELL, Ohio, July 31.—The first section of the Cleveland and Marietta train carrying the Fourth militia regiment from Marietta to Columbus, was wrecked tonight near Belle Valley. Several were reported seriously hurt. Details at this hour, 1:50 a. m., are scant. The train is reported to have run into an open switch. The Cleveland & Marietta railroad is operated by the Pennsylvania railroad.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 30.—Columbus was a comparatively quiet city tonight, although police and militia squads made a number of arrests. The city is completely patrolled by soldiers. The patrols will be reestablished tomorrow with the addition of members of the fourth and eighth regiments and troop B, which arrived during the night from Marietta, where they have been encamped.

Gen. Charles Dick of Akron, who is United States senator from Ohio and division commander of the Ohio national guard, was ordered late today by Governor Harrison to report for duty and assume command of the troops now here on strike duty.

The mayor has issued a proclamation ordering everyone not having business off the streets tonight and the soldiers will make arrests if explanations are not satisfactory.

Adjutant Weybrecht and General McMacken, who is in command of the troops, have considered the advisability of calling out the entire Ohio national guard. The first regiment of Cincinnati and the first regiment of Cleveland have been notified to hold themselves in readiness for a call.

MICHIGAN GUARDSMEN ARE ORDERED HOME

Strikers and Militiamen Play Tie
Ball Game

DURAND, Mich., July 30.—General McGuerin, in command of the national guard troops stationed here to prevent rioting in connection with the Grand Trunk strike, has ordered the four companies of the first battalion of Detroit to return home. The four companies of the Grand Rapids battalion will remain here a few days.

The first clash between the strikers and the guardsmen occurred yesterday afternoon and resulted in a tie, 6 to 6.

Once during the heat of the conflict—and it was hot in unshaded spots—a rude soldier shouted in the pitcher's box, "you throw like you was heavin' bricks at box cars."

Every one said that was uncalled for. Several times there were warm disputes with the umpires. Lieutenant Andrews was accused of favoring the strikers and Vice Chairman Irvine of the conductors was openly charged with showing partiality to the soldiers.

Nearly 500 soldiers and many townspeople saw the game, the bulk of the receipts going to the strike fund. Then the Durand village team beat the nine from the Grand Rapids battalion and a dress parade rounded out a full afternoon's entertainment for all the inhabitants of Durand.

There are enough soldiers here to furnish one guard for nearly every male citizen in town, if that were desired, and while the strike is "rooting" at the ball games, there has been no disorder since the soldiers came.

GRAND TRUNK STRIKE BEFORE COMMISSIONER

MONTREAL, Que., July 30.—Conferences between L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, and both sides in the Grand Trunk strike continued throughout the day, and while no definite statements are obtainable, it is announced the situations have been clarified. The conferences will continue tomorrow.

Reports from towns and villages entirely dependent on the Grand Trunk state that the failure to receive freight is causing the closing of factories, and at some points coal famines are imminent.

LINEMEN OF NORTHERN ELECTRIC GO ON STRIKE

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—A strike which may assume serious proportions today was inaugurated by the linemen employed by the Northern Electric company. Already ten men have struck and it is the aim of the strikers to call out the electricians in other branches of the company's service and thus cripple the road. The linemen are asking for an increase in wages and an eight hour day. The officials of the union declare that the strike was called after negotiations extending over several months had failed.

'RIP VAN WINKLE' OF THE CATSKILLS FOUND DEAD

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 30.—Reuben Todd of Dry Brook, Ulster county, better known as Rip Van Winkle to photographers and artists the country over, is dead. He was found drowned in Dry Brook stream.

Todd had a national reputation as a model for those who wished to depict Rip Van Winkle amid the Catskill mountain scenes. Todd disappeared from his home last Sunday, and as he was 85 years old it is supposed that he became confused and wandered to his death.

FLOY DE HAY, WHO IS CHARGED WITH THEFT OF AN AUTO

LEADS POLICE A LONG CHASE IN AUTOMOBILE

Floy De Hay Taken Into Custody
After Speeding Away
in Machine

After an exciting chase, in which the university police station automobile and a motorcycle policeman pursued Floy de Hay, wanted on a charge of petit larceny here and grand larceny in Riverside, was taken into custody yesterday on Santa Monica avenue and lodged in the city jail. Later he was removed to the county jail and probably will be turned over to the Riverside authorities today.

De Hay, who is a machinist by trade, but now on strike, is wanted here on a charge of stealing a watch and several pieces of jewelry from Mrs. Mary E. Hartman, of 3735 Denker avenue. He is accused in Riverside of stealing an automobile there in which he rode around Los Angeles for several days, and in which he was trying to escape when overtaken and arrested by officers in the police machine.

With de Hay was arrested Ben Batten, another striker, who may be concerned in the automobile theft. Since he had been on strike, de Hay has been around town until a few days ago, when he disappeared. He returned a day or two later in a new automobile, a 1910 Maxwell. Friday he called upon Mrs. Hartman and is said to have committed the thefts he is accused of at that time.

POLICEMAN SAW ATTACK ON CURRY PUT IN MAIL

San Diego Officer Gives Clew to Identity of Guilty Party

One of the postal inspectors of Los Angeles reported to G. Ray Horton, assistant United States district attorney, yesterday that the man who mailed the circular letters attacking Charles F. Curry in the name of "The Good Government league" of Los Angeles was seen by a policeman in San Diego in the act of dropping the circulars into the mail car aperture.

These fake letters, which were mailed in franked envelopes from the office of United States Marshal Leo Youngworth, Los Angeles, contained scurrilous attacks on Mr. Curry, but officers of the Good Government league, an inactive political organization here, denied ever having seen the circulars, while great mystery attaches to the theft of the envelopes from the office of the United States marshal.

The policeman in San Diego is said to have given a good description of the offender, and his apprehension is expected at any moment.

WOMAN BATTLES WITH THIEVES; SAVES PURSE

Miss Mabel Walker Beaten Near Corner of Eighth and Hope Streets

The pluck and bravery of Miss Mabel Walker, 816 Mallard street, saved her the loss of her pocketbook, containing a considerable amount of money and several trinkets of value, Friday evening, when two unmasked highwaymen tried to hold her up and rob her while walking home from a friend's house. Angered at her show of resistance they beat her about the face and hands and left her half-conscious on the car tracks at Eighth and Hope streets.

The young woman was walking west in Eighth street, just west of Hope, when in passing an apartment house opposite the Abbottsford inn, she was attacked. Her assailants, who had been sitting on the porch of the house she was passing, leaped upon her, one throwing her to the ground while the other tried to snatch her pocketbook from her hand.

Although overpowered, Miss Walker held on to the pocketbook and fought the two with all her might. Finding themselves unable to secure their booty by holding her down, the thieves began to drag the girl, pulling on the purse so hard that one side of the handle broke. At the same time they were bruising her face and hands with blows and kicks. When they arrived in the middle of the street Miss Walker screamed loudly and the thieves, evidently fearing detection, ran rapidly up Eighth street and escaped.

Last evening Miss Walker, who came here recently from New York city, expressed herself as being greatly surprised that such an attack could be made in such a place without the offenders being seen and captured.

"It was not late, yet there was not a person on the street, with the exception of the two men who attacked me," she said. "Nor could I attract the attention of any one living around there, although I screamed as loudly as I could. I walked from Eighth and Hope streets to Ninth and Mallard without meeting any one to whom I could appeal for aid."

Miss Walker described one assailant as being a large man and the other small, both young and attired in dark suits with straw hats.

MAN STRUCK BY CAR HAS SKULL FRACTURED

Falling to notice an approaching depot car of the Los Angeles Railway company at Fifth street and Ruth avenue last night, Herman Dandy, 25 years old, who recently arrived from the east and who was living in Inglewood, dashed in front of the car. He was tossed high into the air and alighted on his head, causing a fracture of the skull which will likely prove fatal. He was taken to witnesses to the accident, Dandy was with a woman and had crossed the street to a nearby drug store to purchase a package of chewing gum. It was when he was returning that he was struck by the car. He was taken to the Crocker street hospital, where his condition was reported late last night as being critical.

MOTHER DROWNS FOUR LITTLE ONES IN TUB

Woman Shows No Emotion When Taken Into Custody by the Sheriff

ANTIOCH, Cal., July 30.—One after another four children were drowned in a tub today by their mother. The woman, Mrs. Joseph Mello, walked away from her dead babies quietly and met her neighbors, who came to arrest her, in calm spirit. Something had given way in her mind—snapped without warning.

Mrs. Mello was alone with her children in her home, a few miles east of here, near Ironhouse. The oldest child was 4 years old, the next 2 years, and then came the twins—three months old. When Mello, the husband, left home, the elder children were playing, and the twins were asleep. When he returned from work there was the tub and quiet arms and legs, and an empty crib.

Mello was almost prostrated by his grief but he found Sheriff R. R. Veale, who took Mrs. Mello to the Martinez jail, the woman talking quietly on the way about ordinary things. She never before had given any evidence of insanity.

ENGINEER'S ESTIMATE PROVES HARD TO TRIM

Reductions So Far Made by the Budget Committee Total
$350,000

It was hard for the budget committee to find any place to trim the estimate of the city engineer's department, and W. J. Washburn, chairman of the committee, admitted that when the engineer appeared before him yesterday he was baffled. It is seldom that Mr. Washburn cannot find some place to reduce expenses, and finally he did discover where about $30,000 could be cut off. Most of this is for street work to be done in front of school property, but City Attorney Hewitt has declared he will insist that the school department pay its own improvement expenses.

The engineer has asked for $223,529 for this fiscal year. Last year this department was allowed $351,000, but this amount included large allowances for bridges that are not needed this year.

J. H. Fountain, chief deputy auditor, said yesterday that reductions in department estimates that have been practically agreed on by the budget committee so far amount to about $350,000. These reductions are: Fire department, $50,000; library, $14,215; park, $79,500; police, $178,000; school, $30,440; street, $8,900; street sprinkling, $5,000; and water, $6,775.

Nearly $650,000 must still be reduced from the department estimates to make the budget allowances come within the estimated income of the city.

LOW DEATH RATE AMONG EMPLOYES ON AQUEDUCT

A report on health conditions made yesterday by the hospital bureau of the aqueduct department shows that the health of the men employed on the big ditch is excellent and that the camps are in a sanitary condition.

The report shows that 948 cases have been treated in the various hospitals, but nearly all were minor medical and surgical cases. Twelve deaths occurred in the last year, which is a low death rate.

WOMAN AND TWO SONS ASSASSINATED IN MEXICO

NOGALES, Ariz., July 30.—News was received here this morning of the assassination on July 22 in the Yaqui valley, near Cocorit, of Mrs. Jennie Scuderi, an American, and her two sons. The corpses were mutilated in a horrible manner with an ax. The crime is surrounded in mystery. The husband of the woman is missing. A federal judge is now investigating the case. The Richardson Construction company has posted a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the assassin. There is no confirmation of the report of a massacre of Chinese in the Yaqui valley.

TO CHECK EPIDEMIC OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 30.—Because of the epidemic of anterior poliomyelitis, a form of infantile paralysis, the board of health has issued danger warnings and has formulated a set of regulations providing for the isolation of sufferers from the disease. Seventy-nine cases have been reported here, and about one-fifth of these have been fatal. The recommendation is made that parents keep their children at home and not allow them to attend picnics, excursions, Sunday schools, theaters, playgrounds, etc.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 30.—A motion to quash the indictment was introduced today in behalf of Archibald Johnson, indicted on the charge of bribery and perjury in the legislative investigation. Owing to the illness of the principal counsel for Johnson, the case was continued until September 30. Johnson is charged with bribing State Senator Holstlaw to award a state furniture contract to his company and with perjury in testifying before the grand jury.

IRISH TO MAKE GAELIC COMPULSORY IN SCHOOLS

Fight to Revive Ancient Language of People of Emerald Isle

DUBLIN, July 30.—Addressing a crowded audience at the closing of Boyle Pels, Dr. MacHenri, who first spoke in Irish and then in English, referred to the recent decision of the senate in the National university making Irish a compulsory subject for matriculation in 1913. He said that decision gave great joy to the people of Ireland, and that the senate, presided over by its illustrious chancellor, was to be congratulated on the wisdom and patriotism it displayed in deciding by such a sweeping majority to carry out the clearly expressed wishes of the nation. "For two years," said Dr. MacHenri, "the Gaelic league had waged an almost superhuman fight against tremendous odds, so that for long the fight seemed to many almost forlorn hope, but the league had confidence that the heart of the country was sound and that it only needed rousing to get the people to make one last grand stand for the national language and for nationality."

He said special thanks were due to the county councils and other public bodies whose decisive influence brought about the happy result. It was the greatest blow struck for hundreds of years for the Irish language, and the significance of the blow is shown by the hypocritical shrieking of the London Times.

The practical outcome of this tremendous change would be that at least every Catholic school in Ireland, secondary and primary, wished to keep their places in the educational race. Any schools, he said, not teaching Irish would thereby cut off their pupils from all chance of gaining any of the valuable prizes to be offered for competition by the county councils. A really national university, with all the schools following it, would probably make all Irishmen, and which God bestowed upon them, and which was the great bulwark to preserve their separate identity as a nation. "Let the language die," said Dr. MacHenri, "and it is only a question of time when Ireland as a nation will follow it to the grave." He said the Irish Ireland movement was reviving manly factors, promoting temperance and bringing back the vanishing music and customs of the country.
